FEBRUARY 6, 1939

Effective Date of Minimum Prices—Rebates—Board License Bulletin No. 5 (Page 1)—Cancels Bulletin No. 5—Dated February 24, 1937

DEAR SIR: Referring to our license contract with you, you are hereby notified that effective immediately the minimum prices at which you may sell gypsum wallboard and gypsum plasterboard manufactured by you and embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in our patents under which you are licensed (not including applications for letters patent), are as follows:

Advances in Minimum Price.

In the event of an increase in the minimum prices of patented gypsum board products, the advanced minimum prices shall apply to all shipments made after the effective date of the price increase, except that in the following cases the minimum price shall be the minimum price in effect immediately prior to such increase:

(1) On bona fide orders for dealers' stocks actually received and accepted at your home office in writing before effective date of the price increase and shipped by you within 10 days after effective date of price increase.

(2) On sales of gypsum plaster lath to dealers for any specific job requiring not less than the minimum carload quantity of plaster lath (each building of a project to be considered as a separate specific job hereunder); and

On sales of gypsum wallboard or gypsum liner to gypsum roofing contractors for specific gypsum roof jobs; and

On sales of gypsum wallboard, gypsum sheathing or gypsum liner board to dealers for specific industrial housing projects; and

On sales of gypsum wallboard, gypsum sheathing or gypsum liner on direct bids to the federal government for specific federal government jobs;*

But only where the general contract for such specific job is awarded prior to the effective date of the price increase, or where the dealer (or contractor on specific roof jobs) has made a written quotation on such job prior to the effective date of the price increase, and providing the 10114 order is placed by such dealer or contractor and accepted by the licensee within 30 days, on private jobs, and 60 days on federal government jobs, after the effective date of the price increase.

(3) On orders received from the General Supply Committee of the Executive Departments and Independent Establishments of the United States Government under contract awarded by that committee, prior to the effective date of price increase.

Decreases in Minimum Price

In the event of a decrease in the minimum prices of the patented gypsum board products, the new and lower minimum prices shall apply to all sales and shipments made after the effective date of the decrease in minimum price, including all orders for the patented gypsum board products on file at the time of decrease in minimum prices, and also shipments in transit; but licensee must be prepared to furnish licensor with satisfactory evidence of the fact that the shipment was actually in transit and not delivered when the price decrease became effective. Carrier's freight bill will be accepted as evidence of that fact.

Rebates, Allowances, Etc.

Any sale of patented products, though ostensibly made at or above the minimum price established by licensor, will nevertheless be considered a violation of the provisions of the license if licensee directly or indirectly reduces the actual price charged by licensee below such minimum price by granting the customer rebates, unearned or unwarranted refunds, credits or discounts, by reducing the price of other products, by hiring customers' trucks, by granting allowances for advertising or other purposes, by splitting of salesmen's compensation or commissions with customers, by overshipment of patented products, by including board under the guise of dunnage, or by making any other payment or allowance in the form of money or otherwise which has for its purpose and effect reducing the price charged by licensee below such minimum price.

* Note: A Federal Government job is one where the Federal Government lets the contract to a general contractor or places an order directly with licensee.

Very truly yours,

UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY

Vice President.

Conditions of Sale—Board License Bulletin No. 5
Dated March 14, 1936

C. N. NEWMAN

DEAR SIRS: Referring to our license contract with you, you are hereby notified that the minimum prices effective March 1, 1937 at which you may sell gypsum wallboard and gypsum plasterboard manufactured by you and embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in our patents under which you are licensed (not including applications for letters patent); including Haggerty patent number 1,500,452 and Hite patent number 1,230,297, are as follows:

Duration of Quotations and Specific Job Protection Price Advances:

In the event of an increase in the minimum prices of patented gypsum board products, the advanced minimum price shall apply to all shipments made after the effective date of the price increase, except:

(1) On bona fide orders for dealers' stocks actually received and accepted at your home office in writing before effective date of the price increase and shipped by you within 10 days after effective date of price increase. Exception: Bona fide orders for discontinued types of patented gypsum board for dealers' stocks, received and accepted by you at your home office in writing with one week from date of discontinuance, for shipment within two weeks from the date of discontinuance, may be invoiced at minimum prices in effect at time of discontinuance.

(2) For gypsum plaster lath on any specific job requiring not less than a minimum carload quantity of plaster lath (28,600 sq. ft.), where the general contract for such specific job is awarded prior to the effective date of the price increase, or where the dealer has made a written quotation on such job prior to the effective date of the price increase, and providing order for gypsum plaster lath is immediately placed by dealer and accepted by licensee within 30 days on private jobs, 60 days on Federal Government jobs after the effective date of price increase. Each building of a project shall be considered as a separate specific job hereunder, subject to minimum requirement of carload quantity (28,600 sq. ft.) for each such building. Exception: Minimum quantity for each specific job on 5/16" plaster lath shall be 34,000 sq. ft.

(3) For gypsum wallboard or gypsum liner on specific gypsum roof jobs to gypsum roofing contractors on which the general contract is awarded prior to the effective date of the price increase, or on which contractor has made written quotation prior to the effective date of the price increase, and providing order for gypsum wallboard or gypsum liner is immediately placed by contractor
10116 and accepted by licensee within 30 days on private jobs, 60 days on Federal Government jobs after the effective date of price increase.

(b) For gypsum wallboard, gypsum sheathing or gypsum liner board on specific industrial housing projects on which the general contract is awarded prior to the effective date of price increase, or on which the dealer has made a written quotation prior to the effective date of the price increase, and provided order for gypsum wallboard, gypsum sheathing or gypsum liner board is immediately placed by the dealer and accepted by licensee within thirty days from effective date of the price increase.

(5) On orders received from the General Supply Committee of the Executive Departments and Independent Establishments of the United States Government under contract awarded by that committee, prior to the effective date of price increase.

Price Decreases:

In the event of a decrease in the minimum prices of patented gypsum board products, all orders on file shall be invoiced at the new and lower prices. Shipments in transit shall be invoiced at the reduced prices, provided carrier's expense bill is presented by customer, as evidence that shipment actually was in transit and not delivered when the price decrease became effective.

Federal Government Jobs

A Federal government job or contract is one where a department of the Federal government, as defined below, lets a contract direct to a general contractor, or where such a department of the Federal Government places an order directly with a licensee, such order being invoiced directly to such department for use solely and directly by such department.

The "Federal Government" as used herein shall mean the following departments of the Federal government.

1. Agricultural
2. Bureau of Indian Affairs
3. Coast Guard
4. Commerce
5. Interior
6. Justice
7. Labor
8. Marine Corps
9. Navy
10. Post Office

11. State (*) 14. War (Including CCC Camps)

()12. Treasury

13. Veterans' Bureau 15. District of Columbia

(*) CCC Camps:

(Gypsum Wallboard)

In areas where the Federal government carries out CCC Camp construction directly or by letting contract to a contractor to furnish both material and labor (such 10117 contractor is considered as the direct representative of the Federal government on the specific project being figured) the minimum price of gypsum wallboard direct to the Federal government or to such contractor under such conditions only for CCC Projects, in minimum carload quantities, is the dealer delivered price f.o.b. cars railhead delivery only.

Where less carload quantities of gypsum wallboard are required, or CCC Camp site delivery, any quantity, is requested, quotation will be made only through dealers.

() WPA Projects.

(a) State Projects. On purchases by or thru the State Procurement Division of the Treasury Department (to be invoiced direct to the Federal Government) for use on State WPA projects, the minimum quoted price of patented gypsum wallboard and/or lath, for shipment in carloads, shall be the dealer delivered price f.o.b. cars railhead delivery only, plus $2.50 per M sq. ft. on wallboard or $1.25 per M sq. ft. on lath, less 2% cash discount on gross amount.

Shipment in carloads may include shipment in mixed cars with other gypsum products, providing all materials contained in such car are for use on a WPA project and providing entire carload is invoiced direct to the Federal government.

Patented gypsum board products for State WPA projects when specified in quantities not for shipment in carloads as above outlined, or when State WPA job site delivery, any quantity, is requested, shall be quoted through dealers only.

(b) Federal Projects. On purchases by the Procurement Division or Resettlement Purchase Section of the Treasury Department (to be invoiced direct to the Federal Government) for use on Federal WPA projects, the minimum quoted price of patented gypsum wallboard and/or lath, for shipment in carloads for delivery at railhead shall be the regular dealer carload delivered price less 2% cash discount on gross amount. For delivery to project site, the minimum quoted price of patented gypsum wallboard and/or lath shall be the regular dealer carload delivered price f.o.b. cars at railhead specified in bid form, plus $1.00 per M sq. ft., less 2% cash discount on gross amount.

The classification "Federal Government" does not include the following: TVA, PWA, CWA, HOLC, FERA, SHD, or any corporation formed by the Federal government for carrying out any works or projects, all such purchasers to be classified as consumers, and sold at the dealers delivered price plus contractor differentials as specified in Board License Bulletin No. 1 whether such sale is made to the corporation or directly to the department under which the corporation is formed.

Allowances, Etc.: The minimum price fixed by licensor for patented board and/or lath shall not be reduced below such minimum price or prices by or through allowances, payment or rebate to customers for use of railroad siding; for switching performed after car has been originally set for unloading; for warehousing, trucking or unloading, or other service by them in connection with shipments or deliveries of patented board and/or lath. Nor shall such net cost to customer be reduced below such minimum price or prices by the establishment or continuance of warehouses with dealers or other buyers; or through allowance or adjustment on board which customer claims is of poor grade and not up to standard, except when such an allowance or adjustment on substandard board is first authorized by the licensor; or by allowance for any other reason 10118 whatsoever by a licensee direct or by a salesman of patented board out of his own compensation; or through the extension of other than regular terms to any such dealer or buyer. Quotations deducting the regular cash discount so that the quoted price is less than the minimum price to the licensee, are considered as quotations to sell at less than the minimum price and therefore in violation of the license agreement. On quotations to U. S. Government regular minimum delivered price less 2% of delivered price (cash discount) shall be the minimum price.

Also, where a salesman selling patented board to a customer is authorized by licensee or its agent to sell the same wholly or partly on a commission basis, or where a salesman not employed by licensee makes a sale of patented board to a customer on a commission basis and licensee or his agent accepts such sale, in either of such events the commission paid by the licensee is a deduction from the price at which the board is sold by licensee, and where after deducting such commission, the amount is less than the minimum price, licensor shall regard the sale as made at a price less than the minimum price fixed by licensor and a violation of the terms of the license agreement. Licensor also regards sales of patented board by commission salesmen, without the written consent of licensor, as a violation of the terms of the license agreement.

Sales to Other Gypsum Manufacturers:

There shall be no sale of patented gypsum board products to manufacturers of gypsum products without the written consent of the licensor. When such written approval has been granted maximum discounts from the minimum dealer prices established by the licensor, as listed in Board License Bulletin No. 1, shall be 15% on wallboard and 12½% on plasterboard. Such permission is restricted to sales of patented products to said manufacturers for resale to the dealer trade at wholesale, and is not to apply to such materials sold at retail.

The minimum of 7500 sq. ft. of patented gypsum board and/or lath products as required for pickups and shipments out of Eastern mills and warehouses does not apply for pickups by or deliveries to other gypsum manufacturers, providing such pickups or deliveries are destined for manufacturer's own warehouse or plant. If picked up or shipped for delivery direct to a dealer's warehouse, then the 7500 sq. ft. minimum shall apply.

Gypsum boards used for dunnage and not invoiced to the customer shall be not larger than 4′ x 4′ and any gypsum boards so used with any dimension greater than 12″ shall be plainly stamped in red on the face side of each board, showing the words "DUNNAGE—NOT TO BE SOLD" in letters at least 3″ high. Excessive dunnage is a violation of the license agreement. Exception: Greater New York (Manhattan, Bronx, Kings, Queens and Richmond counties, New York)

a. Shipments in cars.

Gypsum boards used for dunnage in shipments by car and not invoiced to customer shall be not larger than 12″ x 48″, shall be plainly stamped in red on the face side of each board, showing the words "DUNNAGE—NOT TO BE SOLD" in letters at least 3″ high, and shall be board with no value and unfit for use or resale. Excessive dunnage is a violation of the license agreement.

†b. Shipments in trucks.

Gypsum boards used for dunnage in shipments by truck and not invoiced to the customer shall be not larger than 12″ x 48″ except when larger sheets might be necessary to protect the bottom of a truck. All gypsum boards used for dunnage shall be plainly stamped in red on the face side of each board, showing the words "DUNNAGE—NOT TO BE SOLD" in letters at least 3″ high, and be defaced, marred, diagonally scored or mutilated and otherwise so marked that they will have no value and will be unfit for use or resale. Excessive dunnage is a violation of the license agreement.

Very truly yours,

UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY,

Vice President.

10120 Also where a salesman selling patented board to a customer is authorized by licensee or its agent to sell the same wholly or partly on a commission basis, or where a salesman not employed by licensee makes a sale of patented board to a customer on a commission basis and licensee or his agent accepts such sale, in either of such events the commission paid by the licensee is a deduction from the price at which the board is sold by licensee, and where after deducting such commission, the amount is less than the minimum price, licensor shall regard the sale as made at a price less than the minimum price fixed by licensor and a violation of the terms of the license agreement. Licensor also regards sales of patented board by commission salesmen, without the written consent of licensor, as a violation of the terms of the license agreement.

Sales to Other Gypsum Manufacturers:

There shall be no sale of patented gypsum board products to manufacturers of gypsum products without the written consent of the licensor. When such written approval has been granted maximum discounts from the minimum dealer prices established by the licensor, as listed in Board License Bulletin No. 1, shall be 15% on wallboard and 12½% on plasterboard. Such permission is restricted to sales of patented products to said manufacturers for resale to the dealer trade at wholesale, and is not to apply to such materials sold at retail.

The minimum of 5000 sq. ft. of patented gypsum board and/or lath products as required for pickups and shipments out of Eastern mills and warehouses does not apply for pickups by or deliveries to other gypsum manufacturers, providing such pickups or deliveries are destined for manufacturer's own warehouse or plant. If picked up or shipped for delivery direct to a dealer's warehouse, then the 5000 sq. ft. minimum shall apply.

Dunnage:

Gypsum boards used for dunnage and not invoiced to the customer shall be not larger than 4′ x 4′ and any gypsum boards so used with any dimension greater than 12″ shall be plainly stamped in red on the face side of each board, showing the words "DUNNAGE—NOT TO BE SOLD" in letters at least 3″ high. Excessive dunnage is a violation of the license agreement. Exception: Greater New York Market (Manhattan, Bronx, Kings, Queens and Richmond counties, New York)

a. Shipments in cars.

Gypsum boards used for dunnage in shipments by car and not invoiced to customer shall be not larger than 12″ x 48″, shall be plainly stamped in red on the face side of each board, showing the words "DUNNAGE—NOT TO BE SOLD" in letters at least 3″ high, and shall be board with no value and unfit for use or resale. Excessive dunnage is a violation of the license agreement.

b. Shipments in trucks.

Gypsum boards used for dunnage in shipments by truck and not invoiced to the customer shall be not larger than 12″ x 48″ except when larger sheets might be necessary to protect the bottom of a truck in which instances such sheets shall be plainly stamped in red on the face side of each board, showing the words "DUNNAGE—NOT TO

BE SOLD" in letters at least 3" high, and be defaced, marred, diagonally scored or mutilated and otherwise so marked that they will have no value and will be unfit for use or resale. Excessive dunnage is a violation of the license agreement.

Federal Government Jobs

A Federal government job or contract is one where a department of the Federal government, as defined below, lets a contract direct to a general contractor, or where such a department of the Federal Government places an order directly with a licensee, such order being invoiced directly to such department for use solely and directly by such department.

The "Federal Government" as used herein shall mean the following departments of the Federal government.

1. Agricultural
2. Bureau of Indian Affairs
3. Coast Guard
4. Commerce
5. Interior
6. Justice
7. Labor
8. Marine Corps
9. Navy
10. Post Office
11. State
()12. Treasury
13. Veterans' Bureau
(*) 14. War (Including CCC Camps)
15. District of Columbia

(*) CCC Camps:
(Gypsum Wallboard)

In areas where the Federal government carries out CCC Camp construction directly or by letting contract to a contractor to furnish both material and labor (such contractor is considered as the direct representative of the Federal government on the specific project being figured) the minimum price of gypsum wallboard direct to the Federal government or to such contractor under such conditions only for CCC Projects, in minimum carload quantities, is the dealer delivered price f.o.b. cars railhead delivery only.

Where gypsum wallboard is sold and invoiced directly to the Federal government or to such contractor under such conditions, for CCC Projects only, in minimum carload quantities, a maximum allowance of $1.50 per M sq. ft. may be made to a dealer as a dealer commission.

When such commissions are paid to dealers, a detailed statement of the name and location of the camp, date shipped, footage sold, the unit price per M sq. ft., total amount of the billing, total amount of the commission, name and location of the dealer or dealers receiving the commission, method of distribution, amount and date of payment to each dealer, must be filed with the licensor with the regular monthly reports.

Where less carload quantities of gypsum wallboard are required, or CCC Camp site delivery, any quantity, is requested, quotation will be made only through dealers.

() WPA Projects.

(a) State Projects. On purchases by or thru the State Procurement Division of the Treasury Department (to be invoiced direct to the Federal Government) for use on State WPA projects, the minimum quoted price of patented gypsum wallboard and/or lath, for shipment in carloads, shall be the dealer delivered price f.o.b. cars railhead delivery only, plus $2.50 per M sq. ft. on wallboard or $1.25 per M sq. ft. on lath, less 2% cash discount on gross amount.

Shipment in carloads may include shipment in mixed cars with other gypsum products, providing all ma-10123 terials contained in such car are for use on a WPA project and providing entire carload is invoiced direct to the Federal government.

Where patented gypsum wallboard and/or lath is sold and invoiced directly to the Federal Government for State WPA projects, a maximum allowance of $2.50 per M sq. ft. on wallboard and $1.25 per M sq. ft. on lath may be made to a dealer as a dealer commission.

Patented gypsum board products for State WPA projects when specified in quantities not for shipment in carloads as above outlined, or when State WPA job site delivery, any quantity, is requested, shall be quoted through dealers only.

(b) Federal Projects. On purchases by the Procurement Division or Resettlement Purchase Section of the Treasury Department (to be invoiced direct to the Federal Government) for use on Federal WPA projects, the minimum quoted price of patented gypsum wallboard and/or lath, for shipment in carloads for delivery at railhead shall be the regular dealer carload delivered price less 2% cash discount on gross amount. For delivery to project site, the minimum quoted price of patented gypsum wallboard and/or lath shall be the regular dealer carload delivered price f.o.b. cars at railhead specified in bid form, plus $1.00 per M sq. ft., less 2% cash discount on gross amount. On patented gypsum wallboard and/or lath sold and invoiced direct to the Federal Government for Federal WPA Projects, either railhead or project site delivery, a maximum allowance of $1.00 per M sq. ft. may be made to a dealer as a dealer commission.

The classification "Federal Government" does not include the following: TVA, PWA, CWA, HOLC, FERA, SHD, or any corporation formed by the Federal government for carrying out any works or projects, all such purchasers to be classified as consumers, and sold at the dealers delivered price plus contractor differentials as specified in Board License Bulletin No. 1 whether such sale is made to the corporation or directly to the department under which the corporation is formed.

Allowances, Etc.: The minimum price fixed by licensor for patented board and/or lath shall not be reduced below such minimum price or prices by or through allowances, payment or rebate to customers for use of railroad siding; for switching performed after car has been originally set for unloading; for warehousing, trucking or unloading, or other service by them in connection with shipments or deliveries of patented board and/or lath. Nor shall such net cost to customer be reduced below such minimum price or prices by the establishment or continuance of warehouses with dealers or other buyers; or through allowance or adjustment on board which customer claims is of poor grade and not up to standard, except when such an allowance or adjustment on substandard board is first authorized by the licensor; or by allowance for any other reason whatsoever by a licensee direct or by a salesman of patented board out of his own compensation; or through the extension of other than regular terms to any such dealer or buyer. Quotations deducting the regular cash discount so that the quoted price is less than the minimum price to the licensee, are considered as quotations to sell at less than the minimum price and therefore in violation of the license agreement, On quotations to U. S. Government regular minimum delivered price less 2% of delivered price (cash discount) shall be the minimum price.

10124 Also, where a salesman selling patented board to a customer is authorized by licensee or its agent to sell the same wholly or partly on a commission basis, or where a salesman not employed by licensee makes a sale of patented board to a customer on a commission basis and licensee or his agent accepts such sale, in either of such events the commission paid by the licensee is a deduction from the price at which the board is sold by licensee, and where after deducting such commission, the amount is less than the minimum price, licensor shall regard the sale as made at a price less than the minimum price fixed by licensor and a violation of the terms of the license agreement. Licensor also regards sales of patented board by commission salesmen, without the written consent of licensor, as a violation of the terms of the license agreement.

Sales to Other Gypsum Manfacturers:

There shall be no sale of patented gypsum board products to manufacturers of gypsum products without the written consent of the licensor. When such written approval has been granted maximum discounts from the minimum dealer prices established by the licensor, as listed in Board License Bulletin No. 1, shall be 15% on wallboard and 12½% on plasterboard. Such permission is restricted to sales of patented products to said manufacturers for resale to the dealer trade at wholesale, and is not to apply to such materials sold at retail.

The minimum of 5000 sq. ft. of patented gypsum board and/or lath products as required for pickups and shipments out of Eastern mills and warehouses does not apply for pickups by or deliveries to other gypsum manufacturers, providing such pickups or deliveries are destined for manufacturer's own warehouse or plant. If picked up or shipped for delivery direct to a dealer's warehouse, then the 5000 sq. ft. minimum shall apply.

Dunnage:

Gypsum boards used for dunnage and not invoiced to the customer shall be not larger than 4′ x 4′ and any gypsum boards so used with any dimension greater than 12″ shall be plainly stamped in red on the face side of each board, showing the words "DUNNAGE—NOT TO BE SOLD" in letters at least 3″ high. Excessive dunnage is a violation of the license agreement.

Very truly yours,

UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY

Vice President.

DEAR SIRS: Referring to our license contract with you, you are hereby notified that the minimum prices at which you may sell gypsum wallboard and gypsum plasterboard manufactured by you and embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in our patents under which you are licensed (not including applications for letters patent); including Haggerty patent number 1,500,452 and Hite patent number 1,230,297 are supplemented as follows:

The minimum delivered prices of patented gypsum wallboard and gypsum plasterboard will be directly affected by the permissive order of the Interstate Commerce Commission authorizing an increase in freight rates. On Interstate traffic the freight increase becomes effective on the effective date of the Interstate tariff, and on Intrastate traffic the freight increase is effective when approved by the State Commission.

When emergency freight charges become effective the minimum delivered price of patented gypsum wallboard and gypsum plasterboard is to be the lowest combination of mill price plus freight, including emergency charge, from that mill to destination, as follows:

Where the minimum delivered price is the result of mill price plus Interstate freight, the increase is to be added on the effective date of the Interstate tariff.

Where the minimum delivered price is the result of mill price plus Intrastate freight, the increase is effective when approved by the State Commission.

The amount of increase in freight to be added to minimum f.o.b. mill prices of patented gypsum wallboard and gypsum plasterboard shall be as detailed in schedule attached.

Dated May 25, 1934.

DEAR SIRS: Referring to our license contract with you, you are hereby notified that the minimum prices effective immediately at which you may sell gypsum wallboard and gypsum plasterboard manufactured by you and embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in our patents under which you are licensed (not including applications for letters patent); including Haggerty patent number 1,500,452 and Hite patent number 1,230,297, are changed as follows:

Refer to page 1 of Board License Bulletin No. 1 dated May 25, 1934. Change second paragraph to read as follows:

Delivered price is lowest combination of mill price plus freight from that mill to destination. In stopover cars delivered price for any part of car is carload delivered price as above defined to point of delivery of that part of car. In every case rates as shown in published railroad freight tariffs apply. To determine board footage required to meet straight or mixed carload minimum weights, as shown in published railroad freight tariffs, use weights per M sq. ft. as given in supplement dated February 25, 1935.

The weights referred to above, given you in supplement dated February 25, 1935, are as follows:

1/4"	thickness	—950#	per	M	sq.	ft.
5/16"	"	—1175#	"	"	"	"
3/8"	"	—1400#	"	"	"	"
1/2"	"	—1900#	"	"	"	"
3/4"	"	—3300#	"	"	"	"

We desire to emphasize that all shipments of patented gypsum board products, in straight carloads or in mixed carloads with other gypsum products, are to be figured, for purposes of meeting required minimum weights, at weights per M sq. ft. as shown above.

Very truly yours,

UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY

Dated May 25, 1934.

DEAR SIRS: Referring to our license contract with you, you are hereby notified that the minimum prices at which you may sell gypsum wallboard and gypsum plasterboard manufactured by you and embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in our patents under which you are licensed (not including applications for letters patent); including Haggerty patent number 1,500,452 and Hite patent number 1,230,297, are supplemented as follows:

We desire to emphasize the meaning of Paragraph "y" on page 2 of Board License Bulletin No. 1, dated May 25, 1934, by changing the wording to read as follows:

(y) In straight carloads of patented gypsum board and/or lath products, consigned to one destination and invoiced to one account, deduct $2.00 per M sq. ft. from f.o.b. Oakfield prices for shipment by rail to dealers warehouse or nearest siding in Metropolitan New York—New Jersey Area as follows: Manhattan, Bronx, Kings, Queens, Richmond, Westchester, Rockland, Nassau and Suffolk Counties, New York; Hudson, Essex, Union, Bergen, Passaic, Morris, Middlesex, Mercer, Somerset, Monmouth, Hunterdon and Ocean Counties, New Jersey.

On pool cars or mixed cars into this area, minimum quantity is 5000 sq. ft. of patented gypsum board and/or lath products to one destination. Note: Any mixture of metallized and regular patented board products may be combined to make up the required minimums.

Where any licensee or any of its employees, salesmen or executives has knowledge or notice, either directly or indirectly that orders for less than straight car quantities of patented gypsum board products to be shipped into the above defined area have been pooled for the purpose of or for effect of obtaining the reduced price for straight cars for each participant in the pool, licensor shall regard such sale as made at a price less than the minimum price fixed by the licensor and a violation of the terms of the license agreement.

Dated May 25, 1934

DEAR SIRS: Referring to our license contract with you, you are hereby notified that the minimum prices at which you may sell gypsum wallboard and gypsum plasterboard manufactured by you and embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in our patents under which you are licensed (not including applications for letters patent), including Haggerty patent number 1,500,-452 and Hite patent number 1,230,297, are as follows:

CCC Camps:

The minimum price of wallboard and/or plasterboard direct to the Federal Government for CCC Projects in minimum carload quantities is the dealer delivered price f.o.b. cars, railhead delivery only.

Where patented wallboard or plasterboard is sold and invoiced direct to the Federal Government for CCC Projects, a maximum allowance of $1.50 per M sq. ft. may be made as a dealer commission.

When such commissions are paid to dealers, a detailed statement of the name and location of the camp, date shipped, footage sold, the unit price per M sq. ft., total amound of the billing, total amount of the commission, name and location of the dealer or dealers receiving the commission, method of distribution, and amount and date of payment to each dealer must be filed with the licensor with the regular monthly reports.

Where less carload quantities of patented wallboard and/or plasterboard are required, or Campsite delivery any quantity is requested, quotation will be made only through dealers.

Supplement to Board License Bulletins—Cancels Supplement of April 11, 1934.

DEAR SIRS: Referring to our license contract with you, you are hereby notified that the minimum prices effective until further notice at which you may sell gypsum wallboard and gypsum plasterboard manufactured by you and embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in our patents under which you are licensed (not including applications for letters patent); including Haggerty patent #1,500,452 and Hite patent #1,230,297, are as follows:

In the event of an increase in the minimum prices of patented gypsum wallboard or plasterboard, the advanced minimum price shall apply to all shipments made after the effective date of the price increase, except:

†(1) On bona fide orders actually received and accepted by you at your home office in writing before effective date of the price increase and shipped by you within 10 days after effective date of price increase.

(2) For gypsum lath on specific jobs on which the contract is awarded and order for gypsum lath is placed with the licensee within 30 days on private jobs, 60 days on federal government jobs after the effective date of the price increase.

(3) For gypsum wallboard and/or gypsum lath on specific gypsum roof jobs to gypsum roofing contractors on which the contract is awarded and order for gypsum wallboard and/or gypsum lath is placed with the licensee within 30 days on private jobs, 60 days on federal government jobs after the effective date of the price increase.

†(4) (a) For gypsum wallboard on specific federal government jobs on which the contract is awarded and order for gypsum wallboard is placed with the licensee within 60 days from date of price increase.

(b) For gypsum wallboard on specific industrial housing projects on which the contract is awarded and order for gypsum wallboard is placed with the licensee within 30 days from date of price increase.

(5) On orders received from the General Supply Committee of the Executive Departments and Independent Establishments of the United States Government under contract awarded by that committee prior to the effective date of price increase.

10207 Federal Government jobs are those where the order for gypsum board is placed by and invoiced to an official administrative department of the Federal Government to be used solely and directly by the Federal Government, or where the contract is awarded to a contractor by an official administrative department of the Federal Government.

The following are considered official administrative departments of the Federal Government:

Treasury	Interior	Justice
War	Veterans Bureau	Post Office
Navy	Federal Dept of State	Agriculture
Commerce	Labor

including recognized branches of these departments.

Where obligations are incurred in accordance with Sections 2, 3 or 4 of the preceding paragraph, the licensee must file with the licensor a record of such obligations within ten days after the expiration of the period during which the incurring of such obligations is permitted.

The selling of patented gypsum wallboard and/or lath below the minimum price, except as provided above, is in violation of the license.

Referring to the permission which we have given you to sell to manufacturers of gypsum products, (subject to our approval of each manufacturer), at a discount of 15% on wallboard and 12½% on plasterboard; this is to advise you that effective immediately said permission is restricted to sales of patented board and lath to said manufacturers for resale to the dealer trade at wholesale, and is not to apply to such materials sold at retail.

APRIL 11, 1934.

Supplement to Board License Bulletins—Cancels Supplement of March 14, 1934.

DEAR SIRS: Referring to our license contract with you, you are hereby notified that the minimum prices effective April 25, 1934 at which you may sell gypsum wallboard and gypsum plasterboard manufactured by you and embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in our patents under which you are licensed (not including applications for letters patent); including Haggerty patent #1,500,452 and Hite patent #1,230,297, are as follows:

In the event of an increase in the minimum price of patented gypsum wallboard or plasterboard, the advanced minimum price shall apply to all shipments made after the effective date of the price increase, except:

(1) On bona fide orders actually received and accepted by you at your home office in writing before effective date of the price increase and shipped by you within 10 days after effective date of price increase, which means on or before May 5, 1934;

(2) For gypsum lath on specific jobs on which the contract is awarded and order for gypsum lath is placed with the licensee within 30 days on private jobs, 60 days on federal government jobs after the effective date of the price increase;

(3) For gypsum wallboard and/or gypsum lath on specific gypsum roof jobs to gypsum roofing contractors on which the contract is awarded and order for gypsum wallboard and/or gypsum lath is placed with the licensee within 30 days on private jobs, 60 days on federal government jobs after the effective date of the price increase:

†(4) (a) For gypsum wallboard on specific federal government jobs on which the contract is awarded and order for gypsum wallboard is placed with the licensee within 60 days from April 25, 1934;

(b) For gypsum wallboard on specific industrial housing projects on which the contract is awarded and order for gypsum wallboard is placed with the licensee within 30 days from April 25, 1934;

(c) For gypsum wallboard sold to the Century of Progress or for buildings to be erected in connection with the Century of Progress provided shipment is made on or before May 31, 1934.

10220 †(5) On orders received from the General Supply Committee of the Executive Departments and Independent Establishments of the United States Government under contract awarded by that committee prior to the effective date of the price increase.

†Federal Government jobs are those where the order for gypsum board is placed by and invoiced to an official administrative department of the Federal Government to be used solely and directly by the Federal Government, or where the contract is awarded to a contractor by an official administrative department of the Federal Government.

Treasury	Interior	Justice
War	Veterans Bureau	Post Office
Navy	Federal Dept of State	Agriculture

including recognized branches of these departments.

†Where obligations are incurred in accordance with Sections 2, 3 or 4 of the preceding paragraph, the licensee must file with the licensor a record of such obligations within ten days after the expiration of the period during which the incurring of such obligations is permitted.

The selling of patented gypsum wallboard and/or lath below the minimum price, except as provided above, is in violation of the license.

Referring to the permission which we have given you to sell to manufacturers of gypsum products, (subject to our approval of each manufacturer), at a discount of 15% on wallboard and 12½% on plasterboard; this is to advise you that effective immediately said permission is restricted to sales of patented board and lath to said manufacturers for resale to the dealer trade at wholesale, and is not to apply to such materials sold at retail.

MR. WILLARD P. FULLER, PRES.,
Atantic Gypsum Company,
40 Central Street,
Boston Mass.

DEAR MR. FULLER: An inquiry has just been received from one of our licensees requesting information as to how the situation is to be handled where, on sales of gypsum wallboard and plasterboard embodying the claims and inventions of our patents, the purchaser makes a claim that the patented product does not come up to standard but is a poor grade of material.

We had thought that this was fully understood by all our licensees, but in the light of the inquiry we are writing to advise that no licensee is permitted under the license to make an allowance or adjustment of any nature whatsoever which brings the price of the patented product sold below the minimum price to such licensee therefor, and any such allowance or adjustment would be in violation of the license agreement.

In case any situation such as that above referred to should arise in any sale of the patented product under your license, we should be notified immediately in order that we may make an investigation of the facts as soon as possible after the purchaser's claim is first presented to you.

Yours very truly,

UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY

Vice President.

UNIVERSAL GYPSUM & LIME COMPANY
105 West Washington Street
Chicago, Illinois

DEAR SIRS: Referring to your inquiry under date of October 25 regarding the handling of situations arising in the sale of gypsum wallboard and plasterboard embodying the claims and inventions of our patents where the purchaser claims the board is a poor grade of material, you are not authorized or permitted under the license agreement to make an allowance or adjustment of any nature whatsoever which brings the price actually received for the patented board below the minimum price to you therefor, and any such allowance or adjustment would be in violation of the license agreement.

In case any situation such as you refer to should arise we should be notified immediately in order that we may make an investigation of the facts as soon as possible after the purchaser's claim is first presented to you.

It was our belief that this was clearly understood by all the licensees but in the light of your inquiry we are this day sending a similar letter to each of the other licensees.

Yours very truly,

10238 UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY

OCTOBER 24, 1932

Supplement to Board License Bulletin Numbers 1, 2 & 3.

DEAR SIRS: Referring to paragraph two of our license contract with you, you are hereby notified that sales of gypsum wallboard and gypsum plasterboard embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in our said patents, directly or indirectly, at a price less than the minimum price fixed by us is a violation of the terms of your license agreement.

Where a salesman of patented board makes an allowance to the customer out of his own compensation, the same constitutes a deduction from the price at which the board is sold, and if, after making such deduction, the sale is made at a price less than the minimum price fixed by Licensor, it constitutes a direct violation of the terms of the license agreement, whether or not Licensee had knowledge of the allowance so made by the salesman.

Where a salesman selling patented board to a customer is authorized by Licensee or its agent to sell the same wholly or partly on a commission basis, or where a salesman not employed by Licensee makes a sale of patented board to a customer on a commission basis and Licensee or his agent accepts such sale, in either of such events the commission paid by the Licensee is a deduction from the price at which the board is sold by Licensee, and where, after deducting such commission, the amount is less than the minimum price, Licensor shall regard the sale as made at a price less than the minimum price fixed by Licensor and a violation of the terms of the license agreement. Licensor also regards sales of patented board by commission salesmen, without the written consent of Licensor, as a violation of the terms of the license agreement.

Very truly yours,

UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY

Vice President.

AUGUST 12, 1932

DEAR SIRS: Referring to paragraph two of our license contract with you, we are mailing you herewith Board License Bulletins Nos. 1, 2, 3, and 4 which cancel and supersede all previous price bulletins on gypsum wallboard and gypsum plasterboard manufactured by you and embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in our patents under which you are licensed.

The changes in minimum price in the attached bulletins as compared to those being cancelled are as follows:

Bulletin 3, paragraph 4. The delivered-by-truck price is extended to include Mansfield, Massachusetts and that portion of Plymouth county lying north of the continuation of the southern boundary of Norfolk county.

Also note that the minimum price applicable to patented board and/or lath shipped into the Metropolitan Boston area now applies to any quantity in straight, pool, or mixed cars. Formerly a minimum of 5,000 sq. ft. applied to pool cars and mixed cars.

Bulletin 1, page 4, paragraph 8 provides that the stopover charge need not be included in the minimum price in shipments to Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, and Ohio.

Very truly yours,

UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY

Vice President.

DECEMBER 28, 1931.

DEAR SIRS: Referring to paragraph two of our license contract with you, you are hereby notified that the minimum prices effective January 4, 1932, at which you may sell gypsum wallboard and gypsum plasterboard manufactured by you and embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in our patents under which you are licensed (not including applications for letters patent); including Haggerty patent number 1,500,452 and Hite patent number 1,230,297, are as follows:

In accordance with I. C. C. Ruling of December 7, 1931, the increase in freight rates is effective January 4, 1932 applying on gypsum wallboard and gypsum plasterboard. Board License Bulletin No. 1, provides; "Delivered price is lowest combination of mill price plus freight from that mill to destination," therefore, to the present delivered prices of gypsum wallboard and gypsum plasterboard shall be added the increase in freight on which the delivered price is determined. A schedule for determining this new freight per M square feet is attached. This schedule is based on the rate now used and the increase is reflected in the freight to be added to the mill price.

For shipments into area outlined in last paragraph page one, Bulletin No. 1, dated December 28, 1931, use rates as outlined with proper increase.

Very truly yours,

UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY,

Vice President in Charge of Sales.

GENTLEMEN:

Acting under instructions of our client, United States Gypsum Company, we hereby notify you that the plaster board which you are manufacturing and selling, and the process used by you in manufacturing said board, infringe the following United States letters patent owned by the United States Gypsum Company:

No. 1,029,328, granted June 11, 1912, to C. W. Utzman;
No. 1,034,746, granted August 6, 1912, to C. W. Utzman;
No. 1,358,508, granted November 9, 1920, to C. R. Birdsey.

We further wish to advise you that unless you desist forthwith from such infringement and make prompt settlement for your past infringement we shall, acting under instructions from our client, be obliged to institute suit under said patents for an injunction and an accounting.

Trusting that you will let us hear from you promptly in regard to the foregoing, we are,

Very truly yours,

THE AMERICAN GYPSUM COMPANY

Record of Called meeting of the Board of Directors of The American Gypsum Company held at the office of the Company in Portage Township, Ottawa County, Ohio, on Wednesday, August 19, 1925, at 10:30 A.M.

Meeting called to order by President J. H. McCrady. A roll call indicated all Directors present, namely

J. H. McCrady	Harry W. Benn
Edward McCrady	P. K. Tadsen
F. J. Griswold	C. F. Miller

J. B. Davis

The minutes of Regular meeting of July 20, 1925 were read by the Secretary, and the same, on motion by Harry W. Benn, seconded by Edward McCrady and carried, were approved.

Auditor Wilber T. Richardson's Financial Report covering period from January 1st to July 31st, 1925 was read, and upon motion by P. K. Tadsen, seconded by Harry W. Benn and carried, was received and ordered filed.

The Sand Handling Committee which was appointed at the last meeting of the Board to investigate and report as to machinery best suited for requirements at Cleveland Mixing Plant reported that a used, ¾ yard bucket, Electric Crawler, made by The Thew Shovel Company of Lorain, Ohio, had been purchased in Detroit for the sum of $5500.00, payable as follows; $1000.00 cash, $1900.00 when shipped and balance of $2600.00 to be paid in our Gypsum products; thereupon Edward McCrady moved and P. K. Tadsen seconded, that as the work of this Committee had been concluded, it be discharged, Motion carried.

Moved by Edward McCrady that the Manager investigate as to the best type of Sand Screens for use at our Cleveland Mixing Plant; and further, that he is by this motion authorized to purchase, that which in his opinion is most desirable; motion seconded by P. K. Tadsen and carried.

Whereas The American Gypsum Company has received a letter dated August 18, 1925 from Attorneys Jones, Addington, Ames & Seibold of Chicago, representing The United States Gypsum Company, notifying us that the Plaster Board which we are manufacturing and selling, and the process used by us in manufacturing it, infringe three United States letters patent owned by The United States Gypsum Company; they further advise us that unless we desist forthwith from such infringement and make prompt settlement for past infringement they shall, acting under the instructions of their client, be obliged to institute suit under said patents for an injunction 10272 and accounting; therefore C. F. Miller moved and P. K. Tadsen seconded, that a Committee consisting of J. H. McCrady, J. B. Davis, and F. J. Griswold be appointed with full power to take such action as may be necessary to protect the interest of The American Gypsum Company, Motion carried.

On motion seconded and carried, this meeting closed.

DEAR SIR:

I just returned from a meeting at Buffalo yesterday with Mr. Blagden, President of the Beaver Products Company. He has had one or two interviews with Avery on the matter of settling all disputes and litigations between the wall board manufacturers by entering into a licensing arrangement and the thing looks very favorable. We are standing on 50¢ per M royalty. Avery is talking about $1.00 per M and I am inclined to think he will probably stand pretty firm on this price. However, on his own admission he has so much at stake on the proposition that he may change his views.

This matter will be discussed by all the independent wall board manufacturers at a meeting in Chicago next Wednesday afternoon and probably some definite action taken on it as the probabilities are that Avery may meet with us at that meeting. If you feel able to attend the meeting I will be very glad indeed to have you be there. According to the plans we have we figure that there is a possibility of us holding the price steady on wall board for the next fourteen or fifteen years which means much to the industry.

Yours truly,

Record of Special Meeting of the Board of Directors of The American Gypsum Company, held at the office of the Treasurer in Cleveland, Ohio, on Thursday June 3rd, 1926 at 10:00 AM.

A roll call indicated the following:

J. H. McCrady	P. K. Tadsen
Edward McCrady	J. B. Davis
Harry W. Benn	F. J. Griswold

C. F. Miller

The reading of minutes of Board meeting held May 17th, 1926 was deferred until next Board meeting.

This meeting called by the President for the purpose of considering matters relating to Wall Board edge litigation, and a proposed licensing agreement (arising therefrom) with The United States Gypsum Company of Chicago, Illinois, for the manufacture of Wall Board under patents claimed to be owned or controlled, by The U. S. Gypsum Company.

After the Board of Directors had fully considered this entire matter, insofar as presented to it, C. F. Miller moved and Harry W. Benn seconded, that President J. H. McCrady and General Manager F. J. Griswold, be appointed a Committee to continue negotiations, and to attend a meeting of those interested, which will be held in the Palmer House, Chicago, Ill., June 8th, 1926, Motion carried.

On motion duly seconded and carried, this meeting closed.

DEAR SIR:

I have just returned from Buffalo and while there I had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Haggerty of the National Gypsum Company.

Mr. Haggerty apparently had not a very complete report on just what happened and was very much interested in hearing the details. When I left him, he admitted being personally sold on the proposition, but, of course, like the rest of us, stated he would have to take up the matter with his Board of Directors for further confirmation.

There is no question in my mind about his attitude, and as he and Mr. Williams control the National Gypsum Company, I feel very sure there will be no opposition from his directors.

While there I had the pleasure of an interview with Mr. Blagden, who reported that the contracts have been written up, but are being rewritten and it is expected they will be ready to submit in a very short time.

I shall be very glad to receive two copies of this contract, because I want to forward one to the Texas Cement Plaster Company with any comments I desire to make on it.

It would be very nice if this matter could come up at the time of the next meeting of the Industries, which is on July 13th and 14th.

Yours very respectfully,

DEAR MR. GRISWOLD:

Thanks for your letter of the second, regarding Mr. Haggerty and Mr. Williams. It is the only information I have had on the subject since you were here. We have made some little progress on the license contract. My impression is that many of the difficulties I anticipated are going to disappear, and that the paper will resolve itself into a fairly simple thing. Mr. Blagden and his attorney Mr. Mitchell expect to arrive Thursday, and I shall be pleased to send you the two copies of the contract you suggest as soon as it is drawn.

It seems reasonable to me that the contract should take form in plenty of time for the consideration of those interested when they are here at the Industries meeting on the thirteenth and fourteenth.

With kind regards, I am

Replying to your letter of June 6th, we received the package containing patents listed under exhibit A on pages one and two, but we did not receive any of the patents listed on pages 3, 4, 5 and 6, which were originally owned by the Beaver Products Company.

We have asked the Beaver Products Company to rush these patents to us as the wording of the license agreement makes it quite necessary that we look over these patents, very few of which we have had any knowledge in the past.

DEAR MR. GRISWOLD:

In answer to yours of the thirteenth I will say that Mr. Blagden, under date of August ninth, advises me that the Beaver company was mailing you at that time a memorandum containing the numbers of all patents and patent applications referred to in the license agreement. From this I assume that they have no copies of these patents themselves, and expect you to obtain them from Washington.

It is my belief that you will find a satisfactory justification without going through this laborious list or securing the sometimes technical explanation of the direct and indirect uses of these patents in the present production of almost all board. The Utzman machine patent itself is, I believe, one of the most important, and perhaps you may find it possible, after going over this and one or two others, to satisfy yourself sufficiently to escape the need of a careful investigation of so many patents and applications.

Very truly yours,

President.

Record of regular meeting of the Board of Directors of The American Gypsum Company held at the office of the Treasurer, 876 The Arcade, Cleveland, Ohio, on Monday August 16, 1926, at 10:00 AM.

President McCrady called this meeting to order.

A roll call indicated the following:

Present

J. H. McCrady	P. K. Tadsen
Edward McCrady	C. F. Miller
Harry W. Benn	F. J. Griswold

J. B. Davis

Minutes of regular meeting held July 19, 1926 were read by the Secretary and the same, upon motion by Harry W. Benn, seconded by Edward McCrady and carried, were approved.

The Financial report of Auditor Wilber T. Richardson covering period from January 1st to July 31st, 1926 was read by the Secretary, the same on motion by P. K. Tadsen, seconded by C. F. Miller, and carried, were ordered placed in the files of the Company.

Mr. A. T. Button of the Engineering Department of The N.Y.C. Railroad Company was advised that could furnish the railroad Company its requirements (about 350,000 cubic yards) for making the grade elimination embankment through Port Clinton, Ohio, from our run-of-mine limestone rock, in sizes containing approximately 1½ cubic feet, down to ½ inch and screenings, for the sum of $.80 per ton of 2000 pounds, f o b cars Port Clinton Mill.

A copy of the proposed Licensing Agreement, as suggested by The United States Gypsum Company was read in detail and after a full discussion by the Board, Harry W. Benn moved that this entire matter be again referred to the Committee, consisting of J. H. McCrady, F. J. Griswold and J. B. Davis, for a general revision as to details, and that the Committee endeavor if passible to limit any licensing agreement to a three year period; and further, that

C. F. Miller is by this motion appointed an alternate to serve upon the above Committee in case any one of those noted are unable to attend its sessions, motion seconded by Edward McCrady and unanimously carried.

The above Committee was requested to try and report at or before the next regular meeting of the Board.

Moved by C. F. Miller and seconded by Harry W. Benn that the Manager obtain from The American Appraisal Company, and from two other companies of like standing, a proposal to fully complete the appraisal of all land and property of The American Gypsum Company, 10281 wherever located (A part of this work has already been done), Motion carried.

On motion, duly made, seconded and carried, this meeting closed.

DEAR SIR:

Pardon the delay in replying to your letter of August 16 but the writer has been absent since that date and just returned Sunday morning.

Was at Buffalo Saturday but Mr. Blagdon had not returned from his vacation. They expected him back on the job September 1. His Company sent me a list of Exhibit "A" and I find also a considerable number of patents which I have not had a chance to check at this writing and in order to save time on the matter, before leaving, I instructed our patent attorneys to secure the copies and check them over. If Mr. Blagdon returns we will try and arrange for a meeting the first of the coming week at Chicago and get some definite action on this matter.

While at Buffalo I had an interview with Mr, Haggerty. At New York I also met Mr. Fuller of the Atlantic Gypsum Company. Had a very pleasant talk with him along the lines we are working on and expect another interview with him in the very near future.

While in New York I met Martin Johnson and will be very glad to advise you the coming week of some of the things the writer has in mind.

My dear friend John:

I received your postal stating you and Mrs. Davis landed in your little cottage by the sea and that your hay fever has entirely disappeared. Now in regard to my trip to Chicago, would say I left here Sunday morning; had an hour lay-over in Cleveland. Clint met me at the depot and we talked over matters pertaining to the American Gypsum Company. He said while he had not been up at the plant that everything seemed to be moving along nicely and he thought he would go to the plant sometime soon.

Now in regard to our conference in Chicago with Mr. Avery, I am not going to enter into details or even hit the high spots as I had C.F. Miller on the 'phone about an hour ago and he advised me that he had written you as to what transpired in our conference with Mr. Avery. He gave us to understand that for the next ten years, we, the American Gypsum Company, would have to eat out of his hand and that is just what we would have to do if we sign this contract. Now in regard to the Board meeting, we decided to postpone it until your return home from your vacation. I am enclosing, herewith, a copy of the contract which you can look over at your leisure. You do not need to return this copy as I have another here.

Mrs. McCrady and the writer both extend our best wishes to you and Mrs. Davis and also to your son, Warren, and his family.

MR. J. B. DAVIS,

DEAR MR. DAVIS:

Glad to know that everything is okeh with you on the island. Things are going along very well here and business seems to be holding up just about the same as it did for the same period in 1925.

We hear quite a little talk over the country about business not being as good as people would like to have it, but it doesn't seem to have much effect on the volume of business yet.

We feel very confident that the remaining months of this year will give us as good tonnage as 1925, and if they do, we should be satisfied.

I am enclosing copy of letter that I just wrote our Mr. McCrady.

The trip to Chicago was made by Mr. McCrady, Mr. Miller and myself. There was nothing definite done, of course, as we were a committee and have to report to the Board of Directors. Mr. McCrady said this meeting will not be called until you return.

There were some changes made in the contract and I am enclosing you a copy of it.

We went over the matter fully with Mr. Avery and Mr. John McLease, their general counsel. They explained very fully why they could not incorporate in the contract things which they admitted they would have liked to put in but which they could not put in.

The Beaver Board Company signed the original contract and the Universal Gypsum Company were to have signed last Wednesday afternoon, according to Mr. Shearer. It seems like this is a question of more faith in the other fellow and is something that we are asked to do for the good of the industry. From a legal stand point it is a bad contract, but it is a good deal like the one that Frank Carpenter passed on, and the one we had with the Cleveland Builders. If he were on the Board of Directors, and the officers did not sign it, he would be in favor of discharging them for the simple reason that it looks like it would be a good thing from an operating stand point. It is the 10288 same in this case, Mr. Avery gave us positive assurance as to what they would not do towards forcing any provisions that would work a hardship on any licensee providing certain conditions developed.

I understand from McCrady that Harry and Ed did not take very kindly to it, but I am sure I do not know anything further than the brief statement which he made over the telephone.

I am leaving fro Chicago at noon today to attend a regular meeting of the Gypsum Industries.

It certainly is a delightful feeling that we are experiencing now with our bills paid up and money in the bank. Collections so far amount to $148,000.00 out of our estimate of $250,000.00 for the month, consequently we still have about $100,000.00, which we expect to collect. If we collect this amount of money we will be in very good condition the first of October.

Hoping that both you and Mrs. Davis are enjoying your stay there to the fullest extent, I remain,

Yours respectfully,

DEAR MR. AVERY:

Simply because you do not hear from me, do not think there is not being some work done on the matter of the licensing agreement.

Two of our directors have been away and have just returned and we have a meeting scheduled for Monday of the coming week, at which time some definite action will be taken on the matter.

On the matter about which you are familiar I simply report progress with the expectation that it will go thru as planned.

DEAR MR. GRISWOLD:

Thanks for yours of the seventh. To be frank with you, I have been a little disturbed about the slowness of our progress, although I have appreciated the burden of your efforts in other fields and assumed that this was the cause of the delay. I have been postponing a rather extensive trip in the expectation of a conclusion on the matter, and am pleased to know that the meeting scheduled for Monday may bring some development that will decide it.

I am very glad to know of the progress you report in your last paragraph, and I very much hope you accomplish this for the satisfaction it will be to yourself and for the good I believe it will bring to the industry in general.

Very truly yours,

DEAR MR. AVERY:

It may interest you to know that Mr. Fuller and Mr. Channing of the Atlantic Gypsum Company, have been with me here for the last two days, and have just left for home.

I have considered it a very wise move to get pretty well acquainted with these gentlemen. They claim they are going into the manufacture of Gypsum Wall Board as well as the manufacture of a pulp board, which, from the information I have been able to get from them, is something entirely different from any pulp board on the market.

I have talked very earnestly to them on the matter of the licensing agreement and believe they will consider it favorably. They, of course, wanted to know its contents and asked me for a copy of the proposed contract, which of course I have not given them. I promised to see what can be done.

Do you see any objections to giving them a copy of the contract, omitting from it any names, either of the licensor or the proposed licensees?

Both of these gentlemen seem to be very earnest in assuring me that they are in the business to make money, and if competition would allow them to do so, they certainly expect to make it out of the gypsum business. They assured me that their experience in the business is such that they feel absolutely confident of their ability to get the same prices for their products as other companies get for their's, and intimated that they do not expect to follow any other policy than that of selling their materials at the market prices established by other concerns in the same line.

I might add further that both of these gentlemen impressed me as being very level headed business men and ones whom I would expect to do exactly as they stated they would.

Would be pleased to hear from you at your convenience.

Yours very respectfully,

Thanks for yours of the ninth regarding Mr. Fuller and Mr. Channing. I am having made up an extra copy of the license which I am forwarding to you, and if you believe it advisable to forward it on to them I would be pleased to have you do it. It does not seem proper for me to send it on directly as we have so far not had the pleasure of meeting, and the subject of the license has not, of course, been mentioned. It is a pleasure to have your favorable judgment of the qualities and points of view of these men, and it is a satisfaction to know that men coming into the industry are of this character.

DEAR MR. AVERY:

Acknowledging your letter of the 11th enclosing copy of License Agreement.

I am confident the way to deal with the gentleman referred to is by dealing with him in a frank open manner, which I have attempted to do up to the present time.

It is my opinion that it will be a wise move to forward the contract to Mr. Fuller with a request that the matter be kept strictly confidential, and a further request that he is to return the contract to me as soon as some decision has been reached in the matter.

In this connection I might advise you that the Directors of this Company had a meeting Monday of this week, and the License Agreement matter was referred back to a Committee.

This Committee expects to meet with all other Manufacturers of board who have not yet signed the License Agreement. The meeting will probably be Thursday of this coming week with the object in view of getting united action on this matter.

DEAR MR. AVERY:

Replying to your letter of the 19th, I regret to report that I was unsuccessful in getting all of the people interested to attend the meeting on the 21st, as planned, but some of them were unable to come on account of previous engagements. I do not believe I will be able to get them together until after the first of the month, but all of them have expressed the desire to come as soon as they can arrange their affairs to do so.

I might add that the Atlantic Gypsum Company is very much interested, judging from a recent telegram I received from them.

I am quite sure you appreciate what I have to contend with and also appreciate the fact that if the original plan should fail of unanimous consent of all of the manufacturers, and if the other deal about which you are familiar should materialize, it would still leave the way open to bring the matter to a head in a much easier way. I am quite sure that one or the other will succeed by patient and persistent work.

DEAR MR. AVERY:

After spending considerable time with the manufacturers of Wall and Plaster Board, discussing the proposed license agreement submitted by your company, I am now compelled to admit that further efforts would simply be a waste of time and that it would be impossible to get them to sign this agreement as written. The principle objection is the length of time which the agreement runs and the list of patents described as exhibit A, acknowledgment of the validity of which is required according to the present agreement. You will remember that when the matter was first up for discussion it was figured that the length of time which the agreement was to run was to be much shorter as the Utzman Patent expired in about three years.

I have discussed this matter pretty thoroughly with all of the companies with the exception of the Certainteed Products Company. I am not in a position to know where they would stand on a contract that only covered the Utzman Patent and run during the life of the Utzman Patent which is about three years. I expect to see them in a short time but I feel confident that all of the rest of the manufacturers will sign such an agreement along the same general lines of your present agreement. I also believe that the Atlantic Gypsum Company who are figuring on going into the Wall Board business will sign such an agreement, but know they will object to an agreement running practically ten years. I expect to be able to report to you in a short time exactly what they are willing to do.

I am pleased to report that matters are progressing very favorably along the line about which you are familiar and believe it will not be long before some definite action is taken.

The writer hopes to submit something for your consideration in the very near future. DEAR MR. AVERY:

I acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 30th. Am very sorry indeed that we have not been able to reach an adjustment in the matter referred to not only with this Company but all the other people interested and regret to note that you feel as you do about the matter but am frank to say to you that I have not given it up.

You will remember that I started out to deliver 100 per cent of the manufacturers of board that would be willing to sign up on a license arrangement with your company which at that time only extended during the life of the Utzman patents and at a meeting that was held all of the manufacturers seemed to feel favorable to the matter but the later contracts which were submitted extended the time over about an eleven year period and brought in to this new contract a number of other patents which had not been considered in the original proposition, which explains the stumbling block for me all the way along.

Since the meeting referred to the Certainteed Products Company began the manufacture of board and are making an open edge type of board rather than make any protected edge type which might get them into litigation. I regret to say that some of the reports I hear from the Southwest territory indicate that they are doing just what I anticipated would be done in case this license agreement was not entered into. Another manufacturer, the Atlantic Gypsum Company, are just about ready to start the manufacture of wall board and they too will manufacture an open type edge unless some agreement can be reached with you on a shorter time contract.

With the exception of the Certainteed Products Company and the possible change of mind of the National Gypsum Company every other manufacturer now is ready to enter into a shorter term contract. The Certainteed Company are considering the matter but have not given me a definite answer. If their actions are favorable every manufacturer will then be ready to enter into a shorter time contract which will be along the same general lines of your present contract and if I am successful in getting 100 per cent the proposition will be submitted to you for consideration. As indicated above, at the present time, every concern including the Atlantic Gypsum Company is willing to enter into this contract with the exception of the Certainteed Products Company. The National Gypsum 10303 Company has so indicated but suggested one or two alternate propositions which I think they would waive providing all the rest of the manufacturers agreed on the proposed contract.

MR. J. H. MCCRADY,
c/o McCrady Brothers Co.,
Braddock, Pa.

DEAR MR. MCCRADY:

I was up to Chicago last week and got to talking with Mr. Avery on the matter of the suit that is pending over the question of validity of their so called Birdsey Patent. He doesn't want to postpone the case but wants it to come to trial and it is assigned for January 27th at Cleveland. He said enough to show me that he would very much rather have us take out a license agreement than to proceed with the suit, but of course I just listened to that.
They have given up the idea of applying for a temporary injunction. The case that comes up will be to test the validity of the patent with the idea of getting a permanent injunction, and this is a case where we will be allowed to put our witnesses on the stand. Up to the present time it has all been the submission of depositions, but in this case no depositions will be used unless the witness has disappeared or we are unable to get him to put him on the stand. This trial will have to do only with the so-called Birdsey Patent edge which is an edge tucked in similar to the one which we are making. The Utzman type edge will not come into this case. By this I mean the type edge that the U.S.G. Company use on their Board.

After seeing Avery I had a long talk with our attorneys. You will remember at the last meeting it was suggested that Davis look up somebody in Cleveland and I was to get in touch with Charles Brown, Patent Attorney, who was connected with the Universal Gypsum Company, but after talking with them some time I made up my mind that Charles Brown would not work very harmoniously. Both Mr. Mehlhope and Mr. Poole thot that if we wanted to get additional counsel we should by all means get somebody that is looked up to as one of the best patent attorneys in the country and they suggested a Mr. Charles Neave of New York, whom they claim is one of the most prominent patent attorneys in the country, their argument being that this case involves considerable money and if we are going to employ additional counsel at all, we should get the best available. I think this is pretty good advice.

For your information will say that Birdsey was granted a patent prior to the patent granted to Sidney C. Clark, our superintendent of the Wall Board Plant who assigned his patent, of course, to the American Gypsum Company. There has also been granted an additional patent to Birdsey 10310 and a patent to Schumacher, all on a type edge that is along the same general lines. By this I mean the two edges of the paper were tucked in. The first patent granted to Birdsey, however, is different than any of the rest. In the sketches and description which Birdsey gives of his patent he evidently had in mind a completely covered edge. That is, the edge of the Board was covered with paper and no stucco was showing. On all of the rest of the patents, including our's, there is no attempt made to completely cover the edge of the paper. On the other hand we are trying to keep from doing that very thing. We simply tuck the edges of the Board in and let the stucco come clear up to the face of the edge so our Board is practically the same as a raw edge Board, whereas, Birdsey's shows no stucco at all, but shows paper on the edge. As stated above, there are two other patents besides our's that are very similar to our own, all of which shows that the patent office realizes that there is a decided difference in the two different type edges.

If our attorneys can get the judge to realize the difference there is between the two type edges, there should be no trouble in our defending this case successfully. On the other hand if the attorneys cannot get the judge to study the question to such an extent that he can see the difference and simply looks at it in a general way, the decision is apt to go against us. It is for this reason that I personally favor that we get the best talent we possibly can to get the facts of the case across to the judge so forcibly that he will go into the matter thoroughly.

Yours very respectfully,

MR. J. H. MCCRADY,
c/o McCrady Brothers Co.,
Braddock, Pa.

DEAR MR. MCCRADY:

Since dictating other letters today, Mr. Blagden who is with the Certainteed Products Company called me up and said that inasmuch as he and I had done as much or more work than anybody else on the license agreement between the Wall Board manufacturers and the U.S.G. Company sometime ago, the result of which the Beaver Products Company, the Universal Gypsum Company, the Texas Cement Plaster Company and the Atlantic Gypsum Company had entered into a license agreement with the U.S.G. Company, that he in the last two or three weeks had had one or more conferences with Avery of the U.S.G. Company and he had also talked to his own people, the principal of which is George W. Brown, President of the Certainteed Products Company, and it was his own personal opinion that if The American Gypsum Company, the National Gypsum Company, the Ebsary Gypsum Company and the Niagara Gypsum Company would all get together and agree and then some of us talk to George W. Brown, President of the Certainteed Products, it was his opinion that Mr. Brown would agree to join us, and he felt pretty sure that Brown would join.

You remember I reported when I was in New York I had a two and one-half hour conference with Brown, at which time he stated very plainly to me that they were willing at that time to enter into a license agreement without any particular changes in it providing all of the manufacturers, including Ebsary, would enter into it and make it one hundred percent.

When I was in Chicago about ten days ago I saw Avery for a few minutes and I was given to understand by him that notwithstanding the fact they had an injunction suit against the Certainteed Products Company to try to make them carry out the Beaver Products Company's license agreement, the U.S.G. was willing to drop the suit against the Certainteed providing the Certainteed would carry out the Beaver Products Company's contract. Of course, we have got to make allowance to the fact that Blagden is now connected with the Certainteed Products Company and he may be acting as Brown's spokesman in this case, it really being the object of the Certainteed Products Company to get matters fixed up again and the markets stabilized.

For your information will say that the Wall Plaster market will never be straightened up or stabilized providing the Wall Board and Gypsum Lath market remains in the condition it is. There is no question but that if the Wall Board market were fixed up the Wall Plaster market would automatically be affected at the same time. Blagden 10312 was very anxious to know what our position in the matter would be and I told him that I could not tell him until sometime about the middle of the coming week. He seems very anxious to get at the matter at once, because he thot if it could be done now, before the market gets to the extreme bottom like it is in the south-west territory where plaster is selling for $2.50 a ton, it would probably be much easier to get it fixed up than it would be when matters get worse.

Yours very respectfully,

MR. J. H. MCCRADY,
c/o McCrady Brothers Co.,
Braddock, Pa.

DEAR MR. MCCRADY:

Richardson has sent us his report, and I am pleased to advise that the result shown for the month of May was a gain of . We had about $1,700 expenses to pay out during the month of May that in reality should have been distributed over several months, but under our system the amounts are charged as expense items, which accrue during the month which they are paid.

Our tonnage shipt was not up to 1927. At the same time it was very good and has shown some signs of increasing for the month of June. The same trouble still prevails, that dealers will not order any material for stock and only order when they are compelled to do so for work that cannot be delayed any longer. The price situation has not changed materially and, of course, the low prices have spread to other towns but it has not spread very rapidly. $6.00 seems to be about the prevailing price excepting on specific jobs here and there where lower prices are made. We seldom find where a lower quotation than $6.00 is made to a dealer on material for warehouse stock. There has not been to our knowledge any direct movement made in the way of raising prices; but there are rumors all over the country that salesmen of both the Certain-teed and the U.S.G. Companies within the last ten days or two weeks have been advising contractors on specific jobs to get their orders in as prices are going to be advanced. These rumors come from all parts of the country and it is safe to assume that some word has been passed down the line from headquarters that the dove of peace would be soon looking for a place to light. As advised you at the last meeting, the Certainteed Products Company frankly admit that they have got enough and they would like to see the prices stabilized. The U.S.G. Company have quit their war talk and are advising contractors to get under cover on both plaster and wall board and also blocks, so lets hope that the two combatants have about gotten enough of the present conditions and will have sense enough to create better ones within the near future. The outlook for business is fair and we believe we will enjoy a very fair tonnage in the next four months, at least, and hope it will continue up to December 31st.

MR. EUGENE HOLLAND,
c/o Universal Gypsum & Lime Co.,
Chicago, Illinois.

DEAR MR. HOLLAND:

I acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 7th, and note your statement that nothing new has developed in regard to the price situation.

The attitude of this Company has not changed, and we do not think there is a ghost of a show of our Board ever considering the present license agreement of the Gypsum Company. If they will amend the agreement to give their licensees some protection and consideration for the money they get paid, I am inclined to think our people would consider the proposition, but so far Mr. Avery has gone on record that he will not make any change and there is not much chance of this Company being interested in his agreement.

I think you will agree that under the conditions as they are now, you, as licensees, should be entitled to some protection, which you are not getting, and we, of course, feel the same way, and I think the rest of the concerns do also. I believe the National would consider the agreement providing they would have some guarantee as to what action the Gypsum Company is going to take.

We have been compelled to make an open edge Board until we can get squared around here, but we are just coming on the market with a new closed edge Board, which we think will prove very satisfactory to the trade.

DEAR MR. GRISWOLD:

In the second paragraph of your letter of September 10 you state you believe that possibly your company could be interested in a modified license agreement on closed edge wallboard. I wish you would give me definite information, if you care to, as to just what your idea of this license agreement should be, stating clearly all of the points you think should be covered. I would not expect to use this information received from you other than as a background in approaching this whole situation when the proper time comes.

I think Mr. Haggerty and others interested are still of the opinion that some time in the near future I should attempt to arrange a meeting; in order to be in a position to intelligently handle the situation I should have a very definite idea from everyone involved as to just what they hope to accomplish in such a meeting.

I understand the plaster committee of the National Building Supply Dealers Association is meeting today and I have just been called to sit in with them informally for a few minutes. I am hoping that some good will come out of the effort of the dealers to bring about a more orderly distribution of our products.

With best personal regards, I am

Very truly yours,

DEAR MR. HOLLAND:

Replying to your letter of the 13th, I have my own ideas of what would be acceptable in the way of a license agreement, but with conditions as they are at the present time, I would not want to make a statement of the ideas of our Board until I consulted them about it. I will take up the matter with them at the first opportunity, but I am of the opinion that there is not much use of your spending much time on the proposition, at least, until the U. S. Gypsum Company indicates in some way that they are in a receptive mood, because as near as I can see, the entire proposition hinges on their attitude. There apparently is no question but that the other manufacturers would all welcome better market conditions, but such conditions cannot be brought about without the U. S. Gypsum Company wanting better market conditions and being willing to make an attempt to improve conditions themselves. So far as I know they have not shown any indications up to the present time that they cared for better market conditions. Conditions are settling down to what might be quite a siege in warfare. Everybody is getting ready to hang out as long as they can, and hoping, of course, that it will not be long before an armistice of some kind is agreed upon and the warfare ended.

While we may not be in line with the license agreement, we are perfectly willing to get all of the money we can for our products, and inasmuch as it has been the policy of this company in the past to always get the best market prices for our products, if the license agreement would be entered into by the other manufacturers, the effect of which would be to sell a licensed product at a certain price, we are confident that with the goods we will put on the market, we will have no trouble in getting as high a price as the licensor.

DEAR MR. GRISWOLD:

I am afraid that nothing can be done towards stabilization until the board matter is entirely out of the way. I believe that Mr. Avery has been very definite in a statement to that effect. Inasmuch as Certain-teed, National, and others are unwilling to negotiate any on the board proposition until your decision is clearly defined, it would seem that the entire matter rests with your decision.

Possibly you are better able to negotiate this yourself, but several of us have thought that maybe we could get farther by having a meeting of several representatives of firms who are involved in the board situation. It might at least be worth while trying, and such a meeting would at least result in finding out just exactly wherein the difference of opinion exists. I was in hopes that you would be in a position to attend such a meeting in case the others were so disposed. If any change takes place in your position, I would be very glad to be informed if you so desire.

GENTLEMEN: Attention Mr. S. M. Gloyd.

Replying to your letter of February 17th, I have heard nothing further from Mr. Avery up to the present time as to the contract covering the license agreement. My guess is that everything is going to come out all right on this deal, because it looks now like the proposition Johnson has been working on is almost sure to go thru, and it will be decided the coming week. I expect all contracts to be signed up by that time ready to proceed with the business. If this occurs, I feel sure we will be able to get along with Mr. Avery and I hope to be able to arrange with him for a license agreement with your company, covering the three year period. For your information, however, will say that the Atlantic Gypsum Company of Boston is considering signing up with him on a long time contract and Williams of the National Gypsum Company seems to be inclined to sign up on a long time contract. Reeb is also considering it favorable. Of course, if the deal referred to above goes thru, Reeb will be in on that so that in all probability we will be able to get together with Avery in some way. All of us I think will be willing to go in on the long time contract if he will give us some assurance that what he has told us verbally will be carried out by someone else in case he should not be on the job.

Very glad, indeed, to hear you have been having nice weather. The weather we have been having the last week has not been so very bad, but has been what we would call typical winter weather for this time of the year. There is quite a snow storm raging today, however, and it looks like we are going to have some rough weather the next few days.

You will hear from me again within the next week as to how the matter referred to above is progressing.

Also have a letter from Mr. Johnson which advised me that the merge you and he were working on had been completed. I am certainly glad you have been successful in this; thought most likely it would be done some way because you were giving it such careful consideration and this usually brings results.

I want to thank you for all the trouble you have given it in our behalf and if the folded edge business comes up again with Mr. Avery you can count us in line.

DEAR MR. GLOYD:

Replying to your letter of March 10th, note that you have just returned from Havana and Florida, and that you had a nice trip. Also note your comments that there is a lot of work about running around that you don't care for. I have noticed myself that even when I go on a pleasure trip, there is more or less work about it that sometimes tires a person, but when one takes trips for the interest of the business, he gets very much more tired.

This is all the more reason, Mr. Gloyd, why you should get rid of your plaster mill down there so you will not have anything connected with that to give you anything to worry about.

The mills that we have signed up, of course, is simply the beginning of the proposition we have in mind. We want to take in a number more of them before we get thru, and I hope we can make the matter look attractive enough to you so you will join us.

I believe the Gypsum Industries will have a meeting in Chicago the early part of April. Are you planning to be up there at that time?

For your information, we understand that the Atlantic Gypsum Company have signed up their contract with the United States Gypsum Company on the covered edge. As soon as we get our matters in shape I am going to take up the license agreement with Avery, and feel we will reach an agreement where all of our plants will be in on the license agreement, and hope to get things in shape so you can go in also. I have you in mind at all times when I am talking with Avery on the proposition and as soon as we get matters in shape so they will look attractive to you, I will take up the matter with you.

Just returned home and I have decided to apply to Mr. Avery right away for license to make the folded edge on our Board.

Have also decided that I would like to have you reply, setting forth what you had in mind to have Avery and his board of directors place on their minuite book in reference to Avery's version of how he would treat you and I, and also other firms that he had given license for the folded edge. I refer to the kind of treatment and the way that he would treat the license arrengement after the expiration of two and one-half years or during the remainder of the eight years.

Would like to have a free expression from you of your ideas of what resolutions Avery should place on the minuites and have confirmed by the board of directors, if we could get it.

I am firmly of the opinion that if you will make application for your company right away that they would both be accepted and contract sent us right away.

He already has the Universal Gypsum Company and the Beaver Products Corporation signed up on it and believe he would have to waive it to them if he gave us a better contract.

Please let me have a very prompt reply as I have definitely decided to write Avery very soon, but will await your reply.

GENTLEMEN: Attention Mr. S. M. Gloyd.

Upon the writer's return to the office he found your letters of the 25th, and 28th.

You will have no trouble with Mr. Avery of the United States Gypsum Company if you make your application for a license agreement on that score. I am positive he will grant same.

I do not think Mr. Avery is worrying about our actions, because when our deal is completed, he understands that we will make an arrangement with him and take out a license agreement. Of course, if you do not take out a license agreement at this time, he is figuring if you join our merger proposition that would clear up the situation, because of the fact that we would take out a license for all of the plants manufacturing Board.

It may interest you to know that I had an interview with the National people while in Chicago the other day, and when discussing the subject, they seemed to be thinking more favorably than they ever did, at I am expecting them to arrive at a conclusion when they discuss the matter further with Mr. Avery.

DEAR MR. GLOYD:

Pardon delay in replying to your letter of the 5th, which was on my desk upon my return.

Note you have made application to the U.S.G. Company for license to manufacture the Utzman type folded edge Wall Board. I was in Chicago Tuesday and Wednesday of this week and had a long talk with Mr. Avery. He advised me that he received your application.

It may be very interesting information to you to know that the Certainteed Products Company has expressed indirectly a willingness to enter into a license agreement, and Mr. Avery, who has been opposed to granting them a license, has finally yielded to the persuasion of Mr. Blagden, Mr. Palmer and myself and has consented to consider their application. We expect to have another meeting with the Certainteed Products Company in New York on Thursday of the coming week, which we believe will end the matter, and they will file their application which will be granted.

When they make application, I feel absolutely sure then that the National Gypsum Company will also file their application, and inasmuch as we expect to go in, this will make the matter one hundred percent—in fact better than one hundred percent, because I was able to induce the Atlantic Gypsum Products Company to take out a license and this company was not considered at the time the matter was first thot of.

Mr. Avery seems to be very appreciative of the work his friends have done, which will do away with all the troublesome and distasteful litigation.
It might interest you also to know that the bankers have notified my company here as well as the Niagara and the Empire that the audits of their books have been completed and the results found satisfactory and they would proceed to take over the properties according to contracts.

Now, Mr. Gloyd, I will never feel just right on this matter until we have your plant, and I sincerely hope that the negotiations that are being conducted will result in your plant being one of those in the merger, That is what I had in mind when I started and I would like very much to have my ambitions in this direction fulfilled.

DEAR MR. GLOYD:

I acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 11th, advising that you are signing the license agreement and returning it to Mr. Avery of the U.S.G. Company.

I am leaving on this afternoon train for New York City where a number of us will meet in conference, and we hope to straighten out Mr. Brown of the Certainteed Products Company. There is little question in my mind but what we will be able to induce Mr. Avery to enter into the license agreement with them, if they are willing, and if they sign the agreement, the National Gypsum Company will also sign, and Johnson and I will then sign up the other companies, which will make it 100%. We hope this will, for many years, do away with the expensive litigation which has been the means of creating considerable feeling between the different manufacturers.

I note that you have a new dragline in operation and am very anxious to get down and look over your plant, but have been so busy here that I have been unable to do so. If matters work out like I hope, I will want to take a run down and look it over.

I feel pretty sure that Johnson will work out the proposition to your satisfaction.

Through our attorneys here I learned that the patent case has been postponed in Cleveland, without the prejudice our local attorneys feared, in the opinion of our representative. I have made a note of our conversation covering your personal assurances regarding the carrying out of our outlined understanding immediately subsequent to the taking over of the American and the Niagara by the new corporation, this to be on the basis of $50,000 for the American and $6000 for the Niagara, the 5% commission to apply to the shipment of board of both companies from the date of the license issued to the Universal Company. I hope that nothing interferes with the success of your plans and that you will be comfortably launched on the date anticipated, and have a long and happy voyage as master of a ship that appears to me to be on good lines and of sea worthy construction.

DEAR MR. AVERY:

It was on the Fourth day of July, 1928, about 10:30 A.M., and I had just finished playing the seventh hole in a foursome play in an eighteen hole flag tournament, being the third low handicapped man when some man handed me a clipping from a Chicago paper, telling of the decision of Judge Jones in our Wall Board edge controversy. Being a golf player yourself you will have to agree that a fellow that would do a trick like that in a golf tournament must have done so with the deliberate intention of ruining my score, or else he knew d— little about golf playing. I am not saying that it was not harder to play after that, but I will say I finished the eighteen holes with my usual score, and then played twenty-two more holes with the lowest score I ever have made, so I am now firmly convinced that golf is an excellent game to play to keep your mind off your business worries.

I was, of course, surprised at this decision and will admit that I was disappointed, but realize that both could not win, and congratulate you on doing so.

You stated, furing our conversation last week, that no matter who won the decision in this Court, it didn't mean much and that the case would likely go to the higher court in order to settle the question beyond dispute. The Board of Directors of our Company meet on July 11th, at which time, I think, this matter will be discussed, and no doubt a plan of handling it decided on, of which you will in due course of time be advised.

FRIEND DAVIS:

This is Saturday afternoon, and I thot I would drop you a line before the office closed to let you know that we have made remarkable progress with our new Wall Board edge, and we are now in production, making it about as fast as we made the old White Rock Board, and are really making a better edge than the old one. This seems to be the opinion of every one that has seen it. We are getting in a number of orders and have already made shipments which have proven satisfactorily. In fact we have had nothing but praise for this type edge. I am not the least bit worried about being able to hold all of our old customers with this edge, neither do I think there is any danger of the U.S.G. Company being able to cause us any particular trouble other than possibly an attempt to scare us off. Mr. Kling nor any one else who has gone into the matter with other attorneys see where they have much chance, because the edge we are now making, is nothing more than an open edge Board, which is moulded and forced in by a troweling process with reinforcing cloth. The Board is not a covered edge, neither can it be claimed that it is a fully protected edge. We claim it is simply a moulded edge which is reinforced, and this is correct.

There is no particular change in the price of Wall Board. In fact it is getting worse. It is down as low as $12.00 at the Mill. There are some indications, however, that there is a possibility of something being done to get prices in better shape before the first of the year. There are reports coming in in a round about way indicating that the U.S.G. Company are far from satisfied with the situation.
There is no particular change in the Plaster situation also. The price is $4.00 in quite a few places but in some places we, of course, are getting as high as $6.00. Our average price is $5.00. We are meeting competition where we think advisable and are trying to increase our tonnage, but we are not making much progress so far as Plaster goes, but the new Wall Board will, bring us in some additional tonnage.

We have had wonderful weather here, very little rain. It is ideal weather for ripening of corn, which is practically all out of the way of frost. So far as I know we 10342 have not had any frost here yet although it has been pretty chilly.

I went duck hunting a little while last evening for the first time, but didn't have very good luck. The ducks are up to their old habits and do not come in until after sundown, and they haven't been shot at either to make them scary. It seems that the instinct of some good preservation teaches this. There are lots of duck after sundown and I could have killed the limit.

Hope you are enjoying your stay there and also hope you will get some good duck shooting before you return. Mr. Kling is in California, having left Cleveland Sunday, September 16, going to Los Angeles, due to the fact that his mother had an operation and he made the trip on that account. I haven't heard when he will be back.

We have a cash balance in the bank of $74,283.68, with all August bills paid, and we estimate we will collect $52,000.00 yet this month. We are losing money, of course. We cannot do anything else under present conditions, but we are watching the corners closely to keep our finances in as good shape as possible.

We had a directors' meeting the 17th.

Yours very respectfully,

THE AMERICAN GYPSUM COMPANY

MY DEAR MR. AVERY:

Endeavored to reach you by phone as promised. Discussed the patent matter with some of the members of our Board and having gone into more or less of the details of our Chicago meeting, will consider it a favor if you will forward me a copy of the new licensed agreement you expected to prepare. Some of the clauses in the 1926 agreement were objected to by our people and if you will kindly send me copy of what you are now preparing to offer the other manufacturers I will be able to give you definite answer without delay.

Regretting I was unable to reach you by phone, I remain

DEAR MR. AVERY:

Was obliged to be out of the City for a few days, especially since I am sailing for the Pacific Coast on the California, Saturday February 16th, leaving Cleveland tomorrow for New York.

Was very anxious to discuss with you personally the differences between our respective companies with an idea of trying to arrive at something that will relieve both you and ourselves annoyance and expense in litigation, and at the same time justify our meeting your views and recognizing rights that we might question as a matter of good business for both.

After our Chicago meeting I carried out my promise in suggesting to our Directors that we submit all our papers to our counsel in this City, and am sorry that we were not able to come to some decision before, however, our attorney has suggested a contract that he believes would protect you and at the same time be more just to ourselves, as we feel your contract was very unjust in several details.

Will take up with our Executive Board and suggest that either Mr. Davis or Mr. C. F. Miller call on you personally with the proposed agreement that our attorney feels we could both sign in fairness to each other. If this is not satisfactory I will stop and spend a day with you on my return from Los Angeles and a line from you will be forwarded to me.

MY DEAR MR. AVERY:

Attorney John Watson phoned me that he had phone conference with your Attorney with a view of getting together if there was a possibility of forgetting words and preparing a contract that would be acceptable to you and our Company, and was under the impression that your Attorney would insist on the contract signed by Beaver Board and others, and under the circumstances I can hardly believe, if this is the case, it is worth while getting together and wonder if you are not a little too positive in taking the stand you have.

If there is a possible chance of our getting together based on my letter, which was influenced after my conference with you, I will instruct Mr. Watson to meet your Attorney, otherwise fear it is useless.

The writer feels that he has tried to see the entire matter in fairness to you and made a number of concessions that were not considered by our Directors and feel it is up to you to complete the License Agreement in the interest of the industry.

MY DEAR MR. AVERY:

Mr. Watson read a letter from your Counsel John E. MacLeish to the effect that the contract submitted was not acceptable, which was a surprise to the writer after our phone conversation, as I assumed from your remarks you accepted our request that if you licensed others on any new board we would be given the same privilege. Also accepted our selling to Jobbers as we have been since doing business and as we paid a royalty on all board sold by us, we like yourself would insist on jobbers maintaining our selling price.

You did except our bundle clause but suggested our preparing what we wanted for your consideration.

Since our phone talk I have assumed we were practically together and was in hopes that you would concede to our reference to the bundling clause as we committed ourselves for two years regardless of what system we used to pay the royalty, which in my judgment is a long time; however, as I am anxious to have the matter a closed incident, if the balance of the contract as submitted will be acceptable, I will call my Executive Committee together and have them either accept or decline to sign up on the bundling license.

Assuring you there is no other motive than getting a contract satisfactory to both and having agreed to practically everything suggested by your Attorney, I feel you are now delaying the matter being brought to a conclusion.

MY DEAR SEWAL:—

Since our meeting last Thursday, have given the jobber situation some thought and from my experience as Sewer Pipe Commissioner the past year, believe in the interest of any industry the fewer jobbers the better.

I gave you a list of five from those that have been recommended by our Sales Department. If you will give me a list of jobbers that have been approved and are now recognized by the Gypsum industry, I will see that same are respected.

I expect to be in Chicago tomorrow (Thursday) and would consider it a favor if you will have lunch with me at the Palmer House as I have received a call obliging me to be in your city on other matters.

DEAR JOHN:

I acknowledge receipt of your favor of the 18th instant. As you were advised in my last letter, we have not yet concluded our purchase of the starch patents as that question depends on the action of the Federal Courts in the Universal receivership. Although certain license agreements have been made subject to the approval by these courts of the sale of the patents to us, we have not concluded to negotiate or make any other licenses at this time. It may be we will decide not to grant any other licenses. Under the circumstances, we prefer to await the action of the courts and the assignment of the starch patents to us before taking up the question of granting any other licenses.

Yours truly,

DEAR SEWELL

Have been in Hospital since I left Chicago, while here went over agreement delivered by Mr. McLeash.

As explained to you personaly I will sign same but want you to enlighten me a little on 3 points.

First. Feel the U.S.G. Co. should establish cash discount — & the clause referring to discount should be what ever your Co allow as basis for all licensees.

Second—the U.S.G. as owners of patent should establish or make the minimum selling price be our guide.

Third—give me the royalties on each patent covered by the agreement.

Fourth—your approval of our (4) Jobbers—The Fairmount WPCo The Toledo P P Co. The Cleveland 10354 Gypsum Co. & Abbey & Co.

Also what is the Haggerty patent. Am writing under a handycap, but anxious to get the whole thing cleaned up, for our meeting next Tuesday.

Wishing you can read my writing & understand my questions—sending regards.

MR. JOHN A. KLING
1421 Leader Building
Cleveland, Ohio

DEAR JOHN:

I am sorry to hear that you have been in the hospital and hope that by this time you are well on your way to recovery.

Taking up the points you refer to, I advise you as follows:

First: You said you felt that the U.S.G. Co. should establish cash discount and that the clause referring to discount should be whatever we allow as basis for all licensees. In so far as the price of the patented product is concerned, we fix the minimum price at which the same may be sold, which is the only right we have as owner of the patent. After we have fixed the price the licensee cannot sell by way of discount or otherwise below the price so fixed. In that part of the contract providing for the payment of royalties to us based upon the selling price, the selling price is defined as the delivered price less freight paid by the customer and less regular cash discount. The regular cash discount is a known definite percentage determined according to the custom existing in the business and requires no further definition. We have no right to establish a cash discount. Our only right under our patents is to fix the minimum price at which the patented article may be sold by the licensee.

Second: You said U.S.G. as owner of the patent should establish or make the minimum selling price be the guide of the licensee. I am advised that the only right the owner of a patent has in so far as prices are concerned is to control the price for the protection of the patent. By fixing the minimum price, as we did in the license, we exhausted the full right we had in that respect. It is for this reason that the contract provides for the minimum price only, which is ample for the protection and has been sustained by the courts.

Third: You asked that I give you the royalties on each patent covered by the agreement. This is impossible. You pay 3½% until 1937, which consists of 1½% for all of the patents and applications for letters patent described in Exhibit A except the Roos and Bayer applications 10356 and the Haggerty and Hite patents; 1% for the Roos and Bayer applications; and 1% for the Haggerty and Hite patents. From 1937 and until July 8, 1941, you pay 2%, consisting of 1% for the Haggerty and Hite patents and 1% for the Roos and Bayer applications or patents. Upon the expiration of the Haggerty and Hite patents on July 8, 1941, then commencing with that date you pay 1% on the Roos and Bayer applications or patents. If no patent issues upon the Roos and Bayer applications or patents within two years from the date of the contract, then the royalties you are required to pay are reduced by 1% until a patent does issue.

In addition to the above royalties, you pay 1½% in reduction of the claim which we have against you for damages, the amount of such claim to be determined in the manner as set forth in the contract.

Fourth—You ask for our approval of your jobbers. Under paragraph 9 of the contract you have the right to sell jobbers (being those who do not manufacture but buy and sell plasterboard or gypsum wallboard in straight cars or in mixed cars with other building material and who do not sell at retail) without any approval from us. If the jobbers you name are regular jobbers as above stated, then you would have the right to sell the patented product to them. As to other manufacturers or wholesale distributors, then you must have our consent, this provision simply being to prevent the licensee from defeating the license by manufacturing for other manufacturers or wholesale distributors not within the jobber class and who may sell at any price they please as we have no right to control the re-sale price of persons to whom the licensee may sell the patented product.

Fifth—You ask what is the Haggerty patent. The Haggerty patent, generally speaking, covers the use of carbohydrates in the manufacture of plasterboard or gypsum wallboard. This includes starch and all starchy substances. The claims of the patent cover the use of carbohydrates or starch to lighten the board as well as for a bonding agent. I do not wish to be understood as defining the limits or the full scope of the Haggerty patent, as it contains many claims, all of which, as owners of the patent, we reserve the right to enforce. This, in my judgment, is a very valuable patent and by its use great benefits are obtained, such as lighter weight, better nailing, better flexibility and better insulation. As a bonding agent it is of the utmost importance under the present methods of manufacture. As used by the Universal Gypsum & Lime Co., the former owner of the patent, the starch is cooked and added to the gauging water and then combined in the 10357 plastic mix. The result is a lighter board containing voids or forming a cellular product to which the paper adheres very firmly. The use of starch with our Roos and Bayer process makes an improved board of a decidedly superior quality and embodies both the claims of the Haggerty patent and the Roos and Bayer applications.

I hope the above clears up all of the questions you had in mind.

Sincerely yours,

SEWELL AVERY

THE AMERICAN GYPSUM COMPANY

Record of Executive Committee meeting held at 1421 Leader Building, Monday April 1. 1929., in Cleveland, Ohio.

Meeting called to order by Chairman Jno. A. Kling at 9:30 AM.

Members present

Jno. A. Kling, Harry W. Benn, J. B. Davis
J. H. McCrady

Others present

John, H. Watson, Jr. Atty.
C. F. Miller, Director

The Proposed Wall-board Edge License Agreement with The U. S. Gypsum Company was very generally gone over and discussed by those present.

Resolution by Jno. A. Kling, that whereas, on February 23, 1929, J. B. Day is as Treasurer and Harry W. Benn; as Vice President of The American Gypsum Company, did sign two Life Insurance Surrender Deeds No. 780830 and 780831 each for the sum of $4240.75, issued by the Travelers Insurance Company, a corporation of the City and County of Hartford and State of Connecticut, both covering contracts upon the life of Frank J. Griswold; now therefore, the signatures of said officers, J. B. Davis and Harry W. Benn are hereby ratified and approved and the Secretary is requested to furnish P. K. Tadsen, Insurance Agent of Port Clinton, Ohio, a copy of this resolution for him to forward to the Travelers Insurance Company. Resolution seconded by J. H. McCrady and unanimously carried.

An extended report from Superintendent, F. Wolfe to Jno. A. Kling, Chairman, dated March 20, 1929, was read by the Secretary. It covered a full statement of the conditions in which he found the Port Clinton plant, and what he and his assistants had done to improve conditions; upon motion by Harry W. Benn, seconded by J. H. McCrady and carried, this report was accepted and ordered filed.

The order given by Chairman Jno. A. Kling, to move the farm house and farm buildings located upon the lands of the Company in Portage Township, Ottawa County, Ohio, to other suitable locations thereon and to use the farm house when moved as a laboratory, was ratified and approved by motion of Harry W. Benn seconded by J. H. McCrady and carried.

The action of the Chairman in directing that all storm water drainage of area contiguous to our mills, which is now drained into our mine and then pumped therefrom, be diverted into natural outfalls through suitable ditches and conduits, was approved, thus releaving our mine pumping.

The action of Chairman Jno. A. Kling and Secretary and Treasurer, J. B. Davis, in selecting Richey & Watts, Patent Attorneys of Cleveland Ohio., to represent this Company in all new patent application now or hereafter pending, as being more practical and workable for us, was unanimously approved.

10359 The action of the Chairman in the settlement of the Poole Hospital Clinic bill against Employee, G. A. New for one half of the bill rendered, equaling $279.30; and that of H. E. Christiansen's auto service bill on the same basis, equaling 197.00; also the payment in full of the bill of Dr. Poole of Port Clinton, against E. A. Wiechel, for medical services, were upon motion by Harry W. Benn, seconded by J. B. Davis and carried, approved.

Harry W. Benn moved that authority be given Chairman John A. Kling to negotiate with Blair & Co., Bankers of New York City for the purchase of the stock of The American Gypsum Company, and report the most favorable proposal that he can get from them. Seconded by J. H. McCrady and unanimously carried.

It was moved by Harry W. Benn, seconded by J. H. McCrady and carried, that Chairman John A. Kling and Director C. F. Miller be, and they are hereby authorized and given power to act in negotiating with President Avery of the U. S. Gypsum Company in any settlements or agreements required in the Wall Board Edge litigation now pending in the United States Court of Ohio.

The Executive Committee authorized the payment of $250.00 to George N. Lenci, Secretary for Judge H. W. Rippey and associates as our contribution for services rendered in the pending tariff change upon gypsum rock importation into the United States.

The audit report of Ernst & Ernst of Cleveland, Ohio, was read in brief by Chairman John A. Kling, and passed to members present for their examination as to details; J. H. McCrady then moved that the report be accepted and referred to the Board of Directors to be read at its next meeting. Motion seconded by Harry W. Benn and carried.

It was decided that the next meeting of the Board of Directors be held at the General Office of the Company in Portage Township, Ottawa County, Ohio.

On motion, duly seconded and carried, this meeting closed.

Subject—U.S.G. vs. Bestwall

DEAR MR. AVERY:

During our conversation in Chicago last Thursday, I told you that we had naturally been sizing up all the possibilities that might happen in regard to the suit between our two Companies, and that Mr. Mitchell, our general counsel, who by the way, is not a patent attorney and I have been working up a memorandum in which we have attempted to analyze the results of all possible decisions by the Circuit Court of Appeals of the matters in controversy and contrasted such results with a compromise and adjustment of the suit along the lines which I have discussed with you.

I beg to enclose a copy of this memorandum herewith for your information. I have not attempted to make any argument or weigh the probabilities of this or that decision of the question involved. I have merely attempted to indicate the results that would follow the possible decisions by the Circuit Court of Appeals.

Neither have I, as you will see, filled in any of the figures. There might be a difference of opinion between us as to these various amounts, but frankly I do not see how there can be any difference of opinion on the fundamental proposition that, whatever estimates of future results are made, a settlement along the lines discussed by us would be more advantageous than any possible decision by the Circuit Court of Appeals.

This letter and the memorandum enclosed herewith are of course submitted without prejudice to the rights of our Companies in the pending suit.

Yours very truly,

A. S. BLAGDEN
President.

7. Plaintiff would be out the costs and expenses of suits against other alleged infringers, estimated at .....

8. Plaintiff would lose irrevocably its present opportunity to organize the industry and stabilize prices.

II. That the Utzman patents are valid but are not infringed by defendant's edge.

The result of such a decision would be:

1. Plaintiff would lose all chance of recovering any profits realized by defendant on its closed-edge board, estimated at .....

10363 2. Plaintiff would lose all chance of collecting future royalties from defendant during life of Utzman patents, estimated (on basis of annual production by defendant of ..... sq. ft. of wallboard, a royalty of ..... per M sq. ft. and a five-year period covering remaining life of patents) at .....

III. That the Utzman patents are valid and infringed by defendant's edge, but plaintiff is not entitled to recover any profits realized by defendant prior to entry of decree August 17, 1925.

The result of such a decision would be:

1. Plaintiff would lose all chance of recovering any profits realized by defendant on its closed-edge board prior to August 17, 1925, estimated at .....

Manufacturers other than defendant would naturally follow defendant's example, and plaintiff would therefore lose all chance of collecting future royalties from such manufacturers, estimated (on basis of annual production by such other manufacturers of ..... sq. ft. of wallboard, a royalty of ..... per M sq. ft. and a five-year period covering remaining life of Utzman patents) at .....

5. In promoting sales of new and non-infringing edges, defendant and other manufacturers would naturally and probably reduce prices below current levels. To maintain volume, plaintiff would be obliged to meet such competitive prices, perhaps a number of times on successive reductions. This would result in an annual loss to plaintiff, estimated (on basis of annual production by plaintiff of

7. Plaintiff's right to recover profits realized by manufacturers other than defendant on closed-edge board would remain undetermined.

8. Plaintiff would incur costs and expenses of appeal, estimated at .....,

9. Plaintiff would lose, perhaps irrevocably, its present opportunity to organize the industry and stablize prices.

IV. That the Utzman patents are valid and infringed by defendant's edge, but plaintiff is not entitled to recover any profits realized by defendant prior to filing of plaintiff's amended second supplemental bill in July, 1922.

The result of such a decision would be:

On the other hand, if the suit were compromised and settled on the terms outlined below, the result would obviously be more advantageous to the United States Gypsum Company than any decision which the Circuit Court of Appeals could possibly render.

The settlement suggested would cover the following points:

	Gain	Loss
1. Defendant would acknowledge validity of Utzman patents.
2. Defendant, in consideration of release of claims of past infringement, would agree to pay plaintiff a reasonable royalty, not to exceed ..... per M sq. ft., on all closed-edge wallboard sold by defendant during remaining life of Utzman patents. 4. Such recognition of and acquiescence in plaintiff's patents would enable plaintiff to maintain a lawful price control and avoid the necessity of a reduction by plaintiff of current prices to meet competition. DEAR MR. BLAGDEN:—

We acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 22d.

Frankly, we could see no reason for taking the matter up further with Mr. Avery of the United States Gypsum Company because we had outlined very clearly the things that we felt should be in a license agreement to make it satisfactory to us, which letter you gave to Mr. Avery. While the writer does not remember all the provisions in the license agreement, it is his recollection that practically none of the things that we considered vital, as covered in our letter, were incorporated in the license agreement, so we could see no reason for going further with the matter.

Yours very truly,

DEAR GUS:

This will acknowledge the letter and check covering the first month's royalty. I am taking your comment on the hurt of payment as a playful one. As a matter of fact I think that the method of settlement is, as we so often thought, a fine evidence of a sensible and economical adjustment of a serious and menacing difficulty to us both. I feel that the Gypsum Company's position is generous, but of course ask no enthusiasm from you on this point. I think the situation entitles you to a greater credit of accomplishment than you are apt to claim. I believe the whole thing is fair, and while I realize that the stress of payment will be present, that you and your company will not overlook the benefits it has assured.

With kind regards, I am

DEAR SEWELL:

I have your letter of September 24th and appreciate very much all you have to say.

You are right—my comment was entirely a playful one. I sincerely believe that the arrangement agreed upon by our two companies will work out to the mutual advantage of both. I feel that the "entente cordial" that has started between our companies is only a beginner and that if we play the game right it should bring about big things.

Incidentally, the Southern Gypsum Company and ourselves have reached an agreement which I think will work out to our mutual satisfaction.

Hoping to see you soon, and with kindest regards,

Sincerely yours,

DEAR SEWELL:

Attached is a royalty statement and check for $11,752.45, made out exactly as the last one was.

I would rather make no change until we can get together and thrash out the point you brought up in regard to jobbers, and several other questions that should be settled at once.

I expect to be in Chicago on Friday and Saturday, but will be tied up in the Roofing Association. If you expect to be there Monday, the 25th, I will arrange to stay over so that we will have plenty of time to straighten out these matters. I will make it a point to phone you upon arrival in Chicago Friday morning.

In the meantime, Mr. Henley will be in Chicago on Thursday, the 21st, and I have asked him to go over the several points in question with Mr. Henning. In this way, it ought to save you and me a good deal of time.

MR. A. S. BLAGDEN, President

DEAR GUS:

Thinking from your letter of the twelfth that you would appear in a few days, I have not answered it before. We can take up this matter and the others you mention when you come.

You will be interested to know that nothing formal has developed in the matter of the license agreement since the Universal signed. The American Gypsum Company's committee called upon me several weeks ago, and left with, seemingly, a better impression of the agreement. Mr. Griswold has written me in the last day or two that a Board of Directors meeting on the subject referred the matter back to a committee, and that this committee intended to meet Thursday the twenty-first with all other manufacturers of board who have not yet signed the license agreement. "This committee expects to meet with the object in view of getting united action." While I will admit to being a little disappointed in the loss of time on this matter I do fully appreciate the very intelligent treatment that Mr. Griswold gives to this subject, and have confidence that his plans will be wise and influential. I do not know whether you expect to be a part of this meeting, but I hope so.

Mr. Henning spent a day in New York recently with Mr. Collins of the Certainteed and with Mr. Walker, and came on to Chicago with Mr. Walker, who happened to be traveling on the same section. This provided the opportunity for a long general discussion of their points of view on business and business policies generally. It left with Mr. Henning quite definitely many impressions about the Certainteed method of distribution that you have described to me. I will be glad of a chance to talk it over with you when you are next here.

With kindest regards, I am

The above named being all of the Directors of the CORPORATION.

Minutes of the Directors' Meeting of September 25th were approved as read.

The President presented in detail the September and October business of the Company.

The President outlined the present conditions in the industry.

The President related in detail the occurrences in connection with the meetings held in Chicago recently in the matter of license agreement on plaster wallboard, and on motion of Mr. Borer, seconded by Mr. Currie, it was

"RESOLVED: That the proper officials of the CORPORATION be and they hereby are authorized and directed to take such action as regards entering a license agreement with the United States 10396 Gypsum Company on plaster wallboard as they may see fit."

No further business coming before the Board, the meeting duly adjourned.

Absent:—E. F. GUTH

The above named being all of the Directors of the CORPORATION.

The Chairman announced that the meeting had been called for the purpose of discussing the license agreement submitted to all the manufacturers of gypsum products in the United States east of the Rocky Mountains by the United States Gypsum Co.

The Chairman outlined the principal provisions in the contract and stated to the Board that he had been definitely informed that all other manufacturers of gypsum products east of the Rocky Mountains, except the American Gypsum Company, had agreed to sign the license contract in substantially the form as submitted to this Board. That a final meeting was to be held in Chicago, Ill., within a week following this date, for final disposition of the license contract, and it is therefore imperative that immediate action be taken by this Board on the pro-10398 posed contract and to definitely decide whether this Company shall enter into a license agreement with the U.S. Gypsum Company.

After a thorough discussion of the contract, it was "RESOLVED: That the proper officers of this Corporation be and they hereby are authorized and empowered to execute on behalf of the Company in substantially the same form as the contract submitted by the United States Gypsum Company to this meeting, for the purpose of entering into a license agreement with the United States Gypsum Company under all of its patents relating to the making, using and selling of gypsum wall board and to pay the United States Gypsum Company as a royalty and in consideration of said license and in settlement and discharge of all claims for infringement, an amount equivalent of 5% of the selling price of all plaster board or gypsum wall board of every kind, whether patented or unpatented and sold by this Company between the date of said contract and August 6, 1929, the date of the expiration of said Utzman Patent No. 1034746, and thereafter an amount equivalent to 1½% of the selling price of all plaster board or gypsum wall board sold by this Company from August 6, 1929, until February 10, 1937, the date of the expiration of U. S. Patent No. 1330413, and in addition thereto, an amount equivalent to 3½% of the selling price of all plaster board or gypsum wall board sold by this Company from August 6, 1929, until said 3½% of said selling price shall have aggregated the sum of approximately $180,000.00; and, it is further

"RESOLVED: That the proper officers of the Corporation be and they hereby are authorized and empowered to do any and all things necessary or proper in order to effectuate the foregoing resolution."

10399 The Secretary read the following Resolution submitted by Mr. Finck, whereupon the following minute was unanimously adopted:

With feelings of intense sadness, we, the Board of Directors of National Gypsum Company, record the death of Joseph F. Haggerty, our President and Leader, which occurred suddenly Friday, April 26, 1929.

Joseph F. Haggerty early in life foresaw the eventual economic potentialities of the wallboard idea. In his organization of the National Gypsum Company, he sought to carry out his ideals in that direction, and while he was not permitted to accomplish his purpose fully, he has charted the course and leaves an organization prepared to carry on with the same energy and the same spirit that he implanted in all of his close associates. He possessed a great gift of leadership, intuitive sense of vision, personal magnetism and unflinching moral integrity, which made his influence as inescapable as it was unassuming. Open and frank, he opposed conceit and indiscretion. Long will his example be an inspiration to those who had the privilege of being associated with him.

Ever kindly and genial, he formed many warm friendships and his death comes as a personal loss not only to his associates on this Board, 10400 but to all who worked with him in this organization.

Therefore, be it

"RESOLVED: That this Board permanently record our deep debt of gratitude for the great work he accomplished, the heritage which he left us and the affection, love and respect which we have for him. We will forever cherish him in loving remembrance; and further,

"RESOLVED: That we express to his devoted wife and family our most profound and sincere sympathy; and further

"RESOLVED: That a copy of this minute be presented in suitable form to his wife and family."

Upon motion made by Mr. Finck, seconded by Mr. Williams, put to vote and unanimously carried, it was

"RESOLVED: That the proper officers of the Corporation be and they hereby are authorized to pay the regular stated salary formerly paid to Mr. Joseph F. Haggerty as President of the Corporation, to Mrs. Joseph F. Haggerty, until February 28, 1930.

The Chairman announced that while this meeting had been called expressly for the purpose of obtaining the opinion of the Directors as to whether or not this Corporation should enter into a License Agreement with the U. S. Gypsum Company, no other business would be taken up at this time unless the Directors desired to do so.

10401 Mr. Thomson thereupon nominated Mr. M. H. Baker as President of the Corporation to fill the vacancy existing on account of the death of Mr. Joseph F. Haggerty. Mr. Burkhardt seconded the motion. The Chairman thereupon put the question to vote and Mr. Baker was unanimously duly elected President of the Corporation to fill the vacancy existing on account of the death of Mr. J. F. Haggerty.

Upon motion duly made, seconded, put to vote and unanimously carried, it was "RESOLVED: That the salary of Mr. Baker as President of the Corporation, be the same as the salary he received as Vice President and Sales Manager of the Corporation."

Upon motion made by Mr. Williams, seconded by Mr. Anderson, put to vote and unanimously carried, it was

"RESOLVED: That E. E. Finck be and he hereby is elected Treasurer of the Corporation, to fill the vacancy existing on account of the death of Mr. Joseph F. Haggerty."

Upon motion made by Mr. Nelson, seconded by Mr. Houck, put to vote and unanimously carried, it was

"RESOLVED: That E. E. Finck be and he hereby is elected to serve on the Executive Committee, to fill the vacancy existing on account of the death of Mr. Joseph F. Haggerty."

No further business coming before the Board, the Meeting duly adjourned.

F. E. DAVIS,
Secretary.

The above named being all of the Directors of the CORPORATION.

The minutes of the Directors' Meeting of April 23, 1929, and the minutes of the Special Meeting of the Board on May 14, 1929, were approved as read.

The Secretary read for the information of the Board excerpts from the minutes of the Management Committee Meetings of April 22, 1929, and May 7, 1929.

The Chairman submitted Profit & Loss Statement covering the Company's April operations and gave his estimate of the May operations of the Company.

The Chairman announced that the Company had signed a license agreement with the United States Gypsum Company covering plaster wall boards and the method 10403 of bundling gypsum lath, as authorized at the last meeting of the Board of Directors. The Chairman advised that prices on wall boards had been increased on May 23, 1929, as follows:

Gold Bond	$20.00 per M ft.
Protector	17.50 per M ft.
Lath	13.50 per M ft.
Seconds	15.00 per M ft.

The Chairman announced that he had appointed Mr. R. F. Burley, General Director of Sales and the Board unanimously expressed its approval of Mr. Baker's action in the matter.

The Chairman stated that prior to the death of Mr. Haggerty, Mr. W. M. Currie had given much of his time and energy in assisting the officers of the Company in solving various problems and that his advice and counsel had always been helpful and valuable. The Chairman stated that he had obtained Mr. Currie's consent to serve on the Executive Committee and that it would be a great favor to him and helpful to the Company if the Board would enlarge the present Executive Committee and appoint Mr. Currie a member thereof.

Thereupon on motion of Mr. Guth, seconded by Mr. Williams, put to vote and unanimously carried, it was RESOLVED: That Mr. W. M. Currie be and he hereby is designated and appointed as a member of the Executive Committee.

10404 Mr. Williams pointed out the present possibilities of acquiring gypsum businesses. After a discussion it was the sense of the meeting that at the present time there should be no attempts to expand the Company's activities outside of its own immediate operations.

No further business coming before the Board, the Meeting duly adjourned.

Secretary.

The above named being all of the Directors of the CORPORATION.

The minutes of the Directors' Meeting of June 26, 1929, and the minutes of the meeting of the Executive Committee of June 25, 1929, were approved as read.

The President presented an account of the operations of the Company for June and explained it in detail.

The President outlined his anticipations for July and the second six months of the year.

The President stated that the United States Gypsum Company has been working on a plan to stabilize the Gypsum Industry and has offered to license the entire Industry under the new method of manufacturing gypsum wall board known as the "Bubble System." The license agreements submitted to each of the wall board manufacturers 10406 contain price fixing clauses and under the agreements submitted the prices of wall board would be fixed for the whole Industry for the term of approximately seventeen years.

The President further stated that if co-operation in the Industry could be accomplished by such means, he believed that it would be worth while for this Corporation to enter into such an agreement, if the "Bubble System" could be obtained for a reasonable consideration.

After a general discussion as to the advisability of this Corporation entering into a license agreement with the United States Gypsum Company for the use of its Bubble System in the manufacture of wall board, it was,

Upon motion duly made, seconded, put to vote and unanimously carried,

"RESOLVED: That the Executive Committee of the Corporation be and they hereby are authorized and empowered to negotiate and enter into an agreement or agreements with the United States Gypsum Company for a license under certain patents owned by the United States Gypsum Company, controlling the manufacture of gypsum wall board, upon such terms and conditions as a majority of the said Committee shall deem most advisable, provided that the United States Gypsum Company, by virtue of the agreement with this Corporation and with other manufacturers of gypsum wall board, shall control the price of wall board sold in the United States and its possessions.

It is further

"RESOLVED: That the Executive Committee be and it hereby is authorized and empowered to settle the pending litigation with the Universal Gypsum and Lime Company, upon such terms and conditions as a majority of the Executive Committee may deem most advisable."

10407

Mr. Burkhardt suggested the advisability of the Corporation's insuring the life of its President on a term policy. After discussion, Mr. Burkhardt was asked to bring in full report for the next Directors' Meeting.

No further business coming before the Board, the Meeting adjourned.

The above named being all of the Directors of the CORPORATION.

The minutes of the Directors' Meeting of July 23, 1929, were approved as read. The minutes of the Executive Committee Meetings of July 30th, August 2nd and August 10th, 1929, were approved with corrections.

The President presented in detail an account of the operations of the Company for the month of July.

The President set forth the situation in the matter of the agreement with Universal Gypsum and Lime Company as set forth in the Executive Committee minutes of August 2, 1929, and on motion duly made, seconded and unanimously carried, it was

"RESOLVED: That the President of the Corporation be and he hereby is authorized and empowered to sign a contract in settlement of the litigation with Universal Gypsum and Lime Company, which settlement shall be substantially that set forth in 10409 the minutes of the Executive Committee Meeting of August 2, 1929.

The President outlined the present situation regarding the United States Gypsum Company's proposed license agreement covering their Bubble Patent and the Haggerty Patent, and after a discussion, the following Resolution was moved by Mr. Williams, seconded by Mr. Burkhardt, put to vote and unanimously approved:

"RESOLVED: That the President of the Corporation be and he hereby is authorized and empowered to sign a license agreement with the United States Gypsum Company, covering the use of the Bubble and the Haggerty Patents, at a cost not greater than 2½% of the net selling price of all gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by National Gypsum Company until the expiration of the above patents—against which 2½% there would be credited 1½% which might be paid to Universal Gypsum and Lime Company as royalties on the Hite and Haggerty Patents—provided that all the present licensees of the United States Gypsum Company enter into a similar license and provided further that in the judgment of the President such action will result in legal stabilization of the markets."

Mr. Burkhardt recommended that the Corporation insure the life of its President in the amount of Two Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars ($250,000.00) either under a ten year term policy or under a modified life policy. After discussion the matter was held over for discussion at a later meeting when a larger proportion of the Board should be present.

10410 The President announced that the office of Assistant Treasurer of the Corporation to which the Board had appointed Mr. T. W. Hammond at their meeting of March 15, 1927, now was without incumbent.

No further business coming before the Board, the meeting adjourned.

MAY 18, 1928.

Executive Committee of UNIVERSAL GYPSUM & LIME CO.:

I have called this meeting in order to acquaint you with the serious situation confronting our company. The present management cannot continue very long unless something is done immediately.

There is a reduction in annual salary account, because of changes made to date, amounting to approximately $115,000.00. In addition to this there will be considerable savings in the traveling expense of some of the traveling men who have been let out. In spite of these savings we are continuing to lose money and will do so until the competitive situation changes.

The result of our savings is reflected in our April statement, not yet available, which shows that we have reduced our selling expense $10,000.00 under the March figure, but this again is offset by a loss in gross profit of approximately $9,000.00. This will show you the tendency of the market.

In order to continue to operate, we are today faced with the necessity of closing down our Rotan plant and our lime plant in Texas. This would mean a complete abandonment of the southeastern and southwestern territories. I mention these two plants because they are showing the largest proportionate loss. The loss at Fort Dodge is terrific, but now that we have closed the Iowana plant this loss will be reduced materially.

We are having to remove good men from our organization and will lose others whom we want to retain because of the uncertainty evident. We have opportunities to employ new men who would be valuable to us but cannot conscientiously recommend our company to them.

Negotiation with competitors towards ending the severe competitive situation should be entered into.

We now have Dr. Nelson clearing up our entire patent situation for us, which involves license agreements with our competitors and settlements of lawsuits pending.

It is impossible for us to carry on this sort of work efficiently under present conditions. The condition of our financial status is well known because of indiscretions on the part of stockholders and officers of this company, which serves a further handicap to the management.

10412 We are making daily purchases necessary for our production, knowing that there is a possibility of not being able to pay for these purchases when the bills are due. It is very unfair to place your management in this position. We have practically no money in the bank today, and although our collections will undoubtedly take care of our immediate requirements for some little time, we have on hand approximately $61,000.00 worth of unpaid bills which are no past due.

EUGENE HOLLAND
President.

PORT CLINTON, OHIO

OCTOBER 11, 1928.

MR. JOHN A. KLING,
Leader News Building,
Cleveland, Ohio.

DEAR SIR:

Referring to the conferences in New York, the following gentlemen were asked to go to Mr. Ebsary's room Monday evening: Mr. Holland, president of the Universal Gypsum Company, Mr. Reeb, Mr. Haggerty, Mr. Baker—a little later on Mr. Walker and Mr. Warren Henley of the Certain-teed arrived.

Mr. Ebsary is exceedingly anxious to have something done to straighten things up, and I noticed that Mr. Haggerty and Mr. Baker also seemed considerably more anxious than they were thirty days ago. It seems that Mr. Ebsary had passed the word around that the President of the Certain-teed would be present at the meeting in New York, but Mr. Walker announced that Mr. Brown had started that day on a week's vacation but in case it was decided to have a meeting in Chicago this week, he thought that Mr. Brown would be pleased to return and attend the meeting. It was then decided I was to get in touch with you and see whether or not it was convenient for you to come to New York on the following day and I, of course, reported to them, after talking with you, it was not convenient for you to be in New York this week, but that you would meet the above mentioned gentlemen in Chicago some day next week in order to call on Mr. Avery, if such an action was decided upon.

After the meeting on Tuesday Mr. Ebsary asked the same gentlemen to go over to the Certainteed Office, and Mr. Walker, in particular, and supported by Mr. Holland, took the same position they did the day before, that every one must be very sure before going to Chicago that they were willing to walk up and sign up a license agreement with the U. S. G., and also to foot the bill whatever it may be. He also stated that he was very sure that their Mr. Brown would not be willing to take out a license agreement with the U. S. G. on board unless it carried with it a general cleaning up of unsatisfactory conditions of all gypsum products.

10414 It was very apparent that the Certainteed, as well as Mr. Holland of the Universal, were trying to get every one present to commit himself to practically do whatever the U.S.G. would dictate, and Mr. Walker said that Mr. Brown would be glad to use his efforts to get the U.S.G. to make the back royalty payments, if there were any, of the National and ourselves as low as possible. As you know, the Universal people are already operating on the U. S. G. license on board, and it seemed to me that Mr. Holland was mainly a representative of the U. S. G., and I am inclined to think that he reports everything in detail that goes on at these sessions to Mr. Avery. My part, of course, was to listen and report to you, and I made it very plain that all decisions regarding these matters rested with you.

Respectfully yours,

ARTHUR R. BLACK

DEAR MR. HAGGERTY:

I wonder if you have had any talk with Mr. Kling regarding the settlement of litigation between his company and the U. S. Gypsum Co. I have heard indirectly that they are committed among themselves to a settlement but that they have hopes of reducing the amount involved by delaying the time of settlement.

It is my opinion that we should make an effort to hold another meeting of those interested in the board situation. Mr. Kling surely should consider the others involved to the extent of at least letting us know what they propose to do so that yourself and others could be governed accordingly.

Rather than initiate the move again myself, it would probably carry more weight if you and Mr. Brown would request me to call such a meeting. Personally, I cannot see how the American can hope to gain anything at all by delaying the settlement because of the fact this delay is going to be the cause of demoralizing prices during most of 1929 unless the situation is handled promptly.

Please let me have your reaction to my idea as soon as possible.

DEAR MR. HOLLAND:

When I was in New York Saturday, I had a few minutes with Kling and took the occasion to very pointedly question him on his attitude toward the license agreement. He told me very definitely that they had decided to stay out and I, personally, am willing to accept that as a conclusion.

The question now in my mind is whether or not the other four board makers, who are outside the license agreement, feel that it would be advantageous to go in without the American Gypsum Company. It would seem to me that the chief value in a meeting would be to discuss that point.

As far as we are concerned, there is one question that has come up in my discussion of the subject with some of our directors and I have not been able to answer it satisfactorily. It is this. At the present time, the United States Gypsum Company is naturally unwilling to discuss price, but would feel free to do so under the license agreement because of the price control feature which, as I understand it, gives them that right. If this price control feature was discontinued in August, as is the case in the present form of the agreement, how could we expect the cooperation of the United States Gypsum Company in anything bearing upon a discussion of price? Would not their position then be exactly what it is now, and rightly so?

If this assumption is correct, then is not the price control feature during the eight year period of very vital importance, provided it can be worked out and what is the conclusion of the United States Gypsum Company on that phase of the matter?

My talk with Kling was so brief that I did not have a chance to discuss the reason for his conclusion, but I do recall that the objection he made to the present form of license agreement, when I talked the matter over with him in Atlantic City, was that there was no price control beyond next August, when the Utzman patent expires.

I would like to hear from you if you care to let me have your opinion before determining our interest in attending another meeting, particularly if Kling does not recede from his present attitude.

Very truly yours

MR. J. F. HAGGERTY, President

DEAR MR. HAGGERTY:

I am inclined to think that the matter of future prices is not the deciding factor in the attitude of the American Gypsum Company on the wallboard proposition. You will remember that Mr. Avery made it very clear to us that if this plan could not be worked out on the Utzman patent that there were other patents available and we were all agreed that the fact that the Utzman patent expires next August is not a practical reason for continuing the conflict.

It is my opinion that if you and the others interested in the settlement of the wallboard controversy bring enough pressure to bear on the American crowd that something can be done. You will remember that Mr. Kling stated several times that they would be materially influenced by the attitude of the other men involved and I believe we should make an effort to hold him to this idea. I am quite sure that Mr. Avery would not be interested in negotiating settlements unless everyone involved was included. However, if after conferring with Mr. Brown and Mr. Reeb it is thought advisable that this should be done, I would be willing to make an effort to bring this about.

I am expecting to be East next week, at which time I will talk further with Mr. Brown and will communicate with you later as to his ideas. In the meantime, if you have any new information I will be glad to hear from you.

NEW YORK, FEBRUARY 7, 1928

MEMORANDUM:

Subject: Cravath, Henderson & DeGersdorff's Letter of February 6, 1928

MR. BROWN:

I would accept the assignment of the Board contract by the U. S. Gypsum Company to us, providing it would apply to those plants that we are now taking over from the Beaver Board Company and providing it would not effect our Acme, Texas Plant or other plants that we may hereafter build.

The royalty would not be more than $1.10 to $1.15 per thousand as a maximum until August 6, 1929, and not more than 30¢ to 40¢ as a maximum after August 6, 1929. It is estimated that 60¢ of this would be saved due to lower cost in manufacturing closed edge board and I believe it would take a differential of approximately $2.00 under the closed edge board to get the business on the open edge board as against the closed edge board, during the next year. Thereafter it may be possible to hold the business at less that this, but this is problematical.

It is my understanding that the U. S. Gypsum Company have not and will not ask us to respect the re-sale price on the closed edge board until August 6, 1929 and after that they have no control over the re-sale price.

If the U. S. Gypsum Company refuse to allow us to manufacture closed board in the present Beaver Plants and open edge board in our other plants, I would take a license under which we would have to manufacture the closed edge board at all of our plants until the expiration of their license agreement, provided we could cancel this agreement and go back to open edge board if we found it desirable to do so, but I would agree not to go back until August 6, 1929.

As this is a matter of so much importance I recommend that Mr. C. O. Brown and Mr. Blagden go to Chicago and discuss this matter with Mr. Avery. Of course if he is unreasonable there is nothing for us to do but make an open edge board and fight it out, but I believe it means too much to both the Gypsum Company and ourselves to not do our part towards working out an amiable arrangement.

MARCH 1, 1928

MEMORANDUM REGARDING THE POSSIBILITY OF MAKING PLASTER BOARD UNDER THE ROYALTY BASIS.

Geo. M. Brown, President — DS

The attitude of the U. S. Gypsum Company at the meeting yesterday was firmly in favor of a closed agreement until 1937 although the main patent runs out next year and, so far as we know, any patent situation thereafter would be very flimsy and probably would not justify any benefits of any kind. We offered to work under the patents until the expiration of the real patent but insisted upon the right to withdraw at that time, if the situation should be unduly irritating, but expressed the hope that we could in the meantime establish cordial relations in the trade and could gladly continue indefinitely.

We are trying to analyze the result of trading or not trading along these lines, our present position being that we will not trade. We see no reason why we cannot trade their way any day because the proposition made us is the most extreme proposition given to anybody. We must bear in mind that the Ebsary Company is proposing to make an open edge board, and their history is one of secret rebating on prices which are supposed to be firm. If they should later sign a royalty contract and go to the closed edge board, we have no assurance that they would not use many subterfuges and would in that way take our loyal trade because we could hardly compete with them in such manner and we would be tied up on all selling conditions. The National Company, under Mr. Haggerty, is supposed to be lacking dependibility. There would be others. The Texas Company has been most irritating. We are afraid to tie ourselves up indefinitely unless we are willing to acknowledge that we will resort to any subterfuge to offset the subterfuge of others—something that we cannot undertake. The U. S. Gypsum Company themselves have been doing many things which are not supposed to be done in the trade in the way of secret rebates, etc. Our offer to try out this plan until the real patent runs out in August of next year seems to be our limit. Price wars will cost the U. S. Gypsum Company two or three dollars to each dollar of cost to us. They can less afford to be stubborn than we can.

In looking over the Beaver Board figures and our own figures on Plaster Board for last year, we find that Beaver Board, apparently, made a gross profit of 27.6% on their board for the year. We made 25.3% but in our last quarter we made about 29%. We believe Beaver Board showed much less in their last quarter than their average but have not the figures. Our volume was growing during the last quarter and is in good shape today. Beaver Board's, we believe, was shriveling and with the new competition coming in and continuing to work under their royalty plan, we believe, they would shrivel much more and their profit would shrink further. We are convinced that, if we must have price wars, we can, at least, hold our trade against all comers. We can probably make more profit under the aggressive selling plan and without subterfuges and we can get peace any day, if we should conclude that we must have it.

10430 The Beaver Board Sales Department expresses the opinion that we will lose much of their trade by changing to open edge board but they have expressed doubt about everything in the past and we have found that such doubts have not been justified to date. We believe their opinion in this matter is unreliable and my opinion is that we have broken the ice on open edge board and can drive into big business at some sort of profit and in a way that will force peace before very long and leave us loaded with business and with the good will of the trade, which, otherwise, would probably be sacrificed.

Working along these lines we must prepare to answer the suit of the U. S. Gypsum Company. We should appear as a party to it and we should claim what we believe to be true, that the suit is filed not in the interests of royalties but for the sole purpose of trade domination and monoply and price control—all of which mean far more than the total of royalty could possibly mean. Our Company has been selling an open edge board entirely satisfactory to our trade at much lower prices than we would have been permitted to sell closed edge board but we have been able to reach the Southwest trade only. They are determined, if possible, to prevent our extending like opportunities to our Eastern trade. We have offered to continue a royalty basis on the Beaver Board plants and even to include our Texas Plant during the life of the patent, with the possibility of continuing thereafter. This is all they could fairly ask under any conditions. It is more than they were entitled to but their determination to gather in a monopoly, if possible, leads them to risk everything for such domination because of the big rewards possible, if they can succeed. It is not the matter of royalty in any sense that is of importance.

GENTLEMEN:

Attn: Geo. M. Brown, President.

We have been informed that in your answer to our bill of complaint filed against you, The Beaver Companies, and The Beaver Products Company on account of the breach by the latter of our license agreement, you have alleged that we refused to grant to you a license under our patents unless you would accept the same extended to 1937 and that we had indicated that it would not be acceptable to us if you assumed the license agreement as to the properties of The Beaver Products Company until 1937, exclusive of your other plants. We also understand that you are informing the trade that we have refused to grant you a license to manufacture and sell the protected edge board under our patents.

As you know, every license we have granted has been for a term expiring February 10, 1937, the date of the expiration of patent number 1,330,413. We have repeatedly offered you a license under our patents upon exactly the same terms and conditions and for the same period as we have granted the same to other licensees, which offer you have refused to accept. In this connection we have explained to you that we were not in a position to grant a license upon terms and conditions different from any other licensee.

This is to advise you that we are ready to grant to you a license to use our patents until the date of the expiration of our patent number 1,330,413 on February 10, 1937, upon exactly the same terms and conditions contained in the license agreement made with The Beaver Products Company and all other licensees.

GENTLEMEN:—

Attn: Mr. C. Henning, Vice-Pres:
In Charge of Sales

Replying to your letter of March 20th to the company for the attention of Mr. Geo. M. Brown, President, will say that we thank you for your offer to grant us a license under your patents, etc., as contained in the last paragraph of your letter.

We have not believed it to the best interest of our trade to manufacture goods under a license from your company as we have understood your license contract. We have had objections to your license agreement as we have understood it, and especially for the time covered after the expiration of the Utzman Patent.

We have considered the possibility of offering to continue the Beaver Board plants only, but not any other plants which we have now or may have in future, under a license agreement. Our present information is to the effect that such an offer, if made, would not meet with your approval and would be refused by you.

We are not sure what your attitude is on some matters under the license agreement, so we have possibly been unable to intelligently discuss any plan for taking a license. We, therefore, ask you the following questions:

1—Does a licensee under your patent have to agree to fixed selling prices as directed by you from time to time, and if so, in what form do you give such directions, and do you advise each licensee of any change before you put it into effect yourself so as to let all of them operate on an equal basis with you and begin on the same date?

2—Is any rebating in any form or manner, or any extra allowance in any form or manner, as a selling aid permissible, and would you use anything of that kind without authorizing a licensee to use it at the same time and under the same conditions by giving advance notice?

3—In case you do fix selling prices in any way, with the requirement that they be maintained by yourself and 10433 all licensees, and some licensee may fail to maintain such prices, causing much loss and annoyance to another licensee who maintains the prices according to the strictest conditions, what protection is given the well-behaved licensee against the bad action of any other seller, whether licensed or unlicensed?

4—It has been repeatedly stated to us by others, and it appears to be understood by some of your licensees, that in case a license should become unduly burdensome, you would authorize a release from it on or after the expiration of the Utzman Patent, and at least one of your licensees understands that you are ready to do that at any time. What is your position on these matters?

5—Will you grant the license for the use of the Beaver plants only, excluding any other plants that we may have now or in the future?

6—Will you grant the license including all of our plants but limiting the license to the expiration of the Utzman Patent?

Perhaps a complete statement of your views on each of the above matters where our information is either incomplete or possibly in error, would enable us to reach some basis for doing business that would be mutually satisfactory. We have assumed that this would not occur and our plans for making open edge board at the Beaver plants will promptly go into effect, unless something in the meantime may warrant a change or delay.

In addition to the above matters, there have been in our discussions many questions of how you handle various details, and your manner of handling may be in some cases most unsuitable for our plan of doing business. For instance, we understand that you give a lineyard company a special price which we do not give them on our products, as we sell the lineyard company and the single yard on the same basis. We also understand that you perhaps make your lowest price to some contractors. We could hardly work well under such a plan as we do business entirely through dealers and distributors. Where a line can be suitably handled by a distributor we like to give our distributor a commission for handling carloads or less. We do not know how you would set prices. We perhaps could not use your plan. There are various such questions in our minds.

We are entirely unwilling to undertake to work with any business interests in the way that we would have to do under a license plan, and later find that they propose to force all operations along lines which we cannot follow. We find that we cannot undertake to get different prices for different areas in a city like Chicago on any product, except as such differences are made necessary because of handling or other legitimate charges, easily explained without causing endless argument. Arbitrary dif-10434 ferences to keep up with odd-shaped plans are practically impossible for us to use.

These ideas are mentioned only for the purpose of being sure that we may understand each other in case this subject is to be pursued further so that we need not waste our time in any hopeless discussions.

Very truly yours,

C. O. BROWN
Assistant to the President.

CHICAGO, DEC. 13, 1927.

TO: MR. A. S. BLAGDEN BUFFALO

Referring to conference at Chicago yesterday afternoon, regarding Plaster Wallboard market situation, and conclusions tentatively concurred in.

1—No change in our sales policy until after first of year.

2—Another conference to be held about the middle of January to determine future policy covering this product.

3—Operating Department to check into possibility of manufacturing so-called No. 2 board, the specifications of which to follow as near as possible, the outline incorporated on memorandum attached to Mr. Cary's copy of this letter.

4—Suggest Mr. Cary discuss this matter with Messrs. Vanhagen and Codwise, letting me have the benefit of their suggestions as to the manufacture of this board as soon as possible.

5—For Mr. Peterson's information, the thought as expressed indicated a decline in the market to a basis of $25.00 per thousand on No. 1 board in the $30.00 markets and $20.00 per thousand on No. 2 board in the $30.00 markets.

6—It was also suggested that $23.00 per thousand for No. 1 in $25.00 markets be given consideration and $18.00 per thousand for No. 2 board in the same area.

7—The situation above mentioned as affecting $25.00 markets (in the Southwest) will work a decided hardship on our company, inasmuch as we can ship only from Fort Dodge and will, of necessity, have to equalize with Texas Producing Mills and, as well, furnish our trade with mixed car service out of Agatite based on a $23.00 market.

I believe the above covers the discussion and, as stated, no changes will be made until absolutely necessary and in no event until after another conference is held.

MY DEAR COLONEL:

We have drawn up a tentative and suggested outline of license for the bubble system which we discussed when you were here. The idea has been to indicate in this draft what occurs to us as suitable expression of the proposed granting of the system rights. If you are interested in this subject, we would much appreciate the views of your Company as to the defects or possible improvements.

Thinking that you would desire to take advantage of the bundle license for the economy and salability that it supplies, we are offering you the license and enclose a copy for such consideration as you care to give it. This very low price has been offered in a cooperative spirit and at a value very much less than the use of the bundle provides.

Permit me, Colonel, to say that I have a most pleasant recollection of your last visit and hope our future relations may travel on that pleasant plan hereafter.

Yours very truly,

S. L. AVERY
President.

MY DEAR MR. AVERY:

Your letter of May 29th, enclosing copy of License Agreement, has just been received on my return to the office after a cruise up to Fisher's Island since Decoration Day.

I am catching up with some work today and leaving for Chicago tomorrow, so will give this matter attention on my return from Chicago.

We are most anxious to promote harmony and friendship in the Gypsum Industry, especially with your own Company, and we can see no reason why any other attitude should be considered for one moment, so a proper consideration of any questions arising should always lead to the conclusion that is best for the Industry and, therefore, best for all of us.

I certainly appreciate to the utmost the kind expression of your letter and am reminded of a most delightful evening which all of us had at your home in Chicago recently. It was a very delightful occasion.
With regards, I am

Yours very truly,

GEO. M. BROWN
President.

Subject: LICENSE UNDER BUBBLE SYSTEM AND FOR BUNDLING FILE ATTACHED.

By: Geo. M. Brown, President-LE

746095 9104

After reading Mr. Redfield's report and giving the matter as much consideration as I am able to do at this time,

I feel that we should not take out a license under either patent at this time and should go ahead with the application for our Bundling License. We should offer to take out a License under a more reasonable contract for bundling, as that is not a matter of great importance, but we cannot afford to tie ourselves up to use a certain system regardless of its future merit in comparison with what may be developed. We should have the right to discontinue its use, and pay royalty only when it is used, or some such fair general outline. If they seek to be disagreeable and force the matter upon us in any way I feel that we will be able to afford quite as much independence as they can afford. If they desire to risk our present friendly relations for so trifling a matter, and they are insistent, we certainly have the right of resistance and objection.

In regard to the Bubble Plan, it appears to me that this is not far enough along or sufficiently established and any consideration of it should provide a proper freedom for such action in future as we might on questions of merit decide to take. We could use it and pay the royalty, and not use it and not be committed, etc.

A Claim was made by Mr. Avery in his conversation that 30¢ and, perhaps, $1.00 of cost would be saved on each thousand square feet. Of this, 25¢ would go to pay royalty. Another unknown part would go to pay for equipment of a lot of machinery and it would take a good while to get even. They would have a price control of our business, which might be to our advantage and might be to our disadvantage in future. They should be just as anxious to have us use this as we should be to get it if there are to be the benefits that they anticipate in stabilizing the whole industry by making a uniform product and get away from the fierce warfare between different products like we have recently had. The saving is too slight to cause us very great worry even if never permitted to use it and the door will certainly be open later for its use if it has the merit that they believe it has. Under a contract sufficiently liberal, we would proceed at once.

I will acknowledge Mr. Avery's letter as per the attached copy.

BUBBLE BOARD
A. WHITTEMORE, V.P.—LC.

We are attaching copy of memorandum made by Mr. C. O. Brown after the meeting at Chicago on the bubble patent. From this memorandum you can easily see the possibilities in this bubble patent. We are submitting the bubble patent to Mr. Redfield for revision in a satisfactory way so that we could sign it, just as we have done with the bundling patent.

Do you expect to be in Chicago before the 26th? We would like to have your comments on the bubble patent, and as soon as we have these, would like to have you talk with Mr. Knode to check up on the savings that he states can be made by using the bubble process.

In the meantime, Mr. Redfield can be working on his revision and by the time we have yours and also the results of your talk with Mr. Knode we will pretty nearly know how to act.

MEMORANDUM

BUBBLE PATENT

The Bubble Patent for use in the manufacture of plaster wall board is in litigation and has not been issued. It was thought that this Patent would not be issued before January 1st, but it now looks as if it might be issued earlier. The litigation is between the Foreign Company, U.S.G., and a man by the name of Rice. U.S.G.'s attorney feels that the Rice interference will not amount to anything. U.S.G., in case they don't get the patent, already have a contract with the Foreign Company for exclusive agency in the United States, so if the Rice interference is ruled out U.S.G. will have control of the patent regardless of whether they win or the Foreign Company wins.

Price control on plaster board expires in August of this year with the expiration of the Basic Patent. Price control on plaster board can be extended for another 17 years if a satisfactory working arrangement can be made with the Bubble Patent. For legal reasons, however, the bubble patent should not be considered from the standpoint of price control but should be gone into by each manufacturer from the standpoint of economy and benefit. Price control would naturally follow such a move.

Mr. Knode, Vice-President, in charge of Manufacturing, of U.S.G. Company estimates a saving in manufacturing cost under the Bubble Patent to be 50¢ to $2.00 per thousand, depending on the type of board made. Mr. Knode of the U.S.G. Company will be glad to have any of our manufacturing men call on him and go into the proposition in detail and assure themselves of the saving in cost and its advantages, prior to signing license. I would suggest that Mr. Van Hagan arrange to see Mr. Knode sometime in the next two weeks, the reason for this being that the lawyers feel that speed is advisable in lining up various manufactures under this Patent and upon the expiration of the Basic Patent on plaster board, even though the patent will not be issued by that time, and it will be necessary to pay a royalty of 25¢ per square, prior to actual issuance of the patent on any board manufactured. This will not be a hardship, however, if the saving is as outlined and they assure us that they can prove that their figures are conservative.

The License Agreement sent out on the above patent, copy of which we received, is the first draft. U.S.S. Company claim they are not at all arbitrary and are willing to have suggestions on any changes. They suggest that each manufacturer first convince himself that the saving is as outlined, then submit it to their own attorney for suggestions and criticism, and after doing so write their recommended changes to Mr. McLeash, U.S.G.'s attorney. After getting these reports they will consider them from all angles and then resubmit another licensed contract. This should be done within the next two weeks as the meeting has been set for Wednesday, June 26th, in Chicago, when this license will be in definite consideration.

Some things are now in the license that were brought up —one being under this Bubble patent, even though some improved development might develop in the next 17 years, U.S.G. Company said that this could be changed and they would be willing to write the contract so that if they developed an improvement they would license it to all of the other manufacturers under conditions similar in this license. On the other hand, if we should develop an improvement, or any other manufacturer should do so, we would be obligated to become the licensor and license all other manufacturers under the same agreement as entered in the license under the Bubble Patent.

U.S.G. Co. are now making a Bubble Edge Board and so they know from actual experience it is practical. Four plants are in operation and all of the others will be equipped as fast as possible.

10444 The lawyers are very emphatic that there is a much less chance of being accused of using the patent as a subterfuge to control price—first being, it is gone into before the expiration of the Basic patent on plaster board and second, it is gone into from the standpoint of economy in cost.

The lawyers that have gone over the patent and made a careful study of the situation pronounce the patent a very strong one if and when issued.

Item No. 270

July 3, 1929

TO BE ATTACHED TO BUBBLE CONTRACT AND BUNDLING CONTRACT BETWEEN UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY and CERTAIN-TEED PRODUCTS CORPORATION.

228

Attached is letter from our attorney, Mr. T. W. Chaffee, outlining certain legal reasons why it might not be desirable to sign these License Agreements. For the following business reasons, however, after discussion with Mr. Geo. M. Brown, Mr. A. Whittemore and the writer, it was decided to take a License from the United States Gypsum Company covering patents mentioned in the two above listed contracts.

BUNDLING PATENT

The Bundling Patent covers the use of paper and paste for bundling Plaster lath and Gypsum wallboard. The royalty is nominal, 10¢ per M feet. The Gypsum Company has developed a machine for doing this that is expected to save at least the amount of the royalty, 10¢ per M. feet, which machine we are at liberty to use.

We have been accused by the United States Gypsum Company of infringing their patent and they had papers drawn starting litigation against us for infringement. In signing this License, we avoid this litigation and back royalties were waived by the Licensor.

We are obligated to use only said bundle set forth and claimed in said Patent #1,696,877 during term of said license . The Licensor refused to waive this clause and it was decided to sign the License for reason that we doubt if it would be possible to develop a cheaper method and, further, in the interest of harmony in the Industry.

Prior to our signing the agreement, it was signed by all producers of Gypsum lath and Gypsum wallboard except the Atlantic Gypsum Company and ourselves. It is our opinion that all Gypsum lath and Gypsum wallboard producers will take a license under this patent.

BUBBLE PATENT

This patent covers replacing sawdust in gypsum wallboard with air bubbles, resulting in a much lighter board and as good if not better board from other standpoints. The saving in cost in using this process over the old method is estimated at a minimum of 80¢ per M. feet and a maximum of $2.00 per M. feet. The royalty is 1% with a minimum of 2½¢ per M. feet. Any known methods for getting this result other than covered by Patent in question are much more expensive and if the big producer in the Industry used this method we would be forced to use at least a method that got the same results, regardless of expense, if we were to sell at the same price because of the quality of the board and its lightness, weight being quite a factor due to the saving in freight or, if we continued to make gypsum wallboard as we are now making it, sell at a lower price in order to compete, which method does not usually tend toward satisfactory conditions in any industry.

SUPPLEMENTAL LICENSE AGREEMENT.

THIS AGREEMENT executed in duplicate this 3d day of July, 1929, by and between the UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY, an Illinois Corporation, of Chicago, Illinois, hereinafter referred to as "Licensor", and the CERTAIN-TEED PRODUCTS CORPORATION, a Maryland corporation, having its principal office in Baltimore, Maryland, hereinafter referred to as "Licensee", Witnesseth:

WHEREAS, Licensor entered into a license agreement with Licensee on the 22nd day of May, 1929, granting unto Licensee an indivisible and non-exclusive right, license and privilege of using the processes and making and using the machines and/or inventions set forth and claimed in letters patent of the United States numbered 1,029,328 dated June 11, 1912, and number 1,034,746 dated August 6, 1912, and in certain other patents and applications for letters patent more specifically described in Exhibit A attached to said license agreement, upon the terms and conditions as in the said license agreement contained; and

WHEREAS, Licensor is the owner of that certain patent known as the Birdsey Plasterboard Bundle Patent number 1,696,877 dated December 25, 1928, and Licensee is desirous of obtaining a license under said last mentioned patent;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the sum of one dollar and other good and valuable considerations, the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto do hereby agree as follows, to-wit:

1. The Licensor does hereby give and grant unto Licensee an indivisible and non-exclusive right, license 10449 and privilege of making and using the inventions set forth and claimed in the said Birdsey Plasterboard Bundle Patent number 1,696,877 dated December 25, 1928, at any and all factories now or hereafter owned and/or operated and controlled by Licensee, or any subsidiary of Licensee, and of selling bundles of plasterboard and/or gypsum wallboard set forth and claimed in said patent number 1,696,877 so long as the said license agreement dated May 22, 1929, shall remain in full force and effect between the parties hereto; Provided, However, that if the said license agreement dated May 22, 1929, shall remain in full force and effect until February 10, 1937, then the license and privilege granted to Licesee in this paragraph shall continue until the expiration of said patent number 1,696,877. This said license is granted upon the terms and conditions hereinafter stated.

2. The Licensee agrees to pay to the Licensor for the right, license and privilege of making, using or selling the inventions set forth and claimed in said patent number 1,696,877, in addition to the license fees or royalties agreed to be paid by it to Licensor under said license agreement of May 22, 1929, a license fee or royalty of ten cents (10¢) per thousand square feet of plasterboard and/or gypsum wallboard which is sold by it in bundles of any kind, payable at the times and in accordance with the terms of paragraph 4 hereof. It is expressly understood and agreed that Licensee in its business of manufacturing and selling plasterboard and/or gypsum wallboard will use only said bundle set forth and claimed in said patent number 1,696,877, and will not use any other bundle or method of bundling plasterboard during the term of said license.

3. It is expressly understood and agreed that the 10450 license herein granted shall be personal to the Licensee and that the same or any right therein or hereunder shall not be sold, assigned or transferred without operation of law.

4. Licensee agrees to keep separate full and accurate books of account and records showing the exact quantity of all plasterboard and gypsum wallboard sold by it in bundles, and agrees that on or before the 20th day of each and every calendar month it will render unto Licensor true written returns verified under oath by an officer or other agent of Licensee, setting forth the quantity of all plasterboard and gypsum wallboard put up and sold by it in bundles, such written returns to be delivered to Licensor at its office in Chicago, Illinois, and Licensee agrees to pay to Licensor on or before the 20th day of each calendar month at the office of Licensor at Chicago, Illinois, the hereinbefore stipulated royalties or license fees which may then be due under this agreement on account of all of said plasterboard and gypsum wallboard put up and sold by it in bundles during the next preceding calendar month.

5. Licensor or its duly authorized representative shall have the right at all reasonable times during business hours to inspect the books of account and records of Licensee referred to in the next preceding paragraph hereof, including all records of every kind showing the quantity of said plasterboard and gypsum wallboard put up and sold by it in bundles, and to make copies thereof and memoranda therefrom.

6. Licensee agrees that all bundles put up and sold by it embodying the claims of said patent number 1,696,877 shall be distinctly marked with the word "PATENTED", together with the date of said patent, and with the further words, "LICENSED UNDER THE ABOVE LET-10451 TERS PATENT", which markings shall be plainly visible.

7. As one of the considerations for the indivisible and non-exclusive license herein and hereby granted, Licensee hereby acknowledges the validity of the letters patent granted and to be granted forming the subject-matter of this license throughout the full term of this contract, and agrees that it will not at any time during said period, directly or indirectly, by itself, through or together with another or others contest the validity of said letters patent or the title thereto of licensor, or question the prima facie scope of said letters patent.

8. In the event that Licensee shall at any time neglect, fail or refuse to keep or perform any of the conditions and agreements herein to be by it kept and performed, then Licensor may at its election serve upon Licensee written notice of intention to terminate this agreement, which notice shall specify the alleged neglect failure or refusal, and if within thirty (30) days from the date of delivery of said notice the Licensee shall not cure the default specified in said notice then Licensor may cancel and terminate this agreement by notifying Licensee in writing of its election so to do without the necessity of any court action; provided, however, that Licensee shall not be relieved thereby from any liability accrued to Licensor at the time of such termination. In case at any time Licensee shall be adjudged a bankrupt, then the License hereunder shall immediately be and become cancelled and terminated, but Licensor shall not thereby be prevented from collecting all license fees or royalties accrued hereunder at the time of such termination. The waiver of any breach by Licensor shall not be interpreted as constituting a waiver of any further breach or breaches. Licensor may specifically enforce this contract or any of the terms, conditions and covenants hereof by injunction or in such other manner as may be provided by law.

10452 9. Any notice to be given under the terms hereof may be served upon Licensee by mailing the same to Licensee, postage prepaid, addressed to it at its last known principal office, and the deposit of any such notice in the United States mails, postage prepaid and so addressed, shall constitute service of notice hereunder.

10. The terms "plasterboard" and "gypsum wallboard" shall be understood to mean all board by whatever name called having structural characteristics of plasterboard or gypsum wallboard, irrespective of the purpose for which the same may be sold or used.

11. This license and all of the covenants and agreements hereof shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the successors and assigns of the parties hereto, but nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to permit an assignment hereof by Licensee, except as hereinabove specifically provided.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF the parties hereto have caused these presents to be signed by their respective presidents, attested by their respective secretaries and their corporate seals to be hereunto affixed in duplicate the day and year first above written.

MEMORANDUM:

NEW YORK, AUGUST 9, 1929.

MR. GEO. M. BROWN, President.

Subject: Wallboard Patents

By: C. O. BROWN, V.P.

I spent Tuesday and Wednesday of this week in Chicago in conference with Gypsum manufacturers on question of License and Royalty covering various patents in the manufacture of Gypsum Wallboard. In order that you may have a full picture, am attaching memorandum written after meeting held in Chicago two weeks ago in which the combined royalty under U.S.G. Patents and Universal Patents totals 5%.

As a result of meeting held this week, proposition has been submitted as follows:

U.S.G. to take over Starch Patent of Universal, no cash to be involved in the transaction but Universal to get a free license under U.S.G.'s Bubble Patent for the life of the Starch Patent, which has about twelve (12) years to run. After expiration of the Starch Patent Universal would pay regular royalty on the Bubble Patent. U.S.G. in return to get free license under the Starch Patent; U.S.G. to take over the responsibility of defending the Starch Patent in case of litigation, handle the licensing, collect all royalties and for this service retain 5¢ per M. Ft. on any royalty collected under the Starch Patent, balance of the royalties to be paid to the Universal. Stareh Patent royalty to be 1% of the selling price on both Board and Lath. This is considerable concession on the part of Universal, as they have licensed this Patent to the Canadian Gypsum Company and are collecting 50¢ per M. Ft. royalty.

Before the Starch patent of Universal was injected into the picture, it was planned to continue the license and price control on Board through U.S.G.'s Bubble Patents when issued on the basis of royalty of 1% per M. Ft. with a minimum of 25¢ per M. This meant that we would pay 25¢ per M. on Board and Lath as a minimum. U.S.G. has agreed to reduce this royalty to a straight 1% on Board and Lath which, on basis of today's prices would be 22½¢ on Board and about 14¢ on Lath as against a minimum of 25¢ on the old basis. This brings total royalties under all licenses and patents to 3½% on the selling price.

It would be the plan to write one contract covering all Patents involved, Machinery Patent on closed edge board, Bubble Patent, Starch Patent and Bundling Patent. The Attorneys feel that such a contract would be exceptionally strong and price control could be maintained for the life of the Contract without difficulty.

Putting it another way, using both the Starch and Bubble Patents, the cost to us as against using the Bubble Patents only would be 22½¢ more on Board and 5¢ per M. more on lath than the old proposition. It will give us a stronger set-up and a Patent to work under immediately. As a matter of fact, the royalty would be less than this, as they are figuring on gross selling price, whereas royalty is paid after freight equalization, discounts, allowances, etc. We did not get the benefit of this, however, on the U.S.G. Patent royalty of 1% with 25¢ per M. minimum.

10454 The National and Universal have settled their litigation on basis of cash settlement by National to Universal. With this settlement, everything seems to be in shape to go ahead under Patent control continuing without a break, if we are willing to pay 3½% royalty.

All of the Independent Gypsum Companies are willing to sign on this basis. I told them I would recommend it to the Company for consideration. Another meeting will be held during the week of August 20th at which time it is hoped that a contract can be agreed to and signed. Preliminary proof of the contract will be here in a week or ten days.

Summing up the royalty, we would have 3½% to pay until 1937, at which date Machinery Patents on closed edge Board expire. We would have 2% to pay from 1937 to approximately 1941, when the Starch Patent expires. We would have 1% to pay until the expiration of the Bubble

Patents. They have not actually been issued, so they would run seventeen (17) years from date of issuance. Should anything interfere with the issuance of the Bubble Patents, our royalty under that obligation would stop after two years—two years' royalty to be paid as recompense to U.S.G. for getting our Plants equipped and teaching our organization how to use the system.

The original proposition, as submitted by the U.S.G. Company, of 1% with 25¢ per M. minimum, would figure about 1¼%, taking the percentage of lath into consideration. 1½% already obligated for under the Closed Edge patent would make a total, as originally considered, of 2¾%, so injecting the Starch Patent raises the royalty ¾ of one per cent.

On $25.00 Board, 3½% would figure something less than 87½¢ per M. as the royalty is figured after freight absorptions, discounts and allowances, etc. And Lath would figure something less than 52½¢ per M. Savings in cost by using the Bubble and Starch patents have been variously estimated at between 50¢ and $2.00 per M. If U.S.G.'s statement is correct as to cost compared with ours, they are manufacturing Board cheaper than we are by more than the extent of the total royalty.

10455 MEMORANDUM:

JULY 30, 1929

CHICAGO GYPSUM BOARD MEETING

The National Gypsum Company, Atlantic Gypsum Company and Ebsary Gypsum Company were in Chicago with their attorneys. The attorneys went over the Bubble Contract with the U.S.G. Company attorney and, inasmuch as we did not have a lawyer present, I attended the lawyers' conference.

Considerable progress was made between the attorneys on an agreement for contract covering Bubble license. There are difficulties outside of the contract, however, which prevent two Companies, Universal and National Gypsum Company from signing.

The Universal Gypsum Company is suing the National Gypsum Company for infringement of the Starch Patent sold by Mr. Haggerty, formerly connected with National, to the Universal Gypsum Company. In selling this patent, Mr. Haggerty recognized its validity and the contract is binding on the National Gypsum Company, making it almost impossible for them to contest the Patent. It is my understanding that Universal are asking National to pay damages in the amount of $250,000. National, of course, does not want to contract a double obligation until this is settled.

The Universal Gypsum Company are placing the blame for not signing on the fact that they have not assured themselves that the Bubble process is more economical than the Starch process and the fact that they are in the hands of the receivers would make it impossible for them to bind themselves for a longer period than the receivership. Other attorneys, however, feel this is largely a smoke screen for not signing and it is my opinion that they feel by holding out they can make the Starch patent of value by forcing it on the industry by sale or on a royalty basis whereas if they and National sign the Bubble Patent, which National would not do before first getting a release from Universal on their Starch Patent litigation, then their Starch patent would be practically no value.

The United States Gypsum Company advise that they have nothing to fear from the Starch Patent under their present Bubble process. There is some doubt as to the strength of this Starch Patent and, of course, all of the Companies, if they did use it, would be free to contest its validity in case of litigation, with the exception of the National Gypsum Company.

In the interest of harmony, however, the U.S.G. Company has been making some tests to see if there was any value in combining the two processes, the Starch and the Bubble. They advised that, based on their experiments to date, they feel there would be some benefit to using Starch in a limited degree with their Bubble process, such a combination resulting in better working of the Stucco, fewer Seconds, etc.

Further benefit could be derived by combining the two patents due to the fact that the Starch Patent has been issued, whereas only applications have been filed under the Bubble Patent, so a combination of the two systems would give a patent to work under in the manufacture and sale of Gypsum Wallboard immediately, whereas under only the Bubble process there would be an interim between August 6th and the date of issuance of the Bubble Patent where there would be no Patent control. There is, of course, considerable benefit to having Patent control continue without a break.

10456 Mr. Avery spent considerable time in the last two days with Mr. Holland, and the other co-receivers of Universal, trying to work out some mutually satisfactory proposition for buying the Starch Patent, or licensing the Industry under both the Starch and the Bubble process.

The Universal Gypsum Company, however, being in the hands of receivers, are anxious to capitalize this patent for its maximum value and have asked for royalties far beyond its worth, in the opinion of several of the Gypsum Companies. Their best proposition to date is a 2½% royalty for use of the Starch Patent. This would mean that if we O.K'd taking a license under both the Starch and Bubble Patents we would be obligating ourselves for 5% royalty until 1938, and 1% thereafter on the Bubble patent until the expiration of that Patent, this royalty made up as follows: 1½% on Closed Edge, 1% on Bubble and 2½% on Starch.

The Atlantic Gypsum Company and the National Gypsum Company feel that at least until recently this Patent could have been bought for $200,000 or less. If prices were maintained on the present levels until 1938 and entire industry paid a royalty, I estimate the royalties paid by the Industry would total $3,500,000 to $4,000,000. These are industry figures, however, so they would be shades some by the amount of business Universal might do, as, of course, they would not collect royalty on their own business and there is some doubt in our mind as to whether the U.S.G. Company expect to pay royalty. They might have in mind giving Universal a free License under the Bubble process in exchange for free License under the Starch process, or something of that sort. I asked Mr. Avery what the arrangement between the two companies would be, or what royalty he would pay if any, and he was not willing to answer the question.

I am sure considerable concession can be secured in the amount of this royalty through further conferences. Before the meeting adjourned, the Industry was asked if they would be willing to consider a maximum of 5% on Board and 4% on Lath. This is a concession of 1% on the Lath. The Universal Gypsum Company and the U.S.G. Company were told this would not be satisfactory.

Mr. Avery asked what royalty we would consider fair and I told him that was something I was not willing to answer without giving it considerable thought, but license contracts that I was familiar with were based on a considerably smaller royalty than 5%, and that I felt U.S.G. Company should buy their Starch Patent outright, provided they could do so at any reasonable figure and then license both patents on some proper basis. From a cost standpoint I feel the Bubble process offers considerably more chance of reducing costs than the Starch process, yet the Universal Company are asking 2½ times the royalty that U.S.G. are asking under their Bubble patent.

There will be further conferences between Universal and U.S.G. within the next ten days and another meeting is to be held in Chicago on either August 5th or 6th when the situation will be discussed further.

10457 Government's Exhibit No. 232

MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT, executed in duplicate this 22nd day of May, 1929, by and between the UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY, an Illinois corporation, of Chicago, Illinois, as First Party, and CERTAIN-TEED PRODUCTS CORPORATION, a Maryland corporation, having its principal office at Baltimore, Maryland, as Second Party, witnesseth, that:

Whereas, heretofore, on or about the 21st day of February, 1928, the UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY filed its Bill of Complaint in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois, Eastern Division, against THE BEAVER PRODUCTS COMPANY, INC., THE BEAVER BOARD COMPANIES, and CERTAIN-TEED PRODUCTS CORPORATION (Equity No. 7907), which suit is still pending and undetermined; and

Whereas, thereafter in said suit a motion was made for a preliminary injunction, and the Court ordered that said Motion for Injunction be continued generally, upon the condition that the CERTAIN-TEED PRODUCTS CORPORATION give bond in the penal sum of One Million Dollars ($1,000,000.00), with surety to be approved by the Court, conditioned to secure the payment of any judgment, decree, damages, interest and costs finally rendered or to be rendered in said cause; and

Whereas, thereafter the said bond was filed in said cause, with CERTAIN-TEED PRODUCTS CORPORATION as Principal and GEORGE M. BROWN and 10458 ELISHA WALKER as Sureties, which bond was approved by the Court; and

Whereas, it is proposed to adjust the matters in controversy in said cause through the execution and performance of a certain License Agreement between the parties hereto to be entered into simultaneously with the execution of this instrument,

Now, therefore, in consideration of the premises and of the sum of One Dollar ($1.00) by each of the parties to the other in hand paid, and for other good and valuable considerations, the receipt and sufficiency whereof are hereby acknowledged and confessed, the parties hereto do hereby mutually agree as follows, to-wit:

1—The said cause now pending in the District Court of the United States for the Northern District of Illinois, Eastern Division, entitled "United States Gypsum Company, Complainant, vs. The Beaver Products Company, Inc., The Beaver Board Companies, and Certain-Teed Products Corporation, Defendants, in Equity, No. 7907," shall be dismissed without prejudice and without costs.

2—The said bond given by the Certain-Teed Products Corporation, as Principal, George M. Brown and Elisha Walker, as Sureties, pursuant to order of Court in the aforesaid cause, shall be and hereby is released.

3—The parties hereto shall respectively execute 10458A such other instruments or papers as may be necessary to carry out this agreement.

In witness whereof, the parties hereto have caused these presents to be signed by their respective Presidents, attested by their respective Secretaries, and their corporate seals to be hereunto affixed, in duplicate, the day and year first above written.

Subject BUBBLE BOARD

Dictated by C. O. BROWN, V.P.—LK

It is my belief that License for the Bubble Board will be drawn up and signed within the next two weeks. If our Engineering Department is familiar with the equipment, etc., required for this installation, think they should proceed with the work. It is my information, however, that we know very little about the actual process, equipment, etc.

The United States Gypsum Company would not be willing to turn over all information on this prior to the License being signed. After it is signed, everything will be available. So, if we are not entirely familiar with what is required, think we should wait until we can get all information from the United States Gypsum Company. We will not be required to pay royalty on the Bubble until the plants are in production, and ample time will be given after the license is signed for our plants to get in production.

This delay will not interfere with the operation of patent and price control, as the Universal Starch patent will control that feature and royalty will start on that patent as soon as the License is signed. We are all using enough Starch to say we are making Board under the Universal Patent.

There is supposed to be a substantial saving in cost by using the Bubble either from standpoint of a lighter Board or by increased production from a heavier board, but until standards are set, think it will be necessary for us to make the same weight board the Industry is manufacturing, in which case our saving would be in an increased production. At present time, however, we are not selling the production of the Plants on their present capacity and doubt if they will be oversold the balance of this year, so there is really little incentive to crowd this from a cost standpoint. It would be my feeling that we should wait until the License is signed before doing much work on the Bubble Board equipment.

Attention: MR. C. O. BROWN

DEAR SIRS:

This is to advise you that the Federal Courts in the Universal Gypsum & Lime Co. receiverships entered orders approving the contract with United States Gypsum Company. We have this day received the conveyance and assignment of the Haggerty and Hite patents to us pursuant to authority granted by the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois, Eastern Division, and the other Federal District Courts in which receivership proceedings are pending, to the receivers of the Universal Gypsum & Lime Co. and said Company to sell and assign said Haggerty and Hite patents to us. Your license agreement dated October 15, 1929, therefore becomes effective on this date. In the future all royalties for our patents will be collected in accordance with the terms of the license agreement of October 15, 1929.

Yours very truly,

MR. W. E. COFFIN RE-CUT WALLBOARD

WARREN HENLEY—EL

cc — Messrs.
C. O. BROWN, V.P.—N.Y.
H. H. VAN HAGEN—Buffalo Dist.

Licensor do not feel it advisable to sell Open Edge Recut Wallboard on a basis of the "seconds" price.

They feel it would be quite demoralizing in the various markets where this type of board is sold.

Some manufacturers would accummulate considerable more footage than others and it would continually be a problem as to just what basis the various markets were on.

Licensor, of course is up against the same problem, and for your information, "dumped" some $40,000.00 worth of Recut Wallboard rather than demoralize the market by selling same.

They have approximately two or three million feet of accummulation on hand and are making every endeavor possible to dispose of same at, however, the No. 1 price.

I am at the present time endeavoring to work out with Licensor "seconds" policy and it may be possible to work out of this situation by selling Recut Wallboard at the "seconds" price, provided, however, that the board is stamped with the word "seconds" on the reverse side of the board. I am also giving a copy of this memorandum to Mr. Van Hagan which will have reference to his memorandum of October 19, subject—"Accumulation of Off Goods".

The subject is an industry problem and must, of course, be given serious consideration by all concerned, but in the meantime, if the Sales Department can dispose of 33" Recut Wallboard into markets that our already classed as "seconds markets", then it will be O.K. to move same, provided that the board is stamped with the word "seconds" on the reverse side.

Licensor feel this situation so important, and the fact that their plants are operating around 97% efficiency, that it would be wise to "dump" the 3 or 4% rather than offset the market, but of course such efficiency as they enjoy will not apply to all Licensees, particularly so in the next sixty days when plants are being changed over to a new method of manufacture.

I would suggest that Mr. C. O. Brown, at the next Licensor meeting, bring this matter up for discussion, and if possible, develop a definite policy covering.

MR. C. O. BROWN,

DEAR MR. BROWN:

I have just received word from our patent attorneys that they have completed their investigations and consideration of patents No. 1,725,243 and 1,709,475 and that they consent to the consummation of the exchange license agreement which you and the United States Gypsum Company have agreed to.

I enclose herewith three copies of the license agreement which I believe covers the situation. This agreement was drawn shortly after our conference and consequently is dated "this———day of December, 1929." I have not changed this in view of the fact that you have both been operating under the license and I suggest that you insert the date on which you really put this agreement in effect.

In drafting this agreement is seemed to me that the time might come when this patent should be included in our general license agreement as we might later want the right to fix prices included in our license to use this patent. This could not be done later unless some reservation to that effect was made in the present agreement. Consequently by the second section of the agreement I have made provision for including this license in our general license agreement with you and I assume that there will be no objection to this in view of the fact that we have provided that you shall not be required to pay any additional royalty or license fee for the use of this patent if it is included in the general license agreement.

If the form of the agreement is satisfactory to you I would appreciate your executing the original and the 10464 copy which is on heavy paper and returning them to me. I will then see that the United States Gypsum Company immediately executes one copy and returns it to you. The third copy which I enclose is for your files.

Yours very truly,

AGREEMENT between UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY and CERTAIN-TEED PRODUCTS CORPORATION

Agreement made in duplicate this first day of July, 1932, by and between UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY, an Illinois corporation having its principal office and place of business at Chicago, Illinois, hereinafter called the First Party, and CERTAIN-TEED PRODUCTS CORPORATION, a Maryland corporation having its principal office and place of business in New York City, New York, hereinafter called Second Party,

Wherein the Parties hereto agree as follows:

1. First Party agrees to sell to Second Party and Second Party agrees to purchase from the First Party all the Second Party's needs and requirements for sale to its customers in the States of Florida, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Alabama, eastern Tennessee and such other states or parts of states in southeastern United States as Second Party may elect, of the following products, at the following prices:

	In Bulk	In Paper Sacks (Sacks extra)	In Jute Sacks (Sacks extra)
Crushed Gypsum Rock	$1.75 per ton
Land Plaster	2.30 " "	$2.75 per ton	$3.00 per ton

⅜" Plaster Board	13.00 " " " "	"	"

f. o. b. cars Plasterco, Virginia (the above prices being based upon average cost of manufacture in 1931 at Plasterco, Virginia); provided, however, that at the 10466 end of each calendar year during the whole or any part of which this contract is in force, the First Party shall determine the average mill cost per ton to First Party on cars Plasterco, Virginia of each of the above plaster products shipped to Second Party or Second Party's customers during the calendar year last past, and if such cost of any plaster product or products exceeds the average mill cost of such plaster products to First Party on cars Plasterco, Virginia for the base year 1931, the Second Party will pay to the First Party the difference in cost per ton on all such plaster products purchased hereunder during the calendar year just completed, and if such cost is less than the average mill cost for the base year 1931 First Party will pay the Second Party the difference in cost per ton on all such plaster products purchased during such calendar year; provided, further, that whenever the cost per M square feet to First Party of any of said plaster board or wall board products exceeds 66⅔ per cent of the price quoted herein, the price to the Second Party of such products during the period such cost so exceeds 66⅔ per cent of the quoted price, shall be the price quoted herein plus the difference between the cost and 66⅔ per cent of the quoted price, until such time as the cost is equal to or lower than 66⅔ per cent of the quoted price, at which time the price to the Second Party shall again be the price herein quoted; provided further,
Second Party may purchase or acquire elsewhere
10467 than from First Party, trowel finish plaster, plaster board or wall board to fill orders from customers exclusive of depreciation and of the cost of sacks or cratin said territory for carload shipments of either of such products.

Cost as used herein shall mean the total mill cost of the product on cars at the mill, in accordance with the method of computing such costs now employed by the First Party, ing.

The word ton, wherever used in this contract, shall mean a net ton of two thousand (2000) pounds.

2. All plaster products sold hereunder shall be manufactured by the First Party in accordance with formulas furnished by Second Party from time to time, and if no formula is furnished, according to the standard practices of the First Party. The word formula as used herein shall be construed only to mean that the Second Party shall have the right to specify the quantities of such ingredients as fiber, lime, clay, talc and similar materials which are added to stucco in order to produce the abovementioned plasters, having such varying characteristics as will suit the requirements of Second Party's customers, and to specify the setting time of such wall plaster, such setting time to be regulated by the First Party by variations in the amount of retarder added to such plasters during mixing. First Party shall not be responsible either to Second Party or Second Party's customers for the quality or performance of any plaster manufactured according to for-10468 mula furnished by Second Party.

3. All paper sacks shall be furnished by the First Party at an additional cost to the Second Party of One Dollar ($1.00) for each ton of plaster shipped in paper sacks. Such paper sacks shall be printed with such labels and branding marks as the Second Party may from time to time designate, and shall be of the same type and quality as is or shall be at the time regularly used by the First Party.

All crating of wall board or plaster board products shall be done by the First Party at an extra cost to the Second Party of Five Dollars ($5.00) per M square feet but shall only be done when directed by the Second Party.

All jute or cloth sacks shall be furnished by the Second Party and shall be in good condition when received. First Party shall not be responsible or liable either to Second Party or Second Party's customers for the condition of any jute or cloth sacks in which shipment is made. First Party will receive, condition and store all return shipments of Second Party's jute or cloth sacks in the same manner as it handles its own jute or cloth sacks, and will furnish Second Party, each month, a memorandum of account of the number of jute or cloth sacks received and the worthless sacks thrown out.

4. All shipments made hereunder by the First Party shall be made to the Second Party or the Second Party's customers, routed as Second Party shall direct, upon 10469 the written order of the Second Party, and all shipments shall be handled with the same promptness and efficiency as First Party handles its own shipments. First Party will invoice Second Party each month for all products shipped either to Second Party or Second Party's customers during the preceding calendar month, and for all paper sacks, crating or other charges or expenses for which Second Party may be liable, and all such invoices shall be paid by the Second Party net, in cash, within ten (10) days after invoicing. Upon failure at any time on the part of the Second Party to pay promptly any bill rendered by the First Party to the Second Party for products sold Second Party hereunder, or for any charges payable under this contract when the same are due and payable, First Party may withhold any and all further shipments or deliveries to Second Party or on Second Party's account, until payment in full is made, and if any such bills are not paid within a period of thirty (30) days after the same are due and payable then the First Party may at its option terminate this agreement, with or without notice to the Second Party, provided that any such termination shall be without prejudice to any claim of either party against the other arising out of any breach of or failure to perform this agreement occurring prior to such termination.

First Party shall not compile and turn over to its Sales Department any sales data, customers names or 10470 prices the knowledge of which is received by the First Party by reason of the sales and shipments made hereunder.

5. Second Party may, at its option, ship to First Party's plant at Plasterco, Virginia any products manufactured by Second Party at any of its mills and required in mixed car shipments with products sold hereunder, and First Party agrees to warehouse all such products for the Second Party at a cost of One Dollar ($1.00) per ton. All such products so warehoused shall be insured by the Second Party at its own expense, and First Party shall not be liable to Second Party for the loss, damage or destruction of any warehoused stocks except where grossly negligent in the handling thereof.

6. In the event the First Party shall for any reason whatsoever cease to manufacture the above products or any of them at its mill at Plasterco, Virginia, First Party will promptly notify Second Party thereof and will present to Second Party immediately thereafter a new schedule of prices f. o. b. cars its mill closest to Plasterco, manufacturing such product or products, covering the products the manufacture of which at Plasterco, Virginia has been stopped, and Second Party may thereupon elect to accept such schedules or ship from other sources until the manufacture of such product or products is resumed by First Party at Plasterco, Virginia. Such new schedule of prices shall bear approximately the same relation to cost of manufacture at the new mill as the prices herein stated bear to the cost of manufacture at Plasterco, if accepted by Second 10471 Party, and shall become a part of this contract the same as if originally set forth herein, in place of the schedule of prices f. o. b. cars Plasterco, Virginia, as long as any such products are not manufactured at Plasterco, Virginia; provided, however, that if the First Party permanently ceases to manufacture any such product or products at Plasterco, Virginia and notifies the Second Party of that fact Second Party may, at its option, cancel this contract with reference to any such product or products, the contract to remain in full force, however, as to all products which First Party continues to manufacture at Plasterco, Virginia.

7. In case either the First or Second Party shall at any time become bankrupt or insolvent or any bankruptcy or insolvency proceedings shall at any time be instituted against either party, or any proceedings shall be instituted for the appointment of a receiver or trustee for the assets, business or property of either the First Party or the Second

Party, or any assignment shall be made by either the First Party or the Second Party for the benefit of creditors, then in any or either of such events the other party hereto may cancel this agreement by giving written notice of cancelation. This agreement may also be canceled by either party in case the other party shall at any time be guilty of a breach of any of the terms or conditions hereof. In case of a waiver of a breach of any of the terms and conditions of this agreement by either of the parties hereto the 10472 same shall not constitute a waiver of any other or subsequent breach hereof.

8. First Party shall not be liable to Second Party for any failure to ship or delay in shipment of any order by reason of strikes, floods, shortage of cars, or any other cause or reason beyond the control of the First Party, whether or not of a class or kind specifically mentioned herein, and during the period of any such delay the Second Party may purchase its requirements of the above products elsewhere until such time as First Party can resume regular shipments.

9. Any and all notices required to be served by the First Party upon the Second Party may be served by mailing a copy of such notice, registered mail, postage prepaid, addressed to the Second Party at New York City, New York, and any and all notices required to be served by the Second Party upon the First Party may be served by mailing a copy of such notice, registered mail, postage prepaid addressed to the First Party at 300 West Adams Street, Chicago, Illinois, and such mailing of notice shall in each case be deemed to be proper service of notice hereunder.

10. This agreement shall become effective on the date hereof and shall remain in force to and including December 31, 1937 and from year to year thereafter unless terminated by either party upon six (6) months prior written notice given at any time after December 31, 1937; provided, however, that Second Party may dispose of any products similar to those covered hereby which may be stored or 10473 warehoused by Second Party in the territory described above, on the effective date of this agreement. In the event that the gypsum mill now located at North Holston, Virginia shall again be placed in operation First Party may at any time thereafter cancel this agreement by giving the Second Party at lease sixty (60) days prior written notice of cancelation.

11. This contract shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the respective successors and assigns of the parties hereto, but may not be voluntarily assigned by Second Party and shall not inure to the benefit of any successor without the consent of the First Party in writing first had and obtained.

In witness whereof, the parties hereto have hereunto set their hands and seals the day and year first above written.

Reflective Plasterboard License

DEAR SIR:

Attached please find copy of my letter to to Mr Van Hagan and also copy of his letter.

As discussed with you, we are anxious to have the entire industry under license for the manufacture of this product. The Universal, National and American Gypsum companies have agreed to sign the license, and it is my suggestion that you do likewise.

I am attaching hereto a revised, up-to-date contract, the same as submitted to the other members of the industry.

As you will note this contract is on a ninety day mutual cancelation basis: this so that should there be any changes of minor nature in the licenses for the other industries the same will be incorporated in subsequent licenses.

Very truly yours,

C. HENNING
Vice President.

Metalized Plasterboard

DEAR SIR:—

Referring to your letter of August tenth relative to the above, attached please find copy of license.

As you will understand this is a tentative copy which may be changed in minor points, inasmuch as it is our intention to license plasterboard manufacturers, metal lath manufacturers and insulation board and wire lath manufacturers, and all these contracts must naturally contain the same clauses and specifications. I do not think that the changes will be of anything of great importance.

I do not think at this time that we are contemplating selling this commodity to you, and believe that it would be wise for you to figure on manufacturing it.

In order to have a price control on this commodity it will be necessary for you to take out a license to manufacture it.

Very truly yours,

/s/ C. HENNING

SUBJECT: Metalized Plasterboard

DEAR SIR:

This is to acknowledge your letter of August 14th and indicating that your company would not consider at this time the selling of the Metalized Plasterboard to our company.

With reference to the proposed form of license agreement, is my understanding correct that your company would furnish full details and specification both for the metalized plasterboard and the necessary mechanism for the manufacture of same? If this is the case can you give me a rough estimate as to the cost of installation which might be required to put us into production on this product?

Attached is price information sent out by Licensor on metallized board.

We have signed license on this product but do not contemplate manufacturing it at the present time.

U. S. Gypsum Company will sell us their board, unbranded, at published prices less 12¢% on lath and 15% on board. They were not willing to do this until we signed a license and heretofore we have had to buy this board when necessary to furnish same, through dealers, taking a loss on each sale.

If district and sales managers feel that this product should be labelled with one or more of our brand names, I am sure it can be arranged. Please advise whether you would want to use the Bestwall name or Certainteed name or both.

Will Mr. Henley find out from U. S. Gypsum Company whether they would have any objection to putting our label on the package, provided we furnished same, and at same time, allow us above discounts.

Will Mr. Henley also advise me at what points U.S. Gypsum Company manufacture metallized board at the present time so that we will know where the product is available.

Will Mr. Henley also find out whether or not we can send an order direct to the plant, picking up such quantity of board as may be desired at any time or must the orders be placed through Chicago.

Pending definite information on where orders are to be sent, send any orders for metallized board direct to Mr.

Henley, who will handle direct with U.S. Gypsum Company's Chicago office.

It is my understanding that metallized board is beginning to run into considerable volume. I am told National Gypsum Company are selling approximately 200,000 feet per month and U. S. Gypsum Company are selling between 400,000 and 500,000 feet per month.

METALLIZED BOARD
C. O. BROWN, V. P.

Supplementing my recent bulletin above subject.

The U. S. Gypsum Company quote prices on metallized gypsum wallboard at the following points:

Fort Dodge, Iowa
Grand Rapids, Michigan
Gypsum, Ohio
Oakfield, N. Y.
Plasterco, Va.
Southard, Okla.
Sweetwater, Texas.

On gypsum lath they quote only at Oakfield, N. Y.

The price on gypsum metallized lath is $20.00 f.o.b. Oakfield, N. Y., no freight equalization with other gypsum producing points.

The U. S. Gypsum Company agrees to apply our label, either Certain-teed or Bestwall Brand, on any orders placed with them for metallized board, we to furnish the labels. Mr. Phelps will prepare these labels in the immediate future and forward a supply to the Fort Dodge and Oakfield mills of the U. S. Gypsum Company. If District Managers wish labels sent to any other mills of the U. S. Gypsum Co., please advise Mr. Phelps. It would be my recommendation, however, that we operate from as few of their mills as possible. For example, U. S. Gypsum Company state that while they show a price at Plasterco, Va., they have shipped no mixed cars of this board from that mill.

We have ordered a small supply of samples of this board from U. S. Gypsum Company, to be shipped to N. Y.—Advertising Department, attention of Mr. Phelps. You can requisition samples for salesmen from N. Y. Advertising Department, New York Office. Only 250 samples have been requested to date, size 2½" x 5", so confine your requisitions only to such quantities as are required for salesmen's use. For the time being, these samples will be sent to you unlabelled.

Orders for metallized board and lath can be sent through to the controlling order writing department in the regular way. When order reaches plant from which shipment is to be made, we can send our truck to U. S. Gypsum plant with an order for quantity of board required and U. S. Gypsum plant manager is authorized to recognize same and deliver board to us.

Will Mr. Van Hagan please advise our plant managers of procedure for picking up metallized board.

†4. Minimum Prices in Markets Adjacent to Cities.

Metallized Board License Bulletin (Page 1)
Cancels All Previous Bulletins

DEAR SIR: Referring to our license contract with you, you are hereby notified that effective June 14, 1939, the minimum prices at which you may sell metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard manufactured by you and embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in our patents under which you are licensed, are as follows:

Minimum prices per M sq. ft. of patented metallized gypsum board products shall be the mill price listed below plus carload rail freight from producing mill to destination of the shipment. Carload rail freight may be equalized with the carload rail freight from any of the gypsum board producing mills listed below having a lower carload rail freight to such destination.

10487 In computing the delivered minimum price hereunder, rail freight wherever mentioned in this bulletin, shall mean rail freight in accordance with rail rates published in regular freight tariffs, using the weights shown above, and shall include all stopover, switching, cartage and other extra delivery charges applicable to the shipment.

If the applicable rail rate, to be used in computing the delivered minimum price, is on a per ton basis, then the rate per CWT shall first be determined, and fractions of less than 1/4¢ per CWT over or under an even 1¢ or 1/2¢ shall be dropped and the even 1¢ or 1/2¢ shall be used, and fractions of 1/4¢ or more over an even 1¢ or 1/2¢ shall be considered as the next even 1/2¢ or 1¢. Example: the rate of $3.55 per ton equaling 17-3/4¢ per CWT shall be considered 18¢ per CWT. In converting the applicable per CWT rate into freight per M sq. ft. to determine the minimum price hereunder, fractions of less than 1/2¢ per M sq. ft. shall be dropped and the nearest even 1¢ shall be used, and fractions of 1/2¢ or more per M sq. ft. shall be considered the next even 1¢.

The above prices apply to all sales of patented metallized gypsum board except as follows:

1. Pacific Coast. Until further notice the above minimum prices shall not apply to sales of patented gypsum board for shipment to or delivery in the following area: states of California, Arizona, Nevada, Utah, Idaho, Oregon and Washington; also that portion of the state of Montana west of and including Phillips, Petroleum, Musselshell, Yellowstone and Carbon Counties.

2. Stopover Cars. The minimum price for each portion of a stopover car consigned to a different destination shall be the mill price plus the carload rail freight from the producing mill, provided that carload freight may be equalized with the carload freight from any of the gypsum board producing mills listed above having a lower carload rail freight to the destination of that portion of the car, except that stopover charges need not be added to determine minimum price on shipments to destinations in which deliveries are made by truck.

3. Delivered Price Areas. Minimum prices of patented metallized gypsum board products per M sq. ft. for delivery within the areas listed below are the prices set forth below plus any stopover charges (except that stopover charges need not be added to determine the minimum price on shipments to destinations in which deliveries are made by truck).

10491 6. Minimum Prices for Delivery by Truck:

Minimum prices for patented metallized gypsum board per M sq. ft. when delivered by truck (truckloads containing 7500 sq. ft. or more) in the areas named below shall be the same as the prices heretofore named for delivery into such areas:

Eastern Area—which includes the States of New Jersey, Connecticut and Rhode Island; Essex, Middlesex, Suffolk, Norfolk, Worcester, Plymouth, Bristol and Barnstable Counties, Massachusetts; York and Cumberland Counties, Maine; Rockingham, Strafford, Belknap, Merrimac, Sullivan, Cheshire and Hillsborough Counties, New Hampshire; Manhattan, Bronx, Kings, Queens, Richmond, Nassau, Suffolk, Westchester, Rockland, Orange, Putnam, and Dutchess Counties, New York; Bucks, Montgomery, Chester, Delaware, Philadelphia, Lehigh and Northampton Counties, Pennsylvania; New Castle County, Delaware; towns of Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg in Monroe County, and Town of Milford in Pike County, Pennsylvania.

Western New York Area—which includes Erie, Niagara, Orleans, Genesee, Monroe, Ontario, Wayne, Seneca, Wyoming, Cattaraugus, Chautauqua, Allegany, Steuben, Yates, Chemung, Schuyler and Livingston Counties, New York; also Crawford, Erie, McKean and Warren Counties, Pennsylvania.

Detroit Area—which includes Wayne County, Michigan; towns of Birmingham, Clawson, Farmington, Ferndale, Hazel Park and Royal Oak in Oakland County, Michigan; also towns of Warren, Halfway, Fraser, Roseville, Saint Clair Shores, East Detroit, Van Dyke and Centerline in Macomb County, Michigan.

7. Minimum Prices to Contractors—Consumers:

On sales to contractors, roofing contractors, metal ceiling contractors, prefabricated house manufacturers and other consumers, the minimum price shall be the minimum price as above established plus the following amounts per M sq. ft.:

To Contractors (Inc. Metal Ceiling Contrs.) & to Prefabricated House Mfrs. and Consumers Generally		To Contractors for Use on Roof Decks
Std. Sizes		Std. Sizes
Wall Bd. & Sheathing	Lath	Wall Bd. & Sheathing	Lath
2.50	1.25	1.25	1.25

10492 8. Standard Size Products:

The minimum prices hereinabove established apply to sales of patented metallized gypsum board in sizes suitable for use in construction and regularly manufactured and offered for sale for use in construction, which products are commonly known in the trade as standard size products and are as follows:

Thickness & Width	Lengths
(1) Square Edge Metallized Wallboard
1/4″x32″ or 48″	4′-5′-6′-7′-8′-9′-10′-11′ and 12′
1/2″x32″ or 48″	4′-5′-6′-7′-8′-9′-10′-11′ and 12′
(2) T&G Edge Metallized Wallboard
1/2″x48″	8′-9″ and 10′
(3) T&G Edge Metallized Sheathing
1/2″x24″	6′-8″ and 8′
(4) Metallized Plaster Lath
3/8″x16″	32″ and 48″
1/2″x16″	48″

9. Non-Standard Size Products.

For sales of non-standard size products, minimum prices per M sq. ft. shall be the minimum price above established plus the following amounts per M sq. ft. (except that such amounts need not be added on sales of non-standard sizes to contractors for use on roof decks):

Wall Bd. & Sheathing	Lath
2.50	1.25

Effective Date of Minimum Prices:

Advances in Minimum Prices

In the event of an increase in the minimum prices of patented metallized gypsum board products, the advanced minimum price shall apply to all shipments made after the effective date of the price increase, except that the price in effect just prior to the advance in minimum price shall apply in the following instances.

(1) On bona fide orders for dealers' stocks actually received and accepted at your home office in writing before effective date of the price increase and shipped by you within 10 days after effective date of price increase.

10493 (2) On sales of metallized gypsum plaster lath to dealers for any specific job requiring not less than the minimum carload quantity of plaster lath (each building of a project to be considered as a separate specific job hereunder); and

On sales of metallized gypsum wallboard to gypsum roofing contractors for specific gypsum roof jobs; and

On sales of metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum sheathing to dealers for specific industrial housing projects; and

On sales of metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum sheathing on direct bids to the federal government for specific federal government jobs;*

but only where the general contract for such specific job is awarded prior to the effective date of the price increase, or where the dealer (or contractor on specific roof jobs) has made a written quotation on such job prior to the effective date of the price increase, and providing the order is placed by such dealer or contractor and accepted by the licensee within 30 days on private jobs, and 60 days on federal government jobs, after the effective date of the price increase.

(3) On orders received from the General Supply Committee of the Executive Departments and Independent Establishments of the United States Government under contract awarded by that committee, prior to the effective date of price increase.

* Note: A Federal Government job is one where the Federal Government lets the contract to a general contractor or places an order directly with licensee.

Decreases in Minimum Price

In the event of a decrease in the minimum prices of the patented metallized gypsum board products, the new and lower minimum prices are applicable to all sales and shipments made after the effective date of the decrease in minimum price, including all orders for the patented metallized gypsum board products on file at the time of decrease in minimum prices, and also shipments in transit; but licensee must be prepared to furnish licensor with satisfactory evidence of the fact that the shipment was actually in transit and not delivered when the price decrease became effective. Carrier's freight bill will be accepted as evidence of that fact.

Rebates, Allowances, Etc.:

Any sale of patented products, though ostensibly made at or above the minimum price established by licensor, will nevertheless be considered a violation of the provisions of the license if licensee directly or indiractly reduces the actual price charged by licensee below such minimum price by granting the customer rebates, unearned or unwarranted refunds, credits or discounts, by reducing the price of other products, by hiring customers' trucks, by 10494 granting allowances for advertising or other purposes, by splitting of salesmen's compensation or commissions with customers, by overshipment of patented products, by including board under the guise of dunnage, or by making any other payment or allowance in the form of money or otherwise which has for its purpose and effect reducing the price charged by licensee below such minimum price.

The minimum prices set forth herein pertain to existing conditions, and, as provided in the license agreement, Licensor has and reserves the right to change and alter such minimum prices from time to time.

Yours very truly,

Vice President.

Carload Shipments—Metallized Board License Bulletin No. 1 (Page 1)—Cancels Page 1 Dated—May 6, 1938

DEAR SIR: Referring to our license contract with you, you are hereby notified that effective February 7, 1939, the minimum prices at which you may sell metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard manufactured by you and embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in our patents under which you are licensed, are as follows:

Minimum prices per thousand square feet of patented metallized gypsum board products for delivery by rail, in straight cars or cars mixed with other gypsum products, including pool cars and stopover cars, shall be the lowest combination of mill price listed below and all rail freight from such mill to destination. Rail freight shall be determined in accordance with rail rates as published in regular freight tariffs, using weights shown below, plus all stopover, switching, cartage and other extra delivery charges in connection with the shipment. In stopover cars, minimum prices of the patented metallized gypsum board products in any portion of the car shall be the minimum prices as herein defined to the point of delivery of that portion of the car.

10496 The above minimum prices are for Board or Lath with one surface metallized. Add $15.00 per M sq. ft. to minimum prices both surfaces metallized.

Where an odd 'rate per ton' is in effect (example: $3.45 per ton) the freight per M sq. ft. shall be figured on the basis of rate per cwt., fractions of less than 1/4¢ per cwt. to be dropped, fractions of 1/4¢ per cwt.

to 1/2¢ per cwt. to be considered as 1/2¢. Example: The rate of $3.45 per ton equals 17¼¢ per cwt. For purpose of arriving at delivered price, however, the rate of 17½¢ shall be used.

The above prices apply to the sale of all patented metallized gypsum board embodying the claims of our patents in all markets except where an exception is made as hereinafter expressly stated:

(1) Pacific Coast—Until further notice, minimum prices as above defined shall not apply to sales of the patented metallized gypsum board products for shipments to or delivery in the following area: States of California, Arizona, Nevada, Utah, Idaho, Oregon and Washington; also that portion of the State of Montana west of and including Phillips, Petroleum, Musselshell, Yellowstone and Carbon Counties.

(2) Minimum Prices into Delivered Price Areas

Minimum prices of the patented metallized gypsum board products in straight cars or cars mixed with other gypsum products, including pool cars and stopover cars, for delivery by rail within areas listed below, are the prices set forth below plus any stopover charges (except that stopover charges need not be added to determine the minimum price on shipments to destinations in delivered price areas wherein the minimum price delivered by truck is the same as the minimum price for delivery by rail):

10507 Stopover, switching and other extra delivery charges:

All stopover charges, switching charges and other extra delivery charges, will be paid by customers: that is to say, in arriving at the minimum price all such charges must be added. Exception: Stop-over charges need not be included on shipments to destinations within any Gypsum Board Del'd Price Area, wherein minimum prices of patented gypsum board products delivered by truck are same as minimum prices for deliveries in carloads by rail.

The above prices apply to the sale of all board embodying the claims of our patents in all markets except where an exception is made as hereinafter expressly stated:

(1) Until further notice the above minimum prices shall not apply to sales of patented metallized gypsum board products for shipment to or delivery in the following area: States of California, Arizona, Nevada, Utah, Idaho, Oregon and Washington, also that portion of State of Montana west of and including Phillips, Petroleum, Musselshell, Yellowstone and Carbon Counties.

†(2) 3/8" Metallized Plaster Lath Exceptions:

The minimum price of 3/8" patented metallized gypsum plaster lath, in straight and pool carloads, or in mixed carloads with other gypsum products is $31.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers warehouse or siding in Palm Beach, Dade, Broward and Monroe Counties, Florida.

(a) The above prices are for Board or Lath with one surface metallized. Add $15.00 per M sq. ft. when furnished with both surfaces metallized.

(#) Where an odd 'rate per ton' is in effect (example: $3.45 per ton) the freight per M sq. ft. shall be figured on basis of rate per cwt. nearest to rate per ton, fractions of less than 1/4¢ per cwt. to be dropped, fractions of 1/4¢ per cwt. to 1/2¢ per cwt. to be considered as 1/2¢. Example: The rate of $3.45 per ton equals 17¼¢ per cwt. For purpose of arriving at delivered price, however, the rate of 17½¢ shall be used.

(*) Prices f.o.b. cars Philadelphia, Pa. apply for shipments into following area only: States of New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware and Virginia; the District of Columbia; that portion of Pennsylvania east of and including Potter, Cameron, Clinton, Center, Mifflin, Juniata, Perry, Franklin and Fulton Counties; also Morgan, Berkeley and Jefferson Counties, West Virginia.

SEPTEMBER 14, 1936.

Carload Shipments—Metallized Board License Bulletin No. 1 (Page 1)—Cancels Page 1 Dated July 23, 1936. This Reissue Cancels all Supplements to Metallized Board License Bulletin No. 1 Dated July 23, 1936.

DEAR SIRS: Referring to our license contract with you, you are hereby notified that effective September 15, 1936, the minimum prices at which you may sell metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard manufactured by you and embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in patents under which you are licensed, including Roos patent number 1,914,345, are as follows:

(See Note 'a')

(a) 3/8" Metallized Plasterboard:

(1) $22.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Oakfield, N. Y., Philadelphia, Pa., New Brighton, S. I., N. Y., Boston, Mass., Gypsum, Ohio, Detroit, Mich., East Chicago, Ind., Grand Rapids, Mich., and Plasterco, Va. for shipments into area east of the Mississippi River, also cities of Duluth, Minneapolis, and St. Paul, Minn. and towns below St. Paul on the west bank of the Mississippi River down to the Arkansas-Tennessee line.

(2) $22.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Southard, Okla., Sweetwater, Texas and Acme, Texas for shipments into States of Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas, Arizona, New Mexico and that portion of Louisiana West of the Mississippi River, also into towns of Kansas City, Dodson and Edgecomb, Missouri.

(3) $25.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Fort Dodge, Iowa for shipments into area west and north of areas as described in paragraphs (1) and (2) above.

(b) The above prices are for Board or Lath with one surface metallized. Add $15.00 per M sq. ft. when furnished with both surfaces metallized.

Where an odd 'rate per ton' is in effect (example: $3.45 per ton) the freight per M sq. ft. shall be figured on basis of rate per cwt. nearest to rate per ton, fractions of less than 1/4¢ per cwt. to be dropped, fractions of 1/4¢ per cwt. to 1/2¢ per cwt. to be considered as 1/2¢. Example: The rate of $3.45 per ton equals 17¼¢ per cwt. For purpose of arriving at delivered price, however, the rate of 17½¢ shall be used.

10544 Emergency Freight Charges:

The minimum delivered prices of patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard are directly affected by the permissive order of the Interstate Commerce Commission authorizing an increase in freight rates. On interstate traffic the freight increase becomes effective on the effective date of the Interstate tariff, and in Intrastate traffic the freight increase is effective when approved by the State Commission.

When emergency freight charges become effective the minimum delivered price of patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard is to be the lowest combination of mill price plus freight, including emergency charge, from that mill to destination, as follows:

Where the minimum delivered price is the result of mill price plus Interstate freight, the increase is to be added on the effective date of the Interstate tariff.

Where the minimum delivered price is the result of mill price plus Intrastate freight, the increase is effective when approved by the State Commission.

The amount of increase in freight to be added to minimum f.o.b. mill prices of patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard shall be as detailed in following schedule:

be combined to make up the required minimum. Exception: Refer to section (c) of paragraph (1) and section (b) of paragraph (2) for minimum prices of 1/2" T&G Sheathing into Queens and Nassau Counties and several towns in Suffolk County, New York, also of 5/16" plasterboard into Mercer County, New Jersey.

Where any licensee or any of its employees, salesmen or executives has knowledge or notice, either directly or indirectly, that orders for less than straight car quantities of patented gypsum board products to be shipped into the above defined areas have been pooled for the purpose of or for effect of obtaining the reduced price for straight cars for each participant in the pool, licensor shall regard such sale as made at a price less than the minimum price fixed by the licensor and a violation of the terms of the license agreement.

(c) In pool cars or mixed cars into the Metro New York-New Jersey Area, the Philadelphia Area and the Boston Area as described above, minimum quantity is 5000 sq. ft. of patented gypsum board and/or lath products consigned to one destination and invoiced to one account. Any mixture of metallized and regular patented board products (including special surfaced gypsum board products) may be combined to make up the required minimum. Exceptions: Refer to section (c) of paragraph (1) and section (b) of paragraph (2) for minimum prices of 1/2" T&G Sheathing into Queens and Nassau Counties and several towns in Suffolk County, New York, also of 5/16" plasterboard into Mercer County, New Jersey.

JULY 23, 1936.

Carload Shipments—Metallized Board License Bulletin No. 1—Cancels Metallized Board License Bulletin No. 1—Dated July 10, 1936.

DEAR SIRS: Referring to our license contract with you, you are hereby notified that effective July 28, 1936, the minimum prices at which you may sell metallized gypsum plasterboard manufactured by you and embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in patents under which you are licensed, including Roos patent number 1,914,345, are as follows:

Patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard products shall be quoted and sold on a delivered basis, f.o.b. cars destination. Delivered price is lowest combination of mill price plus freight, including emergency freight charge (see p ge 2) from that mill to destination (see note # on page 2). In stopover cars delivered price for any part of car is carload delivered price as above defined to point of delivery of that part of car. In every case rates as shown in published railroad freight tariffs apply. To determine board footage required to meet straight or mixed carload minimum weights, as shown in published railroad freight tariffs, use weights per M sq. ft. as shown below:

(a) 3/8" Metallized Plasterboard:

(1) $22.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Oakfield, N. Y., Philadelphia, Pa., New Brighton, S. I., N. Y., Boston, Mass., Gypsum, Ohio, Detroit, Mich., East Chicago, Ind., Grand Rapids, Mich., and Plasterco, Va. for shipments into area east of the Mississippi River, also cities of Duluth, Minneapolis, and St. Paul, Minn., and towns below St. Paul on the west bank of the Mississippi River down to the Arkansas-Tennessee line.

(2) $22.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Southard, Okla., Sweetwater, Texas and Acme, Texas for shipments into States of Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas, Arizona, New Mexico and that portion of Louisiana West of the Mississippi River, also into towns of Kansas City, Dodson and Edgecomb, Missouri.

(3) $25.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Fort Dodge, Iowa for shipments into area west and north of areas as described in paragraphs (1) and (2) above.

(b) The above prices are for Board or Lath with one surface metallized. Add $15.00 per M sq. ft. when furnished with both surfaces metallized.

Where an odd 'rate per ton' is in effect (example: $3.45 per ton) the freight per M sq. ft. shall be figured on basis of rate per cwt, nearest to rate per ton, fractions of less than 1/4¢ per cwt. to be dropped, fractions of 1/4¢ per cwt. to 1/2¢ per cwt. to be considered as 1/2¢. Example: The rate of $3.45 per ton equals 17¼¢ per cwt. For purpose of arriving at delivered price, however, the rate of 17½¢ shall be used.

10559 Emergency Freight Charges: The minimum delivered prices of patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard are directly affected by the permissive order of the Interstate Commerce Commission authorizing an increase in freight rates. On interstate traffic the freight increase becomes effective on the effective date of the Interstate tariff, and in Intrastate traffic the freight increase is effective when approved by the State Commission.

When emergency freight charges become effective the minimum delivered price of patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard is to be the lowest combination of mill price plus freight, including emergency charge, from that mill to destination as follows:

Where the minimum delivered price is the result of mill price plus Interstate freight, the increase is to be added on the effective date of the Interstate tariff.

Where the minimum delivered price is the result of mill price plus Intrastate freight, the increase is effective when approved by the State Commission.

The amount of increase in freight to be added to minimum f.o.b. mill prices of patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard shall be as detailed in following schedule:

Stopover, Switching and Other Extra Delivery Charges:

All stopover charges, switching charges and other extra delivery charges, including full Emergency Increase applicable to such charges, will be paid by customers. Exception: Stopover charges need not be included on shipments into the states of Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Iowa, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Texas, Nebraska, Kentucky, Montana, Colorado and Wyoming; also stopover charges need not be included on shipments to destinations within any Gypsum Board Trucking Area wherein the delivered price in pool or mixed carloads is same as delivered price when delivered by truck.

The above prices apply to the sale of all metallized board embodying the claims of our patents in all markets except where an exception is made as hereinafter expressly stated:

(1) 1/4" Metallized Wallboard Exceptions:

For shipment into states of Florida, New Mexico, Colorado, Montana, and Wyoming, minimum price of 1/4" patented metallized gypsum wallboard is $27.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Plasterco, Virginia; Acme, Texas; Sweetwater, Texas; Southard, Oklahoma and Fort Dodge, Iowa.

(2) 3/8" Metallized Wallboard Exceptions:

(a) For shipment into states of New Mexico, Colorado, Montana, Wyoming, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, and Florida minimum price of 3/8" patented metallized gypsum wallboard is $32.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Acme, Texas; Sweetwater, Texas; Southard, Oklahoma; Fort Dodge, Iowa; Grand Rapids, Michigan; East Chicago, Indiana; Gypsum, Ohio; Plasterco, Virginia; and Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

(b) For shipment into states of Minnesota, Iowa and Missouri, minimum price of 3/8" patented metallized gypsum wallboard is $33.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Fort Dodge, Iowa and Southard, Oklahoma; or $33.50 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. East Chicago, Indiana and Grand Rapids, Michigan.

(3) 1/2" Metallized Wallboard Exceptions:

(a) For shipment into states of New Mexico, Oklahoma, Texas and Arkansas also into Caddo, Bossier, De Soto, Red River, Bienville, Webster and Claiborne Counties, Louisiana, minimum price of 1/2" patented metallized gypsum wallboard is $33.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Acme, Texas; Sweetwater, Texas; Southard, Oklahoma; and Fort Dodge, Iowa.

(b) For shipment into states of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana (except counties listed in (a) above), Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, North Dakota, Colorado, Wyoming, and Montana, minimum price of 1/2" patented metallized gypsum wallboard is $34.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Plasterco, Virginia; Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; Gypsum, Ohio; East Chicago, Indiana; Grand Rapids, Michigan; Fort Dodge, Iowa; Southard, Oklahoma; Sweetwater, Texas and Acme, Texas.

(c) For shipment into states of Minnesota, Iowa and Missouri, minimum price of 1/2" patented metallized gypsum wallboard is $35.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Fort Dodge, Iowa and Southard, Oklahoma; or $36.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. East Chicago, Indiana and Grand Rapids, Michigan.

(4) 1/2" Metallized T&G Sheathing Exceptions:

(a) For shipment into Lake, and McHenry counties, Illinois, also Porter county, Indiana in straight and pool carloads or in mixed carloads with other gypsum products, the minimum price of 1/2" patenfed metallized gypsum sheathing is $24.66 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers' warehouse or siding.

(b) For shipment into Allegheny County (Pittsburgh) Pennsylvania in straight and pool carloads or in mixed carloads with other gypsum products, the minimum price of 1/2" patented metallized gypsum sheathing is $28.42 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers' warehouse or siding.

(c) For shipment into Queens and Nassau counties, New York, also towns of Amityville, Huntington, Northport, Babylon, Lindenhurst, Bayshore and Cold Springs Harbor in Suffolk County, New York, the minimum price of 1/2" patented metallized gypsum sheathing is $26.00 per M sq. ft. for shipment in straight carloads of patented gypsum board products consigned to one destination and invoiced to one account, or $27.00 per M sq. ft. for shipment in pool cars or mixed cars, f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers' warehouse or siding.

10562 (d) For shipment into Erie and Niagara counties, New York, the minimum price of 1/2" patented metallized gypsum sheathing is $22.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Oakfield, New York.

(5) 5/16" Metallized Plasterboard: The Minimum price of 5/16" patented metallized gypsum plasterboard (weight 1175# per M), in straight and pool carloads, or in mixed carloads with other gypsum products, for shipment into following markets only, is as follows:

(a) $22.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers warehouse or siding in the following markets:

—Cuyahoga County (Cleveland) and the towns of Willoughby and Wickliffe, Ohio.
—Dauphin County, Pennsylvania (Harrisburg)
—Franklin County, Massachusetts (Greenfield)

—Henrico County, Virginia (Richmond)
—Kent County, Rhode Island.
—Lancaster County, Pennsylvania (Lancaster)
—Marion County, Indiana (Indianapolis)
—Mercer County, New Jersey (Trenton) See paragraph (7) for minimum quantity required for shipment in pool cars or mixed cars.

—Norfolk County, Virginia (Norfolk)
—Oklahoma County, Oklahoma (Oklahoma City)
—Peoria County, Illinois (Peoria)
—Princess Anne County, Virginia.
—Providence County, Rhode Island (Providence)
—Ramsey County, Minnesota (St. Paul)
—Roanoke County, Virginia (Roanoke)
—Sangamon County, Illinois (Springfield)
—Tulsa County, Oklahoma (Tulsa)

also following towns in Missouri: St. Louis, Ferguson, Kinloch, Overland, Brentwood, Kirkwood, Jennings, Wellston, Clayton, Webster Groves, Maplewood, Gravois Station, Old Orchard and Lake Junction.

(b) $23.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers warehouse or siding in DeKalb and Fulton Counties, Georgia (Atlanta).

(c) $25.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers warehouse or siding in Woodbury County, Iowa (Sioux City); Pottawatomie County, Iowa (Council Bluffs) and Douglas County, Nebraska (Omaha).

10563 (d) $26.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers warehouse or siding in the following markets:

—Buchanan County, Missouri (St. Joseph)
—Cass County, North Dakota (Fargo)
—Greene County, Missouri (Springfield)
—Jasper County, Missouri (Joplin)
—Lancaster County, Nebraska (Lincoln)
—Minnehaha County, South Dakota (Sioux Falls)
—Newton County, Missouri (Joplin)
—Sedgewick County, Kansas (Wichita)

also following towns in Kansas City Area: Kansas City, Dodson and Edgecomb, Missouri; also towns of Rosedale, Waldo, Argentine, Westport, Overland Park and Kansas City, Kansas.

(6) 3/8" Metallized Plasterboard Exceptions:

(a) The minimum price of 3/8" patented metallized gypsum plasterboard, in straight and pool carloads, or in mixed carloads with other gypsum products is $28.87 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers warehouse or siding in Palm Beach, Dade, Broward and Monroe Counties, Florida.

†(7) Delivered Price Areas

Prices of patented metallized gypsum board products, in straight and pool cars or in mixed cars with other gypsum products, f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers warehouse or siding within areas listed below are as follows:

Chicago Area: Cook and Du Page Counties, Illinois, Lake County, Indiana and following towns in Lake County, Illinois: Deerfield, Highland Park and Lake Forest.

†Detroit Area: Wayne County, Michigan; towns of Birmingham, Clawson, Farmington, Ferndale and Royal Oak in Oakland County, Michigan; and towns of Warren, Halfway, Fraser, Roseville, Saint Clair Shores and Centerline in Macomb County, Michigan.

Grand Rapids, Mich. Switching Area: As described in published railroad freight tariffs.

(b) Delivered prices for shipment in straight cars into Metro. New York-New Jersey, Philadelphia and Boston Areas apply on straight carloads of patented gypsum board products consigned to one destination and invoiced to one account. Any mixture of regular patented board products (including special surfaced gypsum board products) and metallized patented board products may be combined to make up the required minimum. Exception: Refer to section (c) of paragraph (4) and section (a) of paragraph (5) for minimum prices of 1/2" T&G Sheathing into Queens and Nassau Counties and several towns in Suffolk County, New York, also of 5/16" plasterboard into Mercer County, New Jersey.

Where any licensee or any of its employees, salesmen or executives has knowledge or notice, either directly or indirectly, that orders for less than straight car quantities of patented gypsum board products to be shipped into the above defined areas have been pooled for the purpose of or for effect of obtaining the reduced price for straight cars for each participant in the pool, licensor shall regard such sale as made at a price less than the minimum price fixed by the licensor and a violation of the terms of the license agreement.

(c) In pool cars or mixed cars into the Metro New York-New Jersey Area, the Philadelphia Area and the Boston Area as described above, minimum quantity is 5000 sq. ft. of patented gypsum board and/or lath products consigned to one destination and invoiced to one account. Any mixture of metallized and regular patented board products (including special surfaced gypsum board products) may be combined to make up the required minimum. Exceptions: Refer to section (c) of paragraph (4) and section (a) of paragraph (5) for minimum prices of 1/2" T&G Sheathing into Queens and Nassau Counties and several towns in Suffolk County, New York, also of 5/16" plasterboard into Mercer County, New Jersey.

Carload Shipments—Metallized Board License Bulletin No. 1—Cancels Metallized Board License Bulletin No. 1—Dated June 25, 1936

DEAR SIRS: Referring to our license contract with you, you are hereby notified that effective July 13, 1936, the minimum prices at which you may sell metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard manufactured by you and embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in patents under which you are licensed, including Roos patent number 1,914,345, are as follows:

Patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard products shall be quoted and sold on a delivered basis, f.o.b. cars destination. Delivered price is lowest combination of mill price plus freight, including emergency freight charge (see page 2) from that mill to destination (see note # on page 2). In stopover cars delivered price for any part of car is carload delivered price as above defined to point of delivery of that part of car. In every case rates as shown in published railroad freight tariffs apply. To determine board footage required to meet straight or mixed carload minimum weights, as shown in published railroad freight tariffs, use weights per M sq. ft. as shown below:

10568 Emergency Freight Charges: The minimum delivered prices of patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard are directly affected by the permissive order of the Interstate Commerce Commission authorizing an increase in freight rates. On interstate traffic the freight increase becomes effective on the effective date of the Interstate tariff, and in Intrastate traffic the freight increase is effective when approved by the State Commission.

When emergency freight charges become effective the minimum delivered price of patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard is to be the lowest combination of mill price plus freight, including emergency charge, from that mill to destination as follows:

Where the minimum delivered price is the result of mill price plus Interstate freight, the increase is to be added on the effective date of the Interstate tariff.

Where the minimum delivered price is the result of mill price plus Intrastate freight, the increase is effective when approved by the State Commission.

The amount of increase in freight to be added to minimum f.o.b. mill prices of patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard shall be as detailed in following schedule:

(Reference notes from preceding page)

(a) 3/8" Metallized Plasterboard:

(1) $22.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Oakfield, N. Y., Philadelphia, Pa., New Brighton, S. I., N. Y. Boston, Mass., Gypsum, Ohio, Detroit, Mich., East Chicago, Ind., Grand Rapids, Mich., and Plasterco, Va. for shipments into area east of the Mississippi River, also cities of Duluth, Minneapolis, and St. Paul, Minn., and towns below St. Paul on the west bank of the Mississippi River down to the Arkansas-Tennessee line.

†(2) $22.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Southard, Okla., Sweetwater, Texas and Acme, Texas for shipments into States of Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas, Arizona, New Mexico and that portion of Louisiana West of the Mississippi River, also into towns of Kansas City, Dodson and Edgecomb Missouri.

(3) $25.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Fort Dodge, Iowa for shipments into area west and north of areas as described in paragraphs (1) and (2) above.

(b) The above prices are for Board or Lath with one surfated metallized. Add $15.00 per M sq. ft. when furnished with both surfaced metallized.

Where an odd 'rate per ton' is in effect (example: $3.45 per ton) the freight per M sq. ft. shall be figured on basis of rate per cwt, nearest to rate per ton, fractions of less than 1/4¢ per cwt. to be dropped, fractions of 1/4¢ per cwt. to 1/2¢ per cwt. to be considered as 1/2¢. Example: The rate of $3.45 per ton equals 17¼¢ per cwt. For purpose of arriving at delivered price, however, the rate of 17½¢ shall be used.

10569 Opposite old rate, using the table below, is the proper new pricing rate, including emergency freight charge, in cents per 100 pounds.

Stopover, Switching and Other Extra Delivery Charges:

All stopover charges, switching charges and other extra delivery charges, including full Emergency Increase applicable to such charges, will be paid by customers. Exception: Stopover charges need not be included on shipments into the states of Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Iowa, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Texas, Nebraska, Kentucky, Montana, Colorado and Wyoming; also stopover charges need not be included on shipments to destinations within any Gypsum Board Trucking Area wherein the delivered price in pool or mixed carloads is same as delivered price when delivered by truck.

The above prices apply to the sale of all metallized board embodying the claims of our patents in all markets except where an exception is made as hereinafter expressly stated:

(1) 1/4" Metallized Wallboard Exceptions:

For shipment into states of Florida, New Mexico, Colorado, Montana, and Wyoming, minimum price of 1/4" patented metallized gypsum wallboard is $27.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Plasterco, Virginia; Acme, Texas; Sweetwater, Texas; Southard, Oklahoma and Fort Dodge, Iowa.

(2) 3/8" Metallized Wallboard Exceptions:

(a) For shipment into states of New Mexico, Colorado, Montana, Wyoming, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, South Caro-10570 lina, North Carolina, and Florida minimum price of 3/8" patented metallized gypsum wallboard is $32.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Acme, Texas; Sweetwater, Texas; Southard, Oklahoma; Fort Dodge, Iowa; Grand Rapids, Michigan; East Chicago, Indiana; Gypsum, Ohio; Plasterco, Virginia; and Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

(b) For shipment into states of Minnesota, Iowa and Missouri, minimum price of 3/8" patented metallized gypsum wallboard is $33.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Fort Dodge, Iowa and Southard, Oklahoma; or $33.50 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. East Chicago, Indiana and Grand Rapids, Michigan.

(3) 1/2" Metallized Wallboard Exceptions:

(a) For shipment into states of New Mexico, Oklahoma, Texas and Arkansas also into Caddo, Bossier, De Soto, Red River, Bienville, Webster and Claiborne Counties, Louisiana, minimum price of 1/2" patented metallized gypsum wallboard is $33.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Acme, Texas; Sweetwater, Texas; Southard, Oklahoma; and Fort Dodge, Iowa.

(b) For shipment into states of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisana (except counties listed in (a) above), Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, North Dakota, Colorado, Wyoming, and Montana, minimum price of 1/2" patented metallized gypsum wallboard is $34.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Plasterco, Virginia; Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; Gypsum, Ohio; East Chicago, Indiana; Grand Rapids, Michigan;

Fort Dodge, Iowa; Southard, Oklahoma; Sweetwater, Texas and Acme, Texas.

†(c) For shipment into states of Minnesota, Iowa and Missouri, minimum price of 1/2″ patented metallized gypsum wallboard is $35.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Fort Dodge, Iowa and Southard, Oklahoma; or $36.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. East Chicago, Indiana and Grand Rapids, Michigan.

(4) 1/2″ Metallized T&G Sheathing Exceptions:

(a) For shipment into Cook, Lake, Du Page and McHenry counties, Illinois, also Lake and Porter counties, Indiana in straight and pool carloads or in mixed carloads with other gypsum products, the minimum price of 1/2″ patented metallized gypsum sheathing is $24.66 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers' warehouse or siding.

(b) For shipment into Allegheny County (Pittsburgh) Pennsylvania in straight and pool carloads or in mixed carloads with other gypsum products, the minimum price of 1/2″ patented metallized gypsum sheathing is $28.42 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers' warehouse or siding.

(c) For shipment into Wayne County, Michigan, towns of Birmingham, Clawson, Farmington, Ferndale and Royal Oak in Oakland County, Michigan; also towns of Warren, Halfway, Fraser, Roseville and Centerline in Macomb County, Michigan, in straight and pool carloads or 10571 in mixed carloads with other gypsum products, the minimum price of 1/2″ patented metallized gypsum sheathing is $27.47 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers' warehouse or siding.

(6) 3/8" Metallized Plasterboard Exceptions:

(a) The minimum price of 3/8" patented metallized gypsum plasterboard, in straight and pool carloads, or in mixed carloads with other gypsum products is $22.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers warehouse or siding in (Detroit Area) Wayne County, Michigan; towns of Birmingham, Clawson, Farmington, Ferndale and Royal Oak in Oakland County, Michigan; also towns of Warren, Halfway, Fraser, Roseville and Centerline in Macomb County, Michigan.

(b) The minimum price of 3/8" patented metallized gypsum plasterboard, in straight and pool carloads, or in mixed carloads with other gypsum products is $28.87 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers warehouse or siding in Palm Beach, Dade, Broward and Monroe Counties, Florida.

10573 (7) In straight carloads of patented gypsum board and/or lath products consigned to one destination and invoiced to one account, minimum prices of patented metallized gypsum board products f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers warehouse or siding within the Metro New York-New Jersey, Philadelphia and Boston areas (as described below) shall be same as prices applying f.o.b. cars New Brighton, Philadelphia or Boston mills. This applies into areas as follows:

Metro New York-New Jersey Area: Manhattan, Bronx, Kings, Queens, Richmond, Westchester, Rockland, Nassau and Suffolk Counties, N. Y., also Hudson, Essex, Union, Bergen, Passaic, Morris, Middlesex, Mercer, Somerset, Monmouth, Hunterdon, Warren, Sussex and Ocean Counties, New Jersey. Exception: Refer to section (e) of paragraph (4) and section (a) of paragraph (5) for minimum prices of 1/2" Metallized T&G Sheathing into Queens and Nassau Counties and several towns in Suffolk County, New York, also of 5/16" metallized plasterboard into Mercer County, New Jersey.

Philadelphia Area: Bucks, Montgomery, Chester, Delaware and Philadelphia Counties, Pennsylvania and Camden County, New Jersey.

Boston Area: Essex, Middlesex, Suffolk and Norfolk counties, Mass., the town of Mansfield, Mass., that portion of Plymouth County lying north of the continuation of the southern boundary of Norfolk County, Mass.; Rockingham and Strafford Counties, New Hampshire; York and Cumberland Counties, Maine.

Where any licensee or any of its employees, salesmen or executives has knowledge or notice, either directly or indirectly, that orders for less than straight car quantities of patented gypsum board products to be shipped into the above defined areas have been pooled for the purpose of or for effect of obtaining the reduced price for straight cars for each participant in the pool, licensor shall regard such sale as made at a price less than the minimum price fixed by the licensor and a violation of the terms of the license agreement.

(8) For minimum prices of patented metallized gypsum board products, in pool cars or in mixed cars with other gypsum products, f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers warehouse or siding within the Metro New York-New Jersey, Philadelphia and Boston Areas as described in paragraph (7) above, add $1.00 per M sq. ft. to prices applying f.o.b. cars New Brighton, Philadelphia and Boston Mills. Exceptions: Refer to section (e) of paragraph (4) and section (a) of paragraph (5) for minimum prices of 1/2" metallized T&G Sheathing into Queens and Nassau Counties and several towns in Suffolk County, New York, also of 5/16" metallized plasterboard into Mercer County, New Jersey.

On pool cars or mixed cars into the Metro New York-New Jersey Area, the Philadelphia Area and the Boston Area as described in paragraph (7) above, minimum quantity is 5000 sq. ft. of patented gypsum board and/or lath products consigned to one destination and invoiced to one account. Note: Any mixture of metallized and regular patented board products (including special surfaced gypsum board products) may be combined to make up the required minimums.

10574 (9) Grand Rapids Switching District. For minimum prices of patented metallized gypsum board products, in straight and pool cars, or in mixed cars with other gypsum products, f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers warehouse or siding within the Grand Rapids, Michigan Switching District, add $1.00 per M sq. ft. to prices applying f.o.b. cars, Grand Rapids Mill.

(10) Chicago Area. For minimum prices of patented metallized gypsum board products, in straight and pool cars, or in mixed cars with other gypsum products (either 40,000# or 60,000# cars) f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers warehouse or siding within the Chicago Area, add 50¢ per M sq. ft. to prices applying f.o.b. cars, East Chicago Mill. This applies into Cook and Du Page Counties, Illinois, Lake County, Indiana and following towns in Lake County, Illinois: Deerfield, Highland Park and Lake Forest. Exception: Minimum price of 1/2" metallized gypsum sheathing for shipment into the Chicago Area as described above is $24.66 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers warehouse or siding.

(11) Detroit Area. For minimum prices of patented metallized gypsum board products, in straight and pool cars or in mixed cars with other gypsum products, f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers warehouse or siding within the Detroit Area, add 60¢ per M sq. ft. to prices applying f.o.b. cars, Detroit Mill. This applies into Wayne County, Michigan; towns of Birmingham, Clawson, Farmington, Ferndale and Royal Oak in Oakland County, Michigan; and towns of Warren, Halfway, Fraser, Roseville and Centerline in Macomb County, Michigan. Exception: Minimum price of 3/8" patented metallized gypsum plasterboard is $22.00 per M sq. ft. and minimum price of 1/2" metallized gypsum sheathing is $27.47 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers warehouse or siding within the Detroit Area as described above.

Carload Shipments—Metallized Board License Bulletin No. 1—Cancels Metallized Board License Bulletin No. 1—Dated June 2, 1936 and Supplements Thereto Dated June 23, 1936.

DEAR SIRS: Referring to our license contract with you, you are hereby notified that effective immediately the minimum prices at which you may sell metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard manufactured by you and embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in patents under which you are licensed, including Roos patent number 1,914,345, are as follows:

(See Note 'a')

(a) 3/8" Metallized Plasterboard:

(1) $22.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Oakfield, N. Y., Philadelphia, Pa., New Brighton, S. I., N. Y., Boston, Mass., Gypsum, Ohio, Detroit, Mich., East Chicago, Ind., Grand Rapids, Mich., and Plasterco, Va. for shipments into area east of the Mississippi River, also cities of Duluth, Minneapolis, and St. Paul, Minn., and towns below St. Paul on the west bank of the Mississippi River down to the Arkansas-Tennessee line.

†(2) $22.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Southard, Okla., Sweetwater, Texas and Acme, Texas for shipments into States of Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas, Arizona, New Mexico and that portion of Louisiana West of the Mississippi River, also into towns of Kansas City, Dodson and Edgecomb, Missouri.

(3) $25.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Fort Dodge, Iowa for shipments into area west and north of areas described in paragraphs (1) and (2) above.

(b) The above prices are for Board or Lath with one surfaced metallized. Add $15.00 per M sq. ft. when furnished with both surfaces metallized.

Where an odd 'rate per ton' is in effect (example: $3.45 per ton) the freight per M sq. ft. shall be figured on basis of rate per cwt, nearest to rate per ton, fractions of less than 1/4¢ per cwt. to be dropped, fractions of 1/4¢ per cwt. to 1/2¢ per cwt. to be considered as 1/2¢. Example: The rate of $3.45 per ton equals 17¼¢ per cwt. For purpose of arriving at delivered price, however, the rate of 17½¢ shall be used.

10578 Emergency Freight Charges:

The minimum delivered prices of patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard are directly affected by the permissive order of the Interstate Commerce Commission authorizing an increase in freight rates. On interstate traffic the freight increase becomes effective on the effective date of the Interstate tariff, and in Intrastate traffic the freight increase is effective when approved by the State Commission.

When emergency freight charges become effective the minimum delivered price of patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard is to be the lowest combination of mill price plus freight, including emergency charge, from that mill to destination, as follows:

Where the minimum delivered price is the result of mill price plus Interstate freight, the increase is to be added on the effective date of the Interstate tariff.

Where the minimum delivered price is the result of mill price plus Intrastate freight, the increase is effective when approved by the State Commission.

The amount of increase in freight to be added to minimum f.o.b. mill prices of patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard shall be as detailed in following schedule:

10579 Opposite old rate, using the table below, is the proper new pricing rate, including emergency freight charge, in cents per 100 pounds.

Carload Shipments—Metallized Board License Bulletin No. 1 (Page 1)—Cancels Page 1—Dated May 26, 1936.

DEAR SIRS: Referring to our license contract with you, you are hereby notified that effective June 4, 1936 the minimum prices at which you may sell metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard manufactured by you and embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in patents under which you are licensed, including Roos patent number 1,914,345, are as follows:

Patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard products shall be quoted and sold on a delivered basis, f.o.b. cars destination. Delivered price is lowest combination of mill price plus freight, including emergency freight charge (see page 2) from that mill to destination (see note # on page 2). In stopover cars delivered price for any part of car is carload delivered price as above defined to point of delivery of that part of car. In every case rates as shown in published railroad freight tariffs apply. To determine board footage required to meet straight or mixed carload minimum weights, as shown in published railroad freight tariffs, use weights per M sq. ft. as shown below:

10587 · Emergency Freight Charges:

The minimum delivered prices of patented metallized wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard are directly affected by the permissive order of the Interstate Commerce Commission authorizing an increase in freight rates. On interstate traffic the freight increase becomes effective on the effective date of the Interstate tariff, and in Intrastate traffic the freight increase is effective when approved by the State Commission.

When emergency freight charges become effective the minimum delivered price of patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard is to be the lowest combination of mill price plus freight, including emergency charge, from that mill to destination, as follows:

Where the minimum delivered price is the result of mill price plus Interstate freight, the increase is to be added on the effective date of the Interstate tariff.

Where the minimum delivered price is the result of mill price plus Intrastate freight, the increase is effective when approved by the State Commission.

The amount of increase in freight to be added to minimum f.o.b. mill prices of patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard shall be as detailed in following schedule:

(Reference notes from preceding page)

(a) 3/8" Metallized Plasterboard:

(1) $22.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Oakfield, N. Y., Philadelphia, Pa., New Brighton, S. I., N. Y., Boston, Mass., Gypsum, Ohio, Detroit, Mich., East Chicago, Ind., Grand Rapids, Mich., and Plastereo, Va. for shipments into area east of the Mississippi River, also cities of Duluth, Minneapolis, and St. Paul, Minn., and towns below St. Paul on the west bank of the Mississippi River down to the Arkansas-Tennessee line.

(2) $22.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Southard, Okla., Sweetwater, Texas and Acme, Texas for shipments into states of Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas, Arizona, New Mexico and that portion of Louisiana West of the Mississippi River.

(3) $25.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Fort Dodge, Iowa for shipments into area west and north of areas as described in paragraphs (1) and (2) above.

(b) The above prices are for Board or Lath with one surfaced metallized. Add $15.00 per M sq. ft. when furnished with both surfaces metallized.

Where an odd 'rate per ton' is in effect (example: $3.45 per ton) the freight per M sq. ft. shall be figured on basis of rate per cwt. nearest to rate per ton, fractions of less than ¼¢ per cwt. to be dropped, fractions of ¼¢ per cwt. to ½¢ per cwt. to be considered as ½¢. Example: The rate of $3.45 per ton equals 17¼¢ per cwt. For purpose of arriving at delivered price, however, the rate of 17½¢ shall be used.

Opposite old rate, using the table below, is the proper new pricing rate, including emergency freight charge, in cents per 100 pounds.

10595 Emergency Freight Charges: The minimum delivered prices of patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard are directly affected by the permissive order of the Interstate Commerce Comission authorizing an increase in freight rates. On Interstate traffic the freight increase becomes effective on the effective date of the Interstate tariff, and in Intrastate traffic the freight increase is effective when approved by the State Commission.

When emergency freight charges become effective the minimum delivered price of patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard is to be the lowest combination of mill price plus freight, including emergency charge, from that mill to destination, as follows:

Where the minimum delivered price is the result of mill price plus Interstate freight, the increase is to be added on the effective date of the Interstate tariff.

Where the minimum delivered price is the result of mill price plus Intrastate freight, the increase is effective when approved by the State Commission.

10603 Emergency Freight Charges

The minimum delivered prices of patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard are directly affected by the permissive order of the Interstate Commerce Commission authorizing an increase in freight rates. On Interstate traffic the freight increase becomes effective on the effective date of the Interstate tariff, and in Intrastate traffic the freight increase is effective when approved by the State Commission.

When emergency freight charges become effective the minimum delivered price of patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard is to be the lowest combination of mill price plus freight, including emergency charge, from that mill to destination, as follows:

Where the minimum delivered price is the result of mill price plus Interstate freight, the increase is to be added on the effective date of the Interstate tariff.

Where the minimum delivered price is the result of mill price plus Intrastate freight, the increase is effective when approved by the State Commission.

The amount of increase in freight to be added to minimum f.o.b. mill prices of patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard shall be as detailed in following schedule:

10604 Stopover, Switching and Other Extra Delivery Charges:

All stopover charges, switching charges and other extra delivery charges, including full Emergency Increase applicable to such charges, will be paid by customers. Exception: Stopover charges need not be included on shipments into the states of Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Iowa, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Texas, Nebraska, Kentucky, Montana, Colorado and Wyoming

The above prices apply to the sale of all metallized board embodying the claims of our patents in all markets except where an exception is made as hereinafter expressly stated:

(1) In the states of Illinois and Wisconsin, to all destinations where a 60,000 lb. minimum (from Fort Dodge or Grand Rapids) is in effect, delivered prices of patented metallized board and/or lath, in pool cars, stopover cars, straight cars or mixed cars with other gypsum products, will be mill base price plus 60,000 lb. rate, regardless of minimum shipped. Rate applying to 80,000 lbs. minimum out of Fort Dodge or Grand Rapids into these states will be used in pricing patented metallized board and/or lath in carloads or pool cars consigned to a single destination only, with the exception that shipments to the City of Superior, Wisconsin may be priced on the 80,000 lb. rate when included in 80,000 lb. stopover cars with shipments for the Twin Cities, Duluth and Steelton, Minnesota.

(2) 3/8" Metallized Wallboard Exceptions:

(a) For shipment into States of New Mexico and Texas, also into City of Texarkana, Arkansas, also into Caddo, Bossier, De Soto, Red River, Bienville, Webster and Claiborne Counties, Louisiana, minimum price of 3/8" patented metallized gypsum wallboard is $30.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Acme, Texas; Sweetwater, Texas; and Southard, Oklahoma.

(b) For shipment into states of Oklahoma, Arkansas (except City of Texarkana—see above), Louisiana (except counties as listed above), Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina and Florida, also into Hamilton County only in State of Tennessee minimum price of 3/8" patented metallized gypsum wallboard is $32.50 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Acme, Texas; Sweetwater, Texas; Southard, Oklahoma, Fort Dodge, Iowa; Grand Rapids, Michigan; and Plasterco, Virginia.

(3) 1/2" Metallized Wallboard Exceptions:

(a) For shipment into states of New Mexico, Texas and Arkansas, also into Caddo, Bossier, De Soto, Red River, Bienville, Webster and Claiborne Counties, Louisiana, minimum price of 1/2" patented metallized gypsum wallboard is $31.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Acme, Texas; Sweetwater, Texas; Southard, Okla.; and Fort Dodge, Iowa.

(c) For shipment into states of Oklahoma, Louisiana (except counties as listed above), Arizona, Kansas, and Nebraska, minimum price of 1/2" patented metallized gypsum wallboard is $34.50 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Acme, Texas; Sweetwater, Texas; Southard, Oklahoma; and Fort Dodge, Iowa.

10605 (4) 5/16" Metallized Plasterboard. The minimum price of 5/16" patented metallized gypsum plasterboard (weight 1175# per M), in straight and pool carloads, or in mixed carloads with other gypsum products, for shipment into following markets only, is as follows:

†(a) $22.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers warehouse or siding in the following markets:

—Cuyahoga County (Cleveland) and towns of Willoughby and Wickliffe, Ohio.
—Hampden County, Massachusetts (Springfield).
—Hanover County, Virginia.
—Hartford County, Connecticut (Hartford).
†—Hennepin County, Minnesota (Minneapolis).
—Henrico County, Virginia (Richmond).
—Lancaster County, Pennsylvania (Lancaster).
—Marion County, Indiana (Indianapolis).
—Mercer County, New Jersey (Trenton). See paragraph (7) for minimum quantity required for shipment in pool cars or mixed cars into Mercer County, New Jersey.
—Norfolk County, Virginia (Norfolk).
†—Peoria County, Illinois (Peoria).
—Princess Anne County, Virginia.
—Providence County, Rhode Island (Providence).
†—Ramsey County, Minnesota (St. Paul).
—Roanoke County, Virginia (Roanoke).
—Sangamon County, Illinois (Springfield).

also following towns in Missouri: St. Louis, Ferguson, Kinloch, Overland, Brentwood, Kirkwood, Jennings, Wellston, Clayton, Webster Groves, Maplewood, Gravois Station, Old Orchard and Lake Junction.

†(b) $25.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers warehouse or siding in Woodbury County, Iowa (Sioux City); Pottawatomie County, Iowa (Council Bluffs) and Douglas County, Nebraska (Omaha).

†(c) $26.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers warehouse or siding in the following markets:
—Buchanan County, Missouri (St. Joseph).
†—Cass County, North Dakota (Fargo).
†—Greene County, Missouri (Springfield).
†—Jasper County, Missouri (Joplin).
—Lancaster County, Nebraska (Lincoln).
†—Minnehaha County, South Dakota (Sioux Falls)
†—Newton County, Missouri (Joplin).
—Sedgewick County, Kansas (Wichita).

also following towns in Kansas City Area: Kansas City, Dodson and Edgecomb, Missouri; also towns of Rosedale, Waldo, Argentine, Westport, Overland Park and Kansas City, Kansas.

(d) $30.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers warehouse or siding in Oklahoma County, Oklahoma (Oklahoma City) and Tulsa County, Oklahoma (Tulsa).

10606 (5) 3/8" Metallized Plasterboard. The minimum price of 3/8" patented metallized gypsum plasterboard, in straight and pool carloads, or in mixed carloads with other gypsum products is $22.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers warehouse or siding in (Detroit Area) Wayne County, Michigan; towns of Birmingham, Clawson, Farmington, Ferndale and Royal Oak in Oakland County, Michigan; also towns of Warren, Halfway, Fraser, Roseville and Centerline in Macomb County, Michigan.

(6) In straight carloads of patented gypsum board and/or lath products, (except 5/16" thickness plasterboard—see par. 4), consigned to one destination and invoiced to one account, deduct $2.00 per M sq. ft. from f.o.b. Oakfield prices for shipment by rail to dealers warehouse or nearest siding in Metropolitan New York-New Jersey Area as follows: Manhattan, Bronx, Kings, Queens, Richmond, Westchester, Rockland, Nassau and Suffolk Counties, New York, Hudson, Essex, Union, Bergen, Passaic, Morris, Middlesex, Mercer, Somerset, Monmouth, Hunterdon, Warren, Sussex, and Ocean Counties, New Jersey; also in Philadelphia Area as follows: Bucks, Montgomery, Chester, Delaware and Philadelphia Counties, Pennsylvania and Camden County, New Jersey.

Where any licensee or any of its employees, salesmen or executives has knowledge or notice, either directly or indirectly, that orders for less than straight car quantities of patented gypsum board products to be shipped into the above defined areas have been pooled for the purpose of or for effect of obtaining the reduced price for straight cars for each participant in the pool, licensor shall regard such sale as made at a price less than the minimum price fixed by the licensor and a violation of the terms of the license agreement.

(7) On pool cars or mixed cars into the Metropolitan New York-New Jersey Area and the Philadelphia Area as described in paragraph (6) above, minimum quantity is 5000 sq. ft. of patented gypsum board and/or lath products consigned to one destination and invoiced to one account. Note: Any mixture of metallized and regular patented board products (including special surfaced gypsum board products) may be combined to make up the required minimums.

(8) Straight or mixed cars board f.o.b. dealers siding in switching limits of Grand Rapids, Michigan, add $1.00 per M sq. ft. to prices applying f.o.b. cars, Grand Rapids Mill.

Carload Shipments—Metallized Board License Bulletin No. 1 (Page 1)—Cancels Page 1 Dated February 24, 1936

DEAR SIRS: Referring to our license contract with you, you are hereby notified that effective March 20, 1936 the minimum prices at which you may sell metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard manufactured by you and embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in patents under which you are licensed, including Roos patent number 1,914,345, are as follows:

Patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard products shall be quoted and sold on a delivered basis, f.o.b. cars destination. Delivered price is lowest combination of mill price plus freight, including emergency freight charge (see page 2) from that mill to destination. In stop-over cars delivered price for any part of car is carload delivered price as above defined to point of delivery of that part of car. In every case rates as shown in published railroad freight tariffs apply. To determine board footage required to meet straight or mixed carload minimum weights, as shown in published railroad freight tariffs, use weights per M sq. ft. as shown below:

(a) 3/8" Metallized Plasterboard:

(1) $22.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Oakfield, N. Y., Gypsum, Ohio, Detroit, Mich., Grand Rapids, Mich., and Plasterco, Va. for shipments into area East of the Mississippi River, also city of Minneapolis, Minn. and towns below Minneapolis on the west bank of the Mississippi River down to the Arkansas-Tennessee line.

The minimum delivered prices of patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard are directly affected by the permissive order of the Interstate Commerce Commission authorizing an increase in freight rates. On Interstate traffic the freight increase becomes effective on the effective date of the Interstate tariff, and in Intrastate traffic the freight increase is effective when approved by the State Commission.

When emergency freight charges become effective the minimum delivered price of patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard is to be the lowest combination of mill price plus freight, including emergency charge, from that mill to destination, as follows:

Where the minimum delivered price is the result of mill price plus Interstate freight, the increase is to be added on the effective date of the Interstate tariff.

Where the minimum delivered price is the result of mill price plus Intrastate freight, the increase is effective when approved by the State Commission.

The amount of increase in freight to be added to minimum f.o.b. mill prices of patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard shall be as detailed in following schedule:

Opposite old rate, using the table below, is the proper new pricing rate, including emergency freight charge, in cents per 100 pounds:

(2) $30.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Southard, Okla., Sweetwater, Texas and Acme, Tex. for shipments into states of Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas, Arizona, New Mexico and that portion of Louisiana west of the Mississippi River.

(3) $25.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Fort Dodge, Iowa for shipments into area west and north of areas as described in paragraphs (1) and (2) above.

(b) The above prices are for Board or Lath with one surface metallized. Add $15.00 per M sq. ft. when furnished with both surfaces metallized.

10611 Stopover, Switching and Other Extra Delivery Charges:

All stopover charges, switching charges and other extra delivery charges, including full Emergency Increase applicable to such charges, will be paid by customers. Exception: Stopover charges need not be included on shipments into the states of Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Iowa, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Texas, Nebraska, Kentucky, Montana, Colorado and Wyoming.

The above prices apply to the sale of all metallized board embodying the claims of our patents in all markets except where an exception is made as hereinafter expressly stated:

(1) In the states of Illinois and Wisconsin, to all destinations where a 60,000 lb. minimum (from Fort Dodge or Grand Rapids) is in effect, delivered prices of patented metallized board and/or lath, in pool cars, stopover cars, straight cars or mixed cars with other gypsum products, will be mill base price plus 60,000 lb. rate, regardless of minimum shipped. Rate applying to 80,000 lbs. minimum out of Fort Dodge or Grand Rapids into these states will be used in pricing patented metallized board and/or lath in carloads or pool cars consigned to a single destination only, with the exception that shipments to the City of Superior, Wisconsin may be priced on the 80,000 lb. rate when included in 80,000 lb. stopover cars with shipments for the Twin Cities, Duluth and Steelton, Minnesota.

(2) 3/8" Metallized Wallboard Exceptions:

(a) For shipment into States of New Mexico and Texas, also into City of Texarkana, Arkansas, also into Caddo, Bossier, De Soto, Red River, Bienville, Webster and Claiborne Counties, Louisiana, minimum price of 3/8" patented metallized gypsum wallboard is $30.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Acme, Texas; Sweetwater, Texas; and Southard, Oklahoma.

(b) For shipment into states of Oklahoma, Arkansas (except City of Texarkana—see above), Louisiana (except counties as listed above), Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina and Florida, also into Hamilton County only in State of Tennessee minimum price of 3/8" patented metallized gypsum wallboard is $32.50 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Acme, Texas; Sweetwater, Texas; Southard, Oklahoma, Fort Dodge, Iowa; Grand Rapids, Michigan; and Plasterco, Virginia.

(3) 1/2" Metallized Wallboard Exceptions:

(a) For shipment into states of New Mexico, Texas and Arkansas, also into Caddo, Bossier, De Soto, Red River, Bienville, Webster and Clairborne Counties, Louisiana, minimum price of 1/2" patented metallized gypsum wallboard is $31.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Acme, Texas; Sweetwater, Texas; Southard, Okla.; and Fort Dodge, Iowa.

(c) For shipment into states of Oklahoma, Louisiana (except counties as listed above), Arizona, Kansas, and Nebraska, minimum price of 1/2" patented metallized gypsum wallboard is $34.50 per M sq. ft. f.o b. Acme, Texas; Sweetwater, Texas; Southard, Oklahoma; and Fort Dodge, Iowa.

10612 "(4) 5/16" Metallized Plasterboard. The minimum price of 5/16" patented metallized gypsum plasterboard (weight 1175# per M), in straight and pool carloads, or in mixed carloads with other gypsum products, for shipment into following markets only, is as follows:

—$22.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers warehouse or siding in Marion County, Indiana (Indianapolis); Sangamon County, Illinois (Springfield); Henrico County, Virginia (Richmond); Norfolk County, Virginia (Norfolk); Roanoke County, Virginia (Roanoke); Hartford County, Connecticut (Hartford); Hampden County, Massachusetts (Springfield); Providence County, Rhode Island (Providence); Mercer County, New Jersey (Trenton); Lancaster County, Pennsylvania (Lancaster); Cuyahoga County, Ohio (Cleveland) and towns of Willoughby and Wickliffe, Ohio; also following towns in Missouri: St. Louis, Ferguson, Kinloch, Overland, Brentwood, Kirkwood, Jennings, Wellston, Clayton, Webster Groves, Maplewood, Gravois Station, Old Orchard and Lake Junction. "Metallized" Board License Bulletin No. 1—Carload Shipments—Cancels "Metallized Board License Bulletin No. 1 Dated December 31, 1934 and All Supplements Thereto

DEAR SIRS: Referring to our license contract with you, you are hereby notified that effective February 26, 1936 the minimum prices at which you may sell metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard manufactured by you and embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claim in patents under which you are licensed, including Roos patent number 1,914,345, are as follows:

Patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard products shall be quoted and sold on a delivered basis, f.o.b. cars destination. Delivered price is lowest combination of mill price plus freight, including emergency freight charge (see page 2) from that mill to destination. In stop-over cars delivered price for any part of car is carload delivered price as above defined to point of delivery of that part of car. In every case rates as shown in published railroad freight tariffs apply. To determine board footage required to meet straight or mixed carload minimum weights, as shown in published railroad freight tariffs, use weights per M sq. ft. as shown below:

10617 Emergency Freight Charges:

The minimum delivered prices of patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard are directly affected by the permissive order of the Interstate Commerce Commission authorizing an increase in freight rates. On Interstate traffic the freight increase becomes effective on the effective date of the Interstate tariff, and in Intrastate traffic the freight increase is effective when approved by the State Commission.

When emergency freight charges become effective the minimum delivered price of patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard is to be the lowest combination of mill price plus freight, including emergency charge, from that mill to destination, as follows:

Where the minimum delivered price is the result of mill price plus Interstate freight, the increase is to be added on the effective date of the Interstate tariff.

Where the minimum delivered price is the result of mill price plus Intrastate freight, the increase is effective when approved by the State Commission.

The amount of increase in freight to be added to minimum f.o.b. mill prices of patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard shall be as detailed in following schedule:

Opposite old rate using the table below, is the proper new pricing rate including emergency freight charge, in cents per 100 pounds:

All stopover charges, switching charges and other extra delivery charges, including full Emergency Increase applicable to such charges, will be paid by customers. Exception: Stopover charges need not be included on shipments into the states of Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Iowa, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Texas, Nebraska, Kentucky, Montana, Colorado and Wyoming.

The above prices apply to the sale of all metallized board embodying the claims of our patents in all markets except where an exception is made as hereinafter expressly stated:

(1) In the states of Illinois and Wisconsin, to all destinations where a 60,000 lb. minimum (from Fort Dodge or Grand Rapids, is in effect, delivered prices of patented metallized board and/or lath, in pool cars, stopover cars, straight cars or mixed cars with other gypsum products, will be mill base price plus 60,000 lb. rate, regardless of minimum shipped. Rate applying to 80,000 lbs. minimum out of Fort Dodge or Grand Rapids into these states will be used in pricing patented metallized board and/or lath in carloads or pool cars consigned to a single destination only, with the exception that shipments to the City of Superior, Wisconsin may be priced on the 80,000 lb. rate when included in 80,000 lb. stopover cars with shipments for the Twin Cities, Duluth and Steelton, Minnesota.

(2) 3/8" Metallized Wallboard Exceptions:

(a) For shipment into States of New Mexico and Texas, also into City of Texarkana, Arkansas, also into Caddo, Bossier, De Soto, Red River, Bienville, Webster and Claiborne Counties, Louisiana, minimum price of 3/8" patented metallized gypsum wallboard is $30.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Acme, Texas; Sweetwater, Texas; and Southard, Oklahoma.

(b) For shipment into states of Oklahoma, Arkansas (except City of Texarkana—see above), Louisiana (except counties as listed above), Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina, and Florida, minimum price of 3/8" patented metallized gypsum wallboard is $32.50 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Acme, Texas; Sweetwater, Texas; Southard, Oklahoma; Fort Dodge, Iowa; Grand Rapids, Michigan; and Plasterco, Virginia.

(3) 1/2" Metallized Wallboard Exceptions:

(a) For shipment into states of New Mexico and Texas, also into city of Texarkana, Arkansas, also into Caddo, Bossier, De Soto, Red River, Bienville, Webster and Claiborne Counties, Louisiana, minimum price of 1/2" patented metallized gypsum wallboard is $31.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Acme, Texas; Sweetwater, Texas; and Southard, Oklahoma.

(c) For shipment into states of Oklahoma, Arkansas (except city of Texarkana—see above), Louisiana (except counties as listed above), Arizona, Kansas and Nebraska, minimum price of 1/2" patented metallized gypsum wallboard is $34.50 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. Acme, Texas; Sweetwater, Texas; Southard, Oklahoma; and Fort Dodge, Iowa.

10619 (4) 5/16" Metallized Plasterboard. The minimum price of 5/16" patented metallized gypsum plasterboard (weight 1175# per M), in straight and pool carloads, or in mixed carloads with other gypsum products, for shipment into following markets only, is as follows:

—$22.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers warehouse or siding in Marion County, Indiana (Indianapolis); Sangamon County, Illinois (Springfield); Henrico County, Virginia (Richmond); Hartford County, Connecticut (Hartford); Hampden County, Massachusetts (Springfield); Providence County, Rhode Island (Providence); Mercer County, New Jersey (Trenton); Lancaster County, Pennsylvania (Lancaster); Cuyahoga County, Ohio (Cleveland) and towns of Willoughby and Wickliffe, Ohio; also following towns in Missouri: St. Louis, Ferguson, Kinloch, Overland, Brentwood, Kirkwood, Jennings, Wellston, Clayton, Webster Groves, Maplewood, Gravois Station, Old Orchard and Lake Junction. See paragraph (7) for minimum quantity required for shipment in pool cars or mixed cars into Mercer County, New Jersey.

—$23.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers warehouse or siding in Hennepin County, Minnesota (Minneapolis) and Ramsey County, Minnesota (St. Paul).

—$25.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers warehouse or siding in Woodbury County, Iowa (Sioux City).

—$26.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers warehouse or siding in towns of Kansas City, Dodson and Edgecomb, Missouri; also into towns of Rosedale, Waldo, Argentine, Westport, Overland Park and Kansas City, Kansas.

(5) 3/8" Metallized Plasterboard. The minimum price of 3/8" patented metallized gypsum plasterboard, in straight and pool carloads, or in mixed carloads with other gypsum products is $22.00 per M sq. ft. f.o.b. cars delivered to dealers warehouse or siding in (Detroit Area) Wayne County, Michigan; towns of Birmingham, Clauson, Farmington, Ferndale and Royal Oak in Oakland County, Michigan; also towns of Warren, Halfway, Fraser, Roseville and Centerline in Macomb County, Michigan.

(6) In straight carloads of patented gypsum board and/or lath products, (except 5/16" thickness plasterboard —see par. 4.) consigned to one destination and invoiced to one account, deduct $2.00 per M sq. ft. from f.o.b. Oakfield prices for shipment by rail to dealers warehouse or nearest siding in Metropolitan New York-New Jersey Area as follows: Manhattan, Bronx, Kings, Queens, Richmond, Westchester, Rockland, Nassau and Suffolk Counties, New York, Hudson, Essex, Union, Bergen, Passaic, Morris, Middlesex, Mercer, Somerset, Monmouth, Hunterdon, Warren, Sussex and Ocean Counties, New Jersey; also in Philadelphia Area as follows: Bucks, Montgomery, Chester, Delaware and Philadelphia Counties, Pennsylvania and Camden County, New Jersey.

Where any licensee or any of its employees, salesmen or executives has knowledge or notice, either directly or indirectly, that orders for less than straight car quantities of patented gypsum board products to be shipped into the above defined areas have been pooled for the purpose of or for effect of obtaining the reduced price for straight cars for each participant in the pool, licensor shall regard such sale as made at a price less than the minimum price fixed by the licensor and a violation of the terms of the license agreement.

10620 (7) On pool cars or mixed cars into the Metropolitan New York-New Jersey Area and the Philadelphia Area as described in paragraph (6) above, minimum quantity is 5000 sq. ft. of patented gypsum board and/or lath products to one destination. Note: Any mixture of metallized and regular patented board products may be combined to make up the required minimums.

(8) Straight or mixed cars board f.o.b. dealers siding in switching limits of Grand Rapids, Michigan, add $1.00 per M sq. ft. to prices applying f.o.b. cars, Grand Rapids Mill.

"Metallized" Board License Bulletin No. 1—Carload Shipments

DEAR SIRS: Referring to our license contract with you, you are hereby notified that the minimum prices effective until further notice, at which you may sell metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard manufactured by you and embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in patents under which you are licensed, including Roos patent number 1,914,345, are as follows:

Delivered price is lowest combination of mill price plus freight from that mill to destination. In stop-over cars delivered price for any part of car is carload delivered price as above defined to point of delivery of that part of car. In every case rates and minimum weights as shown in published railroad freight tariffs apply.

Minimum Prices Per M Square Feet F.O.B. Cars (See Note "a"):

(a) The above prices are for Board or Lath with one surface metallized. Add $15.00 per M sq. ft. when furnished with both surfaces metallized.

(#) In straight or mixed cars f.o.b. dealers siding in switching limits of Grand Rapids, Michigan, add $1.00 per M sq. ft. to prices applying f.o.b. cars, Grand Rapids Mill.

The above prices apply to the sale of all metallized board and/or metallized lath embodying the claims of patents under which you are licensed in all markets except where an exception is made as hereinafter expressly stated.

10629 (1) Allowances, etc.: The minimum price fixed by licensor for patented metallized board and/or metallized lath shall not be reduced below such minimum price or prices by or through allowances, payment or rebate to customers for use of railroad siding, for switching performed after car has been originally set for unloading; for warehousing, trucking or unloading, or other service by them in connection with shipments or deliveries of patented metallized board and/or metallized lath, or stopover charges. Nor shall such net cost to customer be reduced below such minimum price or prices by the establishment or continuance of warehouses with dealers or other buyers, or the extension of other than regular terms to any such dealer or buyer. Quotations deducting the regular cash discount so that the quoted price is less than the minimum price to the licensee, are considered as quotations to sell at less than the minimum price and therefore in violation of the license agreement. On quotations to U. S. Government regular minimum delivered price less 2% of delivered price (cash discount) shall be the minimum price. Exception: Stopover charges need not be included in minimum price for shipments into Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Iowa, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Texas and Nebraska, also to following towns in Kentucky: Newport, Latonia, Ludlow, Erlanger, Covington, Bellevue, Brent and Dayton.

Effective Date of Minimum Prices—Rebates—Metallized Board License Bulletin No. 5 (Page 1)—Cancels Bulletin No. 5 Dated February 24, 1937

DEAR SIR: Referring to our license contract with you, you are hereby notified that effective immediately the minimum prices at which you may sell metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard manufactured by you and embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in our patents under which you are licensed, are as follows:

Advances in Minimum Price

In the event of an increase in the minimum prices of patented metallized gypsum board products, the advanced minimum prices shall apply to all shipments made after the effective date of the price increase, except that in the following cases the minimum price shall be the minimum price in effect immediately prior to such increase:

(1) On bona fide orders for dealers' stocks actually received and accepted at your home office in writing before effective date of the price increase and shipped by you within 10 days after effective date of price increase.

(2) On sales of gypsum plaster lath to dealers for any specific job requring not less than the minimum carload quantity of plaster lath (each building of a project to be considered as a separate job hereunder); and

On sales of metallized gypsum wallboard or gypsum liner to gypsum roofing contractors for specific gypsum roof jobs only; and

On sales of metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum sheathing to dealers for specific industrial housing projects; and

On sales of metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum sheathing on direct bids to the federal government for specific federal government jobs;*

But only where the general contract for such specific job is awarded prior to the effective date of the price increase, or where the dealer (or contractor on specific roof jobs) has made a written quotation on such job prior to the effective date of the price increase, and pro-10740 viding the order is placed by such dealer or contractor and accepted by the licensee within 30 days, on private jobs, and 60 days on federal government jobs, after the effective date of the price increase.

* NOTE: A Federal Government job is one where the Federal Government lets the contract to a general contractor or places an order directly with licensee.

(3) On orders received from the General Supply Committee of the Executive Departments and Independent Establishments of the United States Government under contract awarded by that committee, prior to the effective date of price increase.

Decreases in Minimum Price

In the event of a decrease in the minimum prices of the patented metallized gypsum board products, the new and lower minimum prices shall apply to all sales and shipments made after the effective date of the decrease in minimum price, including all orders for the patented metallized gypsum board products on file at the time of decrease in minimum prices, and also shipments in transit; but licensee must be prepared to furnish licensor with satisfactory evidence of the fact that the shipment was actually in transit and not delivered when the price decrease became effective. Carrier's freight bill will be accepted as evidence of that fact.

Rebates, Allowances, Etc.

Any sale of patented products, though ostensibly made at or above the minimum price established by licensor, will nevertheless be considered a violation of the provisions of the license if licensee directly or indirectly reduces the actual price charged by licensee below such minimum price by granting the customer rebates, unearned or unwarranted refunds, credits or discounts, by reducing the price of other products, by hiring customers' trucks, by granting allowances for advertising or other purposes, by splitting of salesmen's compensation or commissions with customers, by overshipment of patented products, by including board under the guise of dunnage, or by making any other payment or allowance in the form of money or otherwise which has for its purpose and effect reducing the price charged by licensee below such minimum price.

In the event of an increase in the minimum prices of patented metallized gypsum board products, the advanced minimum price shall apply to all shipments made after the effective date of the price increase, except:

(1) On bona fide orders for dealers' stocks actually received and accepted at your home office in writing before effective date of the price increase and shipped by you within 10 days after effective date of price increase. Exception: Bona fide orders for discontinued types of patented metallized gypsum board for dealers' stocks, received and accepted by you at your home office in writing within one week from date of discontinuance, for shipment within two weeks from the date of discontinuance, may be invoiced at minimum prices in effect at time of discontinuance.

(2) For gypsum plaster lath on any specific job requiring not less than a minimum carload quantity of plaster lath (28,600 sq. ft.) where the general contract for such specific job is awarded prior to the effective date of the price increase, or where the dealer has made a written quotation on such job prior to the effective date of the price increase, and provided order for gypsum plaster lath is immediately placed by dealer and accepted by licensee within thirty days on private jobs, sixty days on federal government jobs after the effective date of price increase. Each building of a project shall be considered as a separate specific job hereunder, subject to minimum requirement of carload quantity (28,600 sq. ft.) for each such building. Exception: Minimum quantity for each specific job on 5/16" plaster lath shall be 34,000 sq. ft.

†(3) For metallized gypsum wallboard on specific gypsum roof jobs to gypsum roofing contractors on which the general contract is awarded prior to the effective date of the price increase, or on which contractor has made written quotation prior to the effective date of the price increase, and provided order for metallized gypsum wallboard is immediately placed by contractor and accepted by licensee within thirty days on private jobs, sixty days on federal government jobs after the effective date of price increase.

†(4) (a) For metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum sheathing on direct bids to the Federal Government for specific Federal Government jobs on which the general contract is awarded prior to the effective date of price increase, or on which written bid is made by licensee prior to the effective date of price increase, provided order for metallized gypsum wallboard or metallized gypsum sheathing is immediately placed by the Federal Government and accepted by licensee within sixty days after the effective date of price increase.

†(b) For metallized gypsum wallboard or metallized gypsum sheathing on specific industrial housing projects on which the general contract is awarded prior to the effective date of price increase, or on which the dealer has made a written quotation prior to the effective date of the price increase, and provided order for metallized gypsum wallboard or metallized gypsum sheathing is immediately placed by the dealer and accepted by licensee within thirty days from effective date of the price increase.

(5) On orders received from the General Supply Committee of the Executive Departments and Independent Establishments of the United States Government under contract awarded by that committee prior to the effective date of price increase.

Price Decreases:

In the event of a decrease in the minimum prices of patented metallized gypsum board products, all orders on file shall be invoiced at the new and lower prices. Shipments in transit shall be invoiced at the reduced prices, provided carrier's expense bill is presented by customer, as evidence that shipment actually was in transit and not delivered when the price decrease became effective.

Federal Government Jobs

A Federal government job or contract is one where a department of the Federal government, as defined below, lets a contract direct to a general contractor, or where such a department of the Federal Government places an order directly with a licensee, such order being invoiced directly to such department for use solely and directly by such dapartment.

The "Federal Government" as used herein shall mean the following departments of the Federal government.

1. Agricultural
2. Bureau of Indian Affairs
3. Coast Guard
4. Commerce

(a) State Projects. On purchase by or thru the State Procurement Division of the Treasury Department (to be invoiced direct to the Federal Government) for use on State WPA projects, the minimum quoted price of patented metallized gypsum wallboard and/or metallized gypsum lath, for shipment in carloads, shall be the dealer delivered price f.o.b. cars railhead delivery only, plus $2.50 per M sq. ft. on wallboard or $1.25 per M sq. ft. on lath, less 2% cash discount on gross amount.

Shipment in carloads may include shipment in mixed cars with other gypsum products, providing all materials contained in such car are for use on a WPA project and providing entire carload is invoiced direct to the Federal government.

Patented metallized gypsum board products for State WPA projects when specified in quantities not for shipment in carloads as above outlined, or when State WPA job site delivery, any quantity, is requested, shall be quoted through dealers only.

†(b) Federal Projects. On purchases by the Procurement Division or Resettlement Purchase Section of the Treasury Department (to be invoiced direct to the Federal Government) for use on Federal WPA projects, the minimum quoted price of patented metallized gypsum wallboard and/or metallized gypsum lath, for shipment in carloads, for delivery at railhead shall be the regular dealer carload delivered price less 2% cash discount on gross amount. For delivery to project site, the minimum quoted price of patented metallized gypsum wallboard and/or metallized gypsum lath shall be the regular dealer carload delivered price f.o.b. cars at railhead specified in bid form, plus $1.00 per M sq. ft., less 2% cash discount on gross amount.

Quotations deducting the regular cash discount so that the quoted price is less than the minimum price to the licensee, are considered as quotations to sell at less than the minimum price and therefore in violation of the license agreement. On quotations to U. S. Government regular minimum delivered price less 2% of delivered price (cash discount) shall be the minimum price.

Also, where a salesman selling patented metallized board to a customer is authorized by licensee or its agent to sell the same wholly or partly on a commission basis, or where a salesman not employed by licensee makes a sale of patented metallized board to a customer on a commission basis and licensee or his agent accepts such sale, in either of such events the commission paid by the licensee is a deduction from the price at which the board is sold by licensee, and where after deducting such commission, the amount is less than the minimum price, licensor shall regard the sale as made at a price less than the minimum price fixed by licensor and a violation of the terms of the license agreement. Licensor also regards sales of patented metallized board by commission salesmen, without the written consent of licensor, as a violation of the terms of the license agreement.

Sales to Other Gypsum Manufacturers:

There shall be no sale of patented metallized board products to manufacturers of gypsum products without the written consent of the licensor. When such written approval has been granted maximum discounts from the minimum dealer prices established by the licensor, as listed in Metallized Board License Bulletin No. 1, shall be 15% on wallboard and 12½% on plasterboard. Such permission is restricted to sales of patented metallized board products to said manufacturers for resale to the dealer trade at wholesale, and is not to apply to such materials sold at retail.

If picked up or shipped for delivery direct to a dealer's warehouse, then the 7500 sq. ft. minimum shall apply.

10745 Dunnage:

Gypsum boards used for dunnage and not invoiced to the customer shall be not larger than 4'x4' and any gypsum boards so used with any dimension greater than 12" shall be plainly stamped in red on the face side of each board, showing the words "DUNNAGE—NOT TO BE SOLD" in letters at least 3" high. Excessive dunnage is a violation of the license agreement. Exception: Greater New York Market (Manhattan, Bronx, Kings, Queens and Richmond counties, New York)

a. Shipments in cars.

Gypsum boards used for dunnage in shipments by car and not invoiced to customer shall be not larger than 12"x48", shall be plainly stamped in red on the face of each board, showing the words "DUNNAGE—NOT TO BE SOLD" in letters at least 3" high, and shall be board with no value and unfit for use or resale. Excessive dunnage is a violation of the license agreement.

†b. Shipments in trucks.

Gypsum boards used for dunnage in shipments by truck and not invoiced to the customer shall be not larger than 12"x48" except when larger sheets might be necessary to protect the bottom of a truck. All gypsum boards used for dunnage shall be plainly stamped in red on the face side of each board, showing the words "DUNNAGE—NOT TO BE SOLD" in letters at least 3" high, and be defaced, marred, diagonally scored or mutilated and otherwise so marked that they will have no value and will be unfit for use or resale. Sales to Other Gypsum Manufacturers:

There shall be no sale of patented metallized board products to manufacturers of gypsum products without the written consent of the licensor. When such written approval has been granted maximum discounts from the minimum dealer prices established by the licensor, as listed in Metallized Board License Bulletin No. 1, shall be 15% on wallboard and 12½% on plasterboard. Such permission is restricted to sales of patented metallized board products to said manufacturers for resale to the dealer trade at wholesale, and is not to apply to such materials sold at retail.

The minimum of 5000 sq. ft. of patented gypsum board and/or lath products as required for pickups and shipments out of Eastern mills and warehouses does not apply for pickups by or deliveries to other gypsum manufacturers, providing such pickups or deliveries are destined for manufacturer's own warehouse or plant. If picked up or shipped for delivery direct to a dealer's warehouse, then the 5000 sq. ft. minimum shall apply.

Dunnage:

Gypsum boards used for dunnage and not invoiced to the customer shall be not larger than 4′ x 4′ and any gypsum boards so used with any dimension greater than 12″ shall be plainly stamped in red on the face side of each board, showing the words "Dunnage—Not To Be Sold" in letters at least 3″ high. Excessive dunnage is a violation of the license agreement.

FEBRUARY 6, 1936.

Supplement to "Metallized" Board License Bulletin No. 1—Dated December 31, 1934. And "Metallized" Board License Bulletin No. 3—Dated January 10, 1936.

DEAR SIRS: Referring to our license contract with you, you are hereby notified that the minimum prices effective February 7, 1936 at which you may sell metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard manufactured by you and embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in patents under which you are licensed, including Roos patent number 1,914,345, are changed as follows:

(1) In straight carloads of patented gypsum board and/or lath products, consigned to one destination and invoiced to one account, deduct $2.00 per M sq. ft. from f.o.b. Oakfield prices for shipment by rail to dealers warehouse or nearest siding in Philadelphia Area as follows: Bucks, Montgomery, Chester, Delaware and Philadelphia Counties, Pa. and Camden County, N. J.

On pool cars or mixed cars into the Philadelphia Area as described above, minimum quantity is 5000 sq. ft. of patented gypsum board and/or lath products to one destination. Note: Any mixture of metallized and regular patented board products may be combined to make up the required minimums.

Where any licensee or any of its employees, salesmen or executives has knowledge or notice, either directly or indirectly, that orders for less than straight car quantities of patented gypsum board products to be shipped into the above defined area have been pooled for the purpose of or for effect of obtaining the reduced price for straight cars for each participant in the pool, licensor shall regard such sale as made at a price less than the minimum price fixed by the licensor and a violation of the terms of the license agreement.

(2) Del'd by Truck Prices into Philadelphia Area. Minimum price of patented gypsum board and/or lath delivered by truck to dealer's warehouse is same as delivered by rail in mixed cars. This applies to Bucks, Montgomery, Chester, Delaware and Philadelphia Counties, Pa. and Camden County, N. J. Minimum quantity 5000 sq. ft. gypsum board and/or lath consigned to one destination and invoiced to one account, delivered by manufacturer's own trucks or those hired by manufacturer from regular trucking companies. Note: Any mixture of metallized and regular patented board products may be combined to make up the required minimum.

MR. A. W. IRWIN,
Office

DEAR SIRS: Referring to our license contract with you, you are hereby notified that the minimum prices at which you may sell metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard manufactured by you and embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in patents under which you are licensed, including Roos patent number 1,914,345, are supplemented as follows:

The minimum delivered prices of patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard will be directly affected by the permissive order of the Interstate Commerce Commission authorizing an increase in freight rates. On Interstate traffic the freight increase becomes effective on the effective date of the Interstate tariff, and in Intrastate traffic the freight increase is effective when approved by the State Commission.

When emergency freight charges become effective the minimum delivered price of patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard is to be the lowest combination of mill price plus freight, including emergency charge, from that mill to destination, as follows:

Where the minimum delivered price is the result of mill price plus Interstate freight, the increase is to be added on the effective date of the Interstate tariff.

Where the minimum delivered price is the result of mill price plus Intrastate freight, the increase is effective when approved by the State Commission.

The amount of increase in freight to be added to minimum f.o.b. mill prices of patented metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard shall be as detailed in schedule attached.

Yours very truly,

UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY

Vice President.

Supplement to "Metallized" Board License Bulletin No. 1—
Dated December 31, 1934.

DEAR SIRS: Referring to our license contract with you, you are hereby notified that the minimum prices effective immediately at which you may sell metallized gypsum wallboard and metallized gypsum plasterboard manufactured by you and embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in patents under which you are licensed, including Roos patent number 1,914,345 are changed as follows:

Refer to page 1 of "Metallized" Board License Bulletin No. 1 dated December 31, 1934. Change second paragraph to read as follows:

Delivered price is lowest combination of mill price plus freight from that mill to destination. In stopover cars delivered price for any part of car is carload delivered price as above defined to point of delivery of that part of car. In every case rates as shown in published railroad freight tariffs apply. To determine board footage required to meet straight or mixed carload minimum weights, as shown in published railroad freight tariffs, use weights per M sq. ft. as given in supplement dated February 25, 1935.

The weights referred to above, given you in supplement dated February 25, 1935, are as follows:

1/4" thickness— 950# per M sq. ft.
3/8" " —1400# " " " "
1/2" " —1900# " " " "

We desire to emphasize that all shipments of patented gypsum board products, in straight carloads or in mixed carloads with other gypsum products, are to be figured, for purposes of meeting required minimum weights, at weights per M sq. ft. as shown above.

Add reference () to minimum prices for patented Metallized Wallboard f.o.b. Ft. Dodge, Iowa and Grand Rapids, Michigan, also add reference () to minimum price for patented Metallized Plasterboard f.o.b. Grand Rapids, Michigan, as follows:

(*) In the states of Illinois and Wisconsin, to all destinations where a 60000 lb. minimum (from Fort Dodge or Grand Rapids) is in effect; delivered prices of patented Metallized Wallboard and/or Lath, in pool cars, stopover cars, straight cars or mixed cars with other gypsum products, will be mill base price plus 60000 lb. rate regardless of minimum shipped. Rate applying to 80000 lb. minimum out of Fort Dodge into these states will be used in pricing patented Metallized Wallboard in carloads or pool cars consigned to a single destination only, with the exception that shipments to the City of Superior, Wisconsin may be priced on the 80000 lb. rate when included in 80000 lb. stopover cars with shipments for the Twin Cities, Duluth and Steelton, Minnesota.

Very truly yours,

UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY

Vice President.

BUFFALO

Subject: METALLIZED GYPSUM BOARD & LATH

H. H. Van Hagan - eoc

TO: Messrs.
H. F. Barnard--Acme
H. W. Neumeister—Akron
E. L. Flinn—Fort Dodge
O. F. Grieve—Grand Rapids
C. C. Whetstone—Gypsum
cc: C. O. Brown, V.P.—New York
W. A. Phelps—New York
G. A. Hoggatt—Buffalo

For your information would advise that our company has recently signed up a license agreement with the United States Gypsum Company permitting us to manufacture and sell Metallized Wallboard and Lath. By Metallized Wallboard we mean the board with pasted sheet of aluminum foil applied to one or both sides, as the order may specify. By reference to your Gypsum Price List you will note price on this product incorporated therein.

For your further information would advise that we do not propose to maufacture this product for the present but have worked out an arrangement for the purchase of this board from the United States Gypsum Company and which we will secure from their various plants, locations of which will be furnished you later.

There is also the matter of samples and labels to be used on the board, all of which is to be developed and on which matters you will be advised later. I am merely giving you this preliminary notice so that you will understand what is taking place and so that when further data is given you regarding points at which stock can be secured and source of samples, you can readily get yourself into position to handle orders for this product when submitted by the Sales Department.

I am giving copy of this letter to Mr. Phelps and presume that he is developing information regarding the sizes and quantities of samples which we will provide together with labels for samples and labels to be applied to the wallboard and lath panels themselves.

MARCH 26, 1935

MR. A. W. IRWIN, Assistant Comptroller
United States Gypsum Company,
300 West Adams Street,
Chicago, Illinois.

DEAR SIR:

Your letter of March 19th, for the attention of Mr. Nelson, has been referred to the writer.

Item X in the Plaster Board Agreement reads in part as follows:

"Licensee agrees that on or before the fifteenth day of each calendar month it will furnish to Gypsum Company a written report * * * showing the total amount of plaster board having a metallized surface sold by Licensee during the preceding calendar month and which was manufactured by Licensee under the rights, licenses and privileges herein granted * * *".

This is to advise that Certain-teed has not manufactured any Board under the License Agreement, but all Board which todate has been sold has been purchased from your Company. Under these circumstances, is it your desire that we send through a report each month showing no information to be reported or is this letter sufficient? You may rest assured that as soon as we start in manufacturing metallized board we will promptly report all sales in accordance with the Agreement.

Awaiting your further advice in regard to the matter in question, we are

Very truly yours,

Assistant Auditor

Attention: Mr. E. H. Laney,
Assistant Auditor

Gentlemen:

Thank you for your letter of March 26th, advising us that you have not manufactured any board under the license agreement dated November 2, 1934.

While it would be preferable that you send us a report each month even though you have manufactured and sold no board under this license, it will be agreeable with us if you merely advise us of the fact, by letter, that you have manufactured no such board, until your production of this product begins.

We do wish to be informed currently of your activities under this license and shall appreciate having either a report or letter each month covering that license.

Yours very truly,

WALLBOARD LICENSEES MEETING
DECEMBER 20, 1934.

MR. C. O. BROWN, V.P. H. H. VAN HAGAN—eoc

This is to advise that the writer attended the Gypsum Wallboard Licensees Meeting in Chicago at the Bismark Hotel on December 20, 1934 and would advise regarding meeting as follows:

The Licensor is arranging to set up a Board Survey Company under the direction of Mr. Carey and which company will function very similar to the Gypsum Code Authority in the handling of complaints and violations of the license agreement. The Board Survey Company will arrange to handle necessary audits of licensees books for royalty purposes and it is proposed that the licensor will become more active in the handling of all matters in connection with the wallboard license agreement.

I am attaching hereto a copy of the proposed complaint forms which were submitted at this meeting, one covering violations as determined by auditors and the other covering exceptions from licensor's bulletin prices. Additional forms and procedures will be developed and handled as the board survey becomes active.

The principal item of discussion at this meeting was with reference to the light weight board and lath as manufactured by the National Gypsum Company. Mr. Baker, President of the National Gypsum Company stated that these tests had proceeded to a point where their company was fully satisfied that the 1350 lb. board and lath was fully satisfactory and that they intended to develop at once necessary literature covering these products; also that they expect to turn their Sales Department loose on them at their January sales meeting.

Protests were entered by the licensor that tests should be completed before coming to a decision. It is contemplated that these tests will be completed and reports available by December 29th.

As Mr. Baker stood firm in his position, Mr. Henning announced that in order to be competitive the licensor would therefore bring out a light weight board also; that they would probably market two wallboard,—one at 1600 lbs. and one at about 1400 lbs. He also stated that it would probably be necessary for them to reduce the billing weight on ⅜" board from 1600 lbs. to 1400 lbs. per M square feet. It, of course, will be necessary for the licensor to issue bulletins before this becomes effective.

Mr. Henning also advised that as licensor they were ready to transmit to any of the licensees full information 10806 on the manufacture of a 1400 lbs. board and that this could be secured thru their Mr. Knode at any time. The writer is communicating with Mr. Knode to get such information as he may have available.

The above for your information.

MR. H. DORSEY SPENCER,

New York, N. Y.

DEAR MR. SPENCER,

I have discussed the matter of the Super Tomastone plaster being offered by the U. S. Gypsum Company, with our people here and they agree with me that possibly we can tackle this whole proposition from a little different angle and get the end-product we are looking for whatever way we approach the situation.

I talked with Mr. Morton Knode of the U. S. Gypsum Company and found him considerably annoyed because we had approached the infringement of the U. S. Gypsum Company through a buyer rather than direct. I am inclined to believe where concerns are as well-known to one another as U. S. G. and Certain-teed, there is considerable doubt as to the method of approaching the customer rather than the primary infringer and I suggest that I write a letter to

Mr. Knode somewhat on the lines of the attached draft which you may correct any way you see fit, declaring an armistice on correspondence and action in connection with this matter, awaiting an opportunity for a discussion between the two companies along the lines of combining the patent interests on this character of material in an attempt to bring something constructive out of such combination of patents.

The question as to whether or not these patents are valid is bound to arise if enough pressure is put upon them and I think it is better if it can be arranged that the patents be combined and in the hands of such strong concerns as ourselves, U. S. Gypsum, etc., where there would be less liability of their validity being attacked.

Yours very truly,

CHESTER E. RAHR,
Vice-President.

DEAR MR. KNODE,

I have looked into the matter of the correspondence which has been going on with regard to our patent No. 1,996,372. I have noted the correspondence between Newell & Spencer & Safford and Jones, Addington, Ames & Seibold in connection with this matter and I propose that we discontinue for the time being any correspondence about this matter until we can have an opportunity to discuss this patent and any that you may have in this connection and the use of these patents in the most constructive way to protect the sales of our companies and possibly other companies.

As you know, we would much prefer something constructive to any sort of conflict as, actually, there can be very little conflict of interests between us.

We would arrange for such conversations at a later date if you agree the principal thing to do is to call off the present activities.

With kindest personal regards, I am

Yours very truly,

Vice-President.

Re: United States Gypsum

DEAR MR. RAHR:-

Referring to your proposed letter to Mr. Knode of the U. S. Gypsum Company which accompanied your letter of October 28, I think the letter in the form in which you drafted it is probably all right for the present.

As you suggest in the letter, there are a number of patent issues between the two companies due to the extremely thin patents that U. S. Gypsum has succeeded in getting. One of the patents that has irritated Mr. Van Hagan particularly is the Roos Patent No. 1,938,354, granted December 5, 1933, on the perforated plasterboard, this patent being granted on an application filed March 15, 1933.

This patent is probably completely invalid because of prior public use of perforated plasterboard on the Pacific Coast that anticipates any possible patentability in the structure disclosed in the Roos patent.

Mr. Van Hagan thinks he can make a perforated plasterboard that will compete strongly with metal lath. The situation here in New York which gave rise to the U. S. Gypsum Company's rush to get this invalid patent is no longer urgent but there is apparently a big field in a per-10810 forated board that can be used as a substitute for metal lath. I have before me a sample of perforated board which I understand has been made on the Pacific Coast since at least 1920 which apparently, if used as a justification for ignoring the U. S. Gypsum Company's patent, would give Mr. Van Hagan a rather free hand. In view of this situation and one or two other patent situations in which comparatively thin patents of the U. S. Gypsum Company hamstring free development, it might be well to come to some decision as to what policy we shall follow, whether to help them maintain these thin patents for the benefit of the industry, or get together for a possible exchange of licenses. We are apparently in a comparatively good position at the present time to deal with them as it appears to be quite obvious that they have been infringing our Patent No. 1,996,372.

Very truly yours,

HDS:GN

10812 Government's Exhibit No. 274

THIS AGREEMENT, made in duplicate this 7th day of May, 1930, by and between UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY, an Illinois corporation, having its principal office at Chicago, Illinois, First Party, and CERTAIN-TEED PRODUCTS CORPORATION, a Maryland corporation, having its principal office at New York, New York, Second Party,

WITNESSETH: That

WHEREAS, Second Party desires to have such gypsite products as it now manufactures in its plant at Laramie, Wyoming, manufactured for it by First Party in such quantities as it may require for distribution in the territory which such plant now serves, and further desires to have such other gypsum products and materials as it has regularly warehoused at Laramie, Wyoming, warehoused in said city for it by First Party; and

WHEREAS, First Party is willing to manufacture for Second Party such gypsite products and to warehouse for Second Party such other gypsum products and materials,

NOW, THEREFORE, the said parties hereto, in consideration of the foregoing and of the mutual covenants and agreements hereinafter contained, and the performance of the same by the respective parties, do hereby covenant and agree as follows:

1. First Party agrees to manufacture for Second Party, according to Second Party's formulae and specifications, and Second Party agrees to have manufactured for it by First Party, all such gypsite products as Second 10813 Party now manufactures or has customarily manufactured in its gypsite calcining plant at Laramie, Wyoming, which Second Party may require for sale to its customers in the territory which is now served by Second Party's said plant at Laramie, Wyoming, as a distributing point, and First Party agrees to deliver the same on cars at First Party's plant at Laramie, Wyoming, properly sacked or otherwise prepared for shipment, at cost as hereinafter defined.

2. First Party shall have the right to take and use from time to time, without cost, charge or other expense to First Party, or any claim of damage for the removal thereof, an amount or amounts of gypsite from the beds owned by Second Party at Laramie, Wyoming, equivalent to the amount or amounts of gypsite used from time to time by First Party in manufacturing the products herein required to be manufactured by it for Second Party; provided, however, that First Party shall remove such gypsite from said beds of Second Party in a good and workmanlike manner without unnecessary waste or damage thereto.

3. The cost at which First Party shall manufacture and deliver the aforesaid products to the Second Party shall be cost on cars, as aforesaid, and shall include the usual and customary items composing the cost of such products, including bagging, other preparation for shipment, formula cost, compensation insurance, fire insurance on all material inventory and taxes on all material inventory, but excluding depreciation, interest on investment, fire insurance and taxes on plant and equipment, and depletion of supplies of raw material, it being understood that in exclud-10814 ing depletion it is intended to exclude all value of raw gypsite, as Second Party is to receive no credit for gypsite taken from its beds pursuant to Paragraph 3 hereof. Cost statements shall be prepared by First Party each month covering products manufactured during the preceding month and shall be furnished to Second Party at the time products delivered during the preceding month are billed to Second Party as hereinafter provided.

4. First Party agrees to warehouse for Second Party, free of cost except handling charges and insurance coverage of all usual kinds, such gypsum materials and products as are not regularly manufactured at Laramie, Wyoming, and such as have been regularly carried as warehouse products by Second Party in the past, and which may be reasonably necessary to be carried by Second Party to meet the requirements of its trade in said territory in and around Laramie, Wyoming; provided that in the event the quantities of such materials or products to be stored, together with the materials and products of First Party, shall exceed the warehousing capacity of First Party at Laramie, Wyoming, First Party shall have the right to use the warehouse space of the Second Party at Laramie, Wyoming, free of all charges, cost or expense to it.

5. It is understood that Second Party intends to ship to Laramie from points outside of the territory affected by this agreement, mixed cars of board and lath and small quantities of plaster, and upon arrival at Laramie break the seal and remove the plaster for warehousing under this agreement or reshipment on Second Party's orders, and reship the board and plaster in same cars, but on the Laramie rate. First Party agrees to handle this type of business for Second Party free of cost except handling charges and any other necessary expenses incurred thereby.

10815 6. First Party shall furnish paper bags, printed with Second Party's brand, for products manufactured by it for Second Party hereunder of the same type and quality as regularly used by First Party, at a price to Second Party not greater than Second Party would have to pay for the same type and quality of bag delivered at its Laramie plant, which price shall be included in the cost of material manufactured hereunder for Second Party by First Party delivered on cars as aforesaid.

7. First Party will bill Second Party each month for all goods delivered to Second Party or shipped on Second Party's orders during the preceding month, at cost, as hereinbefore defined, of goods manufactured during such preceding month, as soon as such cost shall have been ascertained. First Party will also bill Second Party for all costs, charges and expenses for handling materials warehoused by it for Second Party under this agreement, and all further costs or charges for warehousing or trucking for which Second Party may be liable, at the same time, and Second Party agrees that it will pay all amounts billed to it, in cash, within ten (10) days after billing.

8. Orders of Second Party shall be given the same consideration in handling and shipping as is given to orders of First Party, and First Party agrees that sales data, customers' names, prices, etc. on business of Second Party will not be compiled and turned over to the Sales Department of First Party.

9. First Party shall not be liable for any loss or damage to materials or products warehoused by it for Sec-10816 ond Party except for failure to insure the same with reasonable promptness after the same come into its possession, and except to the extent that it shall have received compensation under its insurance policies or otherwise for loss or damage to such materials or products. First Party shall be required to exercise only ordinary and reasonable care in manufacturing and preparing for shipment the products to be manufactured by it for Second Party under this agreement, and shall not be liable to Second Party or any of its customers for any defects in materials manufactured by it, nor for any failure to deliver, nor any delay in delivery of any materials or products manufactured or warehoused by it for Second Party hereunder, unless the same shall have been caused by the willful misconduct or gross negligence of its officers, agents, servants or employees.

10. In the event of default by Second Party in the payment of any bills rendered to it by First Party hereunder, and upon failure of the Second Party to correct such default within thirty (30) days after written notice of such default has been served upon it by First Party, First Party, at its option, may declare this agreement terminated, without prejudice, however, to any claim of either party against the other arising out of any breach of or failure to perform the agreement occurring prior to such termination.

11. This agreement shall become effective as soon as executed by the parties hereto (provided that nothing herein contained shall restrict in any way the right of Second Party to dispose of its present stock of goods at Laramie, Wyoming in the usual course of business, or otherwise, as it may see fit), and shall remain in full 10817 force and effect to and including May 1, 1936, and from year to year thereafter unless canceled by either party on May 1st of any year upon six months' prior written notice; and provided further that this agreement shall be subject to cancelation at any time by Second Party upon six months' prior written notice, for unsatisfactory service rendered by First Party or unsatisfactory quality of product manufactured by First Party which is shown to result in loss of business by Second Party.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have caused these presents to be signed in their respective corporate names by their respective ——— Presidents, and their corporate seals to be affixed and attested by their respective ——— Secretaries, the day and year first above written.

THIS AGREEMENT, made in duplicate this 28th day of October, 1930, by and between UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY, an Illinois corporation, having its principal office at Chicago, Illinois, hereinafter referred to as First Party; and CERTAIN-TEED PRODUCTS CORPORATION, a Maryland corporation, having its principal office at New York, New York, hereinafter referred to as Second Party,

WITNESSETH: That

WHEREAS, Second Party desires to purchase from First Party certain gypsum products now manufactured by First Party at some one or more of its various plants in the United States, including its Gypsum, Ohio plant; and

WHEREAS, First Party is willing to sell the same to Second Party as is herein provided;

NOW, THEREFORE, the said parties hereto, in consideration of the foregoing and of the mutual covenants and agreements herein contained, and the performance thereof by the respective parties, do hereby covenant and agree as follows:

1. First Party will sell to Second Party and Second Party will purchase from First Party, such quantities of Crushed Rock, Land Plaster, Stucco, local Finishing Plaster, Cement Plaster and Wood Fibre Plaster, manufactured at First Party's mills at Gypsum, Ohio, as Second Party may from time to time determine, as evidenced by 10819 written orders from Second Party to First Party.

First Party agrees to manufacture said local Finishing Plaster, Cement Plaster and Wood Fibre Plaster in accordance with formulae furnished from time to time by Second Party, it being understood that the word "formulae" shall be construed only to mean that Second Party shall have the right to specify the quantities of such ingredients as fibre, lime, clay, talc and similar materials which are to be added to stucco in order to produce the above mentioned wall plasters having such varying characteristics as will suit the requirements of Second Party's customers; provided, that Second Party shall also have the right to specify the setting time of such wall plasters, such setting time to be regulated by First Party by variations in the amount of retarder added to such plasters during mixing.

The prices to be paid by Second Party for the above products shall be as follows:

Crushed Rock — Cost plus 60 cents a ton;
Land Plaster — Cost plus 75 cents a ton;
Stucco — Cost plus $1.00 a ton;
Local Finishing Plaster — Cost plus $1.10 a ton;
Cement Plaster — Cost plus $1.10 a ton;
Wood Fibre Plaster — Cost plus $1.10 a ton.

The above prices are f.o.b. cars Gypsum, Ohio.

As used in this Paragraph 1, cost shall be deemed to mean total cost of the product on cars at the mill in accordance with the method of computing such costs now employed by First Party, but excluding depreciation and depletion. All cost of bags shall be added to these costs.

10820 2. First Party will also sell to Second Party and Second Party will purchase from First Party, such quantities, as Second Party shall from time to time determine, as evidenced by written orders to First Party, of all those certain gypsum products more particularly set forth in the schedule attached hereto and marked Schedule A. The prices to be paid by Second Party for the said gypsum products so set forth in said Schedule A shall be as specified in said schedule. The prices set forth in said Schedule A shall continue in force for the remaining portion of the calendar year 1930 and for the calendar year 1931. The prices for any succeeding calendar year, so long as this contract shall continue in force, shall be the prices as set forth in said Schedule A, increased by an amount equal to the increase, if any, in First Party's costs for the calendar year immediately preceding, over First Party's average costs for the year 1930. All prices applicable to the said gypsum products, set forth in said Schedule A, shall be f.o.b. cars Gypsum, Ohio, and shall at all times be subject to be increased or decreased by the amount of any increase or decrease in freight rates from First Party's mill, other than at Gypsum, Ohio, where said gypsum products so sold to Second Party from time to time are actually manufactured, to Gypsum, Ohio.

Second Party, at its option, may ship to First Party's plant at Gypsum, Ohio, such gypsum products not manufactured at Second Party's plant at Gypsum, Ohio but required in mixed cars and First Party agrees to warehouse such products for Second Party at a cost of seventy-five cents (75¢) per ton.

10821 3. First Party will bill Second Party each month for all goods delivered to Second Party or shipped on Second Party's orders during the preceding month, at prices hereinbefore defined, as soon as costs for such preceding month shall have been ascertained. First Party will also bill Second Party for all other costs, charges and expenses for which Second Party may be liable, at the same time, and Second Party agrees that it will pay all amounts billed to it, net in cash, within ten (10) days after billing.

4. All paper bags necessary for packaging any of the products purchased by Second Party hereunder shall be furnished by First Party, printed with Second Party's brand. Such bags shall be of the same type and quality as is, or shall be, regularly used by First Party, at a price to Second Party not in excess of the price which Second Party would have to pay for bags of the same type and quality delivered at its plant at Gypsum, Ohio.

5. All orders given by Second Party to First Party shall be given the same consideration in handling and shipping as is given to orders of First Party, and First Party agrees that sales data, customers' names, prices, etc. on Second Party's business, will not be compiled and turned over to the Sales Department of First Party.

10822 6. Failure on the part of Second Party promptly to pay any bills rendered by First Party to Second Party for goods sold to Second Party hereunder when the same are due and payable, shall be sufficient to authorize First Party to withhold any and all further shipments or deliveries to Second Party, or on Second Party's account, and if any such bills are not paid within a period of thirty (30) days after the same are due and payable, then First Party shall have the right, at its option, to terminate this agreement, with or without notice to Second Party, provided that any such termination shall be without prejudice to any claim of either party against the other arising out of any breach of or failure to perform this agreement occurring prior to such termination.

7. It is understood and agreed that the prices mentioned in Paragraph 1 hereof and in said Schedule A are based upon the respective products therein mentioned being manufactured at specific mills of First Party. It is specifically agreed therefore, that in the event that, on account of fires, floods, strikes, labor troubles or for any other reason, whether of like kind to those specified or of a wholly different character, not due to the wilfull neglect of First Party, the specific mill at which said gypsum products are to be manufactured as contemplated by First Party, shall cease either temporarily or permanently to manufacture such products, First Party will promptly notify Second Party thereof and will as soon as may be furnish Second Party with a new schedule of prices covering such of said products, 10823 the manufacture of which at such specific mill shall have so ceased. In such event, if Second Party finds that it can purchase or manufacture such product or products at a less price than as set forth in such new price list, it shall have the right to purchase or manufacture such products elsewhere than from First Party so long as such specific mill shall not be in operation, and also has the option of cancelling this contract, it being understood and agreed that upon the happening of any of the events mentioned in this Paragraph 7, First Party shall be under no liability whatsoever to Second Party for failure or refusal on First Party's part to furnish such gypsum products, except at such new prices. Such new prices, so long as said respective products shall not be manufactured at such specific mill, shall be substituted for the prices otherwise mentioned herein with respect to such products, and shall be subject to all of the terms herewith to the same extent as the prices specifically mentioned in said Paragraph 1 and in said Schedule A.

8. This agreement shall become effective as soon as executed by the parties hereto and as of the date hereof, and shall remain in force to and including December 31, 1931, and from year to year thereafter, unless terminated by either party upon six months' prior written notice given at any time after said December 31, 1931, provided that the right of termination given in this paragraph 8 shall be in addition to any right of termination given in any other paragraph of this agreement; and provided further that 10824 this agreement shall be subject to cancellation at any time by Second Party upon sixty (60) days' prior written notice, for unsatisfactory service rendered by First Party, or unsatisfactory quality of product manufactured by First Party which is shown to result in loss of business by Second Party. Written notice of termination, as provided for in this Paragraph 8, shall be deemed to have been sufficiently given by either party hereto, if deposited in the United States mails, postage prepaid, and addressed to the other party at its principal office.

9. All Jute or cloth bags furnished by Second Party to First Party shall be in good condition and in any event,

First Party shall incur no responsibility or liability whatsoever, either to Second Party or to Second Party's customers, on account of or in any way due to such bags. First Party will receive, condition, and store return shipments of Second Party's bags in the same manner as First Party handles its own bags. First Party will furnish monthly to Second Party, a memorandum of the count and the worthless bags thrown out.

10. First Party shall not be liable for any loss or damage to materials or products warehoused by it for Second Party, except for failure to insure the same with reasonable promptness after the same came into its possession and except to the extent that it shall have received compensation under its insurance policies or otherwise for loss or damage to such materials or products. First Party shall be required to exercise only ordinary and reasonable care in the manufacturing and preparing for shipment the products
10825 to be manufactured by it for Second Party, under this agreement, and shall not be liable to Second Party or to any of Second Party's customers for any defects in materials manufactured by it or for any failure to deliver, nor any delay in delivery of any materials or products manufactured or warehoused by it for Second Party hereunder, unless the same shall have been caused by the willful misconduct or gross negligence of First Party's officers, agents, servants or employees.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have caused these presents to be signed in their corporate names by their respective Presidents and their respective corporate seals to be affixed hereto and attested by their respective Secretaries, the day and year first above written.

AGREEMENT made in duplicate this 1st day of September, 1932, by and between UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY, an Illinois corporation having its principal office and place of business at Chicago, Illinois, hereinafter called the First Party, and CERTAIN-TEED PRODUCTS CORPORATION, a Maryland corporation having its principal office and place of business in New York City, New York, hereinafter called the Second Party,

WHEREIN THE PARTIES HERETO AGREE AS FOLLOWS:

1. First Party agrees to sell to Second Party and Second Party agrees to purchase from First Party all the Second Party's needs and requirements for sale to its customers in the states of Florida, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Alabama, eastern Tennessee and such other states or parts of states in southeastern United States as Second Party may elect, of the following products, at the following prices:

f.o.b. cars Plasterco, Virginia (the above prices based 10830 upon average cost of manufacture in 1931 at Plas-terco, Virginia); provided, however, that at the end of each calendar year during the whole or any part of which this contract is in force, the First Party shall determine the average mill cost per ton to First Party on cars Plasterco, Virginia, of each of the above plaster products shipped to Second Party or Second Party's customers during the calendar year last past, and if such cost of any plaster product or products exceeds the average mill cost of such plaster products to First Party on cars Plasterco, Virginia, for the base year 1931, the Second Party will pay to the First Party the difference in cost per ton on all such plaster products purchased hereunder during the calendar year just completed, and if such cost is less than the average mill cost for the base year 1931, First Party will pay the Second Party the difference in cost per ton on all such plaster products purchased during such calendar year; provided, further, that whenever the cost per M square feet to First Party of any of said plaster board or wall board products exceeds 66⅔ per cent of the price quoted herein, the price to the Second Party of such products during the period such cost so exceeds 66⅔ per cent of the quoted price, shall be the price quoted herein plus the difference between the cost and 66⅔ per cent of the quoted price, until such time as the cost is equal to or lower than 66⅔ per cent of the quoted price, at which time the price to the Second Party shall again be the price herein 10831 quoted; provided further, Second Party may purchase or acquire elsewhere than from First Party, trowel finish plaster, plaster board or wall board to fill orders from customers in said territory for carload shipments of either of such products.

Cost as used herein shall mean the total mill cost of the product on cars at the mill, in accordance with the method of computing such costs now employed by the First Party, exclusive of depreciation and of the cost of sacks or crating.

The word ton, wherever used in this contract, shall mean a net ton of two thousand (2000) pounds.

2. All plaster products sold hereunder shall be manufactured by First Party in accordance with formulas furnished by Second Party from time to time, and if no formula is furnished, according to the standard practices of the First Party. The word formula as used herein shall be construed only to mean that the Second Party shall have the right to specify the quantities of such ingredients as fiber, lime, clay, talc and similar materials which are added to stucco in order to produce the abovementioned plasters, having such varying characteristics as will suit the requirements of Second Party's customers, and to specify the setting time of such wall plaster, such setting time to be regulated by the First Party by variations in the amount of retarder added to such plasters during mixing. First Party shall not be responsible either to Second Party or Second Party's customers for the quality or performance of any plaster manufactured according to formula furnished by second party.

3. All paper sacks shall be furnished by the First Party at an additional cost to the Second Party of One Dollar ($1.00) for each ton of plaster shipped in paper sacks. Such paper sacks shall be printed with such labels and branding marks as the Second Party may from time to time designate, and shall be of the same type and quality as is or shall be at the time regularly used by the First Party.

All crating of wall board or plaster board products shall be done by the First Party at an extra cost to the Second Party of Five Dollars ($5.00) per M square feet, but shall be done only when directed by the Second Party.

All jute or cloth sacks shall be furnished by the Second Party and shall be in good condition when received. First Party shall not be responsible or liable either to Second Party or Second Party's customers for the condition of any jute or cloth sacks in which shipment is made. First Party will receive, condition and store all return shipments of Second Party's jute or cloth sacks in the same manner as it handles its own jute or cloth sacks, and will furnish Second Party, each month, a memorandum of account of the number of jute or cloth sacks received and the worthless sacks thrown out.

4. All shipments made hereunder by the First Party shall be made to the Second Party or the Second Party's customers, routed as Second Party shall direct, upon the written order of the Second Party, and all shipments shall be handled with the same promptness and efficiency as First Party handles its own shipments. First Party will invoice Second Party each month for all products shipped either to Second Party or Second Party's customers during the preceding calendar month, and for all paper sacks, crating or other charges or expenses for which Second Party may be liable, and all such invoices shall be paid by the Second Party net, in cash, within ten (10) days after invoicing. Upon the failure at any time on the part of the Second Party to pay promptly any bill rendered by the First Party to the Second Party for products sold Second Party hereunder, or for any charges payable under this contract when the same are due and payable, First Party may withhold any and all further shipments or deliveries to Second Party or on Second Party's account, until payment in full is made, and if any such bills are not paid within a period of thirty (30) days after the same are due and payable, then the First Party may at its option terminate this agreement, with or without notice to the Second Party, provided that any such termination shall be without prejudice to any claim of either party against the 10834 other arising out of any breach of or failure to perform this agreement occurring prior to such termination.

First Party shall not compile and turn over to its Sales Department any sales data, customers' names or prices the knowledge of which is received by the First Party by reason of the sales and shipments made hereunder.

5. Second Party may, at its option, ship to First Party's plant at Plasterco, Virginia, any products manufactured by Second Party at any of its mills and required in mixed car shipments with products sold hereunder, and First Party agrees to warehouse all such products for the Second Party at a cost of One Dollar ($1.00) per ton. All such products so warehoused shall be insured by the Second Party at its own expense, and First Party shall not be liable to Second Party for the loss, damage or destruction of any warehoused stocks except where grossly negligent in the handling thereof.

6. In the event the First Party shall for any reason whatsoever cease to manufacture the above products or any of them at its mill at Plasterco, Virginia, First Party will promptly notify Second Party thereof and will present to Second Party immediately thereafter a new schedule of prices f.o.b. cars its mill closest to Plasterco, manufacturing such product or products, covering the products the manufacture of which at Plasterco, Virginia, has 10835 been stopped, and Second Party may thereupon elect to accept such schedules or ship from other sources until the manufacture of such product or products is resumed by First Party at Plasterco, Virginia. Such new schedule of prices shall bear approximately the same relation to cost of manufacture at the new mill as the prices herein stated bear to the cost of manufacture at Plasterco, if accepted by Second Party, and shall become a part of this contract the same as if originally set forth herein, in place of the schedule of prices f.o.b. cars Plasterco, Virginia, as long as any such products are not manufactured at Plasterco, Virginia; provided, however, that if the First Party permanently ceases to manufacture any such product or products at Plasterco, Virginia, and notifies the Second Party of that fact, Second Party may, at its option, cancel this contract with reference to any such product or products, the contract to remain in full force, however, as to all products which First Party continues to manufacture at Plasterco, Virginia.

7. In case either the First or Second Party shall at any time become bankrupt or insolvent or any bankruptcy or insolvency proceedings shall at any time be instituted against either party, or any proceedings shall be instituted for the appointment of a receiver or trustee for the 10836 assets, business or property of either the First Party or the Second Party, or any assignment shall be made by either the First Party or the Second Party for the benefit of creditors, then in any or either of such events the other party hereto may cancel this agreement by giving written notice of cancelation. This agreement may also be canceled by either party in case the other party shall at any time be guilty of a breach of any of the terms or conditions hereof. In case of a waiver of a breach of any of the terms and conditions of this agreement by either of the parties hereto, the same shall not constitute a waiver of any other or subsequent breach hereof.

8. First Party shall not be liable to Second Party for any failure to ship or delay in shipment of any order by reason of strikes, floods, shortage of cars, or any other cause or reason beyond the control of the First Party, whether or not of a class or kind specifically mentioned herein, and during the period of such delay the Second Party may purchase its requirements of the above products elsewhere until such time as First Party can resume regular shipments.

9. Any and all notices required to be served by the First Party upon the Second Party may be served by mailing a copy of such notice, registered mail, postage prepaid, addressed to the Second Party at New York City, New 10837 York, and any and all notices required to be served by the Second Party upon the First Party may be served by mailing a copy of such notice, registered mail, postage prepaid, addressed to the First Party at 300 West Adams Street, Chicago, Illinois, and such mailing of notice shall in each case be deemed to be proper service of notice hereunder.

10. This agreement shall become effective on the date hereof and shall remain in force to and including December 31, 1937, and from year to year thereafter, provided, however, that this agreement may be terminated by either party hereto at any time during the term hereof by giving the other party sixty (60) days' prior written notice of cancelation, and at the end of sixty (60) days from the service of such notice of cancelation this agreement shall become terminated without any further notice or act.

11. This contract shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the respective successors and assigns of the parties hereto, but may not voluntarily be assigned by Second Party and shall not inure to the benefit of any successor without the consent of the First Party in writing first had and obtained.

12. That certain agreement bearing date July 1, 1932, between the parties hereto, under the terms of which 10838 First Party agreed to sell and Second Party agreed to buy all Second Party's needs and requirements of the said gypsum products for sale to its customers in the said states, has been and is hereby terminated and canceled.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have hereunto set their Hands and Seals the day and year first above written.

10839 Government's Exhibit No. 277

AGREEMENT made in duplicate this 15th day of January, 1936, by and between UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY, an Illinois corporation having its principal office and place of business at Chicago, Illinois, hereinafter called "Seller", and CERTAIN-TEED PRODUCTS CORPORATION, a Maryland corporation having its principal office and place of business at New York City, New York, hereinafter called "Buyer", wherein the parties hereto agree as follows:

(1) Seller agrees to manufacture for and sell to Buyer, and Buyer agrees to purchase from Seller, f.o.b. cars or trucks, Laramie, Wyoming, at the prices and subject to the terms and conditions hereinafter stated, Buyer's entire requirements of the products listed below for shipment to its customers from Laramie, Wyoming:

Product	Container	Price f.o.b. cars or trucks, Laramie, Wyo.
Fibered cement plaster	100# paper bags	$4.10 per ton plus cost of bags
Unfibered cement plaster	" " "	4.10 " " " " " "
Wood fibered plaster	" " "	4.50 " " " " " "

Provided, however, that the price to be paid by Buyer for each product listed above is based on the average cost of manufacture of such product per ton f.o.b. cars at 10840 Seller's Laramie, Wyoming, plant in the calendar year 1935 (exclusive of bags). At the end of each calendar year during the whole or any part of which this contract is in force and upon the effective date of termination, if termination becomes effective during any such year, Seller shall determine for such year or part thereof during which the contract is in force, the average cost of manufacture per ton f.o.b. cars (exclusive of bags) of each such product at such mill; and if the average cost of manufacture per ton as so determined exceeds the average cost of manufacture per ton of such product in the base year 1935, then the price to be paid by Buyer for each ton delivered to Buyer hereunder during such year or part year shall be increased by the amount of such excess per ton; and if the average cost of manufacture per ton as so determined is less than the average cost of manufacture of such product during the base year 1935, then the price to be paid by Buyer for each ton delivered to Buyer hereunder during such year or part year shall be decreased by the amount per ton by which such cost is less than the average cost for the base year 1935. Such adjustment shall be made within sixty (60) days after the end of such year or the effective date of termination, as the case may be. "Cost", as used herein, shall mean the total mill cost of the product on cars or trucks at the mill in accordance with the method of computing such cost now employed by Seller, and 10841 shall include, without limitation, cost of packing and other preparation for shipment, formula cost, compensation insurance, fire insurance, payroll taxes and taxes on material inventory, but shall exclude depreciation, interest on investment, fire insurance and taxes on plant and equipment, and depletion of supplies of raw material. Buyer hereby grants to Seller the right to remove from its gypsite beds at Laramie, Wyoming, all gypsite required to manufacture products above listed, without charge, cost or other expense to Seller, but Seller shall not be required to use gypsite taken or removed from Buyer's gypsite deposits at Laramie, Wyoming, and in the event that during any calendar year or part thereof Seller uses, in the manufacture of products hereunder for Buyer, any gypsite from its own gypsite deposits, Buyer shall, within sixty (60) days after the end of such calendar year, or, if this contract is terminated during any calendar year, then on or before the effective date of termination, compensate Seller for such quantities of Seller's gypsite so used during such calendar year or part thereof at the rate of three cents (3¢) per ton; provided, however, that Buyer may at its option, in lieu of making the aforesaid payment and in full discharge thereof, convey to Seller by general warranty deed, within the time aforesaid, unimproved real estate, free and clear of all defects, liens and encumbrances whatsoever and located adjacent to gypsite deposits then owned by Sel-

10842 ler at Laramie, Wyoming, and containing a quantity of gypsite useable in the manufacture of wall plaster at least equal to the quantity so used by Seller during such calendar year or part thereof; but before such option may be exercised by Buyer, Buyer shall submit to Seller a description of the real estate intended to be so conveyed, and evidence of title thereto in Buyer, free and clear of all liens, defects and encumbrances whatsoever, and that all taxes then assessed thereon have been paid in full, and Seller shall have ten (10) days after receipt thereof to notify Buyer of any objections to the title of Buyer; and upon any such conveyance to Seller, real estate taxes for any period extending both before and after the date of conveyance shall be pro-rated between the parties hereto; provided, further, that if the parties hereto shall at any time or times agree upon some other period of time within which such payments or conveyances shall be made, then such payments or conveyances shall be made within the period of time so agreed upon. Seller agrees that any gypsite removed from Buyer's deposits at Laramie shall be removed in good and workmanlike manner, without unnecessary waste or damage thereto; and Buyer agrees that Seller shall not be liable for any loss, costs or damages suffered or sustained by Buyer by reason of Seller's removing gypsite from Buyer's property or the manner of removing such gypsite, except such as results directly from the gross negligence of Seller.

10843 (2) Seller agrees to stock at its warehouse at Laramie, Wyoming, a reasonable supply of the products listed in Exhibit A attached hereto and made a part hereof; and Seller agrees to sell to Buyer and Buyer agrees to purchase from Seller f.o.b. Laramie, Wyoming, Buyer's entire requirements of products listed in said Exhibit A for shipment to its customers in mixed cars or L.C.L. quantities in cars or trucks from Laramie, Wyoming, at the prices and in the quantities stated in said Exhibit A;

Provided, however, that Seller shall have the right to revise, amend, add to or detract from the said Exhibit A and the products and prices named therein at any time upon giving the Buyer written notice thereof; and Provided, further, that Seller shall not be required to stock any such products for Buyer beyond twenty-five percent (25%) of the capacity of Seller's present warehouse.

(3) All products delivered hereunder shall be of the same grade and quality as like products manufactured by Seller for sale to its own dealer trade from its Laramie, Wyoming, mill; provided, however, that Buyer may from time to time spec y the formulas to be used by Seller in the manufacture of any or all of the products listed in Paragraph (1) hereof, and all such products for which Buyer has specified the formula shall be manufactured by 10844 Seller according to Buyer's formula and with materials of quality equal to those used by Seller at its Laramie, Wyoming, mill in the manufacture of similar products for sale to its own dealer trade and otherwise according to standard practices in the industry for the manufacture of similar products. The word "formula" as used herein shall be construed to mean only that Buyer shall have the right to specify quantities of ingredients such as fiber, lime, clay, talc, and similar materials which are added to stucco in order to produce wall plaster and to specify the setting time of such wall plaster, such setting time to be regulated by variations in the amount of retarder added to such products during mixing. Seller shall not be responsible either to Buyer or Buyer's customers for the quality or performance of any products listed in Paragraph One (1), unless it wilfully fails to follow formulas furnished by Buyer or to use materials of the same grade and quality used in its own formulas. All products listed in Exhibit A shall be manufactured by Seller according to Seller's standard formulas and specifications for manufacturing such products for sale to its own trade.

(4) All shipments made hereunder shall be made to Buyer or Buyer's customers upon Buyer's written order, and routed as Buyer shall designate, and all shipments shall be made with the same promptness and efficiency
10845 as Seller handles its own shipments. Seller agrees that sales data, customers' names, prices, etc., pertaining to Buyer's business will not be compiled and turned over to Seller's sales department. Seller will invoice Buyer each month for all products shipped on Buyer's orders during the preceding calendar month and all invoices shall be paid by Buyer net in cash within ten (10) days after date of invoice.

In the event Buyer shall fail at any time to promptly pay any bill rendered by Seller for products delivered hereunder or for any charges payable by Buyer under this contract when the same are due and payable, Seller may withhold any and all further shipments or deliveries to Buyer or its customers until payment is made in full, and if any such invoices or charges are not paid within a period of thirty (30) days after the same are due and payable, then Seller may at its option, at any time thereafter while such invoices or charges are unpaid, terminate this agreement by giving Buyer written notice thereof, such termination to become effective on the date stated in the notice, which shall not be less than forty-eight (48) hours after the giving of such notice.

(5) All paper bags required hereunder for the shipment of the products listed in Paragraph One (1) hereof shall be furnished by Seller, shall be of the same quality used by Seller for its own like trade, and shall be printed with such labels or brands as Buyer may from time to time des-10846 ignate; provided, however, that in the event Buyer at any time changes its labels or branding marks it shall first use up or pay for at cost all bags then on hand bearing the labels or branding marks which are being discontinued. The words "plus price of bags", as used in Paragraph One (1) hereof shall mean a price, to be fixed by Seller, which shall not in any case exceed the price Buyer would have had to pay for bags of the same type and quality delivered Laramie, Wyoming, at the time of the use thereof.

In the event any claim is made by Seller or by any third party that any labels or branding marks used by Buyer in connection with the sale of any of the aforesaid products infringe or conflict with the labels or branding marks of Seller or others, Buyer shall upon notice change its labels or branding marks to such labels and branding marks as do not in any way infringe or conflict with the labels or branding marks of others. And Buyer agrees in such event to purchase and pay for at Seller's cost all bags bearing the labels or branding marks complained of.

(6) Upon termination of this contract by lapse of time or otherwise, the purchase price of all such products theretofore shipped to Buyer or Buyer's customers shall become immediately due and payable, and Buyer agrees to accept delivery of and pay for all bags then in Seller's 10847 hands, bearing Buyer's labels or branding marks. After the effective date of termination of this contract by lapse of time or otherwise, Seller shall not be obligated to make any further shipments of any of the aforesaid products, but no termination of this contract by lapse of time or otherwise shall relieve Buyer of the payment of any amounts of money due at that time for shipments previously made or for bags then on hand bearing Buyer's labels or branding marks.

(7) In case either party hereto shall at any time be adjudicated bankrupt or insolvent by a court of competent jurisdiction, or any assignment shall be made of the assets of either party for the benefit of creditors, then in either of such events, the other party may cancel this agreement by giving written notice of cancelation within thirty (30) days after the happening of such event has come to the notice or knowledge of such party.

(8) Any and all notices to be served hereunder by Seller upon Buyer may be served by mailing a copy thereof, postage prepaid, registered mail, addressed to Buyer at 100 East 42nd Street, New York City, New York; and any and all notices required to be served hereunder by Buyer upon Seller may be served by mailing a copy thereof, postage prepaid, registered mail, addressed to Seller at 300 West 10848 Adams Street, Chicago, Illinois; and such mailing of notice shall constitute proper service of notice hereunder.

(9) This agreement shall become effective on May 1, 1936, and shall remain in full force and effect to and including April 30,1941; provided, however, that either party may terminate this agreement at any time by giving the other party at least sixty (60) days' prior written notice of termination.

(10) This agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the respective successors and assigns of the parties hereto, but may not be voluntarily assigned by either party hereto without the consent of the other party first had and obtained, and upon any assignment hereof by operation of law, this contract may be canceled by the other party with or without notice.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF the parties hereto have hereunto set their hands and seals the day and year first above written.

LICENSE AGREEMENT

THIS AGREEMENT, executed in duplicate this ——— day of ———————, A. D. 1929, by and between the UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY, an Illinois corporation of Chicago, Illinois, hereinafter referred to as "Licensor," and ———————, a ——————— corporation, of ———————, ———————, hereinafter referred to as "Licensee,"

WITNESSETH, THAT

WHEREAS, Licensor is the owner of all rights in and to an application for United States Letters Patent filed by Carlisle K. Roos, entitled "CEMENTITIOUS MATERIAL," now pending in the United States Patent Office and covering the process of forming a cellular product through the formation of a tenacious foam and mixing the foam with a cementitious material, and has heretofore acquired the sole and exclusive rights in the United States of America (when gypsum is used as the main binding material) in that certain application for United States Letters Patent filed by Erik Christian Bayer, entitled "METHODS OF

MANUFACTURING POROUS BUILDING MATERIALS" and relating to a process similar to that of said Roos application; and

WHEREAS, Licensee desires the right to manufacture and sell gypsum plasterboard and gypsum wallboard made by said processes described in said Roos and Bayer applications,

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the sum of one dollar and other good and valuable considerations, receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto do hereby agree as follows, to-wit:

1. Licensor agrees to disclose to Licensee all information and formulae which it now has or may obtain 10851 covering the process of making a cellular product through the formation of a tenacious foam and mixing the foam with cementitious material insofar as the same is or may be applied to gypsum, including all information and formulae for the manufacture of gypsum plasterboard and gypsum wallboard with such cellular product, together with a description of the machine or machines which it now has for making the same. It will assist Licensee to make its plant ready for the manufacture of said gypsum plasterboard and gypsum wallboard by furnishing to Licensee the advice and instruction of Licensor's experts and information with respect to the purchase and cost of said machines and appliances.

2. Licensor has agreed to and does hereby grant and give unto Licensee an indivisible and non-exclusive right, license and privilege of using the processes and/or inventions set forth and claimed in said Roos and Bayer applications for letters patent of the United States and in any patent or patents granted for or upon either of said applications, for the manufacture of gypsum plasterboard and gypsum wallboard at the plant or factory now owned and/or operated by Licensee at ————————, in the State of ————————, and at any other plant or factory which may hereafter be owned or operated by Licensee in the United States of America, and of manufacturing at said plants or factories, selling and using in the United States of America and the territories and possessions thereof gypsum plasterboard or gypsum wallboard embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in said applications for letters patent or in any patent or patents granted for or upon either of said applications for the full term of any such patent or patents.

10852 It is expressly understood and agreed that the indivisible and non-exclusive right, license and privilege aforesaid is granted upon condition that the Licensor shall have, and it hereby reserves, the right to determine and fix at any time, and to change from time to time during the existence of said license but commencing with the date when a patent or patents shall have been granted or issued for or upon either of said applications the minimum price or prices at which the Licensee shall sell any gypsum plasterboard or gypsum wallboard manufactured by Licensee and embodying the improvements set forth and claimed in any such patent or patents, and in case Licensor shall exercise the right so reserved, it shall first serve written notice of its intention so to do upon Licensee accompanied with a statement of the minimum price or prices at which the Licensee shall sell said patented product, and thereafter shall give to the Licensee written or telegraphic notice of any change in such price or prices, and the Licensee expressly covenants and agrees that it will not at any time during the term of any such patent or patents, so long as this agreement shall continue in force and effect, and after the receipt of such notice, directly or indirectly, sell or offer for sale any gypsum plasterboard or gypsum wallboard embodying the improvements set forth and claimed in any such patent or patents at a price or prices less than that stated by the Licensor in said notice or in any such written or telegraphic notice of a change in such price or prices.

3. Licensee agrees to pay to Licensor for the said disclosures, information and assistance and the agree-10853 ments of Licensor herein contained, and for the right, license and privilege of manufacturing and selling gypsum plasterboard and/or gypsum wallboard, and of using the processes for the manufacture of the same, embodying the inventions set forth and claimed in said applications for letters patent and in any and all letters patent which may be granted or issued for or upon either of said applications, an amount, hereinafter for convenience referred to as a license fee or royalty, equivalent to one per cent. (1%) of Licensee's selling price (not less, however, than twenty-five cents per thousand square feet) of all gypsum pasterboard or gypsum wallboard of every kind, whether or not embodying the said processes, inventions or improvements manufactured and sold by Licensee between the date hereof and the date of the expiration of any such patent or patents, provided, however, that if no patent shall be issued or granted for or upon either the said Roos or Bayer applications within a term of two (2) years from January 1st, 1930, or from such earlier date as Licensee shall have commenced the manufacture of gypsum plasterboard and/or gypsum wallboard embodying said inventions and improvements in any of its said plants, then this agreement shall terminate at the end of said two (2) year term, and provided further that if letters patent upon final ap-10854 peal shall be denied or refused for or upon both said Roos and Bayer applications at any time within said two (2) year term, or if at any time during the existence of this license the patents granted or issued for or upon said applications upon final appeal shall have been held invalid, then this license shall thereupon become terminated and cancelled.

4. It is expressly understood and agreed that the license herein granted shall be personal to the Licensee and that the same or any right therein or thereunder shall not be sold, assigned or transferred without the written consent of the Licensor, or transferred by operation of law.

5. Licensee agrees to keep separate full and accurate books of account and records showing the exact quantity of all gypsum plasterboard and gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it, and agrees that on or before the 20th day of each and every calendar month during the term hereof it will render to Licensor true written returns, verified under oath by an officer or other agent of Licensee, setting forth the quantity of all plasterboard and gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it during the preceding calendar month, together with the price or prices at which the same was sold, such written returns to be delivered to Licensor at its office in Chicago, Illinois, and Licensee agrees to pay to Licensor on or before the 20th day of each calendar month at the office of Licensor at Chicago, Illinois, the hereinbefore stipulated royalties or license fees which may then be due under this agreement on account of all of said gypsum plasterboard and gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it during the next preceding calendar month.

6. Licensor or its authorized representative shall have the right at all reasonable times during business hours to inspect the books of account and records of Licensee referred to in the next preceding paragraph hereof, 10855 including all records of every kind, showing the quantity of said gypsum plasterboard and gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it, the price or prices at which the same was sold and to make copies thereof and memoranda therefrom, provided, however, that if at the time of any such examination Licensee shall request it in writing such examination shall be made by a certified public accountant agreed upon between the parties hereto, in which event the expense thereof shall be borne equally by both parties. If the parties at any time shall not agree upon the certified public accountant to make such examination, then Licensor shall name three certified public accountants of good standing not otherwise employed by it, and if Licensee shall not accept any one of them, then Licensor shall have the right to make said examination itself.

7. Licensee agrees that all gypsum plasterboard or gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it embodying the claims of any of said applications for letters patent shall be distinctly marked with the words "PATENT APPLIED FOR," and that upon the issuance of any patent under or upon said applications for letters patent that all gypsum plasterboard or gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by Licensee embodying the claims of any such patents shall be distinctly marked with the word "PATENTED" together with the numbers of such patents. Licensee further agrees to mark said gypsum plasterboard or gypsum wallboard with the words "LICENSED UNDER PENDING APPLICATIONS FOR LETTERS PATENT" prior to the issuance of any patent thereupon, and "LICENSED UNDER THE ABOVE LETTERS PATENT" after the issuance of any patent or patents thereupon, which markings shall be plainly visible.

8. Having regard for the fact that there are or may be certain manufacturers of plaster or gypsum products, jobbers, or other wholesale distributors of such 10856 products who do not or may not manufacture gypsum wallboard or gypsum plasterboard but who desire or may desire to have the same manufactured for them, it is understood and agreed that if Licensee shall manufacture gypsum wallboard or gypsum plasterboard embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in said applications for letters patent for any such other manufacturer, jobber or other wholesale distributor the said license fee or royalty to be paid to the Licensor, as hereinbefore provided, shall be based upon all gypsum wallboard or plasterboard, whether or not the same shall embody the said improvements or inventions, manufactured for and sold and invoiced to such other manufacturer, jobber or other wholesale distributor, and upon the regular selling price of Licensee of such gypsum plasterboard or gypsum wallboard to its regular dealer trade at the time of such sale and invoice, and shall not be based upon the price at which the same is sold and invoiced by Licensee to such other manufacturer, jobber or other wholesale distributor, and provided further that after a patent or patents shall have been granted or issued upon either of said applications Licensee shall first obtain the written consent of Licensor to the sale of any such patented product to any such other manufacturer, jobber or other wholesale distributor. Nothing hereinbefore contained in this agreement shall be construed to give Licensee the right to manufacture gypsum plasterboard or gypsum wallboard embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in said applications for letters patent or in any patent or patents granted or issued for or upon either of said applications for other manufacturers, jobbers or wholesale distributors of such products, or to sell the same to such other manufacturers, jobbers or wholesale distributors, after the issuance of any patent for or upon either 10857 of said applications, without the written consent of Licensor.

9. The Licensee covenants and agrees that all of said gypsum plasterboard and gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it embodying the said improvements or inventions and commonly known in the trade as seconds shall be plainly invoiced as seconds and shall be plainly marked with a visible red stamp or label firmly fixed on each of said boards showing the word "SECONDS" in letters at least three inches in height.

10. As one of the considerations for the indivisible and non-exclusive license herein and hereby granted, Licensee hereby acknowledges the validity of any letters patent which may be granted or issued for or upon either of said applications forming the subject-matter of said license, so long as said license shall remain in full force and effect, and agrees that it will not at any time during the existence of said license, directly or indirectly, by itself, through or together with another or others, contest the validity of either or any of said letters patent or the title thereto of Licensor or question in any way the prima facie scope of either or any of said letters patent.

11. In the event that either party shall at any time neglect, fail or refuse to keep or perform any of the conditions or agreements herein to be kept by it and performed, then the other party, at its election, may serve upon the party in default written notice of intention to terminate this license, which notice shall specify the alleged neglect, failure or refusal, and if within thirty (30) days from the date of delivery of said notice the party in default shall not cure the default specified in said notice, then the other party may cancel and terminate this agreement by notifying the party in default in writing of its election so to do, without the necessity of any court action, provided, however, that neither party shall be re-10858 lieved thereby from any liability accrued at the time of such termination. In case at any time the Licensee shall be adjudged a bankrupt, then the License hereunder shall immediately be and become cancelled and terminated, but the Licensor shall not thereby be prevented from collecting all license fees or royalties accrued hereunder at the time of such termination. The waiver of any breach by either party shall not be interpreted as constituting a waiver of any further breach or breaches. Either party may specifically enforce this contract or any of the terms, conditions and covenants thereof by injunction or in such other manner as may be provided by law.

12. Any notice to be given under the terms hereof may be served by the Licensor or the Licensee by mailing the same to the Licensor or Licensee, postage prepaid, addressed to it at its last known principal office, and the deposit of any such notice in the United States mails, postage prepaid and so addressed, shall constitute service of notice hereunder.

13. It is understood and agreed that if at any time during the term hereof the Licensee shall in the judgment of the Licensor suffer substantial detriment by reason of any infringement upon the part of any person or persons of the said patents, whether now or hereafter issued, under which this license is granted, the Licensor will afford the Licensee such reasonable protection as in the judgment of the Licensor shall be necessary or proper.

In case the Licensor shall grant to any other person any license under said patents for the manufacture and sale of plasterboard or gypsum wallboard embodying the said inventions or improvements or any right under any such license, upon terms more favorable than those granted hereunder to this Licensee then it will grant to 10859 this Licensee a license on the same terms or extend to it the same right granted to any such other person.

14. The terms "gypsum plasterboard" and "gypsum wallboard" shall be understood to mean all board made of gypsum by whatever name called having the structural characteristics of gypsum plasterboard or gypsum wallboard, irrespective of the purpose for which the same may be sold or used, and shall include gypsum laths and all other gypsum boards.

15. Licensor agrees at any time during the term hereof to extend to Licensee upon its written request an indivisible and non-exclusive license or privilege to use said inventions or improvements for the manufacture in its said plants of any other gypsum product not specifically covered by this agreement and in which the Licensor shall use the same in its own manufacture, and to sell the same upon the payment to Licensor of one per cent. (1%) of the selling price of Licensee (not more, however, than twenty-five cents per thousand square feet where the same applies) of all such other products whether or not embodying the said inventions or improvements, manufactured and sold by Licensee, and upon the same terms as set forth herein and subject to all of the conditions hereof, in which event there shall be substituted for the words "plasterboard and/or gypsum wallboard" the name of such other product or products, and the words "not less than twenty-five cents per thousand square feet" wherever used shall be eliminated unless said other product is sold by the square foot as in the case of plasterboard or gypsum wallboard. Upon the request of Licensee as aforesaid, an agreement containing all of said terms and conditions shall be reduced to writing and signed by both parties before the same shall become effective, but Licensor shall at all times be obligated to execute the same.

16. If at any time after the expiration of five (5) years from the date any patent shall have been granted 10860 or issued for or upon either of said applications, there shall have been invented or come into use any process for the manufacture of gypsum products which shall make the said cellular product obsolete or shall displace the same and the Licensor shall abandon the use of the same in whole or in part in its own manufacture, then Licensee, upon thirty (30) days' written notice to Licensor, shall have the right to cancel and terminate this license or any such other license, as in paragraph 15 hereof contained, to the extent that the Licensor shall have abandoned the use of said cellular product in its own manufacture, provided, however, that if any such partial abandonment by Licensor shall consist of manufacturing and selling any plasterboard or gypsum wallboard without the use of said cellular product therein, then the amount to be paid by Licensee hereunder shall be reduced by one per cent. (1%) of the selling price of Licensee (not less, however, than twenty-five cents per thousand square feet) of any plasterboard or gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by Licensee without the use of said cellular product, or if such partial abandonment shall consist of manufacturing and selling any other product covered by any license issued under paragraph 15 hereof without the use of said cellular product therein, then the amount to be paid by Licensee thereunder shall be reduced by one per cent. (1%) of the selling price of Licensee (not less, however, than twenty-five cents per thousand square feet thereof, where such term applies) of the same product manufactured and sold by Licensee without the use of said cellular product therein, and this license or such other license shall in all other respects remain in full force and 10861 effect.

17. If the Licensor shall at any time during the existence of this agreement, make or obtain any improvement of the inventions set forth and claimed in either of said Roos or Bayer applications or make or obtain any new or improved method of forming or making cellular products, then so long as the Licensee shall continue to pay the license fee or royalties hereinbefore stipulated, the right, license or privilege herein or in any such other license, as in paragraph 15 hereof contained, shall be extended to and include the use of such improvement and/or new or improved method, for the manufacture of gypsum plasterboard or gypsum wallboard or other gypsum product covered by such other license, and selling and using said gypsum plasterboard and gypsum wallboard or other gypsum product embodying said improvement and/or new and improved method, subject to all of the terms and conditions hereinbefore contained, except only that Licensee shall not be required to pay any additional sum, royalty or license fee therefor. It is further understood that if a patent or patents shall be granted or issued upon any such improvement and/or new or improved method, then all the provisions of this agreement as well as the provisions of paragraph 2 hereof reserving the right in Licensor to determine and fix at any time and to change from time to time the minimum price or prices at which Licensee shall sell any gypsum plasterboard or gypsum wallboard manufactured by Licensee and embodying the improvements set forth and claimed in any patent or patents granted or issued for or upon either of said first two applications, shall apply to the improvements and inventions claimed or set forth in any patent or patents granted or issued for or upon any such improvement and/or new or improved method.

10862 18. This license and all of the covenants and agreements hereof shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the successors and assigns of the parties hereto, but nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to permit an assignment hereof by the Licensee, except as hereinabove specifically provided.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF the parties hereto have caused these presents to be signed by their respective presidents, attested by their respective secretaries and their corporate seals to be hereunto affixed in duplicate the day and year first above written.

MR. SEWALL L. AVERY, President

DEAR MR. AVERY:

I have delayed my reply to your letter of May 16 relative to wallboard seconds until I could check for myself the facts as they apply to our business here in New England. As you saw from our statement to you covering April wallboard sales, they were certainly not of sufficient size to be a disturbing factor in any market. This question of wallboard seconds, however, we have considered seriously, and as you may have heard from Mr. Henning, the matter was discussed in Buffalo at a meeting of wallboard manufacturers operating under the license agreement. We concurred with the general opinion that selling seconds in certain markets was undesirable to all concerned and, consequently, we have restricted our wallboard seconds sales to such territory as might absorb them with least disturbance to the trade in general. We do not sell seconds in the Metropolitan area of Boston but we have sold them in Maine and other outlying districts.

Our policy is to sell as few seconds anywhere as is possible under our circumstances, and to cut up seconds stock to sell as plaster lath. You, of course, appreciate the situation we are in at this time in getting a new wallboard plant running smoothly. Seconds will run at a much higher percentage during this period than they should later on. If any of our friendly competitors would like to show us how to eliminate seconds in our manufacture, we should be delighted to receive their advice.

It seems to me each wallboard manufacturer must have some outlet for his #2 board. This outlet is logically in territory fairly near his plant as this reduced price commodity cannot bear much freight. Here in New England we are hoping to be able to accomplish that same result and dispose of our necessary seconds output with as little damage to established markets as is possible. This, 10864 of course, is primarily a selfish viewpoint on our part but I can readily see why adherence to this will benefit the industry as a whole as well as it should benefit our own company.

I wish to thank you especially for your advice in this matter and to assure you that it is much appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

WILLARD P. FULLER,

Enclosed is a form of the bundle license, fully executed by us and ready for your signature. There is also enclosed for your consideration and comment a first outline of the suggested bubble system license.

I have found no suitable opportunity heretofore to express appreciation for your active and successful cooperation in the settlement of our patent litigation. I assure you that this has been a decided benefit in relieving the industry of its legal mess, which should be and is greatly valued by all those affected.

Yours very truly,

DEAR MR. AVERY:

Thank you for your letter of May 29, with enclosures of the bundle license contract in duplicate and the outline for the bubble system license. We will act on both these matters promptly.

Thank you also for your expression in regard to the now happily completed settlement of the patent litigation in the wallboard field. Whatever we have done has been based on a sincere, even if self-interested, desire to help in eliminating from a fundamentally good industry in which we have a moderate part the elements of litigation and controversy that have been so largely responsible for our recent troubles.

Please pardon my delay in acknowledging the receipt of your letter of 12 July. I have been almost continually out of town, and have had no opportunity to reply to your letter.

Mr. Fuller, Mr. Channing and I are planning to arrive in Chicago on Wednesday. We shall stop either at the University Club or at the Palmer House.

If you can conveniently arrange to do so, it might be advantageous for you and all concerned, for you to be there that day so that we may talk over the Foam Board contract in advance of the meeting to be held on Thursday.

I have just received your letter of August 8 enclosing your memorandum covering the meeting of wallboard manufacturers in Chicago August 6. This is a sound presentation of the case and makes it unnecessary for me to write one for our records here, as I shall use your copy. Thank you for sending it.

I expect to be in Montreal two days this next week, probably the 14th and 15th. The following week I am starting on quite a trip and will probably take Mrs. Fuller with me. I plan to be in New York, the 21st; Ottawa, the 22nd; Montreal, the 23rd; and then on to Nova Scotia for about a week's stay there, getting back to Boston about the first of September.

What is the possibility of connecting with you at some point on this trip, preferably in New York?

Mr. Fuller being in Nova Scotia, I am a little out of touch with the board situation in Chicago. About all I know is that the meeting which was scheduled for last Thursday was called off because of some difference between your Company and the Universal Gypsum & Lime Company, and that it was expected a meeting might be held this week.

I should appreciate very much if you would let me know promptly the present state of affairs in regard to the getting together of the various manufacturers for signing up the combination bubble starch patent, stating what is holding this matter up and what in your opinion is likely to be the eventual outcome.

At the last meeting of the board licensees I was asked by Mr. Henning exactly how Leon H. Fleming was remunerated by F. B. Lawton, Inc. You will recall that some time ago the Board Survey Company asked us about Fleming's remuneration and that I replied that Fleming was an employee of F. B. Lawton, Inc.

They raise the question again now because it is felt that the requirement concerning the remuneration of salesmen of gypsum wallboard and/or gypsum plasterboard of paying a commission applies not only to the manufacturer who makes the board, but also to any selling agency employed by that manufacturer.

The question which was asked about Fleming is also asked about the salesmen of the Oakfield Gypsum Products Corp. and the Structural Gypsum Corp. both of which companies purchase board from Kelley.

The licensor feels that he has a right to demand that salesmen employed by such companies as Structural, Oakfield, F. B. Lawton, Inc., Tomkins-Rockwall Corp., etc. should not receive their remuneration on a commission basis. This seems to me to be fair for it would be foolish to exact this rule for manufacturers in their direct selling and not to imply the same rule to manufacturers' selling agents.

It is my belief that Fleming is not paid on a commission basis unless some very recent changes have been made by Lawton. This being the case, I should like to be able to inform the licensor of the method used by Lawton if this be agreeable to you.

To MR. L. I. NEALE

From W. P. FULLER

Subject Aluminum Back Gypsum Board

1. We have been considering this matter, and, although favorably inclined to the idea of taking a license from U.S.G. on the Alfol patents when and if we do put out this sort of product, are not yet ready to act. You can pass this on to U.S.G.

2. For your own information, there is another group of patents that may make a more desirable license set-up. The costs of manufacturing equipment, quality and range of products, etc. are factors to be determined.

3. The time element also comes in. A lot of work and money have got to be spent getting this type of product accepted in volume. I would rather see U. S. G. and National bear the brunt of this work, and hop on when the bus is running. Where we are sure a license will be available to us when we want to go in, we need only watch any sales handicap to us by not having the product to offer with our present lines. When and if this handicap hurts us more than making the necessary expenditures in plant and promotion, we shall probably go in.

4. Offhand, the primary objection I see in the license U.S.G. offers is that it is restricted to gypsum plasterboards. Perhaps this is all they have to offer in their control of the Alfol patents. The best product may come as an insulating or structural board, not necessarily gypsum, with the aluminum treatment. I would want to be sure U.S.G. includes in their license to us all the rights they have from their license covering the Alfol patents.

Subject NICKEL-PLATED GYPSUM LATH

Before Willard left for England via New York, we discussed the necessity of our carrying in stock aluminum foil lath. Willard thinks we can temporarily buy this either from the U.S.G. or National Companies and later make it ourselves if conditions warrant. Willard expected to talk with Henning before he sailed, but if he did not do so, asked me to take this matter up with you and have you talk with either Henning or Baker.

The U.S.G. here in Boston is very decent in selling Tile Board to us, not stamped with their name. If we could buy unlabeled Nickel-Plated Lath it would be fine.

I think it very important that we should secure some of this lath at once, and would like to carry a carload of it in Portsmouth stock. We have had several requests for it, the most important being from Kesseli & Morse of Worcester, who want a few thousand feet and will buy a mixed car from National, unless we can supply it.

Please let me hear from you.

NEAT PLASTER IN METROPOLITAN NEW YORK

This memorandum is being written so that upon your return from Bermuda you may have before you a picture of what has occurred during your absence in reference to the price situation on neat plaster in metropolitan New York.

On 29 February the American Cyanamid Company sent a letter to dealers in metropolitan New York (this comprises Manhattan, Bronx, Kings, Queens, Richmond, Nassau, Suffolk and Westchester Counties) stating that after 1 March they would take no contracts for specific jobs, and that on 1 April the price of neat plaster, concrete bonding plaster and sanded plaster would be raised 25¢ per ton. U.S.G. followed with a similar announcement to the trade a few days thereafter. No other company followed. This plan, as you can readily guess, was put forward by Cyanamid with the knowledge of U.S.G.,—no one else was taken into their confidence.

This plan to raise prices was utterly worthless for two reasons; (1) it was not fair; (2) it was impracticable. It was not fair because Cyanamid and U.S.G. have signed a great many specific job contracts at the $7.50 price. We have signed very few, and Ebsary, so far as I am able to determine, has signed very few. Under the plan as soon as the price of $7.75 became effective, all of the contracts which Cyanamid and U.S.G. has signed would be validated. So long as the price of Ebsary, ourselves and other gypsum companies remains at $7.50, the specific job contracts of Cyanamid and U. S. G. taken at that price are hardly worth the paper they are written on, because dealers would be free to buy any brand of plaster at the contract price. With the validating of their contracts by raising the price 25¢ these two companies, particularly Cyanamid, would have a virtual monopoly on all of the business in New York. Because competition being so keen between dealers no dealer could afford to pay even 25¢ a ton more.

The plan was impracticable because it made no provision for any protection of specific jobs after 1 March. C. F. H. has told me that he did not feel that it was possible for the gypsum industry to get away from giving protection and that this was a really fundamental 10882 principle of his company. This being so, it was utterly absurd to make a statement to the trade that protection would not be taken at any price after 1 March. Furthermore, at the time of putting forth this plan, no provision whatsoever had been made for reporting specific job contracts or policing them.

Ebsary would have nothing whatsoever to do with this plan and definitely stated to the trade that they would not follow: When I was in Chicago the week before last I went over this whole situation thoroughly with C. F. H. and pointed out to him that the plan was not really a plan at all and contained no element which would insure its success in raising the price. You may recall that some months ago Fred Ebsary advanced the idea that a small raise of 25 or 50¢ would be a good idea provided that there was no protection at all. He did not say it would be a good idea if there was a tremendous amount of protection at $7.50 in the files of gypsum companies. Therefore the plan did not follow Ebsary's idea of a small raise at a time.

I also pointed out to C. F. H. how unfair such a plan as this was to companies which had no or very little coverage.

After the adjournment of the Gypsum Association meeting in Chicago there was held a meeting of the directors of the old Gypsum Statistical Institute which is still in existence although it has not been operating for a couple of years. The purpose of the meeting which was called at the request of C. F. H. was to set the machinery of the Institute in operation again and to use the personnel of the Association for this purpose. The idea back of it was to provide some means for reporting specific job contracts in the New York area. You may have forgotten but you were a member of the Board of Directors of the Gypsum Statistical Institute and as there has been no election since the last meeting held, which I believe was in the early part of 1933, you would still be a director because no successor has been elected. A waiver of notice of the meeting was past around to those who were present and you may or may not, after we talk the matter over upon your return, wish to sign the waiver.

10883 Last Tuesday C. F. H. was in New York (primarily for the purpose of taking over the Asbestos Company out in the Newark flats) and while here I put up to him a plan which I felt at least had the chance of working and which on the whole was fair to all concerned. It is not an original plan, because I have taken a leaf out of the book of the Ohio Finishing Lime Producers. It is this: that after some predetermined future date specific job contracts shall only be taken at a certain price. The price I had in mind was $9.00,—and the price for stock requirements of dealers should not be changed at this time at all. In other words, after 1 April specific job contracts should be protected only at $9.00. All companies should immediately report to the Gypsum Statistical Institute their outstanding contracts at $7.50 and at some later date, maybe three months or six months when these contracts have been cleaned up or nearly cleaned up, then the market price for stock requirements could be raised up to the level of $9.00 at which specific job contracts had been signed up.

By this program you will see that an end would be put to taking any more contracts at $7.50 and an incentive would be given to all companies to clean up their $7.50 contracts as quickly as possible in order to get the increased price. As a result of this talk the following day the U.S.G. put a notice out to the trade to the effect that after 1 April they would take specific job contracts only at $8.50 per ton, and that there would be no change in the price of stock requirements. In other words, they accepted the plan but felt that a dollar raise was better than $1.50 which I had in mind. I followed the U.S.G. with a letter to the trade two days later, copy of which is enclosed.

This is where the situation stands at the present time. Ebsary himself has just returned from the south and has not made up his mind whether he will follow or not. It is my guess that the plan would appeal to him but that he would want some agency for receiving reports on the protected jobs and the checking of these jobs other than the personnel of the Gypsum Association. I am afraid that tying the Gypsum Statistical Institute, of which Ebsary is still a member, up to the Gypsum Association will not appeal to him. This remains to be seen.

10884 At any rate, here is at least an attempt to set up something that will give us an increase in price of $1.00 at some future date, which is better than having nothing at all operative or even in mind. If the plan works, and like every other plan its working would depend upon mutual confidence and a mutual will to make it work, it will be at least six months before we can hope to raise the market price for stock deliveries.

GENTLEMEN:

Re: Non-Exclusive License to Manufacture Metallized Gypsum Board

The agreement submitted wherein the United States Gypsum Company proposes to license National Gypsum Company to manufacture, use and sell plaster board having a metallized surface embodying certain inventions set forth in the patents and applications set forth in Schedule "A" attached to said agreement, has been reviewed by me.

In my opinion, the agreement is satisfactory, save in the following respects:

1. Paragraph 9 of the proposed agreement is unreasonable in respect to the payment for examination of Licensee's books, and I would suggest and strongly urge that the last sentence of paragraph 9 of the proposed agreement be revised to read as follows:

   "Gypsum Company shall have the right to make copies of any such records and make memoranda therefrom, provided that if, at the time of such examination, Licensee shall so request, such examination shall be made by a certified public accountant satisfactory to Gypsum Company, in which event the expense of such examination by said certified public accountant shall be borne equally by both parties."

2. Paragraph 10 of the proposed agreement is quite unnecessary, and casts upon the Licensee a great administrative burden. The report is of no consequence to the Licensor as a regular report. If the Licensor desires such information from time to time, it has the right to examine the books of the Licensee and obtain such data. I am informed that this subject has given no trouble in the Gypsum Board Agreement and I 10888 see no reason for placing the additional burden upon the Licensee in order to get the information regarding the amount of board manufactured having a metallized surface. I therefore recommend the elimination of the first clause in paragraph 10 and a limitation of the report to be made to the total amount of plaster board having a metallized surface sold by Licensee during the preceding calendar month, together with the prices at which said board is sold, etc.

I further recommend that the report should be called for on the 20th of each month, instead of the 15th day, in order that this agreement will coincide with the wallboard and dry insulation agreements under which the Licensee now makes reports which are due on the 20th day of each month.

3. Paragraph 11 also contains a covenant which seems to be unreasonable and unwarranted. Licensee is asked to covenant that it will not manufacture board with a metallized surface, except pursuant to bona fide sales thereof. I agree that no goods should be manufactured to be sent out on consignment, but that situation can be covered very acceptably without compelling Licensee to agree that nothing will be manufactured except pursuant to bona fide sales made thereof. The paragraph as now written would prevent the Licensee from manufacturing for experimental purposes and for warehouse stock. The text referring to manufacturing should be omitted from the paragraph.

4. Paragraph 13 as written in the proposed agreement should be stricken out and a paragraph substantially as follows should be substituted:

"The Licensee hereby agrees as one of the considerations for the indivisible and non-exclusive rights, licenses and privileges herein and hereby granted, that the Licensee will not during the life of this agreement, dispute the validity of any patent or patents, under which it is hereby licensed, nor aid others in doing so. But, in the event that any such patent, under which Licensee is licensed, is held invalid or of limited construc-10889 tion by a court of competent jurisdiction from whose decision no appeal is or can be taken, then the Licensee shall have the right to make, use or vend the structure so held to be outside of the scope of said patent rights, free and clear of the terms of this agreement."

5. The proposed agreement gives no protection to the Licensee, in the event of suits brought by others against the National Gypsum Company or any other Licensee for infringement. Some protection must be had and I therefore suggest that a clause be added substantially as follows:

"That the Licensor shall indemnify the Licensee against any and all actions, suits, claims, demands, or prosecutions, that may be brought or instituted, against the Licensee, and, also, against all damages, costs and expenses, including attorney's and counsel fees; that the Licensee may pay, or incur, or become liable for, in defending, or compromising, the same, or any of them, in consequence of making and/or selling the aforesaid patented article. The Licensee agrees to give prompt notice of any suit or action which shall be brought against it and thereupon if the Licensor shall desire to conduct the defense of such suit, the Licensor shall have the right to do so, but the Licensee shall have the right in such event to be represented in such suit by counsel of its own selection."

There are many other minor objections to the agreement as proposed, but I assume from our conversation that in the interest of harmony in the Industry, that you did not desire to have me make any objection to any matters contained in the proposed agreement, which are not, in my opinion, of major importance.

I believe that if the agreement is amended as suggested above, that the National Gypsum Company will obtain the rights and privileges it desires to manufacture gypsum board having a metallized surface.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) ELMER E. FINCK

DEAR ARTHUR:-

I talked to Mel this morning and he tells me that we did not effect any change in that paragraph on the foil license that had to do with protection against suit but we accepted the paragraph substantially as U.S.G. had written it.

DEAR RALPH:

Many thanks for your favor of the 17th inst., advising that you were not able to have the particular paragraph in the foil license changed; and in the same mail with your letter there arrived a communication from Charlie Henning, stating why they could not change this clause. We are, therefore, replying to Mr. Henning's letter, advising that we are ready to sign the contract.

DEAR SIR:

Our price on Neat Plaster for the City of Cleveland is $8.00 per ton, exclusive of sacks, f.o.b. Port Clinton, and our rate is $2.20 per ton. Our shipments of Neat Plaster to Cleveland are in paper sacks.

It is my understanding the other Gypsum Companies operating in Cleveland are quoting this same price, and I hope you will find it convenient to use this same figure for any quotations to dealers in Cleveland.

Will you favor me with your advice as to how you feel about this?

DEAR CHARLEY:

Replying to your favor of the 14th inst., regarding the report from your salesman on the National Housewrecking Company, North Belmont Avenue, Springfield, Ohio, we wish to advise that your letter, making the price on Seconds the same as Firsts, was dated April 7th, and we sent out our notices to the trade April 8th. Our salesman took an order on April 11th, from the National Housewrecking Company, Springfield, Ohio, for 9500 feet of Seconds—as he understood they were committed for this amount—shipment of the same to be made on April 20th. This is the last shipment of Seconds we have made to these people, and we have not offered to sell them any more Seconds since the date of the above transaction.

In support of the above transaction, I am enclosing our salesman's order. From the above facts you will see that the stock that the National Housewrecking Company has at present, of our Board, is old stock from the shipment of April.

Our salesmen are not offering any Seconds to the trade, neither are they giving our customers to understand that we will supply them with any more Seconds.

We wish to thank your salesman for the compliment paid our Board when he stated they look like Firsts, as this is the first time any one ever paid our Seconds such a compliment.

Yours very truly,

"OLD FORT DRUMMOND"

SUNDAY, SEPT. 26th.

Dear Jim—

Yours of Sept. 20th, containing copy of suggested "License Agreement" reached me yesterday. I also received letter from Charles Miller relating to this subject.

I will give the document careful reading, but I feel certain that I will be unable to get much, if any, satisfaction out of it.

It looks to me that while the Chicago people are doing much talking about the "good to the industry", they are at the same time trying to scalp us, or hope to get our entire hide or at least wing us.

It will be interesting to know what Jno. A. K. thinks about the whole matter and the position he will take when conclusion must be reached.

We will close up the cabin by Tuesday next and go to Detour, will remain there a couple of days and return home by rail by the way of the Soo.

Mrs. Davis is fine and sends kindest regards to yourself and Mrs. McCrady.

Yours truly,

MR. J. B. DAVIS,

MY DEAR J. B.:

Was certainly pleased to receive your letter of the 9th and to note from the same that you were relieved of your hay fever on Lake Huron. Hope that it is gone for the Season.

Am also pleased to note that Mrs. Davis is well and that you have Warren and his family with you. I sincerely hope that the trip will do Mrs. Warren Davis much good. From the description of her troubles I can readily realize that anything that can help to build her up will be a great blessing.

Spent Monday and Tuesday of this week in Chicago with J. H. and F. J. We had sessions on Monday with our Attorneys, Bill Shearer, Mr. Avery and the Universal Company's Patent attorney. On Tuesday we had another long session with Mr. Avery. The things that have developed at these sessions will come up at the next meeting, but I can tell you briefly that we are in for a ten years' contract on practically the terms that were outlined in the original contract. A few things have been modified, but the most objectionable things plus the payments stand. On the present rate of business this will amount to about $75,000.00 per year for the next three years and a total of about $187,000.00 for the following seven years, beside the cash payment of $50,000.00. There is also no assurance that this agreement can stabalize the market after the expiration of three years. It is a long-headed, well thought out plan on the part of the U. S. G. to tie up the various Companies to the payment of quite a sum of money each year for a period of years without in any way tying them to anything.

We have one alternative and that is to refuse to put our signature on the dotted line and fight the cases which are now pending. If we lose we will be at the mercy of the Master to whom the matter of the question of damages will be referred and in addition to that take a chance on the U. S. Company refusing to license us to do business for the balance of term of the Utzman patents.

I asked Attorney Pool for an absolutely frank statement as to what he thought our chances were in the two cases now pending. He stated promptly that he thought we would win in the Utzman case, because we are not infringing these patents, but he had his doubts about the Birdsey case and he figured that the Attorneys for the U. S. Company would undoubtedly ask the Courts to try the Birdsey case first, as they know this is their strongest case. If this procedure was followed the longest delay that we could get before a decision was rendered would be one and a half to two years. It would mean that we would have one and a half to two years that we could manufacture if they won the case and then we would have to make open edge board until the Utzman patent expires.

Griswold reports business continuing good and is again quite enthusiastic over proposed mergers and combinations that he says are forming. It seems this subject cannot be gotten out of his system.

Both Mrs. Miller and the writer extend best wishes to the Davis families and we hope that your stay at "Old Fort Drummond" will be exceedingly pleasant.

Yours very truly,

C. F.

MR. S. L. AVERY, President,
United States Gypsum Company,
300 West Adams Street,
Chicago, Ill.

DEAR MR. AVERY:

Referring to your recent letter on the subject of bundling Gypsum Lath, will say that we are anxious to do what the Industry does so as to have a uniform product and help the development of the business. As far as I know, our plan of bundling has been meeting our requirements, but I am hoping that your own plan will be a much better one and afford an economy which would also justify its use.

I have felt that the license should not forbid a development of better conditions, so your License Contract tying a Licensee down to using it over a period of seventeen years regardless of any improvements that might be developed by you or others, seems doubtful business for all of us as we all want to develop economies and improvements from time to time. If we should find an improvement we would be glad to offer it to yourselves, or the trade, and if others should find improvements we would hope for such cooperation and to be allowed to take advantage of such development. I feel confident that you will approve of these ideas and am asking our office here to re-draw the license plan covering this feature and forward it with this letter. I will not be here to look it over as I am leaving on the Idler for a couple of days at West Point during the Commencement exercises there.

I hope you had a delightful visit at Greenwich, and with regards, I am

Very truly yours,

President.

FOR NEW YORK DATE 3/13/36 FROM CHICAGO OFFICE

ATTENTION OF MR. I. WHITTEMORE, V. P. SUBJECT PERFORATED GYPSUM LATH

ANSWERING YOURS 3/5 to Mr. Van Hagan DICTATED BY WARREN HENLEY - M

cc-Mr. C. O. Brown, V. P. - New York
Mr. H. H. Van Hagan - Buffalo

Your memo. of above reference, and as well Mr. Van Hagan's reply of March 7:

On March 11, '36, Mr. Henning called a conference of licensees. Those present were:

Messrs.	Henning	- U. S. G.
	Sadler	- "
	Neale	- Atlantic Gypsum
	Black	- American Gypsum
	Burley	- National Gypsum
	Price	- Counsel
	Van Hagan	- Certain-teed
	Henley	- "

FILED NOV - 1935 CHARLES L. STEWART, CLERK

Item No. Assay

Mr. Henning presented their position in respect to subject matter, as follows:

1. As announced February 19, '36, they propose to place this material on the market on or about April 1, '36.

2. They were willing to license on a basis of 10¢ per M sq. ft.

3. Propose to set a minimum price of $15.25 per M f.o.b. mill.

4. Estimated cost of production-15¢ per M sq. ft.

5. Were willing to supply such companies as accept a licenke, with perforated lath on the usual discount basis (12 1/2%), pending installation of equipment by such licensee.

6. Standard size - 3/8" thickness - 16"x48" - bundled.

The following objections were expressed to the proposed procedure (above outlined).

1. Altogether too short a time for proper consideration not only of patent situation, royalty asked, production difficulties, but also the effect on present Gypsum Lath market.

2. Royalty of 10¢ per M was too high in view of low selling price. Consensus of opinion was that present royalty now being paid covering "foam", "starch" and "bundling" was ample and, therefore, no additional royalty should be paid for the perforated feature.

3. Consensus of opinion was that selling price should at least carry $1.00 per M premium, i.e., $16.00 mill, inasmuch as perforated lath would be competitive with metal lath and adaptable to fireproof construction in the better class of homes. It was thought advisable to introduce this product carrying at least $1.00 per M premium rather than disturb the entire Lath market involving an approximate footage of 300,000,000 feet for the year 1936.

4. Comment was made that Bureau of Standards' test covered partition construction only (not ceiling) and the plaster used was "Neat" and two to one "Sanded" — neither of which plasters are generally used by the trade. Mr. Henning stated that his company had made ceiling tests in their own laboratories and found same to be satisfactory. A suggestion was made that Bureau of Standards should test perforated lath for ceilings and as well use the "usual" type of plaster available.

5. Comment was made that mechanical key lath (including perforated) had been used on the Pacific Coast for the past twenty years, such as "Key Hold", "Button Lath" and "Lock Lath".

6. Comment was made that present status not only on perforated but regular wallboard does not apply to West Coast producers and there is no license arrangement in effect.

In conclusion, Mr. Henning stated that he would discuss with his management this entire situation and advise later; however, there was no commitment to prevent their placing this material on the market around the first of April, as originally planned.

Mr. Van Hagan attended this conference and is present during the writing of this memo. We outline below our general comments and as well affirmative and negative sides of the questions.

GENERAL: — Perforated Lath will weigh less — thus having a freight advantage. Disadvantage is that Lath will require about 5% additional plaster. Marketing of this product would require additional lath stocks by dealers. They now carry 5/16"; 3/8" and Metallized, together with various widths and lengths.

IN FAVOR OF LICENSE:

(a) Would permit our use of present fire test data — (over one hour fire rating) thus avoiding expense of tests which would be required if we proceeded to manufacture our own design of perforated lath.

(b) Licensor would assume the responsibility for any litigation either in sustaining their patent or because of alleged infringement of Makowski ("Key Hold") owned by Paraffine.

(c) Avoid our own patent investigation and opinion expense.

(d) Secure production on our own machines more rapidly.

(e) Avoid sales resistance on non-tested product.

(f) Save development expense on manufacturing equipment, etc.

(g) Strengthening of license arrangement.

(h) Proposed increase in selling price to cover royalty and extra manufacturing cost.

10903 AGAINST LICENSE:

(a) In accepting, we recognize a very flimsy (in our opinion) patent.

(b) Payment of royalty for life of patent of 10¢ per M.

(c) Royalties now paid seem ample to cover questionable patent situation on the perforated feature.

(d) The general market trend is toward lower lath prices to meet wood lath competition, thus narrowing margin of profit. Therefore feel that the $1.00 per M or the 25¢ per M premium suggested would not necessarily be maintained for any definite length of time.

(e) In our opinion, any form of perforated lath (similar to that used on West Coast) would be acceptable for general home use.

CONCLUSION:

Mr. Van Hagan and I have discussed this matter and feel that any conference we might have with Mr. Henning (at this time) would be unwise and would tend to weaken the position generally taken by licensees at the conference. However, I will plan on seeing Mr. Henning on other matters next week, and if no statement has been issued by that time I will informally undertake to discuss this situation further and advise all concerned.

In further reference my memo. March 23, above subject: Have just discussed subject matter with Mr. Burley of National Gypsum Company and outline below their definite feeling in the matter:

1. Are of the opinion that patent is very weak.

2. To use Burley's expression, they feel U.S.G. have a lot of "crust" in asking a 10¢ per M royalty.

3. National's Patent Attorney has advised them to go ahead and manufacture a Perforated Lath with, however, a different size hole and, perhaps, staggered as to location.

4. Burley stated that U.S.G.'s alleged patent on Standard "X" had been thrown out. Further, that U.S.G. some time ago claimed to have a patent involving a certain type of edge (to prevent calcination in drying) and National proceeded to manufacture a similar type without, however, receiving any notice to "desist" from U.S.G.; in fact, received a phone message requesting National to change slightly the color of their edge in order that same would not conflict in appearance with U.S.G.'s type of edge.

5. Burley is definitely of the opinion that U.S.G. will not take an alleged infringement (involving Perforated Lath) into court, inasmuch as it would involve probably all of their patents and there might arise some serious question as to the validity of U.S.G.'s patent position and the question would arise as to whether or not same were used as a "vehicle" for price control purposes.

6. Burley felt that Certain-teed having stepped out and developed "Plastisized Plaster" and as well "Twin Mounted" Board were, in the opinion of the trade, an independent concern and not necessarily tied to U.S.G.'s apron strings and, therefore, it was his opinion that our accepting a license on Perforated Lath would put us back where we started, i.e., dependent on U. S. G. for the development of new Gypsum products.

7. Mr. Burley stated that they had already ordered, some three or four weeks ago, a drilling machine to perforate lath, at a cost of some $2500., and same should be installed very shortly at their Clarence Center, New York plant. Mr. Burley stated that they would be willing to furnish us Perforated Lath, provided we would stand our share of the subsequent litigation, if any. In his opinion, no such litigation will develop and he further advised that if Certainteed, Atlantic and National stood firm on this proposition and refused to accept a license that a "pooling" of the three interests and a three-way division of the expense, both in development and necessary tests at Bureau of Standards, would be very helpful under the circumstances, and would, no doubt, bring about a change in U.S.G.'s position, 10905 and would also permit of accepting a license from U.S.G. without any additional royalty, other than what is now paid on our present Lath production.

I asked Mr. Burley to give Mr. Van Hagan the "high points" of our conversation. I also suggest that this memo. be retained in your personal files.

Friday, March 20, discussed subject matter with Mr. Henning of Licensor most informally; however, Mr. Henning stated that he had discussed this situation with Mr. Avery after Licensee Conference, March 11, and it was their opinion that they would proceed to market subject material in accordance with the policy originally announced - February 19, inasmuch as they felt their patent position "good".

It is my personal opinion, from the informal discussion held with Mr. Henning, that they are "bluffing" but in either event it is my recommendation that we promptly develop a perforated Gypsum Lath incorporating 1 1/2" hole, same to be staggered along lines suggested by Mr. VanHagan when he was last in Chicago.

The nailing device which Mr. VanHagan showed us would be well to develop also but in my opinion it will not be as "acceptable" as the Perforated Lath, inasmuch as we would have this additional item to sell; same would have to be stocked at each of our plants and it would require an additional package to be furnished along with each shipment taking a different freight classification, etc. etc.

Mr. Cowan and I have discussed this matter and he concurs in the above recommendation.

DEAR MR. KEADY:

In accordance with our phone conversation, will you kindly advise in respect to the payment made by us of royalty during the period — May 2, 1938 to September 1, 1938, — this in the amount of $480.07.

You will recall that as licensor you discontinued the 25¢ per M premium as of May 2, 1938, and shortly thereafter Mr. Baumhogger requested the immediate discontinuance of royalty payments as of the date above mentioned.

You will also recall that the writer discussed this situation with you in respect to the elimination of premium, particularly in view of the definite verbal commitment on the part of Mr. Henning that licensor would undertake to maintain a 25¢ per M differential for perforated over plain.

You are, of course, also familiar with the fact that competitive companies have not paid from the beginning and are not now paying the 10¢ per M royalty, and we, therefore, request payment for the amount above mentioned.

Hoping you will give this mattter your favorable consideration and letting us hear from you by early mail, we remain, Answering yours of March 1st.

Without going into the details of whether we can make as much money as, or more than, Beaver Board on Open Edge Gypsum Board, I should like to comment on some of the broader aspects of this situation.

When the plan of taking over The Beaver Board Companies came up and I called your attention to the complicated situation in that company, the strongest argument advanced by you for taking over these properties was the fact that if we made our company a larger and stronger concern, it would put us in a better position to obtain peace in all divisions of our business, and that if we stood still and remained in a "weakened" position tradewise, we might suffer serious consequences, if the price situation should become bad on all sides. Discussions were had at the time in which the sentiment and the policy seemed to be one of conciliation and a desire for peace in all divisions of our business, and enlargement of our company would be a means towards that end, according to the theory discussed at that time.

It seems to me then, and it seems to me now, that size, while important, would not of itself bring about the desired peace, but that in order to attain this goal it would be necessary for us to do a certain amount of giving as well as taking. I feel, therefore, that in the matter of the U. S. Gypsum suit, we should not too readily be willing to enter into a long and costly war, when at the same time we are engaged in battle in the floor covering division, and when the price situation in the roofing division is in such a demoralized state as it is. I believe that in order to preserve outstanding and position we should do a little more than average giving to obtain peace in the gypsum division of our business, and rather than go into a war and a long, drawn-out suit, I would strongly favor taking over the Beaver Board License Agreement as it is, making an effort, however, to limit the application of the License Agreement to the Beaver Board plants. I think it is a far more serious situation to go into such a fight right after the consummation of a deal of this kind, and find it necessary to reduce or omit dividends on Common Stock, than if this condition were brought about in the company as it now stands. I think it is a poor policy, furthermore, to enter into a three-cornered fight and have to wage war on three enemies at the same time, and think that we should have peace in at least one of our divisions while we are making war on the others.

We would pay royalties at the higher rate only up to August 1929, and from that point on the 1½% isn't large enough to make any difference one way or the other to us. The cost of a legal and trade war undoubtedly would be far in excess of the royalties we would pay.

UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY, a corporation, Complainant

v.

THE BEAVER PRODUCTS COMPANY, INC.,
THE BEAVER BOARD COMPANIES, and CERTAIN-TEED PRODUCTS CORPORATION, Defendants

BILL OF COMPLAINT

To the Honorable Judges of Said Court:

The United States Gypsum Company, a corporation organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Illinois, brings this, its bill of complaint, against The Beaver Products Company, Inc., The Beaver Board Companies, and the Certain-teed Products Corporation, and respectfully shows unto your Honors as follows:

1. That the United States Gypsum Company is a corporation duly incorporated and existing under the laws of the State of Illinois, with its principal office and place of business in Chicago, Illinois, and a citizen and resident of the State of Illinois; that The Beaver Products Company, Inc. is a corporation duly incorporated and existing under the laws of the State of New York, with its principal office and place of business in the Town of Tonawanda, Erie County, in the State of New York, and a citizen and resident of the State of New York and of the Western District of New York; that The Beaver Board Companies is 10913 a corporation duly incorporated and existing under the laws of the State of Delaware, with its principal office and place of business in the City of Wilmington in the State of Delaware, and a citizen and resident of the State of Delaware; that Certain-teed Products Corporation is a corporation duly incorporated and existing under the laws of the State of Maryland, with its principal office and place of business in Baltimore, Maryland, and a citizen and resident of the State of Maryland; that the matter in controversy herein exceeds, exclusive of interest and costs, the sum or value of Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000.00).

2. That on or about the 26th day of June, 1911, Clarence W. Utzman was the original and sole inventor and discoverer of a new and useful improved method of manufacturing plaster board as well as the product of said method, not known or used by others in this country or elsewhere before his invention or discovery thereof and not theretofore patented; that so being the original and sole inventor thereof the said Clarence W. Utzman made due application according to law on, to-wit: the 26th day of June, 1911, for Letters Patent of the United States therefor, and thereafter by written instrument duly filed in the United States Patent Office, all right, title and interest in and to said invention and in any Letters Patent granted therefor was duly assigned by the said Clarence W. Utzman to the United States Gypsum Company, a New Jersey corporation, with its principal office and place of business in the City of Chicago, State of Illinois; that thereafter and on to-wit: the 11th day of June, 1912, upon said application and in conformity to law and in accordance with said assignment, Letters Patent of the United States of America dated June 11, 1912, numbered 1,029,328, were duly granted, issued and delivered to the said United States Gypsum Company, whereby there was granted and secured to it, its successors and assigns, for a term of seventeen years from and after the 11th day of June, 1912 the exclusive right to 10914 employ said method in the manufacture of plaster board throughout the United States and territories thereof and to practice the said invention and discovery aforesaid, a description whereof was given in the schedule annexed to said Letters Patent and made a part of the same, as by reference thereto or to a duly certified copy thereof here in court to be produced and shown unto your Honors will more fully and at large appear.

3. That thereafter, upon the direction of the Commissioner of Patents, the plaster board, the product of said method, was made the subject matter of a divisional application for Letters Patent, and thereafter was in the same manner, by written instrument duly filed in the Patent Office, duly assigned by the said Clarence W. Utzman to the said United States Gypsum Company as aforesaid; that thereafter, and on to-wit: August 6, 1912, upon said divisional application, in conformity to law and in accordance with said assignment, Letters Patent of the United States of America, dated August 6, 1912, numbered 1,034,746, were duly granted, issued and delivered to the said United States Gypsum Company, whereby there was granted and secured to it, its successors and assigns, for a term of seventeen years from and after the 6th day of August, 1912, the exclusive right to make, use and vend to others, to be used throughout the United States and territories thereof, the invention and discovery of said plaster board as aforesaid, a description whereof was given in the schedule annexed to said Letters Patent and made a part of the same, as by reference thereto or to a duly certified copy thereof here in court to be produced and shown unto your Honors will more fully and at large appear.

4. That thereafter, and on to-wit: the 26th day of August, 1920, the said United States Gypsum Company, a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of New Jersey, duly changed its name under said laws to the Avery Gypsum Company; that by mesne 10915 assignment from said Avery Gypsum Company to the United States Gypsum Company, an Illinois corporation, all right, title and interest in and to said Letters Patent Number 1,029,328, granted June 11, 1912, and Number 1,034,746, granted August 6, 1912 including all right to recovery for past infringement and all rights of whatever name and nature therein and thereunder, was duly transferred to your orator, the United States Gypsum Company, an Illinois corporation having its office and principal place of business in the City of Chicago in said State of Illinois, whereby the said United States Gypsum Company acquired all right, title and interest in and to said Letters Patent and in and to all matters of interest in the suit hereinafter mentioned, including the right to conduct the same and to recover for past infringement, as by said assignment, or a duly authenticated copy thereof, here in court to be produced will more fully and at large appear.

5. That the said improvement and invention as aforesaid was and is of great utility and value, the novelty, utility and value of which had been greatly acquiesced in by the public, and that the said United States Gypsum Company, a New Jersey corporation, and your orator, the United States Gypsum Company, an Illinois corporation, have manufactured large quantities of plaster board according to said method and have extensively introduced said improved plaster board into public use at great expense and sold large quantities of the same, and that it has been favorably received by the public.

6. That the Bestwall Mfg. Company, a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of Delaware, well knowing the premises and the rights of the said United States Gypsum Company, a New Jersey corporation, under said Letters Patent, with intent to violate said rights and deprive the said United States Gypsum Company, a New Jersey corporation, of the profits and advantages thereof since the granting of the said Letters
10916 Patent and since June 11, 1912 and since August 6, 1912 and within six years prior to the commencement of the suit hereinafter more specifically mentioned, without the consent of the said United States Gypsum Company, a New Jersey corporation, at Chicago, Illinois and elsewhere throughout the United States, manufactured and sold plaster board embodying the improvements secured exclusively by the said Letters Patent 1,029,328 and 1,034,746, and continued its unauthorized manufacture and sale thereof at Chicago, Illinois and elsewhere as aforesaid, in defiance of the rights of the said United States Gypsum Company, a New Jersey corporation, as aforesaid, and that the said plaster board so manufactured and so sold by the said Bestwall Mfg. Company without any license or consent as aforesaid infringed the claims of the said Letters Patent Number 1,029,328 and Number 1,034,746, and that said infringement caused the said United States Gypsum Company, a New Jersey corporation, great damage, loss and injury; that the said Bestwall Mfg. Company made and realized large profits and advantages from its infringement of the said patents of an amount, as your orator is informed and believes and upon such information and belief so states the fact to be, in excess of One Million Dollars ($1,000,000); that notice was given to the said Bestwall Mfg. Company and to the public of the existence of said Letters Patent by marking the plaster board embodying said patented improvement since the date said Letters Patent were issued with the word "PATENTED," together with the date said Letters Patent were issued, and in addition thereto the said United States Gypsum Company, a New Jersey corporation, caused written notice to be given the said Bestwall Mfg. Company of the existence of said

Letters Patent, ownership thereof by the said United States Gypsum Company, a New Jersey corporation, and the defendant's infringement of the same, and requested 10917 the said Bestwall Mfg. Company to desist and refrain from said infringement, but that the said Bestwall Mfg. Company disregarded said notice and refused to desist from said infringement and continued to manufacture and sell in said districts and elsewhere within the United States said infringing plaster board.

7. That the said United States Gypsum Company, a New Jersey corporation, prior to the assignment of the said Letters Patent to your orator, the United States Gypsum Company, an Illinois corporation, and on to-wit: the 18th day of July, 1917, filed its amended bill of complaint in the United States District Court, Northern District of Illinois, Eastern Division, on the equity side thereof, against the said Bestwall Mfg. Company, a corporation, as defendant in a suit then pending in said United States District Court, entitled United States Gypsum Company, a corporation, complainant, v. Bestwall Mfg. Company, a corporation, defendant, in equity number 779; that in and by said amended bill of complaint all of the facts as aforesaid with respect to the making of the said invention and discovery, the application for Letters Patent thereupon, the assignment thereof to the United States Gypsum Company, a New Jersey corporation, the issuance of the said Letters Patent to the said United States Gypsum Company, and the infringement thereof by the said Bestwall Mfg. Company were fully set forth and alleged; that it was prayed in and by said amended bill of complaint that the defendant therein named should answer all and singular the allegations contained in said amended bill of complaint and should render a just and full account of all gains, profits and savings unlawfully realized by the said defendant and should be compelled by the decree of said court to pay such gains, profits and savings to complainant in said suit and pay the costs thereof and desist from further infringing complainant's rights in the premises; that it was 10918 further prayed in and by said amended bill of complaint that the court therein should grant unto complainant therein named a writ or writs of injunction perpetually restraining and enjoining the said Bestwall Mfg. Company from directly or indirectly manufacturing, using or selling any plaster board embodying the invention or discovery secured to complainant therein by said Letters

Patent Number 1,029,328 and 1,034,746, and specified in the claims thereof; that it was further prayed in and by said amended bill of complaint that upon rendering final decree therein there should be assessed, in addition to the profits to be accounted for by the said defendant therein, the damages complainant therein had sustained by reason of such infringement, and that the court should increase the actual damages so assessed to a sum equal to three times the amount of said assessment under the circumstances of the unlawful, illegal and unjust infringement by the said defendant, and that a provisional or preliminary injunction should be granted and that such other and further relief should be given as the nature of the case required and to the court seemed meet; that thereafter an answer was filed to the said amended bill of complaint by the said defendant in said suit and such proceedings were had therein that on to-wit: the 11th day of August, 1919 a decree was entered in said cause, in which said decree it was adjudged that the said defendant, Bestwall Mfg. Company, had infringed upon said Letters Patent and upon the exclusive rights of the complainant in said suit under the same; that it was further adjudged in said decree that the said complainant recover of and from the said defendant the profits, gains and advantages which the said defendant, directly or indirectly, had derived by reason of said infringement and that complainant recover of said defendant any and all damages which complainant had sustained since the 10919 date of the issue of the said two Letters Patent or should sustain by reason of said infringement in the future; that in and by said decree said cause was referred to a Master in Chancery to take and state the account of said gains, profits and advantages and to assess said damages, and it was directed thereby that a perpetual injunction issue therein enjoining the said Bestwall Mfg. Company from directly or indirectly making or causing to be made, using or causing to be used, or vending to others to be used, in any manner any plaster board containing, embodying or employing the said invention and improvements granted by said Letters Patent Number 1,034,746 and said Letters Patent Number 1,029,328, and that complainant recover of the defendant its costs and disbursements in said suit; that thereafter and on to-wit: the 4th day of September, 1919, the defendant in said suit, the Bestwall Mfg. Company, prayed and was allowed an appeal from the said decree to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit, October Term, A. D. 1919, which said appeal was duly perfected by the giving of bond and the filing of a transcript of record of said cause in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in and for the said Seventh Circuit and entitled Bestwall Mfg. Company, Appellant, v. United States Gypsum Company, Appellee, Number 2764, in said court; that thereafter such proceedings were had in the said United States Circuit Court of Appeals for said Seventh Circuit upon said appeal that after a hearing in said court said decree was, by said Court of Appeals, in all things affirmed and the mandate of said Court of Appeals so ordering was filed in the said District Court of the United States on to-wit: the 7th day of February, 1921.

8. That the invention and discovery so made by the said Utzman consisted of protecting the edge of an ordinary sheet of plaster board by extending the paper covering one side of the board and folding the same over the edge and using the plastic material thus enclosed as an adhe-10920 sive material to seal the folded edge; that prior to such discovery the edges of plaster board were left open so that, in handling, the edges were easily chipped or broken, and it was held by the said Circuit Court of Appeals that the covering for the edges of the gypsum was the heart of the discovery; that notwithstanding the character of the said invention, the said Bestwall Mfg. Company and its successor, The Beaver Products Company, Inc., subsequent to the rendition of said decree in the District Court of the United States in said patent suit, commenced the manufacture and sale of a modified form of plaster board by covering the edge of the board in the same manner that the same was covered in the board held to be an infringement of the said patents, except only that the folded edge was not carried under or over the other side of the board, but had for its purpose and did effect a protected edge by folding the paper over the edge; that such modified form was a mere makeshift on the part of the said Bestwall Mfg. Company and its successor, the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc., to avoid the effect of the said decree, and plainly constituted an infringement of the said patents; that although the said defendant, the Bestwall Mfg. Company, was then notified by the said United States Gypsum Company, a New Jersey corporation, to cease the manufacture of such modified form of infringement, nevertheless, the said Bestwall Mfg. Company, and subsequently its successor, the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc., continued to use said slightly modified form and to further infringe the said patents by the manufacture and sale thereof, in utter disregard of the rights of the said United States Gypsum Company in the premises.

9. That thereafter, and on to-wit: the 13th day of June, 1921, in said cause in equity Number 779, your orator, the United States Gypsum Company, an Illinois corporation, filed a supplemental bill in said cause as the successor and assignee of the plaintiff in said original cause
10921 as aforesaid; that it was alleged in said supplemental bill that after the filing of the said amended bill of complaint, the said defendant, the Bestwall Mfg. Company, began to manufacture, at its factory at or near the City of Grand Rapids, Michigan, and to sell at Chicago, within the aforesaid Eastern Division of the Northern District of Illinois, and elsewhere throughout the United States, a modified form of its aforesaid plaster board and by a method in the manufacture of the same slightly modified from the method and the plaster board which had been adjudged to infringe said Letters Patent by the decree of said court, and that said modified method and modified product so manufactured and sold by the said defendant was not substantially different from its aforesaid method and product which was decreed to be an infringement of said Letters Patent, and embodied the inventions described and claimed in said Letters Patent and was an infringement thereof; that it was further alleged in said supplemental bill of complaint that the said defendant therein had derived and received, and was still deriving and receiving, great gains and profits from its said modified method of manufacture and the sale of said modified form of plaster board, and that by reason thereof your orator had suffered and was suffering great loss, damage and injury; that it was further alleged in said supplemental bill of complaint that after the filing of the said amended bill and after the entry of the said decree as aforesaid, your orator's predecessor, the United States Gypsum Company, a New Jersey corporation, had changed its name to the Avery Gypsum Company, and that, by mesne assignment from said Avery Gypsum Company to your orator, the United States Gypsum Company, an Illinois corporation, all right, title and interest in and to said Letters Patent Number 1,029,328, and 1,034,746, including all rights to recover for past infringement and all rights of whatever name and nature therein and thereun-10922 der, were duly transferred and assigned to your orator, the United States Gypsum Company, an Illinois corporation, whereby the said United States Gypsum Company, an Illinois corporation, acquired all the right, title and interest in and to said Letters Patent and in and to all matters of interest in said suit, including the right to conduct the same and to recover for past infringement; that it was prayed in and by said supplemental bill of complaint that your orator, the said United States Gypsum Company, an Illinois corporation, be substituted as the plaintiff in said cause, with all the right in relation thereto formerly enjoyed by its said predecessor and that it have the benefit of the pleadings, evidence and proceedings theretofore had in said cause; that it was further prayed in and by said supplemental bill of complaint that the said modified method and modified produet of the said defendant should be decreed to infringe said Letters Patent and be subject to the provisions of said decree, and that a supplemental writ of injunction should issue enjoining and restraining the said defendant, the Bestwall Mfg. Company, from further employing the said method and from further manufacturing the modified form of said plaster board and from the use or sale of said modified product; that an answer was filed by said Bestwall Mfg. Company to the said supplemental bill denying all of the allegations thereof and averring that it began the manufacture of the plaster board and the use of the process complained of therein long prior to the aforesaid decree referred to in the said supplemental bill of complaint and prior to the hearing upon which said decree resulted, and that complainant therein had full knowledge of the use by said defendant of its new and different process and of the manufacture of its new and different plaster board, and made no claim then or thereafter, save by said supplemental bill of complaint, that defendant was thereby infringing any alleged rights of complainant or its successor 10923 in business; that it was further averred in said answer that the plaster board complained of was entirely different from that held to infringe by the aforesaid decree and that the process or method by which said plaster board was manufactured was entirely different from the process held to infringe by said decree, said process being a different invention covered by Letters Patent Number 1,348,387 granted on August 3, 1920 to M. K. Armstrong, assignor, to said defendant; that it was further averred in said answer that the said Letters Patent Number 1,029,328 and 1,034,746 and the claims thereof were so limited by prior art that neither the plaster board or the process or method made and used by the defendant infringed said patents or either of them.

10. That the said Bestwall Mfg. Company, from the time it commenced the manufacture and sale of said modified form of plaster board as aforesaid and so long as it continued in business, continued to manufacture the same at its factory at or near the City of Grand Rapids, Michigan, and to sell the same at Chicago within said Eastern Division of the Northern District of Illinois, and elsewhere throughout the United States; that said modified form was not substantially different from its aforesaid method and product which was decreed to be an infringement of said Letters Patent and embodied the invention described and claimed in said Letters Patent and was an infringement thereof; that on or about June, 1920, the capital stock of the said Bestwall Mfg. Company was acquired by the said defendant, The Beaver Board Companies, and since that time, up to the reorganization hereinafter mentioned, the said Bestwall Mfg. Company was a subsidiary, with other companies, of the said The Beaver Board Companies and was controlled and directed by the said The Beaver Board Companies, the latter being then and ever since having a regular and established place of business 10924 in the City of Chicago in said Northern District of Illinois, where acting in conjunction with its said subsidiary, the Bestwall Mfg. Company, it handled the sale of the said modified form of plaster board made by the said Bestwall Mfg. Company according to said modified method, in infringement of said Letters Patent Number 1,034,746 and 1,029,328; that after the filing of the aforesaid supplemental bill of complaint and the answer thereto, and while said cause was still pending, and on or about the 8th day of June, 1922, the said Bestwall Mfg. Company, the American Cement Plaster Company and other subsidiaries of the said The Beaver Board Companies, duly conveyed and assigned and set over unto the defendant, The Beaver Products Company, Inc., all their assets and properties of every kind and description, in consideration of which The Beaver Products Company, Inc. assumed all of the then existing debts, obligations and liabilities of every kind of the said Bestwall Mfg. Company, the American Cement Plaster Company and said other subsidiaries; that the said defendant, The Beaver Products Company, Inc., thereupon became, and is now, vested with the title to and is the true and lawful owner of the business and of all of the assets theretofore belonging to the said Bestwall Mfg. Company and said subsidiaries, and at the time of the acquisition of the same had, and now has, full knowledge and notice of said decree and of all of the proceedings theretofore had in said cause, and thereupon became liable for all of the debts and obligations of every kind theretofore incurred by its predecessors, the said Bestwall Mfg. Company, including all liabilities and obligations imposed by the force of said decree; that the said defendant, The Beaver Products Company, Inc., had at all times since the 8th day of June, 1922 and up to the 29th day of July, 1926, the date of the License agreement hereinafter more specifically mentioned, continued the opera-10925 tions of the infringing business theretofore conducted by the said Bestwall Mfg. Company and to manufacture at the plants of the Bestwall Mfg. Company and to sell at Chicago, within the Eastern Division of the Northern District of Illinois, and also at its plants in Akron, Erie County, New York, in the Western District of New York, and elsewhere throughout the United States, the same modified form of the aforesaid plaster board, and to manufacture such plaster board by the same slightly modified method of manufacture as it had been manufactured and sold by the defendant, Bestwall Mfg. Company, previous to the transfer of its said business to the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. as aforesaid, and as set forth in said supplemental bill of complaint filed in said cause Equity Number 779; that under the said plan of reorganization, pursuant to which all of the assets of the subsidiaries of the defendant, The Beaver Board Companies, including the said Bestwall Mfg. Company, were acquired by the defendant, The Beaver Products Company, Inc., the said The Beaver Board Companies has, since the 8th day of June, 1922, been the holding company of the defendant, The Beaver Products Company, Inc., owning the entire capital stock of said The Beaver Products Company, Inc., and that the said The Beaver Board Companies, acting in conjunction with the Bestwall Mfg. Company and the said defendant, The Beaver Products Company, Inc., and as the sales agency of said companies, between the said 8th day of June, 1922 and the 29th day of July, 1926, the date of said license agreement, sold in the City of Chicago, in the Northern District of Illinois, and in the City of Akron, Erie County, New York, and elsewhere throughout the United States, such modified, infringing form of plaster board made by the said Bestwall Mfg. Company and the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. as aforesaid, according to the said modified, infringing method; that the said defendant, The Beaver 10926 Board Companies, derived and received great gains and profits from the said sale of the plaster board heretofore adjuged by said court to be an infringement of the aforesaid patents, and that the said defendants, The Beaver Board Companies and The Beaver Products Company, Inc., derived and received great gains and profits from the said modified method of manufacture and sale of said modified form of plaster board by them respectively, and that by reason of such manufacture and sale thereof your orator suffered great loss, damage and injury.

11. That subsequent to the filing of said supplemental bill as aforesaid, and on to-wit: the 30th day of June, A.D. 1922, your orator filed in said cause, Equity Number 779, a second supplemental bill setting forth the acquisition of the capital stock of the said Bestwall Mfg. Company by the said The Beaver Board Companies, and the acquisition of all of the assets and plants of the said Bestwall Mfg. Company by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. and of the manufacture and sale by the said The Beaver Board Companies and the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. of the said infringing product, all as more specifically set forth in the next preceding paragraph hereof; that it was prayed in and by said second supplemental bill that the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. and the said The Beaver Board Companies be made additional parties defendant in said cause, and that complainant therein have the full benefit of the pleadings, evidence and proceedings theretofore had in said cause against the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. and the said The Beaver Board Companies; that it was further prayed in and by said second supplemental bill that the aforesaid modified method and modified product manufactured and sold by the said defendants, The Beaver Products Company, Inc. and The Beaver Board Companies, be decreed to infringe said Letters Patent and to be within the decree for an injunction and an accounting heretofore entered in said cause, and that a supplemental writ of injunction be granted against the 10927 said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. and the said The Beaver Board Companies, enjoining and restraining them from further employing the said modified method and from further manufacturing and selling the said modified form of plaster board or employing any similar method in any manner infringing the said Letters Patent Number 1,034,746 and 1,029,328; that it was further prayed in and by said second supplemental bill that the said defendants, The Beaver Products Company, Inc. and the said The Beaver Board Companies, be directed to account to your orator, the said United States Gypsum Company, an Illinois corporation, for the profits and damages resulting from the manufacture and sale by them of the products adjudged by said decree to be an infringement of the said patents and from the subsequent manufacture and sale by them of the aforesaid modified form of said plaster board; that thereafter an answer was filed by the original defendant in said cause, Equity Number 779, to the said second supplemental bill of complaint, and the said defendants, The Beaver Products Company, Inc. and The Beaver Board Companies appeared therein and also filed answers to said second supplemental bill of complaint.

12. That thereafter such proceedings were had in said cause, Equity Number 779, that a decree was entered upon said supplemental bill of complaint and said second supplemental bill of complaint on, to-wit: the 17th day of August, 1925; that it was adjudged in and by said decree that the said Letters Patent Numbers 1,029,328 and 1,034,746 were good and valid as to each and all of the claims thereof; that the United States Gypsum Company, an Illinois corporation, was the owner of said two Letters Patent and of all rights of recovery for past infringement thereof and as the successor to the said United States Gypsum Company, a New Jersey corporation, was substituted for the said original plaintiff in said cause and entitled to all of the benefits, advantages and rights of recov-10928 ery with respect to said Letters Patent as fully as though it had been the original plaintiff in said cause; that it was further adjudged in and by said decree that the defendants in said cause, Bestwall Mfg. Company, American Cement Plaster Company, The Beaver Board Companies and The Beaver Products Company, Inc. had infringed upon said patents Numbers 1,029,328 and 1,034,746 and upon each and every of the claims thereof, and upon the exclusive rights of the said United States Gypsum Company, an Illinois corporation, under said Letters Patent by manufacturing, using and selling the said so-called modified product and employing the so-called modified method charged to infringe said patents; that it was further adjudged thereby, that complainant, United States Gypsum Company, an Illinois corporation, substituted for said original complainant as aforesaid, recover from the said defendants Bestwall Mfg. Company, American Cement Plaster Company, The Beaver Board Companies and The Beaver Products Company, Inc. all profits, gains and advantages which said defendants respectively had derived, received or made by reason of said infringement, and all damages which the complainant in said cause had sustained or should sustain by reason of said infringement; that it was further adjudged in said decree that the said cause be referred to a Master in Chancery for an accounting of profits and damages due to the infringements of said patents as aforesaid, and that a perpetual injunction issue enjoining and restraining the said Bestwall Mfg. Company, American Cement Plaster Company, The Beaver Board Companies and The Beaver Products Company, Inc. from directly or indirectly making or causing to be made, using or causing to be used, or vending to others to be sold or used, the said modified form of board or any other form of board substantially the same, or causing to be used said modified method of making said modified form of board or the method employed with the mechanism described in said Armstrong patent or any method 10929 the same as, or substantially the same as, such method or form, or from otherwise infringing the said patents Numbers 1,034,746 and 1,029,328.

13. That an appeal was prayed from said decree to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit by the defendants in said cause on or about the 24th day of August, 1925, which said appeal was perfected by filing a transcript of the record in said cause in the said United States Circuit Court of Appeals to the October term, 1925 thereof; that on or about the 4th day of November, 1925, the said United States Circuit Court of Appeals granted a stay of the said accounting proceedings and of the issuance of the said injunction so ordered by the said District Court upon the filing by the said defendants of a bond in the penal sum of $1,000,000, which said bond was duly filed and said cause was then pending on appeal in the said United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit at the time of the events hereinafter more specifically set forth.

14. That thereafter and until the execution of the license agreement hereinafter mentioned, the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. and the said The Beaver Board Companies, by themselves and through their said subsidiaries, without the consent of your orator, continued to manufacture and sell said modified form of plaster board at Chicago, Illinois and elsewhere throughout the United States in defiance of the rights of your orator, which said plaster board so manufactured and sold by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. and the said The Beaver Board Companies infringed the claims of said Letters Patent Number 1,029,328 and 1,034,746, and said infringement caused your orator great damage, loss and injury; that at the time of the execution of said contract and license agreement the said The Beaver Prod-10930 ucts Company, Inc. and its said subsidiaries had manufactured and sold a large quantity of said infringing plaster board at Chicago, Illinois aforesaid, and in and from said plants at Akron, New York, Grand Rapids, Michigan, Fort Dodge, Iowa, Blue Rapids, Kansas, and elsewhere throughout the United States, consisting of upwards of 553,000,000 feet thereof at a profit of upwards of $4,000,000; that prior to the date of said license agreement and at the time of the organization of the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. as hereinabove set forth, the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. had assumed, in writing, all of the liabilities and obligations of the said Bestwall Mfg. Company, the said American Cement Plaster Company and the said other subsidiaries for or on account of the infringement of the said patents, and your orator had theretofore and on or about August 26, 1920 received from its said predecessor, the United States Gypsum Company, a New Jersey corporation, a full assignment of its said claims against the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc., the said Bestwall Mfg. Company and the said American Cement Plaster Company and said other subsidiaries of the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. and had succeeded to all of the rights of the said United States Gypsum Company, a New Jersey corporation, against the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. and said other companies, that at the time of the execution of said contract and license agreement, the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. had become liable to your orator and was indebted to it in said sum of over $4,000,000 for profits, gains and advantages derived from the manufacture and sale of said infringing plaster board and for damages sustained by your orator by reason of such wrongful infringement of its said patents.

15. That on or about the 29th day of July, 1926, the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. requested your orator to grant to it a license to manufacture and 10931 sell plaster board under said patents Numbers 1,034,746 and 1,029,328 and to enter into an agreement with it to settle said claim which your orator then had against it for past infringements of said patents; that the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. offered to pay to your orator, in settlement and discharge of its said claim and for a license to manufacture and sell under said Letters Patent, the sum of $250,000 in cash and an amount equivalent to five per cent (5%) of the selling price of all plaster board or gypsum wallboard of every kind manufactured and sold by it until the date of the expiration of said Patent Number 1,034,746 on August 6, 1929 and one and one-half per cent (1½%) of such selling price until the expiration of a certain other patent, Number 1,330,413, on February 10, 1937, owned by your orator governing the method of manufacture of plaster board; that at the time said offer was made by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. and at the time of the execution of the agreements hereinafter mentioned, it had plaster board plants for the manufacture of plaster board and gypsum wallboard located at Akron, New York, Grand Rapids, Michigan, Fort Dodge, Iowa, and Blue Rapids, Kansas, and it manufactured and sold large quantities of such plaster board, to-wit: upwards of 90,000,000 feet thereof a year; and that it then and there represented to your orator that such payments upon the sale of said plaster board until August 6, 1929 would amount to over $10,000 a month, and thereafter and until February 10, 1937, to over $3,000 a month without respect to any increase which there might be in the business of the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc.; that it was further represented to your orator by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. that it was in sound financial condition and capable of continuing in its said manufacturing business throughout the said term, and that the normal increase in its said business would net to your orator sums far in excess of the amounts hereinabove stated, and that it would continue the

tions so made by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. and induced by the same, agreed to grant the said license and to settle its said claim in payment to it by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. of $250,000 in cash and an amount equivalent to five per cent (5%) of the selling price of all plaster board or gypsum wallboard manufactured by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. until said date, August 6, 1929, and of one and one-half per cent (1½%) of such selling price until said date, February 10, 1937, throughout the full term between the date of the granting of the said license and the dates of the expiration of the said two patents on August 6, 1929 and February 10, 1937 respectively, and upon the conveyance by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc., to your orator of all Letters Patent and Applications for Letters Patent owned by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc., dealing with the subject matter of plaster board or the process or method of manufacturing plaster board, to all of which the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. then and there agreed.

16. That thereupon and on, to-wit: the 29th day of July, 1926, the agreement so made between your orator and the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. was reduced to writing and signed by them, the original of which said agreement your orator is ready to produce in court upon the hearing of this cause; that it was provided in said agreement of July 29, 1926 that your orator, the United States Gypsum Company, was the owner of the entire right, title and interest in and to and under said Letters Patent Number 1,029,328, dated June 11, 1912, for the method of manufacturing plaster board, and Number 1,034,746, dated August 6, 1912, for plaster board, 10933 and that it was also the owner of the entire right, title and interest in and to and under certain other Letters Patent and Applications for Letters Patent, a list of which was attached to said contract and marked Exhibit A and made a part thereof, among them being said Letters Patent Number 1,330,413 expiring on February 10, 1937; that it was further provided in said contract that it had been adjudged in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit in said causes hereinabove set forth, that the said Letters Patent, commonly known as the Utzman Patents Numbers 1,029,328 and 1,034,746, had been infringed by the method of manufacture and by the modified form of plaster board then being manufactured and sold by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc.; that it was admitted in and by said agreement that your orator had a substantial claim against the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. because and on account of said infringement, which was the same claim as heretofore set forth which your orator then had against said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. for the infringement of its said patents; that it was further provided in said agreement that the parties thereto had agreed to settle said claim by the payment to your orator of the sum of $250,000 in cash and an amount equivalent to five per cent (5%) of the selling price of the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. of all plaster board or gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it until August 6, 1929 and one and one-half per cent (1½%) of such selling price from August 6, 1929 to February 10, 1937, and the assignment to your orator of certain Letters Patent and Applications for Letters Patent owned by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. and more specifically set forth in Exhibit B thereto attached and made a part thereof.

17. That it was further provided in said agreement of July 29, 1926, that in consideration of the payment by
The Beaver Products Company, Inc. to your orator 10934 of the sum of $250,000 and the assignment or transfer by it to your orator of said Letters Patent described in said Exhibit B, and in consideration of the payment by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. to your orator of the amounts consisting of five per cent (5%) of the selling price of the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. of all plaster board or gypsum wallboard of every kind manufactured and sold by it between the date thereof and August 6, 1929, the date of the expiration of said Utzman Patent Number 1,034,746, and thereafter of an amount equivalent to one and one-half per cent (1½%) of such selling price until February 10, 1937, the date of the expiration of said Patent Number 1,330,413, your orator released and discharged the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc., the said The Beaver Board Companies, Bestwall Mfg. Company, American Cement Plaster Company and all subsidiary, associated or affiliated companies from all claims and demands for damages or profits which your orator then had against them for or on account of the infringement of the said Utzman patents; that it was further provided in said contract that all actions both at law and in equity then pending, arising out of, or in any way connected with, the infringement of said Utzman patents and commenced against The Beaver Products Company, Inc., The Beaver Board Companies, Bestwall Mfg. Company, American Cement Plaster Company, or any subsidiary, associated or affiliated companies of any of them were to be dismissed without further costs to either party thereto, provided that the appeal in Cause Number 3693, October Term, 1925, pending in the Circuit Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit would be so dismissed that the decree below finding that said patents were valid and had been infringed by the said defendants should stand as a final adjudication in said cause.

18. That pursuant to the terms of said agreement of July 29, 1926, a separate license was entered into between your orator and the said The Beaver Products Com-
10935 pany, Inc. bearing date the 29th day of July, 1926, the original of which said license your orator is ready to produce in court upon the hearing of this cause; that in said license it was recited that your orator was the owner of the said Utzman patents and of the said patent set forth in said Exhibit A and that it had been found and decreed by the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit in said cause, that the said Utzman patents were valid and infringed by the said defendants by reason of the making, using or selling of plaster board or gypsum wallboard having protected edges; that in and by said license the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. further admitted the validity and scope of said Utzman patents and that it had theretofore infringed upon the same and that your orator had a large and substantial claim against it for damages and profits because and on account of said infringement; that it was also recited in said license that the parties thereto had agreed to settle said claim by the payment to your orator by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. of a sum of money in cash and an amount equivalent to five per cent (5%) of the selling price of the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. of all plaster board or gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it until August 6, 1929, and one and one-half per cent (1½%) of such selling price from August 6, 1929 to February 10, 1937, and the assignment to your orator of certain Letters Patent and Applications for Letters Patent set forth in said Exhibit B, and the granting of said license by your orator.

19. That the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. became obligated, in and by said contract of July 29, 1926 and the said license agreement of even date therewith, to continue the manufacture and sale of plaster board and gypsum wallboard at its said plants throughout the 10936 full term of the said license agreement, from the date thereof, on July 29, 1926, to the date of the expiration of said Patent Number 1,330,413, on February 10, 1937, and to pay to your orator during the full term of said license, in addition to said sum of $250,000, the said amount equivalent to five per cent (5%) of the selling price of The Beaver Products Company, Inc. of all of said plaster board and gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it between July 29, 1926 and August 6, 1929, and one and one-half per cent (1½%) of such selling price of all plaster board and gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it between August 6, 1929 and February 10, 1937.

20. That it was further provided in said agreement of July 29, 1926, and in said license of even date therewith, that your orator would give and grant, and had given and granted, unto the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. an indivisible and non-exclusive right, license and privilege of using the processes and using the machines and/or inventions set forth and claimed in said Utzman patents and in any and all of said patents or applications for letters patent described in said Exhibits A and B at any and all factories owned and/or operated and controlled by said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. or any subsidiary, associated or affiliated company, and manufacturing at any such place or places, selling and using plaster board or gypsum wallboard embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in said Utzman patents and said patents and applications for letters patent described in said Exhibits A and B until the 10th day of February, 1937, the date of the expiration of said Patent Number 1,330,413.

21. That it was further expressly provided in said agreement of July 29, 1926, and in said license bearing even date therewith that The Beaver Products Company,
Inc. agreed to pay to your orator, in settlement and 10937 discharge of said claim of your orator and for the right, license and privilege of manufacturing and selling plaster board or gypsum wallboard, and for the privilege of using the processes and making and using the machines or inventions embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in said Utzman patents and in all of said patents and applications for letters patent described in said Exhibits A and B, an amount equivalent to five per cent (5%) of the selling price of the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. of all plaster board or gypsum wallboard of every kind manufactured and sold by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. between the date of said contract and August 6, 1929, the date of the expiration of said Utzman Patent Number 1,034,746, and thereafter an amount equivalent to one and one-half per cent (1½%) of the selling price of the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. of all such plaster board or gypsum wallboard from August 6, 1929 until February 10, 1937, the date of the expiration of said Patent Number 1,330,413.

22. That it was further expressly provided in said agreement of July 29, 1926, and in the said license of even date therewith that the said license was personal to the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. and that the same, or any right therein or thereunder, would not be sold, assigned or transferred without the written consent of your orator or transferred by operation of law, except that the same could be assigned to any such successor or subsidiary corporation of the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. and that in the event of the appointment of a receiver or receivers for the purpose of conserving the business and assets of the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. such receiver or receivers should succeed to all of the said Company's rights under said license and under said agreement.

23. That it was further provided in and by said agreement of July 29, 1926, and in said license of even 10938 date therewith that the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. agreed during the full term of said license to keep separate, full and accurate books of account and records showing the exact quantity of all plaster board and gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it and that it would, on or before the 20th day of each and every calendar month during said full term, render unto your orator true, written returns verified under oath by one of its officers or agents, setting forth the quantity of all of said plaster board and gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it during the preceding calendar month, together with the price or prices at which the same was sold; that such written returns would be delivered to your orator at its office in Chicago, Illinois, and that the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. would pay to your orator on or before the 20th day of each calendar month at its office in Chicago, Illinois, the said stipulated amounts under said license on account of all of said plaster board and gypsum wallboard manufactured by it during the next preceding calendar month.

24. That it was further provided in said agreement of July 29, 1926 and in said license of even date therewith, that your orator, during the full term of said license, would have the right at all reasonable times during business hours to inspect the books of account and records of the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. showing the quantity of all plaster board and gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it, and the price or prices at which the same were sold, and to make copies thereof and memoranda therefrom.

25. That it was further provided in said agreement of July 29, 1926, and in said license of even date therewith, that all plaster board or gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. embodying the claims of any of said patents would 10939 be distinctly marked with the word "PATENTED" together with the dates of the Utzman patents and the dates of any other patents which licensor may properly specify, and that in connection with the said markings it would further mark said patented product with the words, "Licensed under the above Letters Patent."

26. That it was further provided in said agreement of July 29, 1926, and in said license of even date therewith, that the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. might manufacture gypsum wallboard or plaster board embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in said Letters Patent for any other manufacturer, provided that the amount to be paid to your orator on account thereof would be based upon all gypsum wallboard or plaster board manufactured for such other manufacturer and upon the regular selling price of The Beaver Products Company, Inc. of such plaster board or gypsum wallboard to its regular dealer trade.

27. That it was further provided in said agreement of July 29, 1926, and in said license of even date therewith, that all of the patented product sold by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. and commonly known in the trade as seconds, would be plainly invoiced as seconds and plainly marked with a visible red stamp or label firmly affixed on each of said boards showing the word "Seconds" in letters at least three inches in height.

28. That it was further provided in said contract of July 29, 1926, and in said license of even date therewith, that the patented product manufactured and sold by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. under said license would include all board having a protected edge, and that it was recognized by the parties to said license that any board manufactured by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. having a protected edge was within the scope of said Utzman Patents Numbers 1,029,328 and 1,034,746; that after the expiration of said Letters Patent 10940 Number 1,034,746 and until the expiration of said Letters Patent Number 1,330,413 it was expressly agreed thereby that the patented product manufactured and sold under said license agreement would include all board having a protected edge and that all board having a protected edge was within the claims or was manufactured according to the processes or by the use of machines embodying the claims either of said Letters Patent Number 1,330,413 or of one or more of the other of said Letters Patent listed in said Exhibit A.

29. That it was further provided in said agreement of July 29, 1926, and in said license of even date therewith, that as one of the considerations for said license the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. acknowledged the validity of said Letters Patent granted and to be granted forming the subject matter of said license throughout the respective lives of said Letters Patent and agreed that it would not at any time before or after the expiration or termination of said license, directly or indirectly, through or together with another or others, contest the validity of either or any of said Letters Patent, or the title thereto of your orator or question in any way the prima facie scope of either or any of said Letters Patent or the priority, novelty or patentability of the subject matter of any of said Applications for Letters Patent.

30. That it was further provided in said agreement of July 29, 1926, and in said license of even date therewith, that if the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. should at any time neglect, fail or refuse to keep or perform any of the conditions and agreements in said license agreed by it to be kept and performed, then your orator, at its election, might serve notice upon the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. of its intention to terminate the same, that such notice should specify the alleged neglect, failure or refusal, and that if within thirty days from the date of the delivery of such notice the said The Beaver 10941 Products Company, Inc. should not give or perform the conditions and agreements specified therein, then said license and all rights acquired by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. thereunder should, at the election of your orator, become cancelled and terminated, provided that the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. in such event would not thereby be relieved from paying to your orator any license fees or royalties or any other obligations accrued under said license at the time of such termination; that it was further provided therein that in case the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. should commit any act of bankruptcy, then the said license would immediately be and become cancelled and terminated without, however, terminating the right of your orator to collect for all license fees or royalties and other obligations accrued under said contract at the time of such termination; that it was further provided therein that failure on the part of your orator to notify the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. of a breach of said license agreement or to terminate the same because of such breach would not constitute a waiver of your orator's right to terminate the same in accordance with the provisions thereof; that it was further provided therein that your orator might specifically enforce said agreement or any of the terms, conditions and covenants thereof by injunction or in such other manner as might be provided by law.

31. That it was further provided in said agreement of July 29, 1926, and in said license of even date therewith, that if at any time during the full term thereof, the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. should, in the judgment of your orator, suffer substantial detriment by reason of any infringement upon the part of any person or persons of the said patents, then you orator would afford the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. such reasonable protection as in its judgment was necessary or proper, and that in case your orator granted to any such in-10942 fringer or to any other person any license under said patents upon terms more favorable than those granted under said license of July 29, 1926, then your orator would grant to the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. a license on the same terms.

32. That it was further provided in and by said agreement of July 29, 1926, and in said license of even date therewith, that the terms "plaster board" and "gypsum wallboard" were understood to mean all board by whatever name called having the structural characteristics of plaster board or gypsum wallboard, irrespective of the purpose for which the same might be sold or used.

33. That it was further provided in said agreement of July 29, 1926, and in said license of even date therewith, that all of the covenants and agreements therein contained should be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the successors and assigns of the parties thereto, but that nothing therein contained should be construed to permit an assignment of said license agreement by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. except as in said license agreement specifically provided.

34. That it was provided in said agreement of July 29, 1926, that your orator, upon the expiration of said license, would grant to the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. a license to manufacture, use and/or sell under said patents and applications for letters patent described in said Exhibits A and B, upon such terms and conditions as might then be agreed upon between the parties thereto, and failing to arrive at any such agreement, that your orator would grant to the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. from and after such expiration date a license to make and use the machines and use the processes, and to manufacture, use and sell the articles disclosed in said patents and applications for letters patent described in said Exhibit B, whether or not disclosed or claimed in any patent or applications for letters patent described in said Exhibit 10943 A, in consideration of the sum of One Dollar.

35. That it was further provided in said agreement of July 29, 1926, that the patents and applications for Letters Patent set forth in said Exhibit B were pledged with the Central Trust Company of Illinois and Aksel K. Bodholdt, Trustees under a certain First and Refunding Mortgage executed by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. to the said Central Trust Company and the said Aksel K. Bodholdt, Trustees, on July 1, 1922, and that the same were to be released and assigned to your orator by said Trustees; that it was further provided therein that the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. was authorized and empowered to pledge the said license with said Trustees under said mortgage with the express understanding that the same would not be transferred or assigned by said Trustees on a foreclosure of said mortgage to any person or persons without the consent of your orator.

36. That upon the execution and delivery of the said contract of July 29, 1926 and the said license agreement of even date therewith, the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. transferred, assigned and conveyed to your orator all of the said patents and applications for letters patent described in said Exhibit B and paid to your orator, on the 31st day of July, 1926, the said sum of $250,000; that the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc., commencing with the date of the said license agreement and ever since has continued the manufacture and sale of plaster board and gypsum wallboard at and from its said plants under the terms and conditions of the said license agreement and the said contract; that pursuant to the terms and conditions of the said license agreement and the said contract, the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. became obligated to manufacture and sell, at and from its said plants, plaster board and gypsum wallboard, with the full right and privilege of using the inventions and improvements 10944 set forth in all of said patents described in said Exhibits A and B, including the said Utzman patents Number 1,029,328 and Number 1,034,746, throughout the full term of the said contract, commencing with the date thereof and ending on the 10th day of February, 1937, and to pay to your orator, in settlement of said claim and for said license, in addition to said sum of $250,000 paid in cash as aforesaid, an amount equivalent to five per cent (5%) of its selling price of all plaster board or gypsum wallboard of every kind manufactured and sold by it until August 6, 1929, the date of the expiration of said Utzman Patent Number 1,034,746, and thereafter an amount equivalent to one and one-half per cent (1½%) of its selling price upon all of said plaster board or gypsum wallboard from August 6, 1929 until February 10, 1937, the date of the expiration of said Patent Number 1,330,413, so that your orator might receive the full consideration for the settlement, release and discharge of the said claim for infringement and for said license.

37. That the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc., commencing with the date of the said contract and license agreement and during each month of the term thereof, manufactured and sold plasterboard and gypsum wallboard at its said plants and paid to your orator the sums of money under said license in the quantities and amounts as follows:

making the full sum of $196,781.34 paid to your orator by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. under said license, which, with said sum of $250,000.00 paid as aforesaid, amounts to $446,781.34.

38. That the said The Beaver Board Companies and the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc., on or about the 20th day of January, 1928, entered into a contract with the said defendant, Certain-teed Products Corporation, to sell to the said Certain-teed Products Corporation all of the plants, properties and assets of the said The Beaver Board Companies and the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. located at Akron, New York, Grand Rapids, Michigan, Fort Dodge, Iowa, Blue Rapids, Kansas, and elsewhere, including all of the plaster board plants or mills belonging to the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc., in consideration of the payment by the said Certain-teed Products Corporation of Fifty Dollars ($50.00) a share to the holders of the preferred capital stock of the said The Beaver Board Companies or the holders of Voting Trust Certificates of some or all of said preferred stock under a Voting Trust Agreement made on January 1, 1922 between the holders of said preferred stock and James G. Alexander, George R. Baker, Augustus S. Blagdon, T. Edward Hambleton, J. A. Henley, Warren Henley and Alvin F. Cramer, Voting Trustees, or at the option of said certificate holders or the holders of said preferred stock, one-half share for each share of said preferred stock or Voting Trust Certificate held by them of the seven per cent (7%) cumulative preferred stock of the said Certain-teed Products Corporation and Five Dollars ($5.00) per share to the holders of the common capital stock of the said The Beaver Board Com-

10946 panies and the payment by the said Certain-teed Products Corporation of the funded indebtedness of the said The Beaver Board Companies and its subsidiaries, amounting to $6,463,205.50; that the said The Beaver Board Companies and the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. have, as your orator is informed and believes and so states the fact to be, already delivered and transferred to the said Certain-teed Products Corporation under said contract certain of the business and properties of the said The Beaver Board Companies and the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc., and are about, unless restrained by order of this court, to sell, assign, transfer and deliver to the said Certain-teed Products Corporation, under and pursuant to the terms of the said contract, all of the plants, properties and assets of every kind belonging to the said The Beaver Board Companies and the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc., including the plaster board plants and mills belonging to said companies at Akron, New York, Grand Rapids, Michigan, Fort Dodge, Iowa, Blue Rapids, Kansas, and elsewhere; that upon said sale, assignment and transfer and the consummation of the said contract between the said Certain-teed Products Corporation and the said The Beaver Board Companies and The Beaver Products Company, Inc., the said The Beaver Board Companies and the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. will remain and be without any assets whatsoever and without any plaster board plants or mills with which to manufacture plaster board or gypsum wallboard, so that the said The

Beaver Products Company, Inc. will be wholly unable to continue the manufacture and sale of plaster board and gypsum wallboard pursuant to the terms of said contract of July 29, 1926 and the said license agreement of even date therewith; that no provision has been made of any kind by the said The Beaver Board Companies or the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc., or anyone else, to 10947 pay to your orator the consideration agreed to be paid by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. in satisfaction of your orator's said claim and for said license in accordance with the terms of the said contract of July 29, 1926 and the said written license agreement, of an amount equivalent to five per cent (5%) of the selling price of all plaster board or gypsum wallboard of every kind manufactured and sold under said license between the date thereof and August 6, 1929, the date of the expiration of said Utzman Patent Number 1,034,746, and to one and one-half per cent (1½%) of said selling price from August 6, 1929 until February 10, 1937, the date of the expiration of said Patent Number 1,330,413.

39. That by reason of the said contract of January 20, 1928 for the sale of all of its said properties, plants and assets, including said plaster board plants, by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. to the Certain-teed Products Corporation and the transfer of part of its said business and properties as aforesaid, the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. has declared to your orator its intention to repudiate its said contract of July 29, 1926 and said license agreement of even date therewith, and to refuse to perform the same, as well as its intention to refuse to further continue the manufacture of plaster board and gypsum wallboard at its said plants or elsewhere, and to pay to your orator the full consideration agreed to be paid to it by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. in satisfaction of your orator's said claim for infringement by failing to pay to your orator the said amount equal to five per cent (5%) of the selling price of plaster board and gypsum wallboard sold by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. between January 1, 1928 and August 6, 1929, and one and one-half per cent (1½%) of such selling price from August 6, 1929 to February 10, 1937; that by the conveyance of its said properties, assets and plants 10948 as aforesaid to the said Certain-teed Products Corporation, under the terms of said contract of January 20, 1928, the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. will have rendered itself wholly unable to perform its said contract and license of July 29, 1926, and to make the payments to your orator as therein provided; that the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. did, on to-wit: the 20th day of January, 1928, and does now, refuse to perform its said contract and license of July 29, 1926 with your orator and to continue the manufacture and sale of said plaster does now, refuse to pay to your orator the said amount board and gypsum wallboard throughout the full term of said contract and license agreement, and did then and equal to five per cent (5%) of said selling price from July 29, 1926 to August 6, 1929, and one and one-half per cent (1½%) thereof from August 6, 1929 to February 10, 1937, to-wit, that part thereof which would accrue to your orator between February 1, 1928 and February 10, 1937; that as a result thereof your orator has and will suffer great loss and irreparable injury and damage; that your orator has at all times kept and performed all of the agreements by it agreed to be kept and performed in and by said contract and license agreement of July 29, 1926.

40. That the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. is or was immediately prior to said sale on January 20, 1928, a large going concern manufacturing and selling plaster board and gypsum wallboard at and from its said plants at Akron, New York, Grand Rapids, Michigan, Fort Dodge, Iowa, Blue Rapids, Kansas, and elsewhere throughout the United States, and with contracts, as your orator is informed and believes and so states the fact to be, for the manufacture and sale of plaster board and gypsum wallboard extending over many years to the termination of said license agreement on February 10, 1937; that during the period of said contract and license from July 29, 1926 to February 1, 1927, the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. manufactured and sold at its said plants and in its said business 158,303,664 feet of said plaster board 10949 and gypsum wallboard, or approximately 9,210,364 feet thereof per month, at a selling price of $3,935,-626.72; that the demand for plaster board and gypsum wallboard has greatly increased and the consumption thereof between the present time and the expiration of said license on February 10, 1937 will be far in excess of the consumption thereof during the prior period of said license; that on the basis of its past sales of said products, without regard to the natural increase in said business, the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. would manufacture and sell between the present time and February 10, 1937 the number of feet from which your orator would receive payments under said contract approximately as follows:

that during the whole period commencing with the present time and ending February 10, 1937, your orator would receive in satisfaction of its said claim the sum of not less than $502,627.00, which, with said cash payment of $250,000.00 and said further payments made under said license aggregating $196,781.34, would make a total payment to your orator of $959,408.34; that your orator is also engaged in the business of manufacturing and selling plaster board and gypsum wallboard and would, in its said business, realize other great gains, profits and advantages by the continued sale of said products by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. under said license; that the said claim for infringement which had accrued to your orator at the time of the execution and delivery of said 10950 agreement of July 29, 1926 and said license of even date therewith, and which was to be satisfied by the payment of said sum $250,000.00 in cash and the further payment by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. of an amount equal to five per cent (5%) of its selling price of said plaster board and gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it between July 29, 1926 and August 6, 1929, and one and one-half per cent (1½%) of such selling price between August 6, 1929 and February 10, 1937, and the conveyance of said patents described in said Exhibit B to your orator, as in said contract and license agreement provided, aggregated at the time said contract and license agreement were executed more than $4,000,000 as aforesaid; that up to the present time your orator has only received, of the amount agreed to be paid by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. in said contract and license agreement, the said cash payment of $250,000 and said payments aggregating $196,781.34, making total payments to your orator of $446,781.34, and leaving wholly unpaid the full balance of said consideration of an amount equal to five per cent (5%) of the selling price of the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. of all the plaster board and gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it from February 1, 1928 to August 6, 1929, and one and one-half per cent (1½%) of said selling price from August 6, 1929 to February 10, 1937; agreed to be paid as aforesaid by said defendant, The Beaver Products Company, Inc. in satisfaction of said claim; that the said patents described in said Exhibit B, and so assigned to your orator under said contract of July 29, 1926, were worthless, and were then and are now of no value whatsoever; that the payments so made to your orator, as aforesaid, by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. were insufficient to satisfy and discharge the said claim of your orator for infringement in accordance with the terms of said contract and license agreement of July 29, 1926; that as a result thereof and by reason of 10951 the repudiation as aforesaid by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. of its said contract and license of July 29, 1926, and its failure and refusal to perform the same as aforesaid, there has become due and owing to your orator the full amount of its said claim for infringement, amounting to, to-wit: $4,000,000, less the said sum of $446,781.34 paid to it under said contract and license agreement; that it is impossible to determine the exact amount of the said claim of your orator for said infringement until the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. has rendered a full account of all such gains, profits and savings realized by it and its said predecessor and subsidiaries, through the unlawful infringement of said patents as aforesaid, which the said defendant has never rendered to your orator; that the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. and the said The Beaver Board Companies should be compelled to render a full, true and accurate account of all of the gains, profits, savings and advantages realized by them and their said predecessor and subsidiaries as a result of their said unlawful infringement of the said patents of your orator, and should be required to pay such gains, profits, savings and advantages to your orator, together with all other damages sustained by it on account of such infringement, less the said sum of $446,781.34 paid to your orator as aforesaid, or that the said defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc. should be required by the decree of this court to specifically perform said contract and license agreement of July 29, 1926 by continuing the manufacture and sale of said plaster board and gypsum wallboard throughout the full term of said contract, and to pay to your orator an amount equal to five per cent (5%) of said selling price until August 6, 1929 and one and one-half per cent (1½%) of said selling price from August 6, 1929 to February 10, 1937, or to pay to your orator the full amount of all loss and damage sustained by it by reason of the failure of the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. to continue the manufacture and sale of said product and of its refusal to pay to your orator the said amount equal to five per cent (5%) of said selling price to August 6, 1929 and one and one-half per cent (1½%) of said selling price from said last mentioned date to February 10, 1937; that if the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. and the said The Beaver Board Companies are permitted to consummate the said contract of January 20, 1928 and to sell and convey to the said Certain-teed Products Cor-10952 poration the said properties, assets and plants under the terms of said contract, the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. and the said The Beaver Board Companies will be without any assets whatsoever and wholly unable to pay your orator's said claim and your orator will suffer great and irreparable loss and damage; that the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. and the said The Beaver Board Companies, their officers, agents and attorneys, should be restrained and enjoined by the decree of this court from further consummating the said contract of January 20, 1928 and from selling, transferring or conveying the said properties, assets and plants to the said Certain-teed Products Corporation under said contract of January 20, 1928, or any like or similar contract; that your orator offers to do equity in the premises and to allow to the said defendants any sums or amounts with which it may be just or proper to credit them upon the taking of said account.

41. That at the time of the making of said contract on or about January 20, 1928 between the said The Beaver Board Companies and the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. on the one part, and the said Certain-teed Products Corporation on the other part, to buy all of said plants, properties and assets of the said The Beaver Board Companies, and the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc., the said defendant, Certain-teed Products Corporation, had full knowledge of the prior infringement of the said patents by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. and its predecessors and of the said claim of your orator in the sum of, to-wit: $4,000,000 resulting therefrom, and of the agreement made between your orator and the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. to settle said claim by the payment to your orator of the said sum of $250,000 and an amount equal to five per cent (5%) of the selling 10953 price of the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. of all plaster board or gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it between July 29, 1926 and August 6, 1929, and one and one-half per cent (1½%) of said selling price between August 6, 1929 and February 10, 1937; that the said Certain-teed Products Corporation then and there also had full knowledge of the undertaking by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. to continue the manufacture and sale of plaster board and gypsum wallboard throughout the full term of said contract and license, and was fully aware, of all the terms and conditions of the said contract of July 29, 1926 and of the said license agreement of even date therewith; that the said Certain-teed Products Corporation then and there well knew that the sale of the said plants, properties and assets, including the said plaster board plants at Akron, New York, Grand Rapids, Michigan, Fort Dodge, Iowa, Blue Rapids, Kansas, and elsewhere, and the payment of the consideration therefor to the stockholders of the said The Beaver Board Companies as hereinabove more specifically set forth, would render the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. wholly unable to continue the manufacture and sale of plaster board and gypsum wallboard pursuant to the terms of said contract and license agreement and prevent it from paying to your orator the full consideration agreed to be paid by it in satisfaction of its said claim, and that by reason thereof and as a result of the sale of the said plants, properties and assets in the manner as aforesaid, the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. would be without any assets or ability whatsoever to pay to your orator an amount equivalent to five per cent (5%) of the selling price of said plaster board and gypsum wallboard during the period ending August 6, 1929, and one and one-half per cent (1½%) of such selling price between August 6, 1929 and February 10, 1937; as in said contract and license agreement provided, and 10954 that it would be wholly unable to pay to your orator the balance of its said claim for infringement; that the transfer and sale of the said plants, properties and assets to the said Certain-teed Products Corporation as aforesaid will constitute a fraud upon the rights of your orator in the premises, and the agreement so entered into between said defendants on, to-wit: January 20, 1928, has and will constitute a breach by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc., with full knowledge on the part of the said Certain-teed Products Corporation, of the said agreement of The Beaver Products Company, Inc. to continue the manufacture of plaster board and gypsum wallboard throughout the full term of said license agreement, and to pay to your orator, in settlement of its said claim and for said license, an amount equivalent to five per cent (5%) of the selling price of The Beaver Products Company, Inc. of all plaster board and gypsum wallboard until August 6, 1929 and one and one-half per cent (1½%) of such selling price between August 6, 1929 and February 10, 1937; that all of the said properties, plants and assets of the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. which have already been transferred to the said Certain-teed Products Corporation as well as all such properties, plants or assets which may hereafter be transferred to it under said contract of January 20, 1928 should be subjected to the payment of your orator's said claim and of the loss and damage sustained by it by reason of such fraudulent transfer and the breach of said agreement by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc.; that the said Certain-teed Products Corporation, its officers, agents and attorneys, should be enjoined and restrained from in any way disposing of any of said assets which may have been transferred to it under said contract.

42. That your orator is informed and believes, and so states the fact to be, that upon the consummation of the said sale to the said Certain-teed Products Corporation under said contract of January 20, 1928, action will 10955 be taken by the stockholders and directors of the said The Beaver Board Companies and the said The Beaver Products Corporation, Inc. to dissolve the same without making any provision whatsoever for the payment to your orator of its said claim or of the said amount equivalent to five per cent (5%) of the selling price of the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. of all plaster board and gypsum wallboard until August 6, 1929 and of one and one-half per cent (1½%) of such selling price from August 6, 1929 to February 10, 1937; that if the said sale is consummated the stockholders of the said The Beaver Board Companies will receive all of the consideration for the sale of said properties, plants and assets, and the said stockholders should be required to pay to your orator the full amount of its said claim for infringement less the said payments as aforesaid, or to pay to your orator five per cent (5%) of the selling price of the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. of all plaster board and gypsum wallboard until August 6, 1929 and of one and one-half per cent (1½%) of such selling price between August 6, 1929 and February 10, 1937; and if necessary, the amounts paid to said stockholders under said contract of January 20, 1928 should be subjected to the payment of the said sums to your orator; that the said defendants, The Beaver Board Companies and The Beaver Products Company, Inc., should be required to file with their answer in this cause a full list of all of the stockholders of the said corporation and the holders of said Voting Trust Certificates, together with their addresses and the number of shares of stock or Voting Trust Certificates owned or controlled by them, and the amount, if any, then paid to them for their said stock or Voting Trust Certificates; that the said stockholders, when named, should be made parties defendant to this bill and each of them required to pay unto this Court that part of the consideration for the sale of said assets re-10956 ceived by him, or to give good and sufficient security therefor.

FORASMUCH, THEREFORE, as your orator is without remedy except in a court of equity where such matters are properly cognizable and relievable;

TO THE END that the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc., The Beaver Board Companies, and the Certainteed Products Corporation, which are made parties defendant to this bill, may be required to make full and direct answer to the same (but not under oath, answer under oath being hereby expressly waived), and that the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. and the said The Beaver Board Companies fully set forth a true and just account of all of the profits, savings and advantages which they, or either of them, and their said predecessor, the Bestwall Mfg. Company, and their said subsidiaries, have derived from the manufacture and sale of the said infringing plaster board, and that an account may be taken under the direction of this honorable Court of all of the said profits, savings and advantages; that the said defendant, The Beaver Products Company, Inc. and the said The Beaver Board Companies be required to pay to your orator the full amount of the said gains, profits, savings and advantages so found due upon the said accounting, together with all other damages sustained by your orator on account of the infringement of said patents, less the said sum of $446,781.34 paid to your orator as aforesaid, or that the said defendant, The Beaver Products Company, Inc. should be required to specifically perform said contract and license agreement of July 29, 1926 by continuing the manufacture and sale of said plaster board and gypsum wallboard throughout the full term of said contract or to pay to your orator the said sum of five per cent (5%) of the 10957 selling price of all of said plaster board or gypsum wallboard which would or ought to be manufactured by the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. between February 1, 1928 and August 6, 1929, and one and one-half per cent (1½%) of such selling price from August 6, 1929 to February 10, 1937; that the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. and the said The Beaver Board Companies, their officers, agents and attorneys, be enjoined and restrained from further consummating the said contract of January 20, 1928 and from selling, transferring or conveying the said properties, assets and plants to the said Certain-teed Products Corporation under said contract of January 20, 1928 or any like or similar contract; that all of the said properties, plants and assets of the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. which have heretofore been transferred to the said Certain-teed Products Corporation pursuant to the terms of the said contract of January 20, 1928, as well as all of such properties, plants or assets which may hereafter be transferred to it under said contract of January 20, 1928, be decreed by this court to be subject to the payment of your orator's said claim and of the loss and damage sustained by it; that the said Certain-teed Products Corporation, its officers, agents and attorneys, be enjoined and restrained from in any way disposing of any of said assets, properties and plants which may have been transferred to it under said contract; that the stockholders of the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. and the said The Beaver Board Companies be required to pay to your orator, if said contract of January 20, 1928 should be consummated and said properties, assets and plants conveyed to the said Certain-teed Products Corporation pursuant to the terms thereof, the full amount of its said claim for infringement less the said payments as aforesaid, or to pay to your orator five per cent (5%) of the selling price of the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc. for sold between February 1, 1928 and August 6, 1929 and one and one-half per cent (1½%) of such selling price between August 6, 1929 and February 10, 1937, and that the said stockholders or the holders of the said Voting Trust Certificates be required to pay into this court that part of the consideration which they or each of them have received for the sale and conveyance of said properties, assets and plants to the said Certain-teed Products Corporation or to give good and sufficient security therefor, so that the same may be subjected to the payments of the said amounts so due and owing to your orator as aforesaid; that the said defendants, The Beaver Board Companies and The Beaver Products Company, Inc., be required to report to this court the names of all of their stockholders, together with their addresses and the number of shares of stock owned or controlled by them, including the names, addresses and interest held by the said holders of Voting Trust Certificates, and that your orator have such other and further relief in the premises as to the Court shall seem meet and proper.

MAY IT PLEASE THE COURT to grant unto your orator a writ or writs of subpoena of the United States of America, directed to the said The Beaver Board Companies, The Beaver Products Company, Inc. and the Certain-teed Products Corporation according to law, commanding them that on a certain date and under a certain penalty therein mentioned, to be and appear in this honorable Court, then and there to answer all and singular the premises and to stand by such further order, direction and decree as may be made against them.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR HONORS to grant unto your orator a writ or writs of injunction under the seal of this honorable Court, according to law, perpetually enjoining and restraining the said The Beaver Products Com-10959 pany, Inc., its officers, agents and attorneys, and the said The Beaver Board Companies, its officers, agents and attorneys, from further consummating the said contract of January 20, 1928 and from selling, transferring or conveying the said properties, assets and plants to the said Certain-teed Products Corporation under said contract of January 20, 1928, or any like or similar contract, and enjoining and restraining the said Certain-teed Products Corporation, its officers, agents and attorneys, from in any way disposing of any of said assets, properties and plants which may have been transferred to it under said contract of January 20, 1928.

UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY, a corporation, Complainant,

v.

THE BEAVER PRODUCTS COMPANY, INC. THE BEAVER BOARD COMPANIES, and CERTAIN-TEED PRODUCTS CORPORATION, Defendants.

The Answer of the Defendant, Certain-teed Products Corporation to the Bill of Complaint.

Now comes Certain-teed Products Corporation, defendant in the above entitled cause, and for answer unto said bill of complaint and particularly the various paragraphs thereof hereinafter referred to, says:

1. It admits the allegations of paragraph 1.

2. It is without knowledge of the truth of the allegations of paragraph 2.

3. It is without knowledge of the truth of the allegations of paragraph 3, but this defendant admits that by license agreement dated July 29, 1926, the defendant, The Beaver Products Company, Inc., acquired a non-exclusive right, license and privilege of using the processes and using the machines and/or inventions set forth and claimed 10963 in said Utzman Patents and in any and all of the Patents or applications for Letters Patent described in Exhibits A and B attached to said license agreement, at any and all factories owned and/or operated and controlled by the said defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., or any subsidiary, associated or affiliated company, and manufacturing at any such place or places, selling and using plaster board or gypsum wallboard embodying the inventions or improvements set forth and claimed in said Utzman Patents and in said Patents and applications for Letters Patent described in said Exhibits A and B, until the 10th day of February, 1937, and that said license agreement, hereinafter set forth in full in paragraph 16 of this answer, was executed under the circumstances hereinafter alleged and included Letters Patent dated June 11, 1912, numbered 1,029,328, and Letters Patent dated August 6, 1912, numbered 1,034,746, referred to in paragraphs 2 and 3.

4. It is without knowledge of the truth of the allegations of paragraph 4.

5. It is without knowledge of the truth of the allegations of paragraph 5.

6. It admits that the United States Gypsum Company, a New Jersey corporation, in its bill of complaint filed in this court against the Bestwall Mfg. Company, and particularly in its amended bill of complaint filed in said cause, made substantially the same allegations as are contained in paragraph 6; that thereafter the Bestwall Mfg. Company was enjoined by order of this court from making, using, or causing to be used, or selling to others to be used in any manner, any plaster board containing, embodying or employing the alleged inventions and improvements granted by said Letters Patent Number 1,034,746 and said 10964 Letters Patent Number 1,029,328. It denies on information and belief that said alleged infringement by the Bestwall Mfg. Company caused the United States Gypsum Company, a New Jersey corporation, great damage, loss and injury; that the said Bestwall Mfg. Company made and realized large profits and advantages from said alleged infringement, and that any such profits equaled or exceeded the sum of One Million Dollars ($1,000,000.) or any amount approaching said sum.

7. It admits that the United States Gypsum Company, a New Jersey corporation, instituted the proceedings in this court against the Bestwall Mfg. Company described in paragraph 7; that the defendant, Bestwall Mfg. Company, in said suit filed its answer to the amended bill of complaint of said United States Gypsum Company, a New Jersey corporation, and that a decree was entered in said cause as alleged in said paragraph 7; that the defendant in said cause prayed and was allowed an appeal from said decree to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, and that said decree was by said Court of Appeals affirmed as alleged in said paragraph 7.

8. It denies on information and belief that either the Bestwall Mfg. Company or the defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., manufactured and sold a modified form of plaster board as a makeshift to avoid the effect of said decree, and that such modified form constituted an infringement of said Patents and that the said Bestwall Mfg. Company and said defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., continued to infringe said Patents by the manufacture and sale of such modified form in disregard of the rights of the complainant or of the said United States Gypsum Company, a New Jersey corporation.

9. It admits that on or about June 13, 1921, the complainant filed a supplemental bill in said cause referred to in paragraph 7, which supplemental bill contained 10965 the allegations set forth in paragraph 9 and contained the prayers for relief therein set forth; that an answer was filed to said supplemental bill by said Bestwall Mfg. Company, containing the averments set forth in paragraph 9.

10. It admits that the Bestwall Mfg. Company continued to manufacture plaster board, but denies on information and belief that said plaster board embodied the inventions described in said Letter Patent and was an infringement thereof as alleged in paragraph 10. It admits that the defendant, The Beaver Board Companies, acquired the capital stock of said Bestwall Mfg. Company in the year 1920, and that since that time and until on or about June 8, 1922, the said Bestwall Mfg. Company was a subsidiary of the defendant The Beaver Board Companies; that the latter had then and has ever since had a regular and established place of business in the City of Chicago, in the Northern District of Illinois, where, acting in conjunction with said Bestwall Mfg. Company until on or about June 8, 1922, it handled the sale of plaster board made by said Bestwall Mfg. Company, but on information and belief denies that the same was an infringement of said Letters Patent. It admits that the Bestwall Mfg. Company, the American Cement Plaster Company and other subsidiaries of said defendant The Beaver Board Companies, on or about June 8, 1922, conveyed and assigned to the defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., all their assets and properties of every kind and description, upon the consideration set forth in paragraph 10, and that said defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., thereupon became and is now vested with the title to and is the true and lawful owner of the business and of all the assets theretofore belonging to the Bestwall Mfg. Company and said subsidiaries; that the defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., during the period from June 8, 1922, to July 29, 1926, continued the operations of the business theretofore conducted by said Bestwall Mfg. Com-10966 pany and to manufacture plaster board at its various plants; but on information and belief denies that the same infringed any rights of the complainant or any Letters Patent owned or controlled by it, or any invention or inventions embodied therein. It admits that since June 8, 1922, the defendant, The Beaver Board Companies, has been the holding company of the defendant, The Beaver Products Company, Inc., and owns its entire capital stock and that said defendants last mentioned manufactured and sold between June 8, 1922, and July 29, 1926, in the cities of Chicago, Akron, New York and elsewhere throughout the United States, such plaster board, but on information and belief denies that the same infringed any rights of the complainant or of any Letters Patent owned or controlled by it, or any invention embodied therein. It denies on information and belief that either of these defendants derived and received great gains and profits from the sale of such plaster board, and that by reason of such manufacture and sale the complainant suffered great loss, damage and injury as alleged in paragraph 10.

11. It admits that complainant filed in said cause a supplemental bill on June 30, 1922, making the allegations set forth in paragraph 11 and praying for relief as therein set forth, and that thereafter an answer was filed by the Bestwall Mfg. Company to said supplemental bill of complaint, and the defendants The Beaver Products Company, Inc., and The Beaver Board Companies appeared therein and also filed answers to said supplemental bill of complaint as alleged in paragraph 11.

12. It admits that a decree was entered in said cause subsequent to the filing of said supplemental bill of complaint, containing the matters set forth and alleged in paragraph 12.

13. It admits the allegations of paragraph 13.

10967 14. It denies on information and belief the allegations of paragraph 14 that the defendants The Beaver Products Company, Inc., and The Beaver Board Companies, by themselves and through their subsidiaries, continued to manufacture and sell any plaster board in defiance of the rights of complainant or in infringement of said Letters Patent or any inventions embodied therein, or that any alleged infringement by said defendants caused complainant great loss, damage and injury, and denies on information and belief that at the time of the execution of said contract and license agreement or at any other time the defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., and/or its subsidiaries had manufactured and sold a large quantity of plaster board at a profit of upwards of Four Million Dollars ($4,000,000.) or any amount approximating said sum, as alleged in paragraph 14. It admits that defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., assumed all liabilities and obligations of the Bestwall Mfg. Company, the American Cement Plaster Company and other subsidiaries. It has no knowledge of the truth of the allegations of said paragraph 14 that the complainant on or about August 26, 1920, received from the United States Gypsum Company, a New Jersey corporation, assignments of claims as alleged in paragraph 14. It denies that at the time of the execution of said contract and license agreement or at any other time the defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., became liable to the complainant and was indebted to it in the sum of over Four Million Dollars ($4,000,000.) or any amount approximating said sum for profits, gains and advantages derived from the manufacture and sale of any plaster board or for damages sustained by complainant by reason of any infringement of its patents.

15. On information and belief it alleges that prior to July 29, 1926, the complainant had asserted claims for damages against the defendant The Beaver Prod-10968 ucts Company, Inc., because of alleged infringements of complainant's patents by reason of the manufacture and sale by said defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., and said Bestwall Mfg. Company of plaster board and wallboard having a so-called protected edge as distinguished from an open edge; that such claims had been asserted in the proceedings in this court mentioned and described in the bill; that this court by decree entered in said proceeding had determined that the manufacture and sale of such plaster board and wallboard by said defendants in said cause did infringe the inventions owned and controlled by the complainant embodied in said Letters Patent; that said litigation had consumed and appeared likely to consume a great deal of time, and had involved and appeared likely to involve a very substantial expense to said defendants, and notwithstanding said defendants had taken an appeal which was then pending in the Circuit Court of Appeals from the decree last entered in said cause and were advised by eminent counsel and believed that said decree should be and would be reversed on the hearing on said appeal, nevertheless said defendants considered it advisable from a business standpoint to settle, without the necessity of further litigation, the disputes which had arisen between them and said complainant in regard to the respective rights of the parties in the premises; that the defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., obtained from complainant a license to manufacture and sell plaster board under said Patents Numbers 1,034,746 and 1,029,328 upon the royalty payments set forth in said license agreement, and said defendants thereby recognized the validity of said Letters Patent; that the complainant and said defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., entered into an agreement of settlement whereby said defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., agreed to pay the sum of Two Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($250,000.) in cash and to assign certain patents and applications for letters patent as specified in said settlement agreement and to enter 10969 into said license agreement. It admits that the defendant The Beaver Products Company had plaster board plants for the manufacture of plaster board and gypsum wallboard at Akron, New York, Grand Rapids, Fort Dodge and Blue Rapids, and that it manufactured and sold large quantities of plaster board. It denies on information and belief that the defendants The Beaver Products Company, Inc., and The Beaver Board Companies or either of them represented to complainant that payments upon the sale of said plaster board until August 6, 1929, would amount to over Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000.) a month, and thereafter and until February 10, 1937, to over Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000.) a month without respect to any increases which there might be in the business of the said defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc.; that the defendants The Beaver Products Company, Inc., and The Beaver Board Companies, or either of them, represented to complainant that the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc., was in sound financial condition and capable of continuing in its manufacturing business throughout the said term; that the normal increase in its business would net to complainant sums in excess of the amounts above stated; that the defendants The Beaver Products Company, Inc., and The Beaver Board Companies, or either of them, represented that the said The Beaver Board Products Company, Inc., would continue the manufacture and sale of said plaster board and wallboard at its plants throughout said period. And this defendant says that while no such representations were made by the defendants The Beaver Products Company, Inc., and The Beaver Board Companies, or either of them, even if any such statements or estimates had been made they would be without materiality in this case and would have no bearing upon the rights of the respective parties hereto, for the reason that any such statements and/or estimates were not representations of and did not concern existing facts but were purely prospective in their nature, and in any event would be merged in the said settlement 10970 agreement and license agreement and could not have the effect of adding to or subtracting from said agreements or varying the terms thereof or changing in any way the rights and obligations of the parties to such agreements thereunder.

It denies on information and belief that the complainant was induced by any representations of the defendants The Beaver Products Company, Inc., and The Beaver Board Companies, or either of them, to grant said license and/or to settle any claims which it might have had against the defendants The Beaver Products Company, Inc., and The Beaver Board Companies, or either of them, as alleged in paragraph 15.

16. On information and belief it alleges that thereupon to-wit: on July 29, 1926, the agreement so made between the complainant and the defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., was reduced to writing and executed and delivered by the respective parties, and is, except for Exhibits A, B and C, in words and figures as follows, to-wit:

"This Agreement, executed in duplicate this 29th day of July, 1926, by and between the UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY, an Illinois corporation, of Chicago, Illinois, hereinafter referred to as 'Gypsum Company', party of the first part, and THE BEAVER PRODUCTS COMPANY, INC., a New York corporation, of the Town of Tonawanda, State of New York, hereinafter referred to as 'BEAVER COMPANY', party of the second part;

WITNESSETH:

Whereas, the Gypsum Company is the owner of the entire right, title and interest in, to and under Letters Patent of the United States, No. 1,029,328, dated June 11th, 1912, for Method of Manufacturing Plaster Board, and No. 1,034,746, dated August 6th, 1912, for Plaster Board, (hereinafter called the 'Utzman patents'), and is also the owner of the entire right, title and interest in, to and under the Letters Patent and Applications for Letters Patent of the United States set forth in Exhibit 'A' attached hereto and made a part hereof, and any and all Letters Patent which may be granted therefor or thereupon; and

10971 Whereas, the Gypsum Company is about to acquire in part settlement of its claims against said Beaver Company the entire right, title and interest in, to and under the Letters Patent and Applications for Letters Patent of the United States, set forth in Exhibit 'B' attached hereto and made a part hereof; and

Whereas, heretofore, on or about November 20th, 1916, the Gypsum Company filed its Bill of Complaint in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois, Eastern Division, against the Bestwall Manufacturing Company, (a predecessor in title of the Beaver Company) charging infringement by it of the aforesaid Letters Patent, Numbers 1,029,328 and 1,034,746, and thereafter the said Court, upon a trial of the issues in said cause, by its decision rendered July 21st, 1919 (258 Fed. 647) found both of the said Letters Patent valid and infringed by the defendant in said cause, and subsequently on or about January 4th, 1921, the decree of the District Court entered pursuant to the aforesaid decision and awarding an accounting for profits and damages and ordering the issuance of a permanent injunction, was affirmed by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit (270 Fed. 542) and subsequently the Gypsum Company on June 13th, 1921, filed its Supplemental Bill in said cause charging infringement of the said last mentioned Letters Patent by the method employed in the manufacture of and by the modified form of plaster board then being manufactured and sold by the defendant in said cause, and thereupon further proceedings were had and taken in said cause (decisions with respect to which are reported in 290 Fed. (C.C.A.) 798, 290 Fed. (C.C.A.) 800, and 263 U. S. 713), and thereafter upon trial in open court the said District Court on or about July 21, 1925, found the issues under said supplemental bill in favor of the Gypsum Company and that the said Letters Patent were infringed by the method of manufacture and by the modified form of plaster board then being manufactured and sold by the defendant therein and ordered an accounting of profits and damages and the issuance of a permanent injunction (decision not yet reported) and more recently, on or about November 4, 1925, the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit granted a stay of the accounting proceedings and of the issuance of the injunction so ordered by the District Court upon the filing by the defendant (appellant) of a bond in the penal sum of One Million Dollars ($1,000,000.), which said bond was duly filed and said cause is now pending on appeal in the said United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit; and

Whereas, the Gypsum Company has a substantial claim against the Beaver Company because and on account of said infringement, and the parties hereto have expended large sums of money in said patent litigation and the same has been otherwise costly and expensive to them and they are desirous of making a full and complete settlement of said controversy and of avoiding further litigation; and

Whereas, the parties hereto have agreed to settle said claim by the payment to the Gypsum Company by the Beaver Company of the sum of Two Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($250,000.00) in cash, and an amount equivalent to five per cent (5%) of Beaver Company's selling price of all plaster board or gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it until August 6, 1929, and one and one-half per cent (1½%) of such selling price from 10972 August 6, 1929 to February 10, 1937, and the assignment to the Gypsum Company of the said Letters Patent and applications for Letters Patent set forth in said Exhibit 'B', and the granting to Beaver Company of the license as in this agreement contained.

Now, therefore, in consideration of the sum of One Dollar ($1.00) and other good and valuable considerations, the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto do hereby agree as follows, to-wit:

1. The Beaver Company hereby agrees to pay to the Gypsum Company upon the execution of this agreement the sum of Two Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($250,000.00) and to assign, transfer, convey and set over, or cause to be assigned, transferred, conveyed and set over, unto the Gypsum Company the said Letters Patent and Applications for Letters Patent described in said Exhibit 'B' and any and all Letters which may be issued therefor or thereupon, in consideration of which, and of the payment by the Beaver Company to the Gypsum Company of the amounts hereinafter mentioned, the Gypsum Company does hereby release and discharge the Beaver Company, the Beaver Board Companies, Bestwall Manufacturing Company, the American Cement Plaster Company, and every subsidiary, associated or affiliated company, and all persons privy to or claiming under any of them, from all claims and demands, whether for damages or profits or for both damages and profits, which the Gypsum Company now has against them or any of them, for or on account of any infringement of any of its said Utzman patents and said patents described in Exhibit 'A', by the Beaver Company or any predecessor in interest or title, prior to the date hereof.

2. The parties hereto do hereby agree to dismiss, without further cost to either party, all actions both at law and in equity, wheresoever pending, arising out of or in any way connected with the infringement of the said Utzman patents, against The Beaver Products Company, Inc., the Beaver Board Companies, Bestwall Manufacturing Company, the American Cement Plaster Company, or any subsidiary, associated or affiliated company of any of them, it being understood, however, that the Appeal in Cause No. 3693, October Term, 1925, now pending in the Circuit Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit, shall be dismissed so that the decree below shall stand as a final adjudication in said cause. It is further understood that the judgment therein for an accounting shall be satisfied of record and that the Gypsum Company waives all right to the issuance of a writ of injunction pursuant to the terms of said decree.

3. The Gypsum Company agrees to give and grant unto Beaver Company an indivisible and non-exclusive right, license and privilege of using the processes and making and using the machines and/or inventions set forth and claimed in said Utzman patents and in any and all of said patents or applications for letters patent described in said Exhibits 'A' and 'B', at any and all factories now or hereafter owned and/or operated or controlled by the Beaver Company or any subsidiary, associated or affiliated company, and of manufacturing at any such place or places, selling and using plaster board or gypsum wallboard embodying the inventions and improvements set forth

10973 and claimed in said Utzman patents and said patents and applications for letters patent described in Exhibits 'A' and 'B', until the 10th day of February, 1937, the date of expiration of Patent No. 1,330,413, mentioned in said Exhibit 'A', which said license shall be evidenced by a separate instrument this day executed and delivered to the Beaver Company, a true copy of which is hereto attached marked Exhibit 'C' and made a part hereof.

4. The Beaver Company further agrees to pay to the Gypsum Company in settlement and discharge of the said claim, and for the right, license and privilege of manufacturing, using and/or selling plaster board or gypsum wallboard, and for the privilege of using the processes and making and using the machines and/or inventions embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in said Utzman patents and in any and all of said patents and applications for letters patent described in Exhibits 'A' and 'B', an amount (hereinafter for convenience referred to as a license fee or royalty) equivalent to five per cent (5%) of the selling price of the Beaver Company, of all plaster board or gypsum wallboard of every kind, manufactured and sold by the Beaver Company between the date hereof and August 6, 1929 the date of the expiration of said Utzman Patent No. 1,034,746, and thereafter an amount equivalent to one and one-half per cent (1½%) of the selling price of the Beaver Company, of all such plaster board or gypsum wallboard, from August 6, 1929, until February 10, 1937, the date of the expiration of said patent No. 1,330,413.

5. It is expressly understood and agreed that the said license shall be personal to the Beaver Company and that the same or any right therein or thereunder shall not be sold, assigned or transferred without the written consent of the Gypsum Company or transferred by operation of law, except that the same may be assigned to any successor or subsidiary corporation of the Beaver Company, and except that in the event of the appointment of a receiver or receivers for the purpose of conserving the business and assets of the Beaver Company, such receiver or receivers shall succeed to all the Beaver Company's rights under said license and under this agreement.

6. The said License shall contain a provision that the said license is granted upon the condition that the Gypsum Company shall have, and that it does thereby reserve, the right to determine and fix at any time, and to change from time to time during the term of said Utzman Patent Number 1,034,746, the minimum price or prices (not more, however, than the then prevailing market price or prices) at which the Beaver Company shall sell any plaster board or gypsum wallboard manufactured by the Beaver Company embodying the improvements set forth and claimed in said Utzman Patent Number 1,034,746, and in case it shall exercise the right so reserved it shall first serve written notice of its intention so to do upon the Beaver Company, accompanied with a statement of the price or prices at which the Beaver Company shall sell said patented product, and thereafter shall give to the Beaver Company written or telegraphic notice of any change in such price or prices, and the Beaver Company expressly covenants and agrees that it will not at any time during the term of said Utzman Patent Number 1,034,746, after the receipt of such 10974 notice, directly or indirectly sell or offer for sale any plaster board or gypsum wallboard, embodying the improvements set forth and claimed in said Utzman Patent Number 1,034,746, at a price or prices less than that stated by the Gypsum Company in said notice, or in any such written or telegraphic notice of a change in such price or prices. It is expressly understood and agreed that this provision of the said License shall apply only to the said Utzman Patent Number 1,034,746, and shall not apply to any of said other Letters Patent.

7. The Beaver Company agrees, during the term of said license, to keep separate, full and accurate books of account and records showing the exact quantity of all plaster board and gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it, and agrees that on or before the 20th day of each and every calendar month during said term it will render unto the Gypsum Company true written returns, verified under oath by an officer or other agent of the Beaver Company, setting forth the quantity of all said plaster board and gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it during the preceding calendar month, together with the price or prices at which the same was sold, such written returns to be delivered to the Gypsum Company at its office in Chicago, Illinois, and the Beaver Company agrees to pay to the Gypsum Company, on or before the 20th day of each calendar month, at the office of the Gypsum Company at Chicago, Illinois, the hereinbefore stipulated royalties or license fees which may then be due under the said license on account of all of said plaster board and gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it during the next preceding calendar month.

8. The Gypsum Company, or its duly authorized representative, shall during the term of said license have the right at all reasonable times during business hours to inspect the books of account and records of the Beaver Company referred to in the next preceding paragraph hereof, including all records of every kind showing the quantity of said plaster board and gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it, the price or prices at which the same was sold, and to make copies thereof and memoranda therefrom.

9. The Beaver Company agrees that all plaster board or gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it embodying the claims of any of said patents, shall be distinctly marked with the word 'PATENTED' together with the dates of the Utzman patents and the dates of any other patents which the Gypsum Company may properly specify, and in connection with the said markings it will further mark said patented product with the words 'Licensed under the above Letters Patent,' which markings shall be plainly visible.

10. Having regard for the fact that there are or may be certain manufacturers of plaster or gypsum products who do not or may not manufacture gypsum wallboard or plaster board but who desire or may desire to have gypsum wallboard or plaster board manufactured for them, it is understood and agreed that the Beaver Company may manufacture gypsum wallboard or plaster board embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in said Letters Patent, for any such other manufacturer; provided, however, that the said license fee or royalty to be 10975 paid to the Gypsum Company as hereinbefore provided, shall be based upon all gypsum wallboard or plaster board manufactured for such other manufacturer, and upon the regular selling price of the Beaver Company of such plaster board or gypsum wallboard to its regular dealer trade at the time of such sale, and shall not be based upon the price at which said plaster board or gypsum wallboard is sold by the Beaver Company to such other manufacturer.

11. The Beaver Company expressly covenants and agrees that all of said patented product sold by it and commonly known in the trade as 'seconds' shall be plainly invoiced as seconds and shall be plainly marked with a visible red stamp or label firmly fixed on each of said boards showing the word 'seconds' in letters at least three inches in height.

12. It is expressly understood and agreed that the patented product manufactured and sold hereunder shall include all board having a protected edge, it being recognized by the parties hereto that any board manufactured by the Beaver Company having a protected edge is within the scope of said Utzman patents Nos. 1,029,328 and 1,034,746.

After the expiration of said Letters Patent No. 1,034,746, and until the expiration of Letters Patent No. 1,330,413, it is expressly understood and agreed that the patented product manufactured and sold hereunder shall include all board having a protected edge, the parties hereto agreeing hereby that any and all board having a protected edge is within the claims or is manufactured according to the processes or by the use of machines embodying the claims either of said Letters Patent No. 1,330,413, or of one or more of the other of said Letters Patent listed in Exhibits 'A' and 'B' hereto, under which the aforesaid indivisible and none-exclusive right, license and privilege is granted.

13. As one of the considerations for the indivisible and non-exclusive license herein and hereby granted, Beaver Company hereby acknowledges the validity of the letters patent, granted and to be granted, forming the subject-matter of said license, throughout the respective lives of the said letters patent and each of them, and agrees that it will not at any time before or after the expiration or termination of said license, directly or indirectly, by itself, through or together with another or others, contest the validity of either or any of said letters patent or the title hereto of the Gypsum Company, or question in any way the prima facie scope of either or any of said letters patent, or the priority, novelty or patentability of the subject matter of any of the said applications for letters patent.

14. In the event that the Beaver Company shall at any time neglect, fail or refuse to keep or perform any of the conditions and agreements herein to be by the Beaver Company kept and performed, then Gypsum Company, at its election, may serve upon Beaver Company notice of intention to terminate the license herein granted, which notice shall specify the alleged neglect, failure or refusal; and if, within thirty (30) days from the date of delivery of said notice, the Beaver Company shall not keep or perform the conditions and agreements specified in said notice, then said license and all rights acquired by the Beaver 10976 Company thereunder shall be and become cancelled and terminated, without the necessity of any court action; provided, however, that the Beaver Company shall not be relieved thereby from paying to the Gypsum Company any license fees or royalties or any other obligations accrued hereunder at the time of such termination. In case at any time the Beaver Company shall commit any act of bankruptcy, then the license hereunder shall immediately be and become cancelled and terminated, but the Gypsum Company shall not thereby be prevented from collecting all license fees or royalties and other obligations accrued hereunder at the time of such termination. Failure on the part of the Gypsum Company to notify the Beaver Company of a breach of the license or to terminate said license because of such breach shall not constitute a waiver of the Gypsum Company's right to terminate said license in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph. The Gypsum Company may specifically enforce this contract or any of the terms, conditions and covenants thereof, by injunction or in such other manner as may be provided by law.

15. It is understood and agreed that if at any time during the continuance of the license the Beaver Company shall, in the judgment of the Gypsum Company, suffer substantial detriment by reason of any infringement upon the part of any person or persons of the said patents whether now or hereafter issued under which the license is granted, the Gypsum Company will afford the Beaver Company such reasonable protection as in the judgment of the Gypsum Company shall be necessary or proper, and in case the Gypsum Company shall grant to any such infringer, or to any other person, any license under said patents upon terms more favorable than those contained in the said license, then it will grant to Beaver Company a license on the same terms.

16. The Gypsum Company agrees, upon the expiration of the said license, to grant to the Beaver Company a license to manufacture, use and/or sell under said patents and applications for letters patent described in said Exhibits 'A' and 'B', upon such terms and conditions as may then be agreed upon between the parties hereto, and failing to arrive at any such agreement the Gypsum Company will grant to the Beaver Company from and after such expiration date, a license to make, and use the machines and use the processes and to manufacture, use and sell the articles disclosed in said patents and applications for letters patent described in said Exhibit 'B', whether or not disclosed or claimed in any patent or application for letters patent described in Exhibit 'A', in consideration of the sum of One Dollar ($1.00), the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged by the Gypsum Company.

17. The term 'plasterboard' and 'gypsum wallboard' shall be understood to mean all board by whatever name called having the structural characteristics of plasterboard or gypsum wallboard, irrespective of the purpose for the which the same may be sold or used.

18. This agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the successors and assigns of the parties hereto, but nothing in this paragraph contained shall be construed to permit assignment by the Beaver Com-10977 pany of any right hereunder, or under said license, except as hereinabove specifically authorized.

19. It is understood and agreed that the patents and applications for Letters Patent set forth in Exhibit 'B' are pledged with Central Trust Company of Illinois and Aksel K. Bodholdt, Trustees under a certain First and Refunding mortgage, executed by Beaver Products Company, Inc., to said Central Trust Company and Aksel K. Bodholdt, Trustees, dated July 1, 1922, and the same are to be released and assigned to the Gypsum Company by said trustees, or one of said trustees. It is further understood and agreed that the Beaver Company shall be authorized and empowered to pledge the license herein provided for with said trustees under said mortgage, with the express understanding, however, that the same shall not be transferred or assigned by said trustees, on a foreclosure of said mortgage, to any person or persons, without the consent of the Gypsum Company.

In Witness Whereof, the parties hereto have caused these presents to be signed by their respective Presidents, attested by their respective Secretaries, and their corporate seals to be hereunto affixed, in duplicate, the date and year first above written.

On information and belief it alleges that on or about July 29, 1926, the complainant and the defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., executed, pursuant to the terms of the above mentioned settlement agreement, a license agreement in the form of Exhibit "C" to said settlement agreement, which license agreement, except for Exhibit "A" and the signatures of the parties, is in the words and figures following, to-wit:

10978 "LICENSE AGREEMENT

This Agreement executed in duplicate this 29th day of July, 1926, by and between the UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY, an Illinois corporation of Chicago, Illinois, hereinafter referred to as "Licensor" and THE BEAVER PRODUCTS COMPANY, INC., a New York corporation of the Town of Tonawanda, State of New York, hereinafter referred to as 'Licensee'.

WITNESSETH:

Whereas, Licensor is the owner of the entire right, title and interest in, to and under Letters Patent of the United States, No. 1,029,328, dated June 11th, 1912, and No. 1,034,746, dated August 6, 1912, (hereinafter called the "Utzman Patents"), and is also the owner of the entire right, title and interest in, to and under the Letters Patent and applications for Letters Patent of the United States set forth in Exhibit 'A' attached hereto and made a part hereof, and any and all Letters Patent which may be granted therefor or thereupon; and

Whereas, heretofore said Utzman patents have been adjudicated by the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois, Eastern Division, and by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit (258 Fed. 647; 270 Fed. 542; 290 Fed. 798; 290 Fed. 800; see also 263 U.S. 713) and said courts have decreed that said Utzman patents are valid and were infringed by the defendants in the cases so reported, and in the decision of the said District Court rendered on or about July 21, 1925, and not yet reported, by reason of the making, using and selling of plaster board or gypsum wallboard having protected edges, and said District Court has ordered perpetual injunctions and accountings against said defendants; and

Whereas, Licensee recognizes and admits the validity and scope of said Utzman patents and admits that Licensee has heretofore infringed upon the same, and that Licensor has a substantial claim against Licensee for damages and profits because and on account of said infringement, and both Licensor and Licensee have expended or will be compelled to expend large sums of money in patent litigation in respect of said infringement, and such litigation has been, or will be otherwise costly and expensive to both of said parties who are therefore desirous of making a full and complete settlement of their controversies and of avoiding further litigations; and

Whereas, the parties hereto have agreed to settle said claim by the payment to the Licensor by the Licensee, of a sum of money in cash and an amount equivalent to five per cent (5%) of Beaver Company's selling price of all plaster board or gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it until August 6, 1929, and one and one-half per cent (1½%) of such selling price from August 6, 1929, to February 10, 1937, and the assignment to Licensor of certain Letters Patent and applications for Letters Patent, and the granting of this License to the Licensee.

Now, therefore, in consideration of the sum of One Dollar ($1.00) and other good and valuable considerations, the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto do hereby agree as follows, to wit:

10979 1. Licensor has agreed to and does hereby give and grant unto Licensee, an indivisible and non-exclusive right, License and privilege of using the processes, and making and using the machines and/or inventions set forth and claimed in said Utzman Patents, and in any and all of said patents or applications for letters patent described in said Exhibit 'A', at any and all factories now or hereafter owned and/or operated or controlled by Licensee or any subsidiary, associated or affiliated company, and of manufacturing at any such place or places, selling and/or using plaster board or gypsum wallboard embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in said Utzman patents and said patents and applications for Letters Patent described in Exhibit 'A', until the 10th day of February, 1937, the date of expiration of Patent No. 1,330,413, mentioned in said Exhibit 'A'.

It is expressly agreed and understood that the indivisible and non-exclusive right, license and privilege aforesaid is granted upon condition that the Licensor shall have, and it hereby reserves the right to determine and fix at any time, and to change from time to time during the term of said Utzman patent No. 1,034,746, the minimum price or prices, (not more, however, than the then prevailing market price or prices) at which the Licensee shall sell any plaster board or gypsum wallboard manufactured by Licensee embodying the improvements set forth and claimed in said Utzman Patent 1,034,746, and in case it shall exercise the right so reserved it shall first serve written notice of its intention so to do upon Licensee, accompanied with a statement of the price or prices at which the Licensee shall sell said patented product and thereafter shall give to the Licensee written or telegraphic notice of any change in such price or prices, and the Licensee expressly covenants and agrees that it will not at any time during the term of said Utzman patent No. 1,034,746 after the receipt of such notice, directly or indirectly sell or offer for sale, any plaster board or gypsum wallboard embodying the improvements set forth and claimed in said Utzman patent No. 1,034,746 at a price or prices less than that stated by the Licensor in said notice, or in any such written or telegraphic notice of a change in such price or prices. It is expressly understood and agreed that this provision of the said License shall apply only to the said Utzman patent No. 1,034,746, and shall not apply to any of said other Letters Patent.

2. The Licensee further agrees to pay to the Licensor, in settlement and discharge of the said claim, and for the right, license and privilege of manufacturing, using and/or selling plaster board or gypsum wallboard, and for the privilege of using the processes and making and using the machines and/or inventions, embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in said Utzman patents and in any and all of said patents and applications for Letters Patent described in Exhibit 'A', an amount (hereinafter for convenience referred to as a license fee or royalty) equivalent to five per cent (5%) of the selling price of the Licensee, of all plaster board or gypsum wallboard of every kind, manufactured and sold by Licensee between the date hereof and August 6, 1929, the date of the expiration of said Utzman patent No. 1,034,746, and thereafter an amount equivalent to one and one-half per cent (1½%) of the selling price of the Licensee, of all such plaster board or gypsum wallboard, from 10980 August 6, 1929 until February 10, 1937, the date of the expiration of said patent No. 1,330,413.

3. It is expressly understood and agreed that the said License shall be personal to the Licensee and that the same or any right therein or thereunder shall not be sold, assigned or transferred without the written consent of the Licensor or transferred by operation of law, except that the same may be assigned to any successor or subsidiary corporation of Licensee, and except that in the event of the appointment of a receiver or receivers for the purpose of conserving the business and assets of Licensee, such receiver or receivers shall succeed to all of Licensee's rights under said license and under this agreement.

4. Licensee agrees to keep separate, full and accurate books of account and records showing the exact quantity of all plaster board and gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it, and agrees that on or before the 20th day of each and every calendar month it will render unto Licensor true written returns, verified under oath by an officer or other agent of Licensee, setting forth the quantity of all plaster board and gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it during the preceding calendar month, together with the price or prices at which the same was sold, such written returns to be delivered to Licensor at its office in Chicago, Illinois, and Licensee agrees to pay to Licensor, on or before the 20th day of each calendar month, at the office of Licensor at Chicago, Illinois, the hereinbefore stipulated royalties or license fees which may then be due under this agreement on account of all of said plaster board and gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it during the next preceding calendar month.

5. Licensor, or its duly authorized representative shall have the right at all reasonable times during business hours to inspect the books of account and records of Licensee referred to in the next preceding paragraph hereof, including all records of every kind showing the quantity of said plaster board and gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it, the price or prices at which the same was sold, and to make copies thereof and memoranda therefrom.

6. Licensee agrees that all plaster board or gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it embodying the claims of any of said patents shall be distinctly marked with the word 'PATENTED', together with the dates of the Utzman patents, and the dates of any other patents which Licensor may properly specify, and in connection with the said markings it will further mark said patented product with the words 'Licensed under the above Letters Patent', which markings shall be plainly visible.

7. Having regard for the fact that there are or may be certain manufacturers of plaster or gypsum products who do not or may not manufacture gypsum wallboard or plaster board but who desire or may desire to have gypsum wallbard or plaster board manufactured for them, it is understood and agreed that Licensee may manufacture gypsum wallboard or plaster board embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in said Letters Patent, for any such other manufacturer; provided, however, that the said license fee or royalty to be 10981 paid to Licensor as hereinbefore provided shall be based upon all gypsum wallboard or plaster board manufactured for such other manufacturer and upon the regular selling price of Licensee of such plaster board or gypsum wallboard to its regular dealer trade at the time of such sale, and shall not be based upon the price at which plaster board or gypsum wallboard is sold by Licensee to such other manufacturer.

8. Licensee expressly covenants and agrees that all of said patented product sold by it and commonly known in the trade as 'seconds' shall be plainly invoiced as seconds and shall be plainly marked with a visible red stamp or label firmly fixed on each of said board showing the word 'seconds' in letters at least three inches in height.

9. It is expressly understood and agreed that the patented product manufactured and sold hereunder shall include all board having a protected edge, it being recognized by the parties hereto that any board manufactured by Licensee having a protected edge is within the scope of said Utzman patents Nos. 1,029,328 and 1,034,746.

After the expiration of said Letters Patent No. 1,034,746 and until the expiration of Letters Patent No. 1,330,413, it is expressly understood and agreed that the patented product manufactured and sold hereunder shall include all board having a protected edge, the parties hereto agreeing hereby that any and all board having a protected edge is within the claims or is manufactured according to the processes or by the use of machines embodying the claims either of said Letters Patent No. 1,330,413, or of one or more of the other of said letters patent listed in Exhibit 'A' hereto, under which the aforesaid indivisible and non-exclusive right, license and privilege is granted.

10. As one of the considerations for the indivisible and non-exclusive license herein and hereby granted, Licensee hereby acknowledge the validity of the Letters Patent, granted and to be granted, forming the subject-matter of this license, throughout the respective lives of the said Letters Patent and each of them, and agrees that it will not at any time before or after the expiration or termination of this license, directly or indirectly, by itself, through or together with another or others, contest the validity of either or any of said Letters Patent or the title thereto of Licensor, or question in any way the prima facie scope of either or any of said Letters Patent, or the priority, novelty or patentability of the subject matter of any of the said applications for letters patent.

11. In the event that Licensee shall at any time neglect, fail or refuse to keep or perform any of the conditions and agreements herein to be by Licensee kept and performed, then Licensor, at its election, may serve upon Licensee notice of intention to terminate the license herein granted, which notice shall specify the alleged neglect, failure or refusal; and if, within thirty (30) days from the date of delivery of said notice, Licensee shall not keep or perform the conditions and agreements specified in said notice, then said license and all rights acquired by Licensee hereunder shall be and become cancelled and relieved thereby from paying to Licensor any license fees or royalties or any other obligations accrued hereunder at the time of such termination. In case at any time Licensee shall commit any act of bankruptcy, then the license hereunder shall immediately be and become cancelled and terminated, but Licensor shall not thereby be prevented from collecting all license fees or royalties and other obligations accrued hereunder at the time of such termination. Failure on the part of Licensor to notify Licensee of a breach of this license contract or to terminate said license because of such breach shall not constitute a waiver of Licensor's right to terminate said license in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph. Licensor may specifically enforce this contract or any of the terms, conditions and covenants hereof, by injunction or in such other manner as may be provided by law.

12. Any notice to be given under the terms hereof may be served upon the Licensee by mailing the same to the Licensee, postage prepaid, addressed to it at its last known principal office, and the deposit of any such notice in the United States mails, postage prepaid and so addressed, shall constitute service of said notice upon the Licensee.

13. It is understood and agreed that if at any time during the term hereof the Licensee shall, in the judgment of the Licensor, suffer substantial detriment by reason of any infringement upon the part of any person or persons of the said patents, whether now or hereafter issued, under which this license is granted, the Licensor will afford the Licensee such reasonable protection as in the judgment of the Licensor shall be necessary or proper; and in case the Licensor shall grant to any such infringer, or to any other person, any license under said patent upon terms more favorable than those granted hereunder to this Licensee, then it will grant to this Licensee a license on the same terms.

14. The terms 'plasterboard' and 'gypsum wallboard' shall be understood to mean all board by whatever name called having the structural characteristics of plasterboard or gypsum wallboard, irrespective of the purpose for which the same may be sold or used.

15. This license and all of the covenants and agreements hereof shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the successors and assigns of the parties hereto, but nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to permit an assignment hereof by the Licensee except as hereinabove specifically provided.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have caused these presents to be signed by their respective Presidents, attested by their respective Secretaries, and their corporate seals to be hereunto affixed, in duplicate, the da and year first above written.

To said settlement agreement and said license agreement this defendant refers for the terms and conditions and legal effect thereof.

17. The allegations of paragraphs 16 to 36 inclusive of the bill of complaint herein contain the conclusions of the complainant as to the terms and provisions and legal effect of said settlement agreement and said license agreement. This defendant refers to and relies upon said agreements hereinabove set forth in haec verba for the terms, provisions and legal effect thereof.

18. It admits that upon the execution and delivery of said settlement agreement and said license agreement the defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., transferred, assigned and conveyed to the complainant all of the patents and applications for Letters Patent described in said Exhibit B, and paid to complainant on July 31, 1926, the sum of Two Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars $250,000.) in cash, as alleged in paragraph 36, and that the said

The Beaver Products Company, Inc., commencing with the date of the said license agreement and ever since has continued the manufacture and sale of plaster board 10984 and gypsum wallboard at and from its said plants under the terms and conditions of said license agreement. It denies that under the terms and conditions of said license agreement and/or said settlement agreement the defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc. became obligated to manufacture and sell any plaster board or gypsum wallboard, but alleges that the intent and effect of said agreements was to obligate the defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., to pay the royalties provided for in said license agreement for so long as the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc., manufactured and sold any plaster board and gypsum wallboard.

The defendant further answering says that the complainant has entered into license agreements with other manufacturers and dealers in plaster board and gypsum wallboard which provide for the same payment of royalties on all plaster board or gypsum wallboard manufactured or sold by such licensees as are provided in said license agreement with said The Beaver Products Company, Inc.; that such license agreements were made with certain other licensees where admittedly such licensees had not infringed such Letters Patent or applications therefor.

This defendant further answering says that no part of the royalty payments provided to be made by the defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., under the terms of said license agreement dated July 29, 1926, was in payment of any part of the claim made prior to said date by the complainant against said defendant, but that said royalty payments were to be made in consideration of the privilege granted in said license agreement to said defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., to manufacture and sell products embodying the inventions covered by the Letters Patent and applications for Letters Patent owned and controlled by said complainant; that said license agreement dated July 29, 1926, and the other 10985 license agreements made by said complainant with other licensees, provide that in case the complainant as licensor should grant to any other person any license under said Patents upon terms more favorable than those granted to such licensee or licensees, it, the said complainant, would grant to the licensee named in said license agreement a license on the same terms; that if any part of the royalty payments provided to be made by the defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., under said license agreement dated July 29, 1926, is a payment for or on account of any amount claimed to be due to complainant prior to the execution therof, then the royalty payments so far as they constitute payment for the privilege of manufacturing and selling plaster board and/or wallboard embodying the inventions covered by the Letters Patent and applications therefor owned and controlled by complainant, are more favorable than those granted to other licensees not claimed to have been infringers, under similar contracts; that this defendant is advised and therefore alleges the fact to be that the complainant has not reduced the rates of payment under said other license agreements to any of the licensees in such agreements.

19. It is without knowledge of the truth of the allegations of paragraph 37.

20. That subsequent to July 29, 1926, the complainant, United States Gypsum Company, and the defendants, Bestwall Mfg. Company, American Cement Plaster Company, The Beaver Board Companies and The Beaver Products Company, Inc., entered into a stipulation in said proceedings in this court, being Equity No. 779, which stipulation was filed in this court in said cause last mentioned and recited that said cause had been settled between the parties out of court, that plaintiff in said cause, being the complainant herein, waived its right to a writ of in-10986 junction and accounting and a reference to a master, that said plaintiff, being the complainant herein, had received satisfaction in full for all claims and demands against the defendants arising out of infringement of Patents Numbers 1,029,328 and 1,034,746, and that the clerk of the court enter of record a notation that the recovery awarded from Bestwall Mfg. Company, as sole defendant, in the decree entered in this court on August 11, 1919, and the recovery awarded from the said defendants in the decree entered August 17, 1925, had been satisfied in full, and that an accounting and the right to the issuance of a writ of injunction had been waived by said plaintiff, all pursuant to a settlement between the parties out of court; that the interlocutory decree entered August 11, 1919 and the interlocutory decree entered August 17, 1925, be made final decrees and that no further costs be charged to either party or parties. All of which will more fully and at large appear from the original stipulation filed in said cause No. 779 in Equity in this court, and from a true and correct copy of said stipulation ready to be produced in court by this defendant upon the hearing hereof. That pursuant to the foregoing stipulation, on October 4, 1926, an order was entered in this court in accordance with the terms thereof, which order recited that the recovery awarded from Bestwall Mfg. Company in the said decree entered August 11, 1919, and the recovery from the defendants in the decree entered August 17, 1925, had been satisfied in full. All of which will more fully and at large appear from the records of this court in said cause, a true and correct copy of which is ready to be produced by this defendant upon the hearing hereof. That thereafter on to-wit: October 4, 1926, by stipulation between Bestwall Mfg. Company, American Cement Plaster Company, The Beaver Board Companies and The Beaver Products Company, Inc., as appellants, and the complainant herein,

United States Gypsum Company, as appellee, in 10987 Case No. 3693 in the United States Circuit Court of appeals for the Seventh Circuit, being the appeal then pending from the decree of this court entered August 17, 1925, above mentioned, it was agreed that the said appeal be dismissed without further costs to either party, and thereafter, on the same date, by stipulation between the same parties in said case in said United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit, it was recited that the United States Gypsum Company, being the complainant herein and the plaintiff appellee in said cause in the said Circuit Court of Appeals, had received satisfaction in full for all claims and demands under the decree or decrees entered in this court against the above named appellants. That pursuant to said stipulation an order was entered in said cause in said United States Circuit Court of Appeals, reciting that the said appellee had received satisfaction in full for all claims and demands against the above named appellants under the decree entered in this court on August 17, 1925, and ordering that the certain bond in the sum of One Million Dollars ($1,000,000.) executed on November 5, 1925, as a condition to the staying of the execution and operation of said decree, including the staying of the injunction ordered thereby, pending appeal, be canceled, and that the principals and sureties named in said bond be discharged and released from all liability thereunder; all of which will more fully and at large appear from the records of the said United States

Circuit Court of Appeals in said cause, a true and correct copy of which stipulation and order is ready to be produced by this defendant upon the hearing of this cause.

21. That the defendants, The Beaver Products Company, Inc., and The Beaver Board Companies, on or about January 16, 1928, entered into a contract (hereinafter called the "purchase contract") with this defendant, Certain-teed Products Corporation, for the transfer 10988 and sale by said defendants The Beaver Products Company, Inc., and the Beaver Board Companies to this defendant of all the properties and assets of said The Beaver Products Company, Inc., and of said The Beaver Board Companies other than the stock of The Beaver Products Company, Inc. It alleges that the consideration to be paid by this defendant for said properties is a sum in cash in excess of Twelve Million Dollars ($12,000,000.), and denies that the consideration for said properties or any part thereof is the payment by this defendant of Fifty Dollars ($50.), or Five Dollars ($5.00), or any other amount, to the stockholders of the defendant The Beaver Board Companies, or any of them. It admits that unless restrained by order of this court this defendant will purchase from the defendants The Beaver Products Company, Inc., and The Beaver Board Companies the property and assets contracted by them to be sold and delivered by them to this defendant under the terms of the purchase contract, and alleges that it has a perfect right so to do. It denies that upon the consummation of said contract the defendants The Beaver Products Company, Inc., and The Beaver Board Companies will be without any assets whatsoever, but alleges that under the terms of said purchase contract provision is made for the satisfaction and discharge of all obligations of both of said companies. That said purchase contract provides "in consideration of the conveyance of all said properties and assets Certain-teed" (meaning Certain-teed Products Corporation) agrees among other things "(c) To assume all liabilities of the holding company" (meaning the defendant The Beaver Board Companies) "and the asset company" (meaning The Beaver Products Company, Inc.), other than the funded indebtedness of said companies, which under the terms of said purchase contract is to be paid." That this defendant, Certain-teed 10989 Produets Corporation, is entirely solvent and able fully to perform its obligations in this behalf, as shown by its balance sheet of November 30, 1927, attached hereto and marked Exhibit "A". It admits that upon the consummation of the purchase contract the defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., will not own any plaster board plants or mills in which to manufacture plaster board or gypsum wallboard, but it alleges that said defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., has no obligation to continue the manufacture and sale of plaster board and gypsum wallboard, and that said license agreement conferred upon the defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., the privilege of manufacturing and selling plaster board and/or gypsum wallboard embodying the inventions covered in the Letters Patent and applications for Letters Patent alleged to be owned and controlled by the complainant, and did not impose upon said defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., any duty or obligation to continue to manufacture and sell plaster board and/or gypsum wallboard, and that said settlement agreement and said license agreement dated July 29, 1926, did not impose any restrictions upon the defendants The Beaver Products Company, Inc., and The Beaver Board Companies, or either of them, as to transferring and selling their assets and property, and particularly did not impose any restrictions upon the performance and consummation of the purchase contract.

22. On information and belief it denies that the said defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., has, or has declared, any intention of repudiating its contract of July 29, 1926, and said license agreement of even date therewith, and refusing to perform the same, and alleges as above stated, that the said defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., is under no obligation to continue the manufacture of said plaster board or gypsum wallboard at its said plants or elsewhere. It denies that said 10990 defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., has refused to pay to the complainant the consideration agreed to be paid to it in satisfaction of complainant's claim for infringement. It alleges that such consideration was paid in full by the payment of Two Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($250,000.) in cash and the assignment to the complainant of said Letters Patent and applications for Letters Patent, and the execution of said license agreement, and denies that complainant has and will suffer any loss or irreparable injury or damage by reason of the performance and consummation by the defendants hereto of said purchase contract, as alleged in paragraph 39 or otherwise.

23. It denies on information and belief the allegations of paragraph 40 so far as they relate to the prediction by complainant that said defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., would, between the present time and February 10, 1937, manufacture and sell the number of feet of wallboard and plaster board therein mentioned, and that the defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., has, or ever had, contracts for the manufacture and sale of plaster board or gypsum wallboard extending to February 10, 1937. It alleges that the allegations of paragraph 40 are wholly immaterial to this cause for the reason, among others, that the said defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., is under no obligation to manufacture and sell wallboard and/or plaster board; it denies that the complainant would suffer any damage by reason of the discontinuance by said The Beaver Products Company, Inc., of the manufacture and sale of plaster board and/or wallboard, for the reason, among others, that the complainant is also engaged in the manufacture and sale of plaster board and wallboard, and if the defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., should discontinue the manufacture and sale of protected edge plaster 10991 board and wallboard under said license and withdraw from the field, the complainant or its other licensees would obtain a larger portion of said business. It alleges that any claim of the complainant against the said The Beaver Products Company, Inc., has been satisfied and discharged, and denies that the complainant is entitled to any accounting from these defendants or any of them or that the defendants The Beaver Products Company, Inc., and The Beaver Board Companies, or either of them, are indebted in any way, shape or manner to said complainant by reason of any matter or thing in said bill of complaint alleged. It denies that at the time of the execution of said settlement agreement the complainant had a claim for infringement against the defendants The Beaver Products Company, Inc., and The Beaver Board Companies, or either of them, amounting to Four Million Dollars ($4,000,000.) or any other amount. It denies that the Patents and applications for Letters Patent assigned to the complainant under said agreement were worthless, but alleges that such Patents and applications for Letters Patent were of substantial value. It denies that there is due and owing to the complainant the sum of Four Million Dollars ($4,000,000.) or any other sum. It denies that the complainant is entitled to an injunction against this defendant restraining it from consummating the said purchase contract or from purchasing the properties and assets of the defendants The Beaver Products Company, Inc., and The Beaver Board Companies under said contract.

24. It denies that this defendant, Certain-teed Products Corporation, had knowledge of any infringement of the said patents of complainant by the said defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., or of the claim of complainant in the sum of Four Million Dollars ($4,000,000.) resulting therefrom, as alleged in paragraph 41. It admits that this defendant had knowledge of the settlement agreement of July 29, 1926, and the said li-10992 cense agreement of even date therewith, but denies that this defendant had knowledge of any undertaking by the said defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., to continue the manufacture and sale of plaster board and gypsum wallboard until 1937 or until any other date, and denies that any such obligation exists or ever existed. It denies that the performance and consummation of said purchase contract will deprive the defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., of its ability to pay any debt which it owes. It denies that the transfer and sale of the assets and properties pursuant to said purchase contract will constitute a fraud upon the rights of complainant or will constitute a breach by said defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., of any agreement with the complainant and particularly of said settlement agreement and said license agreement dated July 29, 1926. It denies that any of the plants, properties and assets of The Beaver Products Company, Inc., should be subjected to the payment of any claim of the complainant by reason of any matter or thing in said bill of complaint set forth, and denies that this defendant, its officers, agents or attorneys, should be enjoined and restrained as alleged in paragraph 41 or otherwise.

25. It denies that the defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., is required to make any further payments of royalties under said license agreement unless it shall hereafter manufacture and sell plaster board and/or gypsum wallboard. It alleges that the stockholders and directors of the defendants The Beaver Products Company, Inc., and The Beaver Board Companies have the right to dissolve either or both of said companies upon making provision for the payment to complainant of royalties under said license agreement payable on account of plaster board and/or gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by them prior to such dissolution.

26. That this court should not grant any relief to the complainant since the complainant has a full, ade-
10993 quate and complete remedy at law for any breach of said settlement agreement or said license agreement by the defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., which right will not be affected by the sale of the properties of the defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., to this defendant, since, as hereinabove stated, this defendant has agreed to assume all liabilities of The Beaver Products Company, Inc., and is amply able so to do.

27. It alleges on information and belief that said license agreement between the complainant and the defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., and the similar license agreements made by the complainant with others, were entered into by the complainant, not for the purpose of securing to itself the royalties payable thereunder, but for the purpose of enabling the complainant to continue to dominate the gypsum wallboard and plaster board industry, to control the prices at which said products are sold, and to restrain trade, all in violation of the terms of the final decree entered January 3, 1923, by the District Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York in the cause entitled "United States of America, Petitioner, vs. Gypsum Industries Association et al., Defendants", to which the complainant and certain of its officers and directors were parties defendant, and of the Anti-Trust Laws of the United States, said purpose of the complainant being shown by the fact that said license agreements require the licensees thereunder to pay the royalties therein stipulated, not only on gypsum wallboard and plaster board alleged to be covered by the Utzman patents, but also on gypsum wallboard and plaster board of every kind manufactured and sold, whether patented or unpatented. This defendant is informed and believes that said requirements were made for the purpose of and with the intention of restraining trade by in effect 10994 preventing such licensees from manufacturing or selling "open-edge" wallboard not covered by said patents, and thus restricting or eliminating competition which would otherwise have arisen between such unpatented "open-edge" wallboard and the patented "protected edge" wallboard manufactured by complainant or under its patents. This defendant further alleges that, for the reasons above stated, said license agreement is a contract in restraint of trade in violation of said final decree, and of the Anti-Trust Laws of the United States.

28. This defendant alleges that it has, for more than a year and a half, manufactured unpatented "open-edge" wallboard at its plant at Acme, Texas, and has built up a large and growing trade therein and that said "open-edge" wallboard is in active competition with the patented "protected edge" wallboard manufactured by the complainant and its licensees. This defendant further alleges on information and belief that, in order to maintain and perpetuate its monopoly, the complainant has instituted legal proceedings, under its alleged patent rights or otherwise, against substantially all its competitors in the plaster board business who were not willing to submit to the burdens of a license agreement, and that the primary purpose of complainant in instituting this suit is not to secure to itself the royal s specified in the license agreement but to prevent this defendant from increasing its manufacture and sale of "open-edge" wallboard and becoming an even stronger competitor of complainant in the wallboard business, thus threatening the complainant's long continued domination and substantial monopoly of that business. This defendant alleges that, in order to avoid litigation, it offered to accept a license from the complainant extending to August 6, 1929, the period of expiration of the so-called Utzman patents covering not only the plants of the defendant, The Beaver Products Company, Inc., but also all plants of this defendant Certain-teed Products Corporation, but the complainant refused to grant such license unless this defendant would ac-10995 cept a license extending to 1937. In a further attempt to avoid litigation, certain officers of this defendant thereupon inquired of certain officers of the complainant whether the complainant would be satisfied if this defendant assumed the license agreement as to the properties to be acquired by it from The Beaver Products Company, Inc., until 1937, and on the same terms, but were told that this would not be acceptable to complainant unless this defendant would also agree to pay like royalties on all wallboard, whether "open-edge" or "protected edge", manufactured by it at its present plant in Texas or elsewhere. Since it is reasonable to suppose that this defendant, having a large and growing business, will be in a position to manufacture at the plants now owned by defendant The Beaver Products Company, Inc., and to sell, a larger amount of wallboard than has heretofore been manufactured and sold by The Beaver Products Company, Inc., thus increasing the royalties payable to the complainant, it is obvious that the purpose of this suit is not to collect the royalties to which the complainant claims it is entitled, but to enable the complainant to continue to dominate and monopolize the industry and to restrain competition by this defendant.

29. This defendant further alleges, on information and belief, that the complainant has unlawfully sought to dominate and monopolize the wallboard industry, in substantial restraint of trade, and in violation of said final decree entered June 3, 1923, and of the Anti-Trust Laws of the United States, not only by controlling prices under its license agreements or otherwise, but also by granting rebates to customers and by other unfair practices, in violation of the Federal Trade Commission Act of the United States, and has instituted this suit to enable it to continue and extend its unlawful domination and monopoly of said industry, and that, for the reasons aforesaid, complainant is not entitled to the relief prayed for by it, or any other relief.

10996 30. It denies each and every allegation of said bill of complaint not herein specifically admitted or denied.

31. It denies that the complainant is entitled to the relief herein prayed for, or any part thereof, and asks that the said bill be dismissed at complainant's costs.

UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY Twenty-fourth Annual Report Fiscal Year Ending December 31, 1925

11006 United States Gypsum Company of Illinois [formerly of New Jersey] Twenty-fourth Annual Report Fiscal Year Ending December 31, 1925

11007 February 10, 1926.

To the Stockholders of the United States Gypsum Company:

Your Board of Directors submits the following report on the business of the United States Gypsum Company and its subsidiaries for the year ended December 31, 1925.

The net income for the year is $8,414,116.88 after deducting federal taxes and depreciation. This net income, after providing for the 7% dividend on the preferred stock, is equal to an earning of $15.45 per share on the Company's outstanding common stock.

Disposition of this net income has been made as follows: cash dividends, $3,047,758.41; stock dividend (at par), $1,322,169.00; added to surplus, $4,044,189.47.

Expenditures for new plants, additions and improvements amount to $4,241,298.07. While increases in capacities have resulted from these investments, the major purpose has been to attain that economy of production which an increasingly active competitive condition demands.

The continued growth of the Company's business has required an increase of $2,161,680.09 in net working capital.

A liberal program of expenditures for the year 1926 has been authorized by your Board of Directors and is in action. Its purpose is very largely to reduce costs. Provision to finance these commitments has been made in part by setting aside funds in the government securities listed in the attached report.

For the past seven years the building industry has been engaged in making up a building shortage occasioned by conditions incident to the war. Capacities of production, transportation, distribution and erection have in varying degrees been inadequate to these demands during most of this period. The nation's annual construction program 11008 has increased from $3,142,000,000 in 1919 to an average of $4,341,000,000 during the past seven years, with a maximum of $6,500,000,000 in 1925. This peak demand of the year just closed has, however, been supplied promptly by manufacturers, transported quickly by railroads, distributed by dealers without delay and erected with speed by the trades. The capacity for construction in all its branches may safely be said to be equal to the present high demand and in several important branches to exceed such demand. Authorities best equipped to make such estimates are convinced that the building shortage generally has been made up and that the building industry will hereafter have to depend upon the normal growth of the country for its business. If these assumptions are correct, a continuation of the present rate of building is improbable and the capacities now supplying it and then in part unemployed will create a heightened competition, resulting in reduced prices and smaller profits. In the gypsum industry the conditions reflected in the above are conspicuous. Capacity has been steadily increased and during the year just passed has been in excess of demand. Competition in all important branches has been increasingly severe, and prices have continued to decline. Fortunately the steady business enjoyed by your Company throughout the year, together with the benefits of earlier investment, has permitted reductions in costs more than equal to the declines in price.

New products of proved excellence are being successfully introduced to the building trade and hold promise of great growth. Despite the disturbing fundamentals above referred to, it is certain that present demand for your Company's products is good and so much of the future as is disclosed by building contracts seems to assure a continuation of the present favorable condition for at least six months.

Respectfully submitted,

UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY Twenty-fifth Annual Report Fiscal Year Ending December 31, 1926

11018 United States Gypsum Company of Illinois [formerly of New Jersey] Twenty-fifth Annual Report Fiscal Year Ending December 31, 1926

11019 February 9, 1927.

To the Stockholders of the United States Gypsum Company:

Your Board of Directors submits the following report on the business of the United States Gypsum Company and its subsidiaries for the year ended December 31, 1926.

The net income for the year is $8,375,747.43 after deducting federal taxes and depreciation. This net income, after providing for the 7% dividend on the preferred stock, is equal to an earning of $11.35 per share on the Company's outstanding Common stock.

Disposition of this net income has been made as follows: cash dividends, $3,115,885.22; stock dividend, $3,567,767.00 (at par); added to surplus, $1,692,095.21.

Expenditures for new plants, additions and improvements amount to $6,123,546.81. While increases in capacity have resulted from these investments, the major purpose this year, as last, has been to attain economy of production and improvement of quality.

A somewhat smaller program of expenditures for 1927 has been authorized by the Board of Directors, and is progressing. These needed developments have the same purpose of economy. Provision to finance these commitments has been made by setting aside funds in the government securities listed in the attached reports.

Competition has been increasingly active throughout the year, and indications point to a continuation of this condition. While the average price reduction approximates 4% on the Company's sales generally considered, it is 11020 to be noted that the markets in many sections have on some commodities met such reductions in price as to seriously reduce profits. This development has been experienced in the face of an active building demand, and indicates plainly a capacity in the industry in excess of such large demand. If the generally expected reduction in building proves a reality there seems little justification to expect any decrease of these competitive factors in the commodities affected.

Decrease in manufacturing cost has been more than equal to the decline in price. This is a gratifying justification of past plant expenditures, as the major part of this cost reduction is the direct result of recent plant investments.

An outstanding feature of the year's business has been the need of increased sales effort to maintain the position of our established products in the trade and to introduce and widen the use of our steadily growing newer commodities.

The physical condition of your Company's properties has never been so good. The producing and distributing organizations are excellent, and the outlook seems to justify the expectation of a satisfactory year.

Respectfully submitted,

SEWELL L. AVERY

President.

UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY Twenty-sixth Annual Report Fiscal Year Ending December 31, 1927

11030 United States Gypsum Company of Illinois [formerly of New Jersey] Twenty-sixth Annual Report Fiscal Year Ending December 31, 1927

11031 February 8, 1928.

To the Stockholders of the United States Gypsum Company:

Your Board of Directors submits the following report on the business of the United States Gypsum Company and its subsidiaries for the year ended December 31, 1927.

The net income for the year is $7,538,507.84, after deducting federal taxes and depreciation. This net income, after providing for the 7% dividend on the preferred stock, is equal to $10.10 per share on the Company's outstanding common stock.

Disposition of this net income has been made as follows: cash dividends, $2,348,096.46; added to surplus, $5,190,411.38.

Expenditures for new plants, additions and improvements amount to $5,598,555.73. These investments have brought into satisfactory operation an economic producing capacity, advantageously located, that has demonstrated its value during the latter part of the past year. It marks the near completion of a general plan designed to this end and undertaken three years ago. While the growth of the Company's business and the changed market conditions will continually require plant investment, the needs for the ensuing year are expected to be greatly reduced.

Competition has been increasingly severe throughout the year. The moderate decline in building has been most pronounced in those branches of the industry which our products serve. Additional competitive capacity has rendered these severe market conditions still more difficult, and in consequence prices have declined. In many sections they have reached so low a level on important commodities as to preclude a satisfactory profit. As this development has been gradual and due to the excess of capacity over de-11032 mand, the year's report herewith submitted reflects the average of the twelve months just passed, rather than the lower rate of earnings which must prevail if present conditions continue.

Our newer commodities are rapidly growing in general use, and are increasingly contributing to the Company's profit. Our properties and morale are on a uniformly high level, and cost reductions through our recent large investments are definitely assured. The outlook for tonnage for the first half of the year seems promising, and while a decline in profits is anticipated it seems safe to expect a reasonably satisfactory earning for 1928.

Respectfully submitted,

SEWELL L. AVERY
President.

11042 United States Gypsum Company of Illinois [formerly of New Jersey] Twenty-seventh Annual Report Fiscal Year Ending December 31, 1928

11043 February 13, 1929.

To the Stockholders of the United States Gypsum Company:

Your Board of Directors submits the following report on the business of the United States Gypsum Company and its subsidiaries for the year ended December 31, 1928.

The net income for the year is $6,301,635.16, after deducting federal taxes and depreciation. This net income, after providing for the 7% dividend on the preferred stock, is equal to $7.22 per share on the Company's outstanding common stock.

Disposition of this net income has been made as follows: cash dividends, $1,703,201.34; stock dividends, $1,383,004.00; added to surplus, $2,960,054.67.

Expenditures for new plants, additions and improvements amount to $6,137,592.27. Included in the above are mills in Montana and Wyoming acquired to better serve these markets, and the investment in new plants now in the course of construction at Boston, Philadelphia, Detroit, Alabaster and Chicago.

Competitive conditions have been of a severity unknown in the industry for many years. Starting early in the spring and continuing without abatement throughout the year, price declines have been such as to severely assail all commodities in all sections. In important sales divisions and on major commodities the common struggle to retain establishment has led manufacturers to sell frequently at prices lower than cost. Our Company has faced this condition with reluctance and met the conditions with restraint. As 11044 this development has been gradual the year's report herewith submitted reflects again the average of the past twelve months, rather than the lower rate of earnings which must prevail if present conditions continue.

Our recently introduced commodities and the newer products now being offered continue increasingly to contribute to the Company's earnings. The profit showing made under such adverse conditions confirms the wisdom of the Company's investment program of the past and gives confidence in the economic security of the development now under way.

Respectfully submitted,

SEWELL L. AVERY,
President.

Certificate for Publication

Sewell L. Avery, President,
United States Gypsum Company,
Chicago, Illinois.

Dear Sir:

We have examined the accounts of the United States Gypsum Company and its Subsidiary Companies for the year ended December 31, 1928. Accepting the balances of plant, equipment and surplus accounts of December 31, 1927, as previously certified to by the Audit Company of New York, we certify that, in our opinion, the accompanying balance sheet and summary of surplus account correctly present the consolidated financial position of the companies at December 31, 1928, and the consolidated surplus net profits for the year ended that date.

Very truly yours,

ARTHUR ANDERSEN & Co.

Chicago,
February 11, 1929.

UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY Twenty-eighth Annual Report Fiscal Year Ending December 31, 1929

11054 United States Gypsum Company of Illinois [formerly of New Jersey] Twenty-eighth Annual Report Fiscal Year Ending December 31, 1929

11055 February 13, 1930.

To the Stockholders of the United States Gypsum Company:

Your Board of Directors submits the following report on the business of the United States Gypsum Company and its subsidiaries for the year ended December 31, 1929.

The net income for the year is $5,102,304.92, after deducting federal taxes and depreciation. This net income, after providing for the 7% dividend on the preferred stock is equal to $3.98 per share on the common stock now outstanding, and represents an earning of $5.33 per share on the average number of shares of common stock outstanding during the year. Cash dividends of $1,904,114.90 were paid, and the net amount added to surplus was $3,491,490.72.

Expenditures for new plants, additions and improvements amounted to $11,254,534.36, which includes the construction started in 1928 of the new plants at Boston, Philadelphia, Detroit, Alabaster and Chicago. The partial financing of these new plants through the issuance of rights to the stockholders, yielded $5,645,306.48 from the year's installments, the balance being provided out of earnings. These new mills were completed and put into production too late in the year to permit them to make a substantial contribution to earnings. The results already attained from their operation demonstrate the soundness, security and advantages of these investments.

For many years the Company has suffered from a general infringement of its wallboard patents and has in-11056 curred the expense of litigation in their defense. During the year these conditions have been corrected by arrangements for the payment to us of damages suffered and through the granting of licenses under royalty. The returns to be received, while substantial, are relatively of a minor amount. The major benefits anticipated are a relief from the disadvantages of and incident to legal contention, and the increased consumption of wallboard products which should follow the quality improvements that a full and uniform use of the patented methods and products should assure.

The benefits expected from an improvement in market conditions occurring in the middle of the year were offset by a drastic decline in building which was first felt in August. While improvement is confidently expected, it is obvious that in the cities, in divisions important to our business, building has exceeded the present demand.

Disclaiming ability to foretell the next year's developments at this time, it may be fairly stated that the general feeling of the organization is that we shall have in 1930 a satisfactory and a better year.

Respectfully submitted,

SEWELL L. AVERY,
President.

MEMBERS OF THE MANAGEMENT BOARD:

NEW YORK, MAY 10, 1938

Subj: Perforated Gypsum Lath

Dict. by: W. G. BAUMHOGGER, Pres.-E.D.

Effective May 2nd, the U. S. Gypsum Company eliminated the differential of 25¢ per thousand feet on Perforated Lath; in other words, both Perforated and Non-Perforated Lath now sell at $13.00 per thousand feet.

I do not have the file before me as I dictate this memorandum (Mr. Ernst has it with him and is out of town), but the Licenses on Perforated Lath were offered by the U. S. Gypsum Company to its various Licensees early in 1936. Acting as our representatives, Messrs. Henley and Van Hagan attended a meeting called by Mr. Henning, then Vice President of the U. S. Gypsum Company, for the purpose of discussing the proposed Licenses. One of the commitments made by Mr. Henning at that meeting was that the U. S. Gypsum Company would maintain the minimum price on Perforated Lath at a sufficiently higher level (over Non-Perforated Lath) to cover (a) the additional manufacturing costs; (b) the additional royalty of 10¢ per thousand feet. It was assumed that the additional manufacturing costs would be 15¢ per thousand feet; therefore, the minimum differential was to be 25¢ per thousand feet.

Actually, the additional manufacturing cost of Perforated Lath has been more than 15¢ per thousand feet. Mr. Krug tells me that our additional cost is 35¢ per thousand feet.

The former differential of 25¢ on Gypsum Lath has, therefore, not covered the additional manufacturing cost and the additional royalties.

In eliminating the former differential of 25¢, the U. S. Gypsum Company, as I see it, has done as follows:

1. Failed to keep faith with its Licensees in connection with its promise to maintain the minimum price of Perforated Lath at a higher price than Non-Perforated.

2. Taken a step which will result in a very much larger proportion of Perforated Lath being sold than was the case heretofore.

3. Reduced the income which its Licensees obtain on the sale of Lath. (If, as I assume, a larger proportion of the sales go to Perforated Lath, and as Perforated Lath is now sold at the same price as Non-Perforated, and as Perforated Lath costs more to manufacture than Non-Perforated, and as the Licensees pay a higher royalty to U.S.G. on Perforated Lath, this means that the income of Licensees on their total Lath sales is reduced.)

4. Obtains increased royalties for itself. (The royalty on Perforated Lath is 10¢ per thousand feet more than on Non-Perforated; hence the more Per-11066 forated Lath that is sold, the larger are the royalties collected by the U. S. Gypsum Company.) Possibly these larger royalties will offset the U. S. Gypsum Company's additional manufacturing cost of Perforated Lath.

In other words, this action of the U. S. Gypsum Company has placed the rest of the Industry at a disadvantage; without similarly affecting the U. S. Gypsum Company. It seems to me that this is a perfect example of the type of monopolistic and patent control which the Federal Government has said it does not favor. We may wish to consider the advisability of discussing with general counsel the question of filing a complaint with the Federal Trade Commission. Before filing such a complaint, however, I would want to have the data carefully analyzed by a legal firm which specializes in cases of this nature. We would also have to give a great deal of consideration to the effect that such action might have on our future relations with the U. S. Gypsum Company; and to retaliatory action which they might take—such as reducing the price of Wallboard, etc.

According to opinions from counsel, which we have in our files, the U. S. Gypsum Company's Patents on Perforated Lath could probably not be sustained were anyone to attack them. As a matter of fact, there seems to be no reason for believing that the Patents could be sustained. We knew this at the time we signed the License; but, presumably, were influenced by our belief that as other Gypsum Lath and Wallboard items were under Patent and price control, it would be well to have the same situation apply to Perforated Lath.

The National Gypsum Company has not taken a License for the manufacture of Perforated Lath; but is manufacturing Perforated Lath without the payment of royalty. Mr. Ernst is obtaining the data for us. In comparison with our two largest competitors, therefore, we are at a cost disadvantage to the extent of 10¢ a thousand feet.

The License under which we are operating on Perforated Lath may be cancelled by either party on eighteen months' notice. In view of the fact that the Patents are of doubtful validity, it does not appear likely that the U. S. Gypsum Company will cancel the License. If, however, the Patents are stronger than we have reason to believe they are, there is always the possibility that after the Perforated Lath market has been developed, the U. S. Gypsum Company will cancel the Licenses and thus have that market to themselves.

After considering the various angles of this situation, it is my opinion that we should write a friendly letter to Mr. Knode, President of the U. S. Gypsum Company, along the following lines:

"Effective May 2nd, your Company reduced the price of Perforated Lath from $13.25 per thousand feet to $13.00—in other words, wiped out the differential which has heretofore existed in the prices of Perforated Lath and Non-Perforated Lath.

"We have every reason to believe in the integrity of the U. S. Gypsum Company; and we are sure that the management of the U. S. Gypsum Company would not, knowingly, violate its commitments. For that reason, we are of the opinion that you are not acquainted with the assurance given us by Mr. Henning prior to our 11067 acceptance of a License for the manufacture of Perforated Lath, which assurance was to this effect: That the U. S. Gypsum Company would, while such License was in effect, maintain the price of Perforated Lath at a sufficiently higher price than Non-Perforated Lath to cover (a) the additional manufacturing cost; (b) the additional royalties of 10¢ per thousand feet. It was, furthermore, agreed by Mr. Henning—in his capacity as Vice President of the U. S. Gypsum Company—that this differential would be a minimum of 25¢ per thousand feet, on the assumption that the additional cost of manufacturing Perforated Lath would be 15¢ per thousand feet, which, plus the 10¢ per thousand feet extra royalties, amounted to an additional cost to Licensees of 25¢ per thousand feet.

"Actually, the former differential of 25¢ per thousand feet did not cover such additional costs. Our experience to date indicates that Perforated Lath costs us 35¢ per thousand feet more than Non-Perforated Lath, exclusive of the 10¢ per thousand feet additional royalty.

"If Perforated Lath cost the same to manufacture as Non-Perforated, and if the royalty on Perforated Lath were no higher than on Non-Perforated, there would, of course, be no valid reason for selling Perforated Lath at a higher price than Non-Perforated; but, as stated above, that is not the case. Your action, therefore, in reducing the price of Perforated Lath places us at a distinct disadvantage with respect to both yourselves and the National Gypsum Company, inasmuch as the National Gypsum Company is not operating under a similar license and is not required to pay an additional 10¢ per thousand feet royalty. If, as we believe, the establishing of the same selling price on Perforated and Non-Perforated Lath will result in a very much larger proportion of Perforated Lath being sold, this disadvantage to us is likely to become acute, in that we not only fail to recoup the higher cost of manufacturing Gypsum Lath, but will be required to pay you the additional royalty on a much larger proportion of our Gypsum Lath business than has been the case heretofore.

"Under the circumstances, and particularly in view of the assurances given to us by Mr. Henning prior to our acceptance of the License on Perforated Lath, we request that you reinstate the price of Perforated Lath at $13.25 per thousand feet; and we also request that during the time this License is operative, this differential of 25¢ per thousand feet between the price of Perforated and Non-Perforated Lath be maintained.

"So that you may understand our position in the matter, may we say that Mr. Henning's assurances as to the maintenance of an adequate differential between the price of Perforated and Non-Perforated Lath were a prime consideration in our decision to accept the license? In other words, if this assurance had 11068 not been given, we would not have signed the License Agreement.

"We believe your action in recently eliminating the former 25¢ per thousand feet differential indicates that you are not acquainted with the assurance that was given us by Mr. Henning. We hope that you will be disposed to accept our word that this assurance was given. If you desire it, however, we shall be glad to furnish affidavits to this effect from several people who were present at the meeting at which Mr. Henning gave this assurance.

"We particularly request that you do not reinstate the differential of 25¢ per thousand feet between the minimum selling prices of Perforated and Non-Perforated Lath, by maintaining Perforated Lath at $13.00 per thousand feet and reducing Non-Perforated Lath to $12.75. Gypsum Lath, as you know and as I believe all of your Licensees will tell you, is and has been selling at a lower price than is warranted by its manufacturing cost and distributing expense.

"An early statement from you regarding your decision in the matter will be appreciated."

I sent Mr. Henley a copy of a proposed letter, similar to the one quoted above, and asked him to give me a frank expression of opinion regarding the advisability of such a letter.

Mr. Henley's reply is as follows:

"In my opinion a 'letter of disapproval' should not be written (for the following reasons):

1. Matters of this kind can always be handled by conference to a much better advantage than by formal correspondence.

2. I am doubtful that U. S. G. would make any change in policy on account our protest or because of Mr. Henning's commitment.

3. Information received confidentially that U.S.G. are selling approximately 50% to 60% of their lath in perforated form—National about 12% and Certain-teed only some 5%.

4. U.S.G. are 'sold' on the potential market that cheap Gypsum Lath will 'open' to the industry (Wood Lath Market) and are definitely of the opinion that $13.00 Perforated will further materially increase market (Metal Lath) possibilities."

I do not agree with Mr. Henley's conclusions.

In paragraph "1", he states that matters of this kind can always be handled by conference to much better ad-11069 vantage than by formal correspondence. I doubt that this is the case. True, the U. S. G. Company prefers to have conferences, but we know that they are past masters in the art of promising nothing at conferences. It seems to me that it would be much better for us in this instance to follow a technique that they do not like—that of stating our position, and our reasons for it, in writing. We shall, of course, have to consult counsel to determine whether we are incriminating ourselves by admitting that we were party to an agreement to maintain the price of Perforated Lath at a higher level than Non-Perforated; but it seems to me that the additional manufacturing cost and the additional royalty was, from our point of view, sufficient consideration for entering into such an agreement.

The second point made by Mr. Henley is that the U.S.G. Company will not honor the commitment made by Mr. Henning. That is an assumption; we won't know until we ask them. My own opinion is that the U. S. Gypsum Company does not wish to be in the position of violating an agreement which it has made.

The other two points raised by Mr. Henley are irrelevant.

Please consider this subject carefully prior to the next Management Board Meeting on the 20th, at which time it will be discussed.

E. G. Roos, V.P.—New York
James K. Norris, V.P.—New York
G. P. Krug—New York
O. R. Orr—New York

Referring to your memorandum of May 10 regarding the price situation on Perforated Gypsum Lath would comment on this as follows:

Referring to the second paragraph of your letter, while it is true that Mr. Henning did state that a price differential of 25¢ would apply on Perforated Gypsum Lath I do not believe that any guarantee was given that this price would be indefinitely maintained. In fact, when the license agreement was finally made up and submitted for signature this agreement did state that Licensor would have the privilege of changing prices at any time in future. This information was clearly contained in the agreement and agreement was negotiated on that basis. Taking this into consideration I would hesitate to recommend the proposed letter to Mr. Knode.

Referring to the third paragraph and information furnished by Mr. Krug on additional costs of perforating, which I interpret as the manufacturing cost of 35¢ per M. feet plus a royalty of 10¢ per M. feet, would advise that these figures need further explanation. There is included in this figure an Overhead running from 11¢ per M. at Akron with a standard production of 600,000' to 21¢ per M. at Acme, Texas with a standard production of 200,000'. You can readily appreciate that if any considerable production were actually developed that this Overhead figure would readily reduce itself from 2¢ to 5¢ per M.

Also with reference to the manufacturing cost, it was not contemplated at the time original installation of these machines was made that the Perforated Lath production would be a very large percentage of the total. Consequently machines were set up in out of the way places where material could be conveyed to them by skids and in turn removed by skids. This made a 2 man operation out of the perforator. As production has stepped up we are rearranging these machines to put them into line with the lath bundlers and for complete automatic operation and when these matters have all been worked out the manufacturing cost will be considerably reduced. It is my estimate that the direct manufacturing cost without 11071 Overhead will be below 15¢ per M. feet. The Acme, Texas and Fort Dodge machines are now installed in this manner. The Akron machine is in process of being changed and appropriation has been submitted to cover. When these changes have been completed and production has reached a point where Overhead is in proper proportion to the balance of the cost I estimate the cost of perforating in total and including Overhead will range between 15¢ and 20¢ per M. square feet.

While it is true that Perforated Lath has made tremendous strides on the Pacific Coast it must be taken into consideration that California has State laws which demand a mechanical key of plaster to Gypsum Lath. This has resulted in development of Perforated Lath, Button Lath, Key Lath, etc. on the Pacific Coast. I have not felt that the reduction in the price in the East is going to swing all of our lath business over to Perforated Lath. My reason for this statement is that because of the perforation in this lath an excess of 5% of plaster is required on one of these jobs. This means the purchase of this 5% of material, the handling, mixing and application of same, and which is going to be quite an item on a plastering contractors costs. I believe the addition of Perforated Lath for general use is going to be slow for this reason.

It is my present thought that it would not be advisable to write the proposed letter to the U.S.G. Company and my reason for this comment is due to the fact that we still have a considerable job to do to bring our percentage of the industry up to 18% to 20%. Also that this additional percentage can be gained more readily by constant "wood sawing" rather than by developing any antagonism at this time. We also, of course, can protect ourselves to a much greater extent by the establishment of board and lath production at our other plaster mills, such as Grand Rapids and possibly Blue Rapids. The elimination of freight absorption is a much bigger factor than the small differential and royalty involved in this recent price change on Perforated Lath. It is quite possible that putting the Perforated Lath and the regular lath on the same basis may assist in greatly enlarging the Gypsum Lath market, which in turn will mean more production for everyone. I believe this should be seriously considered.

As a further protection to our Gypsum Lath business I believe that the better control of paper prices for our western plants by our own production at East St. Louis is very necessary.

If it should be the majority opinion of the Management Board that a letter along the lines submitted be written to Mr. Knode I would suggest that the name of the National Gypsum Company be deleted and reference simply made to "another competitor." It was my understanding that the National Gypsum Company have al-11072 ready received an infringement notice on their Perforated Lath.

I am giving you below an outline of the reasons which were taken into consideration in the signing of this license agreement:

First,—It was contended that the signing of the license agreement and payment of royalty was an added feature in maintaining the general patent structure covering Gypsum Wallboard and Lath and that it was correct procedure to do this, even taking into consideration the extra royalty which would be involved.

Second,—Our Company has no fire test data on our own products. It would be necessary that we conduct a fire test at the Bureau of Standards, at least on a side wall construction, and get a definite rating on our own products; otherwise we must use the Licensor's test data and which we have been doing in the past. The writer checked with the Bureau of Standards as to cost involved and which would amount to from $500.00 to $700.00 for a side wall construction fire test.

The above is written to express my present thoughts on this situation.

MR. A. WHITTEMORE, V.p., New York

Saturday morning, July 9, I asked Mr. Knode as to present status of subject matter.

Mr. Knode advised that they had given this subject very careful consideration for the reason that if patent was "good," they definitely were of the opinion that same should be preserved for not only the benefit of licensor, but the licensees as well. However, he mentioned that they were not particularly interested in the income received from royalties.

To answer your specific question, Mr. Knode stated that they had decided that the patents were "good" and in order to clarify the situation, a formal letter had been written to manufacturers who had not recognized the perforated feature, the first letter being written July 8, and it was their intention to follow with another one within the next few days.

Mr. Knode went on to say that it is true—perforated lath had been manufactured for the last eight or ten years, containing, however, a ⅜ inch opening, whereas the real patent feature claimed by them consisted of a perforation ¾ inch in diameter together with proper spacing, and it is this combination "differing from previous board manufactured" that they claim is "new" and provides for the one-hour fire rating which the other types do not measure up to. It is therefore their decision to vigorously defend their patent position.

Mr. Knode went on to say that their position did not necessarily close the door on a discussion involving a possible reduction in royalty payments by us, and inasmuch as he plans on being in New York later this week or early next week, he will make it a point to drop in and see you and discuss this matter further.

I asked Mr. Knode to give me a ring a day or so previous to his leaving Chicago and I would teletype you day of his arrival in order, that if possible you could arrange to see him.

In conclusion. U. S. Gypsum intend to defend their perforated lath patent situation. They are quite willing to discuss possible reduction in royalty on our part during interim, i.e., from May 2, 1938 until patent position is fully clarified.

MR. M. H. BAKER, Pres.,

Buffalo, N. Y.

DEAR SIR:

Re: Dwight Hinckley Lbr Co.

Since receipt of your letter of the first ult. regarding your sales to the above account of patented gypsum wallboard and plasterboard manufactured and sold by you under your license agreement we have received information indicating that Dwight Hinckley Lumber Company is offering such patented wallboard for sale at prices less than our minimum price to you therefor. It seems unreasonable to us that this dealer would be selling such patented board at a loss and we must therefore ask you for more specific information concerning your sales to this account.

We desire that you supplement your letter of April 1st with an affidavit advising us of the price actually paid by this dealer for the board shipped under the invoices listed in your letter. The affidavit should also state what, if any, adjustments, rebates or credit allowances of any nature whatsoever have been allowed to this dealer during the period that these shipments were made and should state the amount of any unpaid balances due on any of the shipments referred to in your letter.

Yours very truly,

BOARD SURVEY COMPANY

After several days check-up Chicago will do nothing to stop Port Clinton pick-up and trucking until the Cleveland situation is disposed of.

By this they mean that Dwight Hinckley is selling to other dealers L.C.L. lots at less than carload price. To compete U.S.G. and others have to truck to Cleveland dealers. They won't entertain cleaning up Port Clinton until the Dwight Hinckley situation is cleaned out. I explained we were practically through but they want something quite definite on this—a definite commitment not to sell them. I felt before I gave this I would ask L. R. Lund to give me a memorandum of what Dwight Hinckley owe us and then check with you on the best type of official notice to give Dwight Hinckley that we have made other plans of distribution and won't sell them.

Would like your suggestions for handling this with Dwight Hinckley and as soon as possible. Perhaps it would be best to handle personally so as not to get involved in any correspondence. Then I will notify Chicago of our action and the wheels will be put in motion to try and correct the whole Port Clinton situation.

DEAR MR. MILLER:

Attached are certified statements covering our transactions during the last six months with the Dwight Hinckley Lumber Co., Cleveland, Ohio, as requested in your letter of the 17th.

It would naturally strike you as unreasonable that this dealer would be selling patented board at less than his cost. I personally had an opportunity to check into this some months ago and out of a discussion with this dealer it developed that they have been using the price on wallboard as a leader to sell certain other products. We recognize that such a policy is detrimental to our interest with other dealers and for that reason we hope to either correct this policy or discontinue the sale of Gold Bond wallboard to this account.

Fairmont, W. Va.

DEAR SIR:-

You are familiar with our recent entry into the plaster field in the East. We have at Clarence, N. Y. one of the purest gypsum deposits and have in the past few months introduced our product in to the more important centers and are meeting an enthusiastic support on the part of the trade.

We are set up for big production and have the capacity to render service. Although we understand that a fair part of your business is taken care of out of Port Clinton, we thought you might be interested in advising us how much tonnage you had for direct shipment in the Eastern field. Would you be at all interested in having us handle this tonnage for you and on what differential.

Yours very truly,

MR. R. F. BURLEY,

Buffalo, New York.

DEAR MR. BURLEY:

The writer regrets to have your letter of the 12th conveying the information that you have had no reply to your former letter. I of course knew that I had not personally replied to your former letter, but I thought our Mr. Conaway had written you.

I think you will appreciate that the bulk of our tonnage goes from our American Gypsum plant at Port Clinton. It is a fact however that it is advantageous to supply some of our Eastern trade with shipments from New York mills.

This tonnage is being supplied with mills with which we have had very close connections for a number of years and we simply do not have occasion at any time to require any additional sources of supply. We trust you will appreciate our position in this matter and we thank you very much for your invitation to deal with you.

DEAR MR. SPEASE:

This morning I had a letter from Charlie Higgins telling me about his visit with you. Immediately my imagination went back fifteen years to a very pleasant and profitable relationship. While I have been out of touch with you personally, I understand the world has been good to you and that you have managed to exist during the disastrous gypsum warfare.

I have been looking over the maps and records all day with the one thought of working out something in our business that would justify the support of your organization and I believe there is a distinct opportunity for you to make some money out of our proposition.

I would like to suggest that you and Mr. Conaway take a day off and visit Buffalo as my guests, see our plant and analyze every angle to our business. Then if you see an opportunity for your company, I will go the limit in helping you work it out to our mutual interest.

Since we are approaching the active fall season, I believe it would be best for you to come up right away. However, wire me a day or so ahead as I want to be here when you come.

DEAR MR. BAKER:

Your letter of September 27th received some days ago. I have read it with a good deal of interest and thank you for your invitation to come to Buffalo and visit your plants. Both Mr. Conaway and myself would like the opportunity to visit you and your plants. Just when we can come I can not say today as there are one or two other little matters pending that must be disposed of before we make a change. I firmly believe, however, this will be worked out soon and that we can offer you some tonnage. It is much more satisfactory to us to confine our purchases to one company and your products have the reputation. I regret that I can not make a more definite arrangement at this time but will let you hear from us in the very near future. With kind regards and best wishes, I beg to remain

Since I first opened the subject with you there has been some change in the industry affecting jobber arrangements. This makes it more difficult to work out a proposition such as I originally had in mind for you.

Until the program now being developed by the industry has been clarified, I question the advisability of taking the time for a trip to Buffalo, although I would be pleased to see you personally and spend a day with you. If you feel like taking the time for a trip here under these conditions, you might wire me and I will make it a point to be here.

However, in checking this up, we do not see any immediate possibility for working out a proposition that would be of interest to you. I want you to know, however, that we appreciate your interest in our products. FAIRMONT WALL PLASTER CO.

GENTLEMEN-

Replying to your favor of the 22nd, we are sending you, under separate cover, samples of our Oakleaf Cork Gypsum Wallboard. This is made for us by the Kelley Plasterboard Company at Delawanna, New Jersey, and it is made of our gypsum.

The shipping weight of the gypsum wallboard is 1570 pounds per M square feet, and on the gypsum lath 1552 pounds per M square feet. The Kelley board is slightly lighter than these weights, but this is the agreed billing basis.

We carry in stock at Oakfield the Gypsum Board in 4' widths 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, and 12' long; and we carry the Gypsum Lath in 16x32, 16x48, 32x36, and 32x48.

Due to the license agreement among the board manufacturers, we have no way of making the sale of this product profitable to you. It is, of course, distinctly to our advantage to sell all of the board you can either in carloads or in mixed carloads.

Very truly yours,

FAIRMONT WALL PLASTER CO.,
Att. MR. J. R. SPEASE, Pres.,
Fairmont, W. Va:

DEAR SIR:

Confirming our recent conversation with regard to continuing our sales arrangement with you which has been in effect since Feb. 14th, 1933, we are pleased to state that we will enter into an agreement with you to furnish you our Neat Plaster and other materials, as outlined hereinafter.

NEAT PLASTER:

We are pleased to furnish you from our Oakfield, N. Y. mill, our Neat Plaster put up in bags of your trade-mark furnished by you on the basis of the established market price to dealers, F.O.B. Cars our plant, in carload lots, less $1.00 per ton allowance for your sacks. You will be invoiced at the established market price to dealers, F.O.B. Oakfield, N. Y., less 15% commission based upon the net price.

FREIGHT ABSORPTION:

When it is necessary to absorb a freight differential because of the Virginia Mills competition, we will absorb the same up to $1.00 per ton, such absorption to be deducted from the established market price before figuring your commission. When it is necessary to absorb freight in excess of $1.00 per ton, we will absorb one-half of the additional amount over $1.00 per ton, you to absorb the other one-half. For example: With the present established market price of $11.00 per ton at Norfolk, Va. where the differential is $1.40 per ton in freight we will absorb $1.20, making the mill base on today's price $8.80 per ton. Your commission on this transaction would be $1.32 per ton, which would reflect a net price to us of $7.48 per ton. From your commission of $1.32 per ton, you would be out 20¢ on freight absorption, so that this business would net you $1.12 per ton.

You have our permission to operate and sell in any territory where, because of freight absorption as outlined in the preceding paragraph, or because of lower established market price, our net price would in no instance be less than $5.50 per ton, exclusive of sacks, F. O. B. Cars Oakfield.

11104 TERMS:

2% cash discount, based upon F.O.B. Car prices at Oakfield, N. Y., same to be allowed for payment of invoices by the 10th of the following month, or 30 days Net.

If, at any time, the financial responsibility of either your Company or ours becomes impaired or unsatisfactory to either buyer or seller, it is mutually agreed your Company or ours has the right to require payments in advance, or satisfactory security or guarantee that invoices will be paid when due.

DURATION OF CONTRACT:

It is mutually agreed that the contract shall be for a period of five years, beginning Dec. 17th, 1933, but may be cancelled by either party at the end of any year during the said period, by either party giving to the other party hereto, three months' written notice, prior to Dec. 17th of any year while contract is in force, of its intention to cancel the same. Said written notice to be given by mail at the last known address of the party, and this contract will not bind or enure to the benefit of any person, co-partnership or corporation other than the parties hereto and shall not bind or enure to the benefit of the heirs, successors, or assigns of either party to this contract.

MIXED CARLOAD SHIPMENTS:

We are pleased to quote you the present F.O.B. Car Oakfield, N. Y. prices, which prices are subject to price changes, in accordance with general market conditions.

	per M. Sq. Ft
Gypsum Wall Board	$27.00
Gypsum Plaster Board and Gypsum Lath	15.00 per ton
Keene's Cement, in paper sacks	25.00
White Swan Plaster of Paris, in paper	16.50

FINISHING HYDRATED LIME:

We will be pleased to continue the present arrangement which we have with you of permitting you to purchase direct, your Finishing Hydrated Lime, and warehouse the same at our Oakfield Mill, and for unloading and 11105 reloading charge you $1.00 per ton.

Acceptance of this proposition, you will realize, puts your Company in a position to act, during the duration of the contract, as our selling agents, and as such, if this proposition is accepted, we shall expect you at all times to respect established market conditions, terms, customs, and ethics of the Gypsum Industry, of which we are a member.

This contract is prepared in duplicate. We have signed the original copy, and if you will sign in the blank space provided, we shall consider the contract immediately in force.

DEAR MR. SPEASE:

I received a call this morning from the United States Gypsum Company, which made our wire to you, copy of which is enclosed, necessary.

I was informed that if the Paragon Companies and the American Hard Wall Plaster Company did not discontinue quoting Board on these Government inquiries, that the licensors were going to insist upon the licensees discontinuing selling to Oakfield at a discount. I sincerely regret that they have taken this action, but we must be obedient to their commands, because we could not afford, of course, to be placed in a position whereby Oakfield was unable to purchase Board so that we could resell it to Fairmont and our three Sanded Companies, as we have been doing. Since the objection was only filed on Government work, everything else will continue to function as it has in the past. I understand that the insulation people are assuming the same attitude.

Trusting that you will understand that we regret to have this rule put into effect, but know that it is a matter over which we have no control, we are, with kindest personal regards from the writer, to you,

MY DEAR MR. BAKER:

Some weeks ago I visited your new board plant at Mobile which looks like a very fine outlay. This suggested to me that you may have changed your policies since you told me back in 1929 that you could not sell us plaster and board. We still have some business here but are very much handicapped because we do not have plaster board.

Now that the patent on the folded edge has expired, would you be willing to ship us plaster and board in mixed cars and allow us commission to reimburse us for our efforts? We are quite sure that we can give you some tonnage and that an arrangement of this kind would work out to our mutual advantage.

With kind regards I beg to remain,

Very truly yours,

DEAR MR. SPEASE:

I was very happy to get your letter of the 23rd and to know that you are interested in our business.

The Mobile plant is now in full operation and we are shipping a wonderful product from that mill. I do not know what your position is on insulation but would suggest that you work out any reasonable program you can with our Sales Department as here is something you can sell.

The folded edge patent on wallboard has expired but there were other important patents in the group which have acted to extend the license agreement for about fifteen years yet. Consequently we cannot make any jobber discounts on this product.

I hope you will find other items in our line on which you can see prospects for making money with us.

With kind personal regards.

11109 Government's Exhibit No. 362

This Agreement, Made and entered into this 29th day of April, A.D. 1937, by and between United States Gypsum Company, an Illinois corporation, of Chicago Illinois (hereinafter referred to as "Gypsum"), Kelley Plasterboard Company, Inc., a New Jersey corporation, of Delawanna, New Jersey (hereinafter referred to as "Kelley"), and Newark Plaster Company, a New Jersey corporation, of Newark, New Jersey (hereinafter referred to as "Newark"), witnesseth that:

Whereas, Gypsum and Kelley are parties to certain license agreements dated April 23, 1930 (as supplemented by letter from Gypsum to Kelley dated June 18, 1930) and October 12, 1934, and

Whereas, negotiations are now pending for the purchase by Newark of all of the outstanding shares of the capital stock of Kelley, and

Whereas, Newark, before consummating the purchase of the stock of Kelley as aforesaid, desires to determine the present status of said license agreements and the extent of the existing obligations and liabilities of Kelley thereunder;

Now, therefore, in consideration of the sum of 11110 One Dollar and other good and valuable considerations each to the other in hand paid, receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged by each of the parties hereto, and in consideration of the mutual covenants and agreements herein contained, the parties hereto agree as follows:

1. Gypsum represents that it has examined Kelley's books of account and records, or an audit thereof made for the purposes of said license agreements, up to and including December 31, 1935, and agrees to and does hereby waive all breaches by Kelley of the terms and provisions of said license agreements, if any, occurring on or before December 31, 1935. Gypsum has not at the date hereof examined Kelley's books of account and records, or an audit thereof made for the purposes of said license agreements, for any period subsequent to December 31, 1935, but represents that at the date hereof it has no actual knowledge of any breach by Kelley of the provisions of said license agreements occurring subsequent to December 31, 1935, subject, however, to royalty payments due for operations under said license agreements subsequent to February 28, 1937. Gypsum further represents and certifies that said license agreements are now in full force and effect.

2. Gypsum, insofar as it may be affected by such transaction, consents to the sale and transfer to Newark by the stockholders of Kelley of all of the capital stock of Kelley, and agrees that such transaction shall not be construed or deemed to be a breach of or a default under said license agreements or either of them.

11111 3. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to give Newark any rights or privileges of any kind or nature under said license agreements or either of them, or to constitute a waiver by Gypsum of any of the agreements, covenants or conditions contained therein, or a waiver by Gypsum of any breach by Kelley of the terms and provisions of said license agreements except as specifically provided herein. Without in any way limiting the generality of the foregoing, it is expressly agreed that any sale by Newark or by any subsidiary or affiliated company, of materials or products manufactured or sold by Kelley and embodying any of the inventions and improvements which are covered by or included within the provisions of said license agreements, or either of them, and any dealings of any kind in any such materials or products by Newark or by any subsidiary or affiliated company, shall, at the option of Gypsum, be deemed to be the act of Kelley for all purposes of said license agreements; PROVIDED, HOWEVER, that nothing herein contained shall be deemed or construed to give Kelley the right to sell or otherwise dispose of such materials or products in any way to Newark, except upon the prior written consent of Gypsum as provided in said license agreements.

4. This agreement shall not be effective or become binding upon the parties hereto or any of them for any purpose whatever unless and until the aforesaid
11112 sale of the capital stock of Kelley to Newark is consummated. In the event such sale is consummated, this agreement shall thereupon be and become binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns, but nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to permit an assignment by Kelley of any rights arising under said license agreements except as specifically provided in such agreements.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have caused their corporate seals to be hereto affixed, attested by their Secretaries, and these presents to be signed by their duly authorized officers the day and year first above written.

THIS INDENTURE, Made this 16th day of December, A. D. 1938, between the KELLEY PLASTERBOARD COMPANY, INC., a New Jersey corporation, of Delawanna, New Jersey, Party of the First Part, and NEWARK PLASTER COMPANY, a New Jersey corporation, of Newark, New Jersey, Party of the Second Part, witnesseth, that

Whereas, by license agreement dated April 23, 1930 (as supplemented by letters from the United States Gypsum Company to First Party, dated June 18, 1930, and August 31, 1938), and made between the United States Gypsum Company, an Illinois corporation, of Chicago, Illinois, the licensor, of the one part, and Kelley Plasterboard Company, Inc., the licensee, of the other part, said licensor granted unto said licensee certain indivisible and non-exclusive rights, licenses and privileges under certain letters patent and applications for letters patent relating to the manufacture and sale of gypsum plasterboard and gypsum wallboard, as more specifically described and set forth in said license agreement; and

Whereas, Newark Plaster Company, a New Jersey corporation, of Newark, New Jersey, and said Kelley Plasterboard Company, Inc., are about to effect a merger under and pursuant to the provisions of the New Jersey General Corporation Law, under the corporate name of Newark Plaster Company; and

Whereas, it is provided in said license agreement
11114 that the license therein granted shall be personal to licensee and that the same, or any right therein or thereunder, shall not be sold or assigned or transferred without the written consent of licensor, or transferred by operation of law, provided that the same may be assigned by licensee to any company acquiring all the assets and business or all the capital stock of licensee, on condition that licensee shall first obtain an agreement in writing from any such assignee, agreeing to assume all of the obligations of licensee thereunder and to be bound by all of the terms and conditions thereof, and shall deliver such agreement to licensor.

NOW, THIS INDENTURE WITNESSETH, That in consideration of the sum of One Dollar ($1.00), and other good and valuable considerations, receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, First Party does hereby assign, transfer and set over unto the said Newark Plaster Company resulting from the merger of Newark Plaster Company, a New Jersey corporation, of Newark, New Jersey, and Kelley Plasterboard Company, Inc., a New Jersey corporation, of Delawanna, New Jersey, effective however as of the date on which said merger shall become effective, all of the right, title and interest of First Party in and to said license agreement and the rights, licenses and privileges therein contained, upon and subject to all of the conditions, terms, and agreements as in said license agreement set forth.

11115 The parties agree that the Newark Plaster Company resulting from said merger shall assume all of the obligations of licensee under said license agreement, and shall be bound by all of the terms and conditions thereof to the same effect as if it originally had been named in said license agreement as licensee therein.

In witness whereof, the parties hereto have caused these presents to be signed by their respective Presidents, attested by their respective Secretaries, and their corporate seals to be hereunto affixed, in duplicate, the day and year first above written.

11116 —Government's Exhibit No. 364

This Agreement, Made and entered into this 3rd day of January, A.D. 1939, by and between the UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY, an Illinois corporation, of Chicago, Illinois (hereinafter sometimes referred to as "Gypsum"), and NEWARK PLASTER COMPANY, a New Jersey corporation, of Newark, New Jersey, resulting from the merger of Newark Plaster Company, a New Jersey corporation, of Newark, New Jersey, and Kelley Plasterboard Company, Inc., a New Jersey corporation (hereinafter sometimes referred to as "Newark"), witnesseth, that

Whereas, Gypsum and said Kelley Plasterboard Company, Inc., entered into a certain license agreement dated April 23, 1930 (as supplemented by letters from Gypsum to Kelley dated June 18, 1930, and August 31, 1938), under the terms of which Gypsum, as licensor therein named, granted to said Kelley Plasterboard Company, Inc., as licensee therein named, certain indivisible and non-exclusive rights, licenses and privileges under certain letters patent and applications for letters patent relating to the manufacture and sale of gypsum plasterboard and gypsum wallboard, as therein more specifically described and set forth; and

Whereas, said Newark Plaster Company existing before said merger and said Kelley Plasterboard Company, Inc., have effected a merger in accordance with the provisions of the New Jersey General Corporation Law, under 11117 the corporate name of Newark Plaster Company, and said Kelley Plasterboard Company, Inc. has assigned, transferred and set over unto Newark, all of its right, title and interest in and to said license agreement and the rights, licenses and privileges therein contained, upon and subject to all of the conditions, terms and agreements as in said license agreement set forth; and

Whereas, it is provided in said license agreement that the licenses therein granted shall be personal to licensee and that the same, or any right therein or thereunder, shall not be sold or assigned or transferred without the written consent of licensor, or transferred by operation of law, provided that the same may be assigned by licensee to any company acquiring all of the assets and business or all of the capital stock of licensee, on condition that licensee shall first obtain an agreement in writing from any such assignee, agreeing to assume all of the obligations of licensee under said agreement and to be bound by all of the terms and conditions thereof, and shall deliver such agreement to licensor,

Now, therefore, in consideration of the sum of One Dollar ($1.00), and other good and valuable considerations, each to the other in hand paid, receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged by each of the parties hereto, and in consideration of the mutual covenants and agreements herein after contained, the parties hereto have agreed as 11118 follows:

1. Gypsum consents to the assignment to Newark of the said license agreement, together with all of the rights, licenses and privileges therein contained, subject to all of the conditions, terms and agreements as in said license agreement set forth,

2. Newark agrees to, and does hereby, assume all of the obligations of licensee under said license agreement, and agrees to be bound by all of the terms and conditions thereof to the same effect as if Newark originally had been named in said license agreement as licensee therein.

3. In case Newark shall at any time sell any gypsum plasterboard or gypsum wallboard, or cause the same to be sold, through or by any of its wholly owned subsidiaries, then Sections 6 and 7 of said license agreement shall be read as if the words "or sold by its wholly owned subsidiary" were inserted after the words "sold by it", wherever such last mentioned words appear in said Sections 6 and 7 of said license agreement, and as if the words "or its wholly owned subsidiary" were inserted after the words "of licensee" in the third line of said Section 7 of said license agreement. The sales or acts of any such subsidiary shall for all purposes of said license agreement be construed as the sales or acts of Newark as such licensee, and Newark shall be fully responsible therefor. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to grant any license under said patents to any wholly owned subsidiary 11119 of Newark, or to authorize the sale of gypsum plaster board or gypsum wallboard embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in any of said patents to or by any such subsidiary, without the written consent of Gypsum thereto first had and obtained.

In witness whereof, the parties hereto have caused these presents to be signed by their respective Presidents, attested by their respective Secretaries, and their corporate seals to be hereunto affixed, in duplicate, the day and year first above written.

JANUARY 3, 1939.

NEWARK PLASTER COMPANY (A Merged Corporation),
Newark, New Jersey.

GENTLEMEN:

This will advise you that under your license of April 23, 1930, and until you are notified to the contrary, you have our consent to sell through your wholly owned subsidiary, Calvin Tomkins Company, a New York corporation, of New York, New York, gypsum plasterboard or gypsum wallboard embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in the patents covered by your said license, which includes the right to effect sales of said gypsum plasterboard or gypsum wallboard to your said wholly owned subsidiary at a maximum discount of twelve and one-half per cent (12½%) from your regular price to your dealer trade f.o.b. mill.

It is understood that the acts of your wholly owned subsidiary shall constitute your acts as such licensee, and that you shall be fully responsible therefor.

For the purpose of computing license fees or royalties under your said license, such license fees or royalties on all gypsum plasterboard or gypsum wallboard sold to your said wholly owned subsidiary shall be based upon your regular selling price to your regular dealer trade at the time of the sale and invoice as provided in said license agreement.

It is agreed that this consent may be withdrawn by us at any time, by giving you written notice to that effect.

If satisfactory, please sign and return the duplicate of this letter, indicating your acceptance thereof, whereupon this consent shall become effective.

Very truly yours,

UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY

Att. Mr. W. L. Keady, Vice-President.

DEAR SIR:

In conformity with our Licensee Agreement with you, we hereby apply for permission to sell Wallboard, Plasterboard and/or Lath to The Connecticut Adamant Plaster Co., New Haven, Connecticut, at the regular Calciners discount of 12½% on Plasterboard and/or Lath and 15% on Wallboard. The above discounts to apply on the f.o.b. mill base prices.

Kindly let us hear from you as promptly as possible and oblige,

Yours very truly,

MR. FRED TOMPKINS, President,
Kelley Plasterboard Co., Inc.
Delawanna, New Jersey.

DEAR MR. TOMPKINS:

We acknowledge receipt of your letter of July 8, returning two copies of License Agreement, covering Patented Perforated Plaster Board Lath. We are returning herewith one copy, duly executed by this company.

With regard to your sale to other manufacturers, jobbers, or wholesalers, this will advise you that until you are notified to the contrary, you have our consent to sell Patented Perforated Plasterboard Lath, embodying the claims and inventions of the patents described in the license to the Oakfield Gypsum Products Company, and the Connecticut Adamant Plaster Company, at a maximum discount of 12½% from the mill price, which will, of course, not be less than the mill prices set forth in our license bulletin #1. The royalty on such sales shall be based on your regular selling price to our regular dealer trade at the time of such sale and invoice as provided in our license agreement with you.

We assume that these are the manufacturers you desire to sell. If there are any others, we will consider an additional request with reference to them. However, we would rather not give a blanket approval for you to sell Perforated Lath to manufacturers, jobbers, or wholesalers to whom you sell regular Patented Board, as conditions and circumstances differ from time to time.

Yours very truly,

UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY,

Vice-President.

DEAR BILL:

This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of July 16th, together with the License Agreement covering the manufacture and sale of Perforated Plaster Board Lath.

We desire your consent to sell this material to the Structural Gypsum Division, of the American Cyanamid & Chemical Co., as well as to the Oakfield Gypsum Products Co. and the Connecticut Adamant Plaster Co., which you cover in your letter of July 16th.

Under date of December 24th, 1932 you gave your consent to us to sell Wallboard and Plasterboard to the Structural Gypsum Co.

Will you please confirm this to us so that our records will be complete.

Attention: Mr. W. L. Keady.

GENTLEMEN:

We enclose herewith copy of your letter to us of September 16th, which we have accepted, and in which you grant to us the right to use certain of your Letters Patent without the payment of additional royalties or license fees.

We are not entirely clear as to the meaning of the first paragraph on the second page. Consequently, we enclose also a request for your consent for us to sell the Lath referred to in your letter, to Structural Gypsum Company and Connecticut Adamant Company at the regular manufacturer's discounts. We already have your consent to sell other board products to these companies.

We are contemplating the liquidation of Kelley Plasterboard Company as of the end of this year. In this event, we will want to transfer all license agreements between your Company and the Kelley Plasterboard Company to Newark Plaster Company. As you know, Kelley Plasterboard Company is a wholly owned subsidiary of Newark Plaster Company. In the event we effect the liquidation of the Kelley Plasterboard Company and transfer the license to Newark Plaster Company, all products manufactured under this license will be sold and billed by the Calvin Tomkins Company, which is also a wholly owned subsidiary of the Newark Plaster Company. The Calvin Tomkins Company will not purchase any products from Newark Plaster Company and will act simply as a selling agency.

Will you kindly let us hear from you in connection with these matters at your earliest convenience?

SEPTEMBER 16, 1938

KELLEY PLASTERBOARD CO., INC.
Delawanna

GENTLEMEN:

In view of the fact that perforated plasterboard lath, which also embodies the claims of the patents contained in our original board license, has attained such importance and constitutes a large volume of the board manufactured and sold thereunder, we have decided to grant to you as one of our board licensees the right to use our U. S. Letters Patent No. 1,938,354 in the manufacture and sale of plasterboard without the payment of additional royalties or license fees, the same as if such patent were listed in Exhibit A of our original board license, upon the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth.

You are therefore granted an indivisible and non-exclusive license to manufacture at your plants perforated plasterboard lath having a gypsum core and paper covering adhering thereto, embodying the claims of Letters Patent of the United States No. 1,938,354 and of selling and using the same in the United States of America and the territories and possessions thereof, subject to the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth.

It is understood that nothing herein contained shall give you the right to use any of our other patents, or change or alter in any way the terms of your original board license agreement of April 23, 1930, it being understood that your only right to manufacture and sell gypsum plasterboard and/or gypsum wallboard, including perforated plasterboard lath, embodying the claims of any of the patents set forth and described in Exhibit A of your said original board license agreement is under and in accordance with the terms and conditions of said last mentioned agreement.

It is of course understood that all perforated plasterboard lath manufactured and sold by you shall be included in computing your royalties or license fees under your said original board license agreement and you will make reports of your manufacture and sale thereof and we shall have the right to inspect books of account and records, in the same manner and to the same extent as set forth in said original board license agreement.

11129 You are not to manufacture any of said lath for or to sell the same to another manufacturer or to any manufacturer or distributor selling plaster or gypsum products as a manufacturer, or to deliver any of said lath to any person or company on consignment, or to sell any of the same of inferior manufacture, commonly known as "seconds."

You will mark all such patented lath "Licensed under United States Letters Patent No. 1,938,354".

You will not assign this license without our written consent, nor shall the same or any right hereunder be transferred by operation of law or otherwise.

This license may be cancelled or terminated by either party hereto upon giving to the other party hereto one (1) year's written notice of cancellation or termination thereof. Any such notice shall become effective upon depositing the same in the United States mails, postage prepaid and registered, addressed to you at your principal office in Delawanna, New Jersey, or to us at our principal office, 300 West Adams Street, Chicago, Illinois.

Your perforated plasterboard lath license agreement dated June 23, 1937, shall become cancelled and terminated upon the acceptance of this letter by you, provided, however, that neither party shall thereby be relieved of any liability thereunder accrued prior to September 1, 1938.

This license shall become effective as of September 1, 1938, when accepted by you in writing.

If satisfactory, please sign the duplicate copy of this letter indicating your acceptance thereof and return the same to us.

DEAR SIRS:

This will advise you that under your license of September 16, 1938, and until you are notified to the contrary, you have our consent to sell to Structural Gypsum Company and Connecticut Adamant Plaster Company perforated plasterboard lath embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in the patents covered by your board license agreements, at a maximum discount of 12½% from your regular price f.o.b. mill.

For the purpose of computing license fees or royalties under your board license agreement of April 23, 1930, such license fees or royalties shall be based upon your regular selling price to your regular dealer trade at the time of the sale and invoice, as provided in said license agreement.

It is agreed that this consent may be withdrawn by us at any time by giving you written notice to that effect.

This consent cancels and terminates all prior consents given by us to you to sell patented perforated plasterboard lath to other manufacturers.

DEAR SIRS:

We acknowledge receipt of your favor of September 23, enclosing copy of our letter of September 16, 1938, accepted and signed by the Kelley Plasterboard Co., Inc. on September 23, 1938. We preferred that you sign the carbon copy of the original letter, but are accepting your copy signed by you in lieu thereof.

The first paragraph on page 2 of the letter of September 16 was intended to make it clear that the license did not include the right to manufacture for or to sell to another manufacturer or distributor of gypsum products. We of course can consent at any time to your selling another manufacturer or distributor upon such terms and conditions as seen proper to us.

As to your request for consent to sell the patented lath to Structural Gypsum Company and Connecticut Adamant Plaster Company at regular manufacturer's discounts, we are glad to do so upon the terms and conditions as set forth in the enclosed form of consent, the duplicate copy of which please sign and return to us.

We note your intention to liquidate Kelley Plasterboard Company at the end of the year. We shall be glad to consent to the assignment of your license agreements to the Newark Plaster Company, or to grant to the Newark Plaster Company new licenses in lieu of the old license agreements, whichever our attorneys advise us at the time is the best way to handle the matter. Your advice that all products manufactured by Newark under such licenses will be sold and billed by Calvin Tomkins Company, a wholly owned subsidiary, raises a question which should be referred to our attorneys for advice based on all of the facts existing at the time you are ready to change the licenses over to Newark Plaster Company. We shall be glad at that time to ask our attorneys to look into the matter and advise us what our position should be as licensor.

CONTRACT TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Sec. 1. (a) The carrier or party in possession of any of the property herein described shall be liable as at common law for any loss thereof or damage thereto, except as hereinafter provided.

(b) No carrier or party in possession of all or any of the property herein described shall be liable for any loss thereof or damage thereto or delay caused by the Act of God, the public enemy, the authority of law, or the act or default of the shipper or owner, or for natural shrinkage. The carrier's liability shall be that of warehouseman, only, for loss, damage, or delay caused by fire occurring after the expiration of the free time allowed by tariffs lawfully on file (such free time to be computed as therein provided) after notice of the arrival of the property at destination or at the port of export (if intended for export) has been duly sent or given, and after placement of the property for delivery at destination, or tender of delivery of the property to the party entitled to receive it, has been made. Except in case of negligence of the carrier or party in possession (and the burden to prove freedom from such negligence shall be on the carrier or party in possession), the carrier or party in possession shall not be liable for loss, damage, or delay occurring while the property is stopped and held in transit upon the request of the shipper, owner or party entitled to make such request, or resulting from a defect or vice in the property, or for country damage to cotton, or from riots or strikes.

(c) In case of quarantine the property may be discharged at risk and expense of owners into quarantine depot or elsewhere, as required by quarantine regulations or authorities, or in the carrier's discretion at nearest available point in carrier's judgment, and in any such case carrier's responsibility shall cease when property is so discharged, or property may be returned by carrier at owner's expense to shipping point, earning freight both ways. Quarantine expenses of whatever nature or kind upon or in respect to property shall be borne by the owners of the property or be a lien thereon. The carrier shall not be liable for loss or damage occasioned by fumigation or disinfection or other acts required or done by quarantine regulations or authorities even though the same may have been done by carrier's officers, agents, or employees, nor for detention, loss, or damage of any kind occasioned by quarantine or the enforcement thereof. No carrier shall be liable, except in case of negligence, for any mistake or inaccuracy in any information furnished by the carrier, its agents, or officers, as to quarantine laws or regulations. The shipper shall hold the carriers harmless from any expense they may incur, or damages they may be required to pay, by reason of the introduction of the property covered by this contract into any place against the quarantine laws or regulations in effect at such place.

Sec. 2. (a) No carrier is bound to transport said property by any particular train or vessel, or in time for any particular market or otherwise than with reasonable dispatch. Every carrier shall have the right in case of physical necessity to forward said property by any carrier or route between the point of shipment and the point of destination. In all cases not prohibited by law, where a lower value than actual value has been represented in writing by the shipper or has been agreed upon in writing as the released value of the property as determined by the classification or tariffs upon which the rate is based, such lower value plus freight charges if paid shall be the maximum amount to be recovered, whether or not such loss or damage occurs from negligence.

(b) As a condition precedent to recovery, claims must be filed in writing with the receiving or delivering carrier, or carrier issuing this bill of lading, or carrier on whose line the loss, damage, injury or delay occurred, within nine months after delivery of the property (or, in case of export traffic, within nine months after delivery at port of export) or, in case of failure to make delivery, then within nine months after a reasonable time for delivery has elapsed; and suits shall be instituted against any carrier only within two years and one day from the day when notice in writing is given by the carrier to the claimant that the carrier has disallowed the claim or any part or parts thereof specified in the notice. Where claims are not filed or suits are not instituted thereon in accordance with the foregoing provisions, no carrier hereunder shall be liable, and such claims will not be paid.

(c) Any carrier or party liable on account of loss of or damage to any of said property shall have the full benefit of any insurance that may have been effected upon or on account of said property, so far as this shall not avoid the policies or contracts of insurance: Provided, That the carrier reimburse the claimant for the premium paid thereon.

Sec. 3. Except where such service is required as the result of carrier's negligence, all property shall be subject to necessary cooperage and baling at owner's cost. Each carrier over whose route cotton or cotton linters is to be transported hereunder shall have the privilege, at its own cost and risk, of compressing the same for greater convenience in handling or forwarding, and shall not be held responsible for deviation or unavoidable delays in procuring such compression. Grain in bulk consigned to a point where there is a railroad, public or licensed elevator, may (unless otherwise expressly noted herein, and then if it is not promptly unloaded) be there delivered and placed with other grain of the same kind and grade without respect to ownership (and prompt notice thereof shall be given to the consignor), and if so delivered shall be subject to a lien for elevator charges in addition to all other charges hereunder.

Sec. 4. (a) Property not removed by the party entitled to receive it within the free time allowed by tariffs, lawfully on file (such free time to be computed as therein provided), after notice of the arrival of the property at destination or at the port of export (if intended for export) has been duly sent or given, and after placement of the property for delivery at destination has been made, may be kept in vessel, car, depot, warehouse or place of delivery of the carrier, subject to the tariff charge for storage and to carrier's responsibility as warehouseman, only, or at the option of the carrier, may be removed to and stored in a public or licensed warehouse at the place of delivery or other available place, at the cost of the owner, and there held without liability on the part of the carrier, and subject to a lien for all freight and other lawful charges, including a reasonable charge for storage.

(b) Where nonperishable property which has been transported to destination hereunder is refused by consignee or the party entitled to receive it, or said consignee or party entitled to receive it fails to receive it within 15 days after notice of arrival shall have been duly sent or given, the carrier may sell the same at public auction to the highest bidder, at such place as may be designated by the carrier: Provided, That the carrier shall have first mailed, sent, or given to the consignor notice that the property has been refused or remains unclaimed, as the case may be, and that it will be subject to sale under the terms of the bill of lading if disposition be not arranged for, and shall have published notice containing a description of the property, the name of the party to whom consigned, or, if shipped order notify, the name of the party to be notified, and the time and place of sale, once a week for two successive weeks, in a newspaper of general circulation at the place of sale or nearest place where such newspaper is published: Provided, That 30 days shall have elapsed before publication of notice of sale after said notice that the property was refused or remains unclaimed was mailed, sent, or given.

(c) Where perishable property which has been transported hereunder to destination is refused by consignee or party entitled to receive it, or said consignee or party entitled to receive it shall fail to receive it promptly, the carrier may, in its discretion, to prevent deterioration or further deterioration, sell the same to the best advantage at private or public sale: Provided, That if time serves for notification to the consignor or owner of the refusal of the property or the failure to receive it and request for disposition of the property, such notification shall be given, in such manner as the exercise of due diligence requires, before the property is sold.

(d) Where the procedure provided for in the two paragraphs last preceding is not possible, it is agreed that nothing contained in said paragraphs shall be construed to abridge the right of the carrier at its option to sell the property under such circumstances and in such manner as may be authorized by law.

(e) The proceeds of any sale made under this section shall be applied by the carrier to the payment of freight, demurrage, storage, and any other lawful charges and the expenses of notice, advertisement, sale, and other necessary expense and of caring for and maintaining the property, if proper care of the same requires special expense, and should there be a balance it shall be paid to the owner of the property said hereunder.

(f) Property destined to or taken from a station, wharf, or landing at which there is no regularly appointed freight agent shall be entirely at risk of owner after unloaded from cars or vessels or until loaded into cars or vessels, and, except in case of carrier's negligence, when received from or delivered to such stations, wharves, or landings shall be at owner's risk until the cars are attached to and after they are detached from locomotive or train or until loaded into and after unloaded from vessels.

Sec. 5. No carrier hereunder will carry or be liable in any way for any documents, specie, or for any articles of extraordinary value not specifically rated in the published classifications or tariffs unless a special agreement to do so and a stipulated value of the articles are indorsed hereon.

Sec. 6. Every party, whether principal or agent, shipping explosives or dangerous goods, without previous full written disclosure to the carrier of their nature, shall be liable for and indemnify the carrier against all loss or damage caused by such goods, and such goods may be warehoused at owner's risk and expense or destroyed without compensation.

Sec. 7. The owner or consignee shall pay the freight and average, if any, and all other lawful charges accruing on said property; but, except in those instances where it may lawfully be authorized to do so, no carrier by railroad shall deliver or relinquish possession at destination of the property covered by this bill of lading until all tariff rates and charges thereon have been paid. The consignor shall be liable for the freight and all other lawful charges, except that if the consignor stipulates, by signature, in the space provided for that purpose on the face of this bill of lading that the carrier shall not make delivery without requiring payment of such charges and the carrier, contrary to such stipulation, shall make delivery without requiring such payment, the consignor (except as hereinafter provided) shall not be liable for such charges. Provided, that, where the carrier has been instructed by the shipper or consignor to deliver said property to a consignee other than the shipper or consignor, such consignee shall not be legally liable for transportation charges in respect of the transportation of said property (beyond those billed against him at the time of delivery for which he is otherwise liable) which may be found to be due after the property has been delivered to him, if the consignee (a) is an agent only and has no beneficial title in said property, and (b) prior to delivery of said property has notified the delivering carrier in writing of the fact of such agency and absence of beneficial title, and, in the case of a shipment reconsigned or diverted to a point other than that specified in the original bill of lading, has also notified the delivering carrier in writing of the name and address of the beneficial owner of said property; and, in such cases the shipper or consignor, or, in the case of a shipment so reconsigned or diverted, the beneficial owner, shall be liable for such additional charges. If the consignee has given to the carrier erroneous information as to who the beneficial owner is, such consignee shall himself be liable for such additional charges. Nothing herein shall limit the right of the carrier to require at time of shipment the prepayment or guarantee of the charges. If upon inspection it is ascertained that the articles shipped are not those described in this bill of lading, the freight charges must be paid upon the articles actually shipped.

Sec. 8. If this bill of lading is issued on the order of the shipper, or his agent, in exchange or in substitution for another bill of lading, the shipper's signature to the prior bill of lading as to the statement of value or otherwise, or election of common law or bill of lading liability, in or in connection with such prior bill of lading, shall be considered a part of this bill of lading as fully as if the same were written or made in or in connection with this bill of lading.

Sec. 9. (a) If all or any part of said property is carried by water over any part of said route such water carriage shall be performed subject to all the terms and provisions of, and all the exceptions from liability contained in, the Act of the Congress of the United States, approved on February 13, 1893, and entitled "An act relating to the navigation of vessels, etc.," and of other statutes of the United States amending carriers by water the protection of limited liability and to the conditions contained in this bill of lading not inconsistent therewith or with this section.

(b) No such carrier by water shall be liable for any loss or damage resulting from any fire happening to or on board the vessel, or from explosion, bursting of boilers or breakage of shafts, unless caused by the design or neglect of such carrier.

(c) If the owner shall have exercised due diligence in making the vessel in all respects seaworthy and properly manned, equipped, and supplied, no such carrier shall be liable for any loss or damage resulting from the perils of the lakes, seas, or other waters, or from latent defects in hull, machinery, or appurtenances whether existing prior to, at the time of, or after sailing, or from collision, stranding, or other accidents of navigation, or from prolongation of the voyage. And, when for any reason it is necessary, any vessel carrying any or all of the property herein described shall be at liberty to call at any port or ports, in or out of the customary route, to tow and be towed, to transfer, trans-ship, or lighter, to load and discharge goods at any time, to assist vessels in distress, to deviate for the purpose of saving life or property, and for docking and repairs. Except in case of negligence such carrier shall not be responsible for any loss or damage to property if it be necessary or is usual to carry the same upon deck.

(d) General Average shall be payable according to the York-Antwerp Rules of 1924, Sections 1 to 15, inclusive, and Sections 17 to 22, inclusive, and as to matters not covered thereby according to the laws and usages of the Port of New York. If the owners shall have exercised due diligence to make the vessel in all respects seaworthy and properly manned, equipped and supplied, it is hereby agreed that in case of danger, damage or disaster resulting from faults or errors in navigation, or in the management of the vessel, or from any latent or other defects in the vessel, her machinery or appurtenances, or from unseaworthiness, whether existing at the time of shipment or at the beginning of the voyage (provided the latent or other defects or the unseaworthiness was not discoverable by the exercise of due diligence), the shippers, consignees and/or owners of the cargo shall nevertheless pay salvage and any special charges incurred in respect of the cargo, and shall contribute with the shipowner in general average to the payment of any sacrifices, losses or expenses of a general average nature that may be made or incurred for the common benefit or to relieve the adventure from any common peril.

(e) If the property is being carried under a tariff which provides that any carrier or carriers party thereto shall be liable for loss from perils of the sea, then as to such carrier or carriers the provisions of this section shall be modified in accordance with the tariff provisions, which shall be regarded as incorporated into the conditions of this bill of lading.

(f) The term "water carriage" in this section shall not be construed as including lighterage in or across rivers, harbors, or inlets, when performed by or on behalf of rail carriers.

Sec. 10. Any alteration, addition, or erasure in this bill of lading which shall be made without the special notation hereon of the agent of the carrier issuing this bill of lading, shall be without effect, and this bill of lading shall be enforceable according to its original tenor.

DEAR TOM:

I had luncheon yesterday with Harry McCormick, and he told me there had been a good deal of excitement among the dealers in Philadelphia several days ago owing to the fact that a shipment of Oakleaf Lath had been delivered directly to the job at 52nd and Spruce Streets. Will you please investigate this matter, as I think it possible we may be called upon for some explanation. I am sure that neither you nor any of your affiliates would knowingly make direct job deliveries in the areas where they are not permitted, and I am simply passing this on for your information.

I was interested in your letter concerning your visit with Fred Epsary, and will look forward to discussing this and other matters when we next meet.

I have heard nothing from Jack Best since he left New York, but assume he is going through with the plans he outlined to us at our last meeting.

With kind regards.

Yours sincerely,

DEAR TOM:

I am today in receipt of a formal complaint from the Board Survey Company as follows:

"FACTS CONCERNING COMPLAINT

Is reported that Frankford Coal & Supply Company, Philadelphia, through Oakfield Gypsum Products salesman, has offered Plastering Contractor Sam Levin a price of $14.00 per M, delivered to job. Material is trucked direct from Delawanna, N. J. by local trucking contractor. Licensed price on Plaster Lath delivered in truckload quantity to dealers in Zone 1 is $14.10 per M."

My guess is that this complaint is the one I mentioned to you some time ago here in New York, on which occasion you showed me a letter from your Philadelphia salesman giving an outline of the situation. Under the terms of the License Agreement I am compelled to file an answer to this complaint on the regular complaint form, a copy of which I enclose herewith. I suggest that you note on this form your suggestions for reply. Please understand that I am not in the least worried by this situation and am only bothering you with it to fulfill my obligations under the License Agreement.

With best wishes for the New Year, believe me.

DEAR FRED:

In reply to yours of the 29th, I can only enclose to you our representative's letter of Nov. 24 and our dealer customer's letter of the 23rd to assist you in filling out complaint as requested by licensors.

On my trip to Philadelphia, I might say to you that our representative, Mr. Robertson, told me of a case where one of the dealers requested that he deliver a very small quantity of Lath to his warehouse. The quantity required was much less than the 7500 Sq. Ft. requirement, and he told him that it would be impossible for him to do this. The dealer replied, "Never mind, I will get it from the U. S. G."

He said he immediately got in his car and drove over to this dealer's yard, only to find that delivery had just been made by U. S. G's truckman and the warehouse foreman, a negro, showed him the material on the warehouse floor.

Mr. Robertson asked me not to make a disturbance regarding this for fear he would lose the good will of the dealer, and I am just giving you this information, so that you may know that those who are trying to throw stones at us are not so Simon pure, after all.

After the enclosures I am sending you have served your purpose, we would be glad to have you return them for our files.

11165 With Best Wishes for a Happy and Prosperous New Year, I am

I have today sent my answer to the Board Survey Company and have stated simply that the Oakfield Gypsum Products Company denies having made a direct job delivery to the dealer in question, and denies that it has offered to sell Lath delivered to this Contractor at a price of $14.00 per M, as stated in the complaint. I have further advised that the Oakfield Gypsum Products Company is willing to make an affidavit to this effect, which I trust will not be necessary.

I do not think I will hear any more from this complaint, and see no reason for me to go into a great deal of detail in answering it.

"In further connection with my memo of the 5th instant advising you of apparent violation of trucking regulations, I have been informed that Structural Gypsum Co., and Newark Plaster Co. (Kelly Cork Lath) are making a regular practice of delivering material direct to jobs. In the case of Structural Gypsum Co., I have been informed that it is the practice of their salesman in this territory, Roger Laird, to meet truck containing gypsum products consigned to a dealer, and have this truck deliver material direct to job."

Will you please investigate and advise?

DEAR MR. BARTLETT:

I have your memorandum of May 17th and believe you have been misinformed as to the deliveries said to have been made for Structural Gypsum Company and Newark Plaster Company in Philadelphia. The Newark Plaster Company has never made any sales of Gypsum Lath in Philadelphia, and the Kelley Plasterboard Company has at no time made any deliveries direct to jobs of Gypsum Lath.

The Kelley Plasterboard Company discontinued the delivery of Gypsum Lath in Philadelphia and vicinity for the account of Structural Gypsum Company several months ago because we were given to understand at that time there were some irregularities in connection with the sale of Lath by Structural to several dealers, and also because the business was unattractive to us. Since that time I understand Structural Gypsum Company has been purchasing Lath from your Philadelphia mill.

Re: L. A. Dussoll and Company

Referring to our previous correspondence regarding the above account, we are advised that Dussoll and Company are continuing to sell patented gypsum board manufactured and sold by you under your license agreement at prices which it would be unable to quote unless it were purchasing the board from you at less than the minimum price to you therefor as fixed by the licensor.

Information has also come to us indicating that Dussoll and Company is getting a rebate on its price for such board purchased from you through the medium of George Dussoll, whom we understand you claim is a commission salesman for you. This is to advise you that we shall treat as a violation of your license agreement any sale of such patented board to the above account at less than the minimum price to you therefor effected by a rebate through the payment of commissions to George Dussoll on sales to the Dussoll Company.

Will you please advise us of the action taken by you to correct this situation?

DEAR MR. HENNING:-

We are in receipt of your letter of the 23rd, referring to the Reserve Supply Co., Mineola, Long Island, L. A. Dussoll Co., Brooklyn, N. Y. and George Cartier & Sons Co., Providence, R. I.

You claim that your records indicate that we have warehousing and trucking arrangements with the above mentioned firms. We wish to advise that you are very much mistaken. The only warehousing arrangement which we had was with the Reserve Supply Co. of Mineola, about which we wrote you previously, and again wrote the Board Survey Co. on May 23rd, advising that we had billed the Reserve Supply Warehouse for all the board which they had on hand, and that all future shipments to them would be made by rail in carload lots at carload prices. We might further state that we have made one such shipment to them within the past week or ten days.

We have today written to the Board Survey Co. about L. A. Dussoll & Co. and wish to further advise that we have no special arrangement with Dussoll & Co. We sell them as dealers at dealers prices.

We wish to also advise you that we have no special arrangement with M. N. Cartier Sons Co., of Providence, R. I. We sell this firm at dealers' prices and are paid at dealers' prices by Cartier & Co. Our books are open to you, and we would welcome an investigation.

We have no accounts on our books to whom we make any warehousing or trucking allowances.

The entire correspondence pertaining to the warehousing arrangement you have entered into with the Reserve Supply Company of Long Island, whereby the dealer whose warehouse is used by you is paid a handling and warehousing charge on gypsum wallboard and plasterboard, embodying the claims and inventions of the licensor's patents, which passes through such dealer's warehouse, has been referred to us by the licensor for further handling.

Our attorneys advise us there can be no doubt but that such an arrangement effects a rebate to the dealer on its purchases of such board from you, and consequently results in sales to that dealer being made at prices below our minimum price to you.

We, therefore, cannot recede from the position taken in this matter, both in regard to yourself and the other licensees you mention in your letter of March 8.

Your immediate compliance with our request is urged so there will not be further violations.

We have your letter of Jan. 19th and very much regret to advise that it is absolutely impossible for us to put you in a position where you can handle white plaster profitably in this market so long as the resale price is held at the present ridiculously low level. The price that we are now charging you for white plaster takes into consideration the fact that we do not figure any selling expense or overhead in our sales to your Company and we cannot reduce this price without actually incurring a direct loss.

We are hoping that something will be done in the near future to increase the resale price and you may be sure that we will do everything we can to make your business in this material profitable at the earliest possible moment.

DEAR RALPH:

Per your request I am enclosing copy of our bulletin on Sanded Plaster which is self-explanatory.

Regarding the prices for Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois territories, so far as I know there has been no change in the figures carried in our bulletin. However I suggest you check this with Charlie the next time you are in Chicago to make sure.

Trusting this gives you the information you want and with kindest regards, remain

Very truly yours,

NEW YORK OFFICE

MAY 24TH, 1929.

EBSARY GYPSUM CO., INC.
Newark, N. J.

GENTLEMEN: Attention of Mr. Ed. A. Niel, Jr.

Supplementing my letter of May 23rd giving new prices on gypsum boards, you will please use the following weights in figuring the freight:

¼"	1250 lbs. per M ft.
½"	2250 " " " "

In giving you the price of $15.00 F.O.B. Mill on the open edge wall board this price will remain only in effect until such time as we use up the quantity of paper that we now have on hand. After that all of the 32x36 board, regardless of thickness as well as the wall board, will be covered edge.

At this time we are not in a position to say definitely when the lath, that is 16x48 — 16x32 and 32x48 will be made in a covered edge wall board.

Would also suggest that you make every effort to sell as much joint filler as possible and the price will be $3.60 per case (one dozen cartons) F.O.B. Mill.

Very truly yours,

DEAR SIR:

I understand that sometime ago the United States Gypsum Company sent a copy of the proposed license agreement covering the patent for making bubble board to Mr. Ebsary and at the last meeting in Chicago he stated that he would have you look this over so that it could be discussed at the next meeting on June 26th in Chicago.

As he no doubt has turned it over to you I wish that you would write me on Monday to the Palmer House, Chicago, sending it to me together with your comments.

This will not come up for definite action at that time but I would at least like to be familiar with the conditions of the license together with your views so that I can talk it over with some of the other Manufacturers and get their ideas.

Very truly yours,

Attention of Mr. C. F. Henning, Vice-President

GENTLEMEN:

We have received your letter of June 19th establishing under the license contract new prices on board from the various warehouses and also for truckload deliveries and we are changing our price list immediately in accordance with this information.

The first item under the Harrison Warehouse is No. 1 — Wall Board — $26.50. Should this not be $25.60 which is $1.25 higher than the No. 2 wall board scheduled at $24.35?

At the June 6th meeting in Chicago you asked me to send a list of customers who we consider as Jobbers or Distributors and these are as follows:—

H. M. Coeyman Company, Newark, N. J.

G. B. Raymond & Company, Long Island City, N. Y.

Eastern Builders Supply Company, Baltimore, Md.

Unless I hear from you to the contrary I will be at the Palmer House on Wednesday morning, June 26th.

DEAR SIR:

I am enclosing herewith original license as proposed for the bubble board and also the revision made up after the July meeting.

Will you please look over this revised license, take it up with Mr. Ebsary and get his approval of it and arrange to meet me in Chicago on the morning of Thursday, July 25th, at the Palmer House.

Please get all information from Mr. Ebsary before leaving so that if this contract is properly revised and all of the other Companies agree to it we will be in a position to do the same.

MEMORANDUM FOR ATTENTION:
MR. LENCI, 9/22/30

At our regular salesmen's meeting held on September 13th, the following matters were brought to my attention which I feel should be straightened out,—

DuSoll who was handling Atlantic board is now selling for Kelly. It is my understanding that there were not to be anymore jobbers.

Astoria Lumber Co. promised our man Hellman an order for a car and DuSoll of Kelly Plasterboard Company was there and Astoria Lumber Co. cooled off entirely when we went there for the order.

On or about September 8th, Baxter sold for USG 2 truckloads of Wallboard at $30.61 to the New Broadway Lumber Company, Jamaica, L. I.

Richmond Hill Lumber Co. (Mr. Deutschman)

Bergen Lumber Company,

Zashinsky Lumber Co.

These three companies are run by relatives and Kelly took an order for three truckloads to make up a car, which is perfectly alright, but instead of delivering them all to one yard, they deliver one truckload to each yard and bill accordingly.

DEAR SIR:

As you know, in addition to our license agreement with you under date of October 18, 1929, we have a number of other outstanding agreements wherein, as licensor, we have authorized the respective licensees to manufacture and sell, in competition with us, gypsum wallboard and plasterboard embodying the claims and inventions of our patents. We are naturally interested in seeing that all sales of the patented board by the licensees are made in compliance with the terms and conditions of the respective license agreements.

As a result of the audits which we made or caused to be made of the books of our licensees it became apparent to us that a considerable quantity of patented board was being sold in violation of the license agreements. In order to more fully protect our rights and interests in this regard we have therefore entered into an agreement with the Board Survey Company, an Illinois corporation, whereby it is now charged with the duty of seeing that our license agreements are being complied with and that our rights in connection therewith are being fully protected.

We feel confident that we will have your cooperation in thus attempting to more effectively prevent license violations, in the future. To that end we ask you to send in to Mr. Frank Miller, Executive Secretary, Board Survey Company, 300 West Adams Street, Chicago, Illinois, all instances of violations of any of our gypsum wallboard and plasterboard license agreements which come to your attention, in each case furnishing him with all the data you are able to collect evidencing the apparent violation. You may be sure that the Survey Company, through its Executive Secretary, will make a thorough check-up of all such reported violations and is authorized by us to take such action as it may deem necessary or proper to fully enforce our rights under our license agreements and to protect our rights and interests under our patents.

I explained the new ruling & expressed my regrets that I could not take the order unless 5 M of board was on the load. The dealer then stated that a salesman of Structural Gypsum Co. had called yesterday & informed him that his Company would supply his requirements on Board & Lath in any quantity he desired either delivered or for dealer to pick up at Linden plant. Price same as ours for 5 M ft. deliveries by truck.

To verify their statements I telephoned the Structural Gypsum Co. at Linden, N. J. time 10.30 A.M. to-day & requested to speak to some one regarding Lath.

When ask who was calling I represented my-

They verified dealers statements to me & further went on to say they handled only board & lath as manufactured by Kelley Plasterboard Co. of Delawanna, N. J. They only had on hand 1335 ft. Plasterboard 32x36 & I could call & pick up 1000 ft. of same at any time to-day at 18.44 per M. ft. or any quantity I wanted.

Was informed that Structural salesmen made remark that they now had the other manufacturers where they wanted them as they were not governed by any rulings set up by U. S. G. Co.

GENTLEMEN:

Attention of Mr. George N. Lenci:

Our Mr. Robinson reports having met Mr. McGraf of the Kelley Company and in talking over the effects of the new board price it was discovered that Kelley Company feels that they are withing their rights and according to Mr. McGraf have already put into effect an exchange system, if that is the proper way to term it.

This is what I understand they are preparing to have done and are doing. If a customer having in stock 4x6 or 4x8 or whatever size they may have and are short 4x10 or 4x12 or in fact any size other than what they have the Kelley Company will exchange with them the size that they want in place of the size that they have too much of and are returning. This seems like a short way around and of course the question may come up as to how much the customer actually returned and how much they are getting and probably leave an open door for a lot of things that we do not quite know how to do.

I thought that you might be glad to have this information and make inquiries regarding it so that this practice which appears to me to be out of order can either be made general or eliminated.

Mr. Diegel told me that he knows of a case where Structural delivered a car in which there was only 2000 feet of board. I just do not recall the name of the concern, but as I advised you some time ago you know Structural's attitude and the feeling they are not bound by any restrictions of the U. S. G. Company, and if they are doing this by the car load it is a question of what might be done in truck loads. We are not running into any irregularities but we might cross the bridge after it is too late and want to get on record of this one instance of a car load so as to prevent unfair competition in our territory over here.

I think it might be well to refer these two matters to the U. S. G. Company, but keep in mind that the practice of the Kelly Company is just word of mouth and no concrete evidence. If we are able to get a transaction of this kind we will give you the full details, but Mr. Graf is supposed to have said they have done it and are within their rights, or words to this effect.

GENTLEMEN:

Referring to the recent bulletin of the United States Gypsum Company advising the licensees that selling through Jobbers had been eliminated.

We would advise that Daniel Duskis, Inc., Glendale, L. I. is still buying Certainteed Board through Orin F. Perry, New York.

Also referring to the same bulletin wherein a $2.00 differential was established between board shipped in mixed carloads and full carloads for Metropolitan New York:

Last week the Tisdale Lumber Company, Flushing, New York bought a mixed carload of Plaster and Board (16,000 sq. ft.) from the Structural Gypsum Corporation. The Boards were made by the Kelley Plasterboard Company at carload price.

We wish that you would make an immediate investigation of these two complaints and advise us as we are most anxious to see this situation cleared up as soon as possible.

It has been called to our attention that the Kelley Company, while they are keeping to the 5,000 sq. ft. minimum sales out of their plant, are permitting dealers who run short of certain sizes of Wallboard to return boards of different sizes and take the equivalent footage in other sizes.

Is this permissable?

DEAR SIR:

Referring to your letter of May 17th regarding Kelley board being sold by the Structural Gypsteel not in accordance with the licensee bulletins.

This condition has not been corrected as the Structural Company are now taking orders for 5000 sq. ft. lots of board permitting dealers to pick up in small lots until the 5000 sq. ft. is all taken.

We have had several instances of this in New Jersey recently and only today we had a specific case—Gornitsky & Company who had been buying small lots at our Newark warehouse until the rules were changed, tried to continue with us on that basis, but we would not do it. Gornitsky then made arrangements with Structural as outlined above and has been picking up small lots at his convenience from Structural.

He got a small load there yesterday and brought it down to our Newark Warehouse so that we could see it and in an endeavor to get us to meet it.

He gave us the names of other dealers who were buying on the same basis but we have as yet no first hand information therefore we are not reporting them now.

Kelley has been making the same proposition to small lumber leaders in New York City and we have been asked by several to meet this condition.

Won't you please personally get back of this matter and get it cleaned up at once and for all time?

GENTLEMEN:

Attention of Mr. C. F. Henning,

Please refer to our letter to you of July 16th in which we gave you complete details of a delivery of Board made by the Structural Gypsum Company in violation of the License Agreement.

We asked you to acknowledge receipt of that letter and to let us know how this matter was settled. So far we have had no reply.

You must realize that we cannot afford or be expected to keep a man to watch deliveries made from the Structural Plant, but that we look to you for full protection.

We believe that other sales have been made not in accordance with the Agreement, and we believe that we are losing business every day from our old customers who used to come to our Newark Plant to pick up small loads of Board, but who cannot come here now on account of the 5,000 sq. ft. minimum which we are enforcing and that they go to Linden instead.

This is a very serious matter and we would ask that you give it your immediate personal attention, and upon receipt of this letter advise us that it is being investigated and will be taken care of.

UNITED STATES GYPSUM COMPANY

GENTLEMEN:

Attention of Mr. C. F. Henning,
Vice-President

Referring to the recent conversation I had with you when you were in New York with reference to the sales of Licensed Board by the Kelley Plaster Company and particularly with reference to sales made of this Board by the Structural Gypsum Company, we wish to file a very vigorous protest based upon the following transaction.

On July 15, 1932 a mixed truck load of Plaster, Lime and Board left the Plant at Linden on Keating's truck bearing the New Jersey license X-41063. This load went direct from Linden to a house at the corner of Longwood & Delwood Aves., Chatham, N. J. and the material was unloaded and put in the house.

This load contained 3200 sq. ft. of 32 x 48 Board, 2-½ tons Neat Wood Fiber Plaster, ⅝ ton of Finishing Lime and 2/10 ton Gauging Plaster.

You will note from the foregoing that there were at least three violations.

First — the load went directly to the job, instead of to a Dealer.

Second — there were less than 5,000 sq. ft. of Board on the load.

Third — the total load was less than 7-½ tons.

The building had a sign in front of it indicating that all building materials were being furnished by Sears-Roebuck & Company, 155 Washington St., Newark, N. J.

UNITED STATES GYPSUM CO.
C. F. HENNING, Vice-President

This complaint is not based upon heresay evidence, but I saw the complete transaction myself from the time the truck left the Structural Plant until it was unloaded and left the job.

Would like to say that we have not seen any recent violation made directly by the Kelley Plaster Company, but evidently Mr. Kelley is unable to control the actions of the Structural Company, and in as much as Kelley as a Licensee has to have your permission to sell the Structural as a Manufacturer below the Dealer's prices, we believe you will agree with us that this permission should be withdrawn.

We would ask that you take this matter up personally and see that this situation is promptly cleared up, as it is very unfair to the other Licensed Manufacturers and we must insist upon this correction.

Kindly acknowledge receipt of this letter and let us know what is done about it.

Yours very truly,

Mr. Gallagher of the U. S. G. Company called me up yesterday at the request of Mr. Henning. It was in regard to our complaint against the delivery made by the Gyp Steel of less than 500 sq. ft to a job.

He said that Mr. Kelley had personally notified Mr. Williams that no further variations from the license agreement would be permitted and that if it happened once more he would cancel his contract with the Structural.

No doubt we will get a letter from Chicago on this confirming it, but if we don't by Saturday I will write then for it and also look for a reply regarding the Certain-teed-Perry combination.

BOARD SURVEY COMPANY,
300 West Adams St.,
Chicago, Ill.

GENTLEMEN:

Please let us have a reply to our letter of May 6th.

In addition to the complaints we made in that letter we wish to file a vigorous protest against the Kelley Plasterboard Company for the practice they have established through Dusol, their New York Agent, of making sales of less than 5,000 sq. ft. They are making these sales to some of the small lumber yards who come to them on the plea that their trucks will not hold 5,000 sq. ft. at one time. They get about 2,000 sq. ft. at a time and if necessary offer to pay for and accept an invoice for 5,000 sq. ft., but the board is to be picked up at their convenience.

A sale of this type was made last week by Kelley to the Yorkville Lumber Company. This condition must be stopped at once or the whole wallboard structure will be broken down.

We also wish to file a complaint against Kelley for selling small board under the bulletin price within the past ten days to Robert S. Green of Baltimore.

As licensees we are trying to abide by the bulletins in every way but we cannot sit idly by and see our customers enticed away by these tactics.

Kindly acknowledge receipt of this letter and our letter of the 6th, and let us know that something is being done to definitely correct these conditions.

Very truly yours,

EBSARY GYPSUM COMPANY, INC.,

The matter of sales by the Certainteed Products Corporation to Orin F. Perry has also had the required attention.

DEAR SIR:

I was sorry to have missed seeing you when you were in New York last week but I was out of town a good part of the time.

Mr. Gallagher asked me to see him on Tuesday which I did.

At that time he took up two matters regarding the Kelley Plasterboard Company — their relations with Dusol and their omission of name and patent numbers from their board. He said the latter would be corrected at once. Will you please confirm this so that our records will be complete.

As to the L. A. Dusol Company, this matter is still open and we would appreciate it if you would investigate it, have it corrected and so advise us. L. A. Dusol is doing quite a business with the small lumber dealers who we all used to sell prior to the April bulletins. We have given you specific cases where they are selling less than 5,000 sq. ft. loads to them at $30.44. This in spite of the fact that Kelley claims to be selling Dusol at $28.44 f.o.b. cars New York which leaves $2.00 for labor, cartage and profit. We believe that the only way L. A. Dusol can work on this basis is through some split with with George Dusol who is working as a salesman for the Kelley Plasterboard Company.

Please look into these matters, also several others which still remain open between us so that the conditions complained of may be promptly corrected. Kindly acknowledge receipt.

Very truly yours,

DEAR SIR:

We have your letter of May 23rd with reference to sales of board to the Abbey Company.

When we received your bulletin of April 12th regarding the discontinuance of jobbing arrangements we immediately notified the Abbey Company. Our contract which has been in effect with them prior to our signing the license agreement provides that we give them 60 days notice of cancellation and further that we must take care of any bonafide orders they may have on file at time of cancellation.

In spite of this we agreed that May 1st was to be the date of cancellation and the only order on file to be shipped after that date was for 12,000 sq. ft.

We had no warehouse or trucking arrangement with Abbey and have no jobbing, warehousing or trucking arrangement with anyone else at the present time.

We feel that we have been over scrupulous in matters of this kind and we have suffered through a laxness on the part of other licensees, particularly those mentioned in our letters of May 6th and 16th to the Board Survey Company. We have still no reply from them on either of these letters except your letter of May 17th.

Will you please see that full and complete replies are made so that our confidence may be re-established.

If there is anything specific back of your letter of the 23rd about Abbey, please bring it out into the open so that you can be satisfied, as we assure you that we are working in full accordance with your bulletins.

Attention of Mr. George N. Lenci:

Confirming our telephone conversation, we are advised that Louis Brooks of Washington, N. J. endeavored to buy a truckload of board from one of our representatives and being told they were not in the trucking area we were not able to obtain this business.

Since that time we are informed that Tomkins Bros. delivered a truckload of material to them.

We hope you will useevery effort running down this information and see whether there is not something that can be done to get this board situation straightened around so that we will not be penalized in our merchandising of the material by keeping strictly to the contract as we interpret it.

Attention of Mr. C. F. Henning:

We wish to call your attention to another development in the sale of board by the Structural Gypsum Company.

They have established a Dealer in their own Warehouse at Linden. This allows Structural to buy board at the proper price because it is to all intents and purposes delivered to the Structural but the sales can be made by the Dealer without any restriction whatever.

This permits the Structural to sell Sears-Roebuck & Company and others in less than truckload quantities to the detriment of the other licensees.

This is a very serious matter and we must ask that you get after it at once and give us the protection we are entitled to under our license.

Subject Eastern Builders Supply Co., Richmond, Va.

We have received the copy of the Board Survey Company's letter to you of February 15th relative to the above.

Since receiving this letter we have asked Garner to look into this and in his report he makes the following statement:

> I saw Jim Smith of the Eastern Builders Supply Co., Richmond while in Richmond and he told me that he was handling Univeral Plaster and Board on the same arrangement he orginally had it — commission.

I though this was the case. That makes two people I got this information from and I will appreciate it if you will take this matter up again. Please let me know what develops.

GENTLEMEN:

Referring further to our letter of February 15th regarding the Eastern Builders Supply Company of Richmond, Va., we have the following report from our Virginia salesman.

'I saw Jim Smith of the Eastern Builders Supply Company, Richmond while in Richmond and he told me that he was handling Universal Plaster and Board on the same arrangement he orginally had it — commission'.

We have every reason to believe that Mr. Smith is still working on a commission basis contrary to the License Agreement, and we would appreciate it if you would investigate further and report to us.

We are advised that your company has recently sold wallboard and/or plasterboard embodying the claims an inventions of the patents under which you are licensed to Wallace & Herring, Alexandria, Virginia at prices below the licensor's minimum price to you for such board in such market.

Specifically, that you did sell this firm a mixed carload of plaster and patented board and did not invoice or charge to this firm a certain amount of plaster, and this was also handled so as to reflect to the said Wallace & Herring, Alexandria, Virginia a rebate on the patented board they purchased from you.

Please advise in detail as to your sales of patented board to this firm, and specifically advise us of any donations or credits made in conjunction with your sales of said board.

This would hardly seem possible if your sales of patented board had been made at the licensor's minimum price to you.

We are informed that your company had recently sold in a carload lot gypsum plasterboard embodying the claims and inventions of the patents under which you are licensed to the Service Masons Supply Company, New York City at prices below the licensor's minimum price to you for such lath in that market, the reduction of the licensor's minimum price being in the form of allowances on other commodities, the allowances being made to influence the purchase of patented lath from your company and thus reducing the price of such lath.

We desire a verified statement from you fully reporting the sales of such board to the Service Masons Supply Company within the last six months, showing date of sale, amount of board sold, price at which board was invoiced, and the price actually paid by the dealer for such board, including any and all allowances then or subsequently made affecting such shipment.

GENTLEMEN:

We have your letter of April 24th regarding the sales of board to Service Masons Supply Company of New York.

During the past six months we have only shipped them one car of board and no truck loads of board. This car was shipped January 26th and contained:

2700 Pcs (21,600 Sq. Ft.) ¼"-32x36 @ .1205 ($15.06 per M.) 1500 " (12,000 " ") ⅜ -32x36 @ .129 (16.12 " ")
500 " (4,000 " ") ½ -32x36 @ .1475 (18.44 " ")

This carload was well over the minimum load and was charged and paid for at the proper bulletin price.

Furthermore, we wish to state that sales of other materials were paid for at the prices prevailing in the New York market and no special prices or other concessions of any kind were made to influence the sale of this car of board.

We have delayed replying to your several letters of the 21st ult. regarding warehousing arrangements with dealers until we were able to state that the situation had been corrected.

Our attorneys are quite in accord with the opinion of your attorneys that a warehousing arrangement with a dealer whereby that dealer is paid a warehousing charge on gypsum wallboard embodying the claims and inventions of the licensor's patents constitutes a rebate to that dealer on all such board sold to the dealer by the licensee.

MR. GEO. N. LENCI, Sec.,

DEAR MR. LENCI:

While at Syracuse this week, I find that the Paragon Plaster Company of that city will supply dealers board at $1.00 per M sq. ft. above the regular Syracuse price. I consider this unfair competition, due to the fact, that any dealer can call at their warehouse, and obtain any quanity they desire, plus a slight warehouse charge.

For instance, a dealer can call on Paragon Company for, say 2000 sq. ft. of ⅜" 16x48 board, and obtain same for $18.00 per M sq. ft. The mill price is $15.00, the freight, based from Oakfield, $2.00 per M sq. ft., plus $1.00 for unloading cars, warehousing, and loading on to the dealers trucks.

At no time are we allowed to truck into Syracuse, nor the surrounding towns. At no time are we allowed to truck less than 5000 sq. ft. into certain counties. But, the dealers in the vicinity of Syracuse, Utica, and Scranton can call at these various warehouses and obtain any amount they desire.

Even in the counties where we are allowed trucking, if a dealer should call at our mill, which is a warehouse in comparison with the Paragon, we are not allowed to give the dealer less than 5000 sq. ft.

This has also occured to me. I do not know if the board Paragon sells is shipped to Oakfield, then forwarded to Syracuse, or if it is shipped direct from Delawanna, N. J. to Syracuse, but, at either manner — if Paragon has to pay $15.00 mill, how can they sell it to dealers at $18.00 per M sq. ft.? The Kelley plasterboard company must have to do some absorbing of freight rates.

The above for your information.

GENTLEMEN:

Attention of Mr. C. F. Henning,
Vice-President:

We are very much disturbed over the Board situation. As we are Licensee's and you expect us to live under the terms of said License Agreement, we are writing to ask you to get the matter of the Oakfield Gypsum Products situation straightened out; also Atlantic Gypsum Company jobbers situation in Providence, Rhode Island; Also the Kelley Situation straightened out with the Structural Gypsum Company and with Cartier of Providence, and any other jobbers situation that no doubt you know of yourselves that are still existing; also the Certain-teed Products Company arrangement with Orin F. Perry.

These matters we feel should have been straightened out long ago as it is doing the Ebsary Gypsum Company, Inc. a great injustice, especially in Scranton, Syracuse and Utica; also in Jersey by the Structural Gypsum Company.

As we are paying you a royalty and as we, the Ebsary Gypsum Company, Inc., are doing everything we know how to do to keep things clean we look to you for protection as these matters have cost us several thousand dollars and we demand that you get these matters straightened out at once.

I do not wish to get personal with any of these companies or with you, but we want a reply on this at once.

DEAR SIRS:

Referring to your May 5th letter addressed to Mr. Henning and to Mr. Ebsary's letter of April 12, we do not feel that you have supplied us with sufficient information, or have given specific cases to substantiate the charges you have made against the various licensees.

Mr. Ebsary registers a complaint against the Atlantic Gypsum Company's sales of patented board to F. B. Lawton, Inc., Providence; Rhode Island; Kelley Plasterboard Company's sales to the Structural Gypsum Company, and to Cartier, Providence, Rhode Island; also Certain-teed's sales of patented board to Orin F. Perry, but in none of these cases did he, then or since, give us specific information that would substantiate the charge that the license contract has been violated.

In the case of the Kelley Plasterboard Company's sales of patented board to the Paragon Company, also the American Hardwall Plaster Company, Utica, New York through the Oakfield Gypsum Products Company, you have based your complaint upon the fact that these firms resell patented board to dealers at $1.00 M above the licensor's minimum price, which hardly seems to be a sufficient profit if said patented board is purchased at the licensor's minimum price to you. However, you do not substantiate this with specific sales, and we have before us a copy of the American Hardwall Plaster Company's price list dated March 1, 1933, which we are attaching. This price list is contradictory to the information you have given us. You will note that the prices as shown are f.o.b. warehouse, and deliveries to freight station or auto terminal carry the additional charge of $1.00 per ton. The price on patented plasterboard is $2.02 M above the licensor's minimum price, and the price on patented wallboard is $3.52 M f.o.b. warehouse with trucking additional as noted above.

We have no information which will enable us to dispute the prices as shown on this price list. If you have knowledge that patented board is being sold for less than the prices shown herein, and at a price which would cause you to assume that a sale of patented board had been made at less than the licensor's minimum price to you, we ask that you give us that data in the form of specific cases.

We will appreciate your early reply.

In further reference to the board matter at Syracuse and Utica, N. Y. You will recall that I wrote you stating that the Paragon was selling dealers board F.O.B. their warehouse in Syracuse at $19.00 per M sq. ft. for the lath sizes and $31.00 for the wallboard sizes.

In addition to the above the board is shipped from Dellawanna, N. J. to them at Syracuse and also to Oakfield. The board at Oakfield is to be placed in their mixed car orders, and the board shipped direct to Syracuse is sold to dealers and also retailed out. The $19.00 and $31.00 board is the price charged to dealers calling there, with the usual terms of 2% ten days or 30 days net.

GENTLEMEN:

We have your letter of May 8th with reference to sales of licensed board by the Oakfield Gypsum Company and its subsidiaries, Paragon Plaster Company and the American Hardwall Plaster Company.

We note the enclosed price list of the latter Company showing that wallboard is priced $3.52 per M above the carload price and plasterboard $2.03 higher than the carload price.

You do not give any information about the Paragon Plaster Company's prices in Syracuse, which Company has been causing us to lose considerable business by permitting Dealers to pick up from their Syracuse Warehouse small quantities of board at little or nothing above that we have to charge our Dealers who take full carloads.

We do not care to give specific instances because the complaint would simpy be traced back through us causing us to lose our Dealer's good will as well as his business.

The conditions complained of are common knowledge and should be corrected at once. One solution would be to open up the Counties adjacent to Syracuse and Utica to trucking by all manufacturers on the basis at one time discussed namely $27.00 Mill for wallboard and $15.00 Mill for plasterboard plus $2.00 per M square feet plus actual rail freight to place of destination, delivery to Dealer's Yard only and with the usual 5000 foot minimum.

Facts Concerning Complaint

We have a report that the Delaware Clay Products Company, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania are selling Paragon Oakfeaf gypsum board to dealers in western Pennsylvania. In view of the fact that the Oakfield Gypsum Products Company are themselves not manufacturers of gypsum board and that the Kelley Plasterboard Company supply them, we are unable to understand what arrangement or concession is being made that permits them in turn to sell a distributor who is also able to sell dealers at the regular carload dealer delivered price.

Today the writer spoke to Mr. E. L. Merriman, Treasurer of the Paragon Plaster & Supply Co., and brought to his attention the complaint which was registered. He advised me that the Delaware Clay Products Co. sell Plasterboard for them without any compensation. It is necessary for them to sell Plasterboard in order to secure business for Plaster, and meet competition of mixed carload shipments. All sales are made at the scheduled price, and no compensation is allowed to the Delaware Clay Products Co. on any sales of Wallboard or Plasterboard by them.

DEAR SIR:

Replying to yours of September 8, an error was made in the pickup price for cutstock, which is being rectified by special bulletin. The pickup price is $15.00 instead of $13.50.

Cutstock was eliminated due to the fact that licensees and licensor were cutting new board to supply demand. This was thoroughly discussed and approved of by Mr. Ebsary at the licensee meeting in New York, September 10.

Very truly yours,

DEAR SIR:

I understand from Mr. Ebsary who attended the recent Board License Meeting in Buffalo that there was considerable discussion regarding the promotion of 3/8" 16x48 Gypsum Lath in the Metropolitan New York Area.

We have carefully considered this matter and we certainly would like to secure business now going to Wood Lath and other substitutes and if you think it necessary to make a cut in the price of Gypsum Lath in order to bring this about we would suggest a $14.00 carload price and a $15.00 truckload price. You must realize that with our mill in Upstate New York we are under a considerable freight handicap in getting our material to the New York market and this very materially reduces our mill price.

We believe that should you decide to give this a trial it should be confined to the four Long Island Counties in order to prevent it spreading to New Jersey where it is now being used in considerable quantities.

We would be glad to have you give this matter your consideration and let us hear further from you about it.

Yours very truly,

DEAR MR. LENCI:

Thanks for yours of September 4, and I wish to register that you are the first one of the licensees to reply to my request. It is only too bad that you were not at the meeting where we utlined in detail our program, and also told of our experience in converting the California wood lath market to gypsum lath. It was necessary to introduce a price more competitive to wood lath, and, after the material was established, it was possible to increase our price because the quality of the plaster wall demonstrated the value at the additional cost. I am afraid that the prices outlined in your letter are not sufficiently low competitively to really tap the market considering the resistance against small board.

In order to get full appreciation of the problems, I ask that you get in touch with Mr. Gallagher and have him give you all the data that he developed for me relative to competitive costs on gypsum lath, Ecod and wood lath. Also go over with him the restricted market and the material on which we may want to make the trial.

Yours truly,

GENTLEMEN:

Referring to the board license agreement, it has been called to our attention that the Certainteed Products Company have made a jobbing arrangement with the Building Material Wholesalers Inc., Rutherford Ave., Charleston, Mass.

The above mentioned Company is the Wholesale Division of L. Grossman & Sons of Quincy, Mass. and they do all of the purchasing of lumber and building materials for the nine different yards of the Grossman Company.

We have been selling Grossman Wall Board and Lath for a number of years and this jobbing arrangement which is not permitted by the board license agreement will cause us to lose this Grossman business.

We feel that we are justified in filing a complaint in this matter and would appreciate it if you would make an early investigation and see that this condition is corrected and also acknowledge receipt of this letter.

MR. FRED EBSARY, President,
Ebsary Gypsum Company,

DEAR MR. EBSARY:

From time to time we have considered going into the gypsum roof deck business, especially here in Chicago. U. S. G. and National have a monopoly on this at the present time; Certainteed not being active in it and none of the independents bothering with it. Through our sand and gravel operations here we are in close touch with a number of contractors who do this type of work, and we believe that we could secure a substantial portion of the business if we went after it.

Our difficulty is the lack of the required gypsum board to lay on the purlins. I am wondering whether you manufacture a gypsum board for this purpose, and, if so, whether you would consider shipping it to Chicago and on what basis. There is a bid coming up on August 10th for a roof on one of the city buildings, and even if we cannot get ready to bid this we might make arrangements now so we could go after future work. I shall be glad to hear from you on the subject.

Our business so far this year has been about 20% ahead of last year, and we are maintaining this rate currently. We hope for a pretty decent year. How are things with you?

Please accept my best personal regards. I may be in New York shortly, and, if so, I shall stop in to see you.

CARDIFF GYPSUM COMPANY

Attention of Mr. Ezra Sensibar, Pres.

GENTLEMEN:

Mr. Ebsary has received your letter of July 31st and handed it over to me to reply as to the prices on Board.

It is our understanding that the price of 3/8" Wall Board is $23.55 and 1/2" Wall Board $25.75 to Dealers FOB cars Chicago, and we could sell you our 3/8" Wall Board in carload lots at $20.68 and 1/2" Wall Board at $22.78 FOB cars Chicago. This Board would be in the 32" or 48" widths and in any length from 4 to 12 feet in even feet. It will be our regular Wall Board with the cream paper on face and grey on back.

If you can use 32"x48" Plaster Board with a round edge and grey paper on both sides the prices on the 3/8" to Dealers in Chicago is $15.55, and for the 1/2" $17.00, and on this we could quote you $14.42 for the 3/8" and $15.95 for the 1/2" in carload lots FOB Chicago.

We will be very glad to have you give this your consideration and we could make prompt shipments of any orders you place with us.

We note what you say about business conditions and they are running about the same here with us in the East, except that competition is very keen and Plaster prices very low all along the Atlantic Seaboard.

With very kindest regards, beg to remain

MR. GEORGE N. LENCI,
Ebsary Gypsum Company,

DEAR MR. LENCI:

Mr. Ezra Sensibar has asked me to work on the matter of Wall Board as outlined in your letter of August 3rd.

We have checked over the prices included in your letter, and find that the Wall Board prices are correct, namely $23.55 for 3/8" and $25.75 for 1/2" board. These are dealer prices.

However, the prices you mention on the 32" x 48" board seems to be what is called Liner Board. We will work with the prices you mention and see what can be developed in relation to the roofing business.

In addition to the Wall Board tonnage that this market furnishes, there is considerable volume of rock lath tonnage that we are able to deliver. This applies not only to Chicago and Milwaukee markets, but to points in Illinois, St. Louis Missouri, and Southern Territory.

Rock lath sells here for $13.50 (3/8") and $15.75 (1/2") —all sizes, 16 x 32 or 32 x 48 inches. We wonder if it would be possible for you to supply the necessary rock lath if we went after the business.

As soon as we can get more specific information as to sizes required for the roofing contractors, we will post you. In the meantime, we would appreciate word about the rocklath matter.

Very truly yours,

M. GUTMAN

CARDIFF GYPSUM COMPANY,

DEAR SIRS:

We have Mr. Gutman's letter and note what you say regarding our quotations in Chicago.

What is known as gypsum lath sells for $13.55 for 3/8" and $15.75 for 1/2" to dealers in Chicago and the sizes are 16x32 and 16x48, the great majority of the business being in the 16x48 size. 32x48" Board is not lath but is classified as liner board and the prices for that are $15.55 for 3/8" and $17.00 for 1/2" to dealers, f.o.b. cars Chicago.

Practically no 1/2" gypsum lath is sold and the best price which we could make to you on the 3/8" lath would be $12.92 f.o.b. cars Chicago.

At the present writing we have no freight rates in this office to points in Illinois, Missouri and the Southwest, but if you will give us a list of specific points at which you want prices I will be very glad to check them up and if the freight absorption is not too great we will quote you. In the meantime we will be very glad to hear from you further regarding the Wall Board for roof construction.

DEAR MR. LENCI:

Mr. Sensibar has discussed his visit with you since my letter of August 3rd, and has asked me to send you a list of some of the points in which we are interested, as to wallboard and gypsum lath. I am attaching this list, with controlling rates.

We have been in touch with a roofing engineer who formerly worked for the USG and who is interested in doing some gypsum-roof work on his own account, and expect to gather some data from him in the next few days. This work involves wallboard, of course, and the tonnage and sizes would be more or less influenced to a particular job.

It has been Mr. Sensibar's suggestion that it is convenient for you, he would like me to come to New York the first of next week to put in a day or two going over the board situation. I would also like to have the opportunity to visit your plant at Wheatland at this time.

Let me know whether you can spare the time, as I know that the Employing Plasterers' Convention is going to be in session commencing next Monday.

DEAR MR. LENCI:

I had a very fine visit at your plant yesterday and went through the whole lay-out with Mr. Wilbur. You are certainly entitled to a lot of admiration for the way your plant is laid out and for the type of equipment you are using.

We are going to start in right away to line up some board and lath business. In the meantime, we want to stock a car at Fort Dodge Ia., so that our men in the Western territory can fill orders with both board and lath.

Acting on Mr. Winslow's suggestion, we had planned to have you ship the following carload:

50	pieces	4 x 8	(1200 ft)
50	"	4 x 7	(1200 ft)
250	"	4 x 8	(8000 ft)

Plain lath		16 x 48	12000 ft

When you ship to the mill you will naturally use your own bill of lading. I am sending Mr. Winslow a letter authorizing him to sign as our agent on bills of lading to points of destination other than Fort Dodge, and will furnish our bills of lading.

We learn from Mr. Henley that there is no restriction at Fort Dodge on truck pick-ups as to minimum requirements, although there is the usual price mark-up of $1.00 per M ft.

11332 Will you kindly arrange with your billing department to send a copy of all invoices to this office, as well as the original which will go to Fort Dodge.

As soon as you have checked the figures which we went over, will you send me a complete sheet of the delivered prices, amount of discount, and actual discount based upon your average weight agreement. Then, as we add different points of destination we can keep identical diuplicate sheets.

We are sending you some rate schedules and supplements in accordance with our arrangement.

Thank you for your prompt reply to my letter of October 14th. We note that you are still waiting for a reply from the United States Gypsum Company.

Frankly it appears to us that they are stalling, as they indicated in previous exchange of correspondence with you that the reply to your request would be forthcoming at least a week to ten days ago. At the board license meeting May 23d 1934 we presented you with a contract for the reflective backing of plasterboard and wallboard.

It was the intention to license all of our board licensees, and to date we have received nothing from you in regard to your position on this matter.

Please give me your comments or criticism.

DEAR GEORGE:—

Attached is copy of letter I wrote Mr. Diegel on March 18th.

Have you been able to discuss this with Fred yet or have you organized to sign the foil license? Would like to see this detail disposed of so we can sell you on the right basis.

DEAR MR. DIEGEL:—

Confirming our phone conversation, I find that we are not privileged to sell you foil lath at the 12½% discount until Mr. Ebsary signs the foil license. It is my understanding that everyone else has signed and if you can cover this detail promptly, we will then be all organized to handle your foil business in the future at the discount specified.

To avoid any complication with the license set-up. I will have to bill your current order of 5.024' at the current dealer price without any discount and am handling on this basis.

I took occasion to phone you on this as I didn't want to convey the impression that we were holding back on this foil program. As Mr. Baker told George, we will be glad to manufacture for you and act as your source of supply until such time as you are in production yourself, but you will have to first go through the red tape of signing the license.

Kindest regards.

Yours very truly,

RFBurley/B Vice President

P. S. I gathered from Winslow's call that the 5,000 feet was for delivery in the trucking area around Buffalo and wired him as attached so we would save him the trucking costs if he wanted us to truck direct to the dealer.

Re: Dunnage.

In order to protect its rights as owner of the patents involved in your license contract authorizing you to manufacture and sell gypsum wallboard and gypsum plasterboard embodying the claims and inventions of the licensor's patents, the licensor has been giving further consideration to the matter of license violations through sale of patented board at less than the minimum price effected by means of using such board for dunnage.

In the opinion of the Board Survey Company, the dunnage problem might be in large part met by adoption of one or more of the following requirements with respect to dunnage:

1. Restrict size—
   Maximum size as dunnage—24"x24"
   Sluter strips—not over 8" wide.
   All dunnage to be stamped on both sides—
   "Dunnage—Not to be Sold".
2. Scratch paper on both sides.
3. Use size or other treatment to destroy usefulness of board for plastering or painting.
4. Eliminate use of patented board in New York metropolitan area as dunnage.

We would appreciate your giving this problem consideration in order that we may have your views of the above suggestions, or any others as a means of preventing license violations in this regard.

JULY 31ST, 1929

THE PARAGON PLASTER CO.,
Syracuse, N. Y.

GENTLEMEN:

Referring to your letter of July 27th we can make you the following proposition on Ebsary Wall Board and Plasterboard.

In order to put you in a position to ship mixed cars of plaster and board from your plant at Oakfield we quote price of $22.50 per 1000 sq. ft. of Wallboard and $15.50 per 1000 sq. ft. of plasterboard F.O.B. cars Wheatland with freight allowed to Oakfield, and less a manufacturers discount of 10% on $22.50 and $15.00 respectively.

For shipments on your account to dealers outside of your city we quote you $22.50 and $15.00 respectively F.O.B. cars Wheatland plus freight and subject to the same discount as above.

For shipments to you at Syracuse $24.64 and $17.14 respectively less the same discounts. These prices are with freight allowed to Syracuse.

All of the above prices are subject to immediate acceptance only and we trust they will be of interest to you.

With the prevailing low prices for gypsum blocks we cannot do better than our regular dealers prices based on 3¢ for 3" and 4¢ for 4" hollow F.O.B. cars Wheatland.

I would be very glad to hear from you as soon as you have had an opportunity to consider this proposal.

Very truly yours,

Kelley Plasterboard Co. Inc.,
Att. Mr. S. J. Kelley, President,
Delawanna, N. J.

GENTLEMEN:

The contract dated Nov. 23rd, 1932, under which you have purchased Stucco of us and we have purchased Wall Board, Plaster Board, and Gypsum Lath, expired on Nov. 30th, 1933.

Since the operation of your company and ours under this contract seems to have been mutually satisfactory, as indicated at our conference in New York Nov. 23rd, 1933, we herein desire to confirm in writing the understanding for renewing this contract arrived at at this Nov. 23rd, 1933 conference.

From Dec. 1st, 1933, to Dec. 1st, 1938, we will furnish you and you will furnish us, the following mentioned products, under prices, terms, and conditions as herein outlined.

Stucco

For the first 2000 tons Stucco purchased by you	$5.00	per ton
For the next 1500 tons Stucco purchased by you	4.50	" "
For the next 1000 tons Stucco purchased by you	4.25	" "
For any additional tonnage Stucco purchased by you	4.00	" "

The prices above quoted on Stucco are f.o.b. Cars our mill at Oakfield, New York, and are based upon shipment in full carload lots, in cloth bags furnished by us. The cloth bags to be charged extra at five (5¢) cents each, and the same amount credited to you when they are returned to us in usable condition.

Neat Plaster—For shipment to your Delawanna N. J. Plant.:

If you desire to purchase our Neat Plaster for shipment to your Delawanna, N. J. Plant, while this contract is in force you may do so at a price of $5.50 per ton, in carload lots, f.o.b. Oakfield, N. Y.

Neat Plaster—For direct shipment to your trade:

If, and when, you desire to purchase our Neat Plaster for shipment to other points of destination than Delawanna, N. J., our price to you on same will be $3.00 per ton, in carload lots, f.o.b. Cars Oakfield, N. Y., less than the established Gypsum Industry price for Neat Plaster in 11365 carload lots, but in no instance shall this price net us less than $5.00 per ton, Net, exclusive of bags, f.o.b. Cars Oakfield.

All paper bags for Neat Plaster are to be furnished by you, delivered Oakfield, N. Y., and to bear your own trade name and Company name.

Note: In the event of an advance in the present delivered price of Neat Plaster in the Metropolitan, N. Y. and Northern New Jersey Areas, fifty percent of such advance shall be added to the Oakfield mill price on Neat Plaster for shipments to Delawanna.

Terms: 2% each discount, based upon f.o.b. Car prices at Oakfield, N. Y., same to be allowed for payment of invoices by the 10th of the following month, or 30 days net.

If, at any time, the financial responsibility of either your Company or ours becomes impaired or unsatisfactory to either buyer or seller, it is mutually agreed your Company or ours has the right to require payments in advance, or satisfactory security or guarantee that invoices will be paid when due.

Labor

The prices quoted herein are based upon present labor, coal, and explosives costs to us, which are as follows:

Mine Department

Miners, Helpers and Muckers	$.38	per ton
Propman, Trackman, Pumpman, Motorman & Repair men	.50	" hour
Cager and Hoist Operator	.55	" "
Motorman Helper, Repairman Helper & General Mine Labor	.45	" "

Mill Department

General Labor, Millwright Helper & Watchman	.40	per hour
Carpenter & Truck Driver	.45	" "
Tube Mill Operator and Electrician	.50	" "
Calciner Operator and Millwright	.55	" "
Blacksmith and Crusherman	.65	" "
Machinist	.60	" "

Mixing Department

Tacking Cost—piece work—Stucco	18½	per ton
Tacking Cost—piece work—Neat, etc.	21½¢	" "
Coal	$ 3.92	per Net ton, F.O.B. Oakfield, N. Y.
Explosives	10.50	per Cwt. ton, F.O.B. Oakfield, N. Y.

11366 Should the costs on these items of manufacture be increased or decreased, it is mutually agreed, we will advance or decrease our prices to you on any material we are selling you by the same ratio that the above manufacturing items are increased or decreased. This adjustment to be made not more often than every thirty (30) days, and you are to have access to our payroll account to verify any figures in this connection.

Reciprocal Transactions:

This contract is based upon the mutual understanding that during the life of it, you are to furnish us Wall Board, Plaster Board, and Gypsum Lath of a satisfactory quality, at the established market price to dealers, less Calciner's discount on Wall Board of fifteen percent, and less Calciner's discount on Plaster Board and Gypsum Lath of twelve and one-half percent. This discount to be based on the per thousand feet price, f.o.b. Cars Oakfield, N. Y. The freight from Delawanna, N. J. to our plant at Oakfield, N. Y. to be absorbed by you.

Terms: A cash discount of 2% on the net amount of the invoice, after deducting freight, will be allowed for payment of invoices by the 10th of the following month—net 30 days.

Duration of Contract:

It is mutually agreed that the contract shall be for a period of five years, beginning Dec. 1st, 1933, but may be cancelled by either party at the end of any year during the said period, by either party giving to the other party hereto, three months' written notice, prior to Dec. 1st of any year while contract is in force, of its intention to cancel the same. Said written notice to be given by mail at the last known address of the party, and this contract will not bind or inure to the benefit of any person, co-partnership or corporation other than the parties hereto and shall not bind or inure to the benefit of the heirs, successors, or assigns of either party to this contract.

11367 This contract is prepared in duplicate. We have signed the original copy, and if you will sign in the blank space provided, we shall consider the contract immediately in force.

DEAR MR. SENSIBAR:

There is certainly an apology due you from me for not replying sooner to your telegram received some time ago and your later favor of the 8th inst.

It has, however, been necessary for me to be away from my office almost constantly, so that my correspondence has been sadly neglected. As you probably know, we returned to Chicago on the 11th and again spent three days on the code, finally adopting the automobile code with the terms changed to suit our particular industry.

Because of all this extra work, and also because of the situation, there has not been an opportunity for me to approach the licensor regarding the matter we have in mind, but I expect to do so within the very near future and shall then immediately get in touch with you.

If, in the meantime, you are in this community, I shall, of course, be very glad to see you.

Sincerely yours,

DEAR MR. BLACK:—

The Montague Mill Work Company, Richmond, Virginia, has asked us for a quotation on a carload of gypsum wall board. We have given them your name, and we suggest that you communicate with them.

I have not heard from you since our pleasant visit at Port Clinton sometime ago. I trust that your investigation has since disclosed that we did not sell the Severin job in Indianapolis at a price below that made by our competitors; that the transaction was handled in the method customary in the industry and approved by yourself and others. If such be the case, I hope that you can now see your way clear to consummate the board arrangements that we talked about and that the Licensor and others will now raise no objection. They need have no fear that we would sell plaster below the price established by them in order to move the board. We have a certain sales expense and we want to spread it over a larger gross volume of business. One way to do that is to have the same salesman sell board along with our plaster.

Please let us hear from you definitely in the very near future.

DEAR MR. SENSIBAR:

Kindly pardon the delay, which was occasioned by my absence, in replying to your favor of the 1st inst.

As you may possibly know, Mr. John A. Kling, the chairman of our Board, was buried the day you wrote your letter, he having been shot three days previously by his chauffer.

Many thanks for referring the Montague Mill Work Company of Richmond, Virginia, to us, and we will communicate with them at once.

Our Indianapolis representative was at the office last Friday, and I mentioned to him the Indianapolis job, and while he did not have positive information regarding the price, he made the statement that he would not be surprised if your price was not below the market and your transaction was regular in every respect. I did not talk with him very much about it as I consider it water over the dam.

Mr. Charles Henning of the United States Gypsum Company has been away on a vacation, but I hope to have the pleasure of talking with him in the near future and shall be pleased to bring up the matter of our selling you wall board.

It was very nice of you and Mrs. Sensibar to stop and see us, and we enjoyed your visit very much. Please repeat the occasion in the very near future. The "Boss" at our home joins me in sending kindest regards to both of you.

DEAR MR. LENCI:

Enclosed please find some rate supplements which will help to keep your records up to date.

On September 30th I addressed a letter to Mr. Winslow at Wheatland thanking him for the courtesy shown my visit to the plant, and we have been notified that there is no Post Office at Wheatland. Will you kindly let me know where your mail is received for the plant at Wheatland.

To date we have received no advice about the car of board and lath ordered for our plant at Fort Dodge. Naturally, we are anxious to have this available for our salesmen who work in the Fort Dodge territory, and as soon as we know that the car is in transit we will instruct our men to start pushing board and lath.

We expect to have something very soon in the way of business on board and lath in the Chicago territory, and are awaiting the rechecked list of destination points which I left with you.

Very truly yours,

CARDIFF GYPSUM COMPANY

GENTLEMEN:

We have your letter of October 4th addressed to Mr. George Lenci. Mr. Lenci is out of town today and for that reason I am writing you to give you the following information requested in your letter.

The Post Office address for Mr. Winslow is CALEDONIA, N. Y., as there is no Post Office at Wheatland, N. Y.

Regarding the car of Board and Lath which you have on order. We have not as yet received permission from the United States Gypsum Company to ship this order. You understand that we must first be permitted by the United States Gypsum Company if we are to sell other manufacturers. We are today in receipt of a letter from them in which they state that have not had an opportunity to discuss this with their people and as soon as we hear further we will advise you accordingly.

We are sorry that this delay has been caused, but can assure you that it is absolutely beyond our control at the present time.

Yours very truly,

EBSARY GYPSUM COMPANY, INC.

Packages per car—Approximately 708-8496 sq. ft. gross surface.

Estimating—Amount of material required will vary, depending on what subtractions are made from gross surface area. Some leeway should be allowed for safety. Doors, windows and other openings should be subtracted from gross areas. If it is desired to subtract studs, joints and rafters, deduct 12½% from gross surface area, less openings (windows and doors). Deduct 15% for studs if only walls are to be figured. Deduct 10% for roof or ceiling members if only attic or roof work is figured.

Facts Concerning Complaint

Licensee, through Mr. Stremble, a free lance commission man, quoted the carload price on a truckload of patented gypsum board to the Alco Lumber Company and Universal Lumber & Trim Company, both of Brooklyn, New York.

It is also reported that Mr. Stremble quoted Tom Tesauro Lumber & Coal Company, Coney Island, New York a price of $1.10 per M sq. ft. less than the license price on a truckload of patented board.

Licensee's Explanation

Mr. Stremble we find is an employee of the Structural Gypsum Co., a division of the American Cyanamid & Chemical Co., to whom we sell Gypsum Board. We have taken up with them the charges made against Mr. Stremble, and have been definitely advised that he will no longer offer for sale Gypsum Wallboard and Gypsum Lath. They however deny any charges which are made against Stremble, but in order to eliminate any further complaint they have agreed to restrict his sales to products manufactured by them only.

DEAR BILL:

Enclosed is confirmation of our wire to you this afternoon, which is self-explanatory.

There have been evidences of split commissions, to which, of course, we cannot be parties. As you know, all gypsum board is manufactured and sold under license agreement, and we have to adhere rigidly to the terms.

I am sorry that we have to take this action, but in view of the circumstances, there is nothing else that can be done.

Very truly yours,

LICENSE AGREEMENT.

This agreement executed in duplicate this 11 day of April, 1927, by and between the United States Gypsum Company, an Illinois corporation of Chicago, Illinois, (hereinafter referred to as "Lecensor") and Texas Cement Plaster Co., a Texas corporation, of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, (hereinafter referred to as "Licensee") witnesseth:

Whereas, Licensor is the owner of the entire right, title and interest in, to and under Letters Patent of the United States, Number 1,029,328, dated June 11, 1912, and Number 1,034,746, dated August 6th, 1912, (hereinafter called the "Utzman Patents"), and is also the owner of the entire right, title and interest in, to and under the Letters Patent and Applications for Letters Patent of the United States set forth in Exhibit A attached hereto and made a part hereof, and any and all Letters Patent which may be granted therefor or thereupon; and

Whereas, heretofore said Utzman patents have been adjudicated by the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois, Eastern Division, and by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit (258 Fed. 647; 270 Fed. 542; 290 Fed. 798; 290 Fed. 800; see also 263 U. S. 713), and said courts have decreed that said Utzman patents are valid and were infringed by the defendants in the cases so reported, and in the decision of the said District Court rendered on or about July 21, 1925, and not yet reported, by reason of the making, using and selling of plaster board or gypsum wallboard having protected edges, and said District Court has ordered perpetual injunctions and ac-11404 countings against said defendants; and

Whereas Licensee recognizes and admits the validity and scope of said Utzman Patents; and

Whereas Licensee has equipped its plant with machines for the manufacture of plaster board and gypsum wallboard embodying the inventions set forth in said patents and applications for letters patent, and Licensor has threatened to prosecute Licensee for patent infringement in case it shall manufacture and sell any of said product and Licensee is desirous of avoiding litigation and of obtaining a license to use the processes and make and use the machines and/or inventions set forth and claimed in said Utzman patents and in all of said patents or applications for letters patent described in said Exhibit A; and

Whereas Licensee has offered to pay a royalty for said license of five per cent (5%) of the selling price of Licensee of said patented product until August 6, 1929, the date of the expiration of said Utzman Patent number 1,034,746, and thereafter of one and one-half per cent (1½%) of the selling price of said patented product from August 6, 1929 until February 10, 1937, the date of the expiration of said patent number 1,330,413; and

Whereas Licensor has refused to accept said offer and has been unwilling to grant such a license except upon the express condition that Licensee will manufacture said plaster board or gypsum wallboard only with a folded or protected edge similar to that manufactured by Licensor, so that Licensor may be protected in its own business of manufacturing and selling said patented product and realize to the fullest extent the benefits under said patents from the manufacture by Licensee; and

Whereas Licensor has agreed to waive the express condition aforesaid and grant the said license in consideration of the egreement of Licensee to pay to 11405 it for the license to use the processes and make and use the machines and/or inventions set forth and claimed in all of said patents and applications for letters patent, an amount monthly equivalent to five per cent (5%) of the selling price of Licensee of all plaster board or gypsum wall board of every kind manufactured and sold by it during each calendar month between the date hereof and August 6, 1929, the date of the expiration of said Utzman Patene number 1,034,746, and thereafter an amount monthly equivalent to one and one-half per cent (1½%) of such selling price during each calendar month from August 6, 1929 until February 10, 1937, the date of the expiration of said patent number 1,330,413, and upon the terms and conditions as hereinafter set forth;

Now, therefore, in consideration of the sum of One Dollar ($1.00) and other good and valuable considerations, the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto do hereby agree as follows, to-wit:

1. Licensor has agreed to and does hereby give and grant unto Licensee, an indivisible and non-exclusive right, license and privilege of using the processes, and making and using the machines and/or inventions set forth and claimed in said Utzman Patents, and in any and all of said patents or applications for letters patent described in said Exhibit A, at the plant or factory now owned and/or operated by Licensee at Hamlin, Texas, and of manufacturing at said plant or factory and selling and/or using plaster board or gypsum wallboard manufactured at said plant or factory and embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in said Utzman Patents and said patents and applications for letters patent described in Exhibit A, until the 10th day of February, 1937, the date of expiration of patent number 1,330,413, mentioned in said Exhibit A.

It is expressly agreed and understood that the indivisible and non-exclusive right, license and privilege aforesaid is granted upon condition that the Licensor 11406 shall have, and it hereby reserves the right to determine and fix at any time, and to change from time to time during the term of said Utzman patent number 1,034,746 the minimum price or prices (not more, however, than the then prevailing market price or prices) at which the Licensee shall sell any plaster board or gypsum wallboard manufactured by Licensee embodying the improvements set forth and claimed in said Utzman Patent number 1,034,746, and in case it shall exercise the right so reserved it shall first serve written notice of its intention so to do upon Licensee, accompanied with a statement of the price or prices at which the Licensee shall sell said patented product, and thereafter shall give to the Licensee written or telegraphic notice of any change in such price or prices, and the Licensee expressly covenants and agrees that it will not at any time during the term of said Utzman Patent number 1,034,746, after the receipt of such notice, directly or indirectly sell or offer for sale, any plaster board or gypsum wallboard embodying the improvements set forth and claimed in said Utzman Patent number 1,034,746 at a price or prices less than that stated by the Licensor in said notice, or in any such written or telegraphic notice of a change in such price or prices. It is expressly understood and agreed that this provision of the said license shall apply only to the said Utzman Patent number 1,034,746, and shall not apply to any of said other Letters Patent.

2. The Licensee further agrees to pay to the Licensor for said right, license and privilege of manufacturing, using and/or selling plaster board or gypsum wallboard, and for said privilege of using the processes and making and using the machines and/or inventions, embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in said Utzman patents and in any and all of said patents and applications for letters patent described in Exhibit A, an amount equivalent to five per cent (5%) of the selling price of the Licensee, of all plaster board or gypsum wallboard of every kind, manufactured and sold by Licensee between the date hereof and August 6, 1929, the date of the expiration of said Utzman 11407 Patent number 1,034,746, and thereafter an amount equivalent to one and one-half per cent (1½%) of the selling price of the Licensee, of all such plaster board or gypsum wallboard, from August 6, 1929 until February 10, 1937, the date of the expiration of said patent number 1,330,413.

3. It is expressly understood and agreed that the said License shall be personal to the Licensee and that the same or any right therein or thereunder shall not be sold, assigned or transferred without the written consent of the Licensor or transferred by operation of law, except that the same may be assigned to any successor or subsidiary corporation of Licensee, and except that in the event of the appointment of a receiver or receivers for the purpose of conserving the business and assets of Licensee, such receiver or receivers shall succeed to all of Licensee's rights under said license and under this agreement. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein contained, it is expressly understood that this license shall not be assigned to any other gypsum company manufacturing and/or selling plaster board or gypsum wallboard, nor shall the same in any way apply to any such company or to any of the plants or factories theretofore owned or operated by any such company, in case of a merger or consolidation between such companies, or any of them, and the Licensee, or an acquisition of the assets and business of Licensee, or any part thereof, by any such company, or of any such company by said Licensee, nor shall any such merger, consolidation or acquisition affect any claim which Licensor has against any such other company for infringement of its said patents.

4. Licensee agrees to keep separate, full and accurate books of account and records showing the exact quantity of all plaster board and gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it, and agrees that on or before the 20th day of each and every calendar month it will render unto Licensor true written returns, verified under oath by an officer or other agent of Licensee, setting forth the quantity of all plaster board and gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it during the preceding 11408 calendar month, together with the price or prices at which the same was sold, such written returns to be delivered to Licensor at its office in Chicago, Illinois, and Licensee agrees to pay to Licensor, on or before the 20th day of each calendar month, at the office of Licensor at Chicago, Illinois, the hereinbefore stipulated royalties or license fees which may then be due under this agreement on account of all of said plaster board and gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it during the next preceding calendar month.

5. Licensor, or its duly authorized representative, shall have the right at all reasonable times during business hours to inspect the books of account and records of Licensee referred to in the next preceding paragraph hereof, including all records of every kind showing the quantity of said plaster board and gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it, the price or prices at which the same was sold, and to make copies thereof and memoranda therefrom.

6. Licensee agrees that all plaster board or gypsum wallboard manufactured and sold by it embodying the claims of any of said patents shall be distinctly marked with the word "PATENTED", together with the dates of the Utzman patents, and the dates of any other patents which Licensor may properly specify, and in connection with the said markings it will further mark said patented product with the words, "Licensed under the above Letters Patent," which markings shall be plainly visible.

7. Having regard for the fact that there are or may be certain manufacturers of plaster or gypsum products, or jobbers of such products, who do not or may not manufacture gypsum wallboard or gypsum plaster board but who desire or may desire to have gypsum wallboad or plaster board manufactured for them, it is understood and agreed 11409 that Licensee may manufacture gypsum wallboard or plaster board embodying the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in said Letters Patent, for any such other manufacturer and/or jobber; provided, however, that the said license fee or royalty to be paid to Licensor as hereinbefore provided shall be based upon all gypsum wallboard or plaster board manufactured for, and sold and invoiced to, such other manufacturer and/or jobber and upon the regular selling price of Licensee of such plaster board or gypsum wallboard to its regular dealer trade at the time of such sale and invoice, and shall not be based upon the price at which plaster board or gypsum wallboard is sold and invoiced by Licensee to such other manufacturer or jobber.

8. Licensee expressly covenants and agrees that all of said patented product sold by it and commonly known in the trade as "seconds" shall be plainly invoiced as seconds and shall be plainly marked with a visible red stamp or label firmly fixed on each of said boards showing the word "seconds" in letters at least three inches in height.

9. It is understood and agreed that the patented product manufactured and sold hereunder by Licensee shall include all board having a protected edge, it being recognized by the parties hereto that any board manufactured by Licensee having a protected edge is within the scope of said Utzman Patents number 1,029,328 and 1,034,746.

After the expiration of said Letters Patent number 1,034,746 and until the expiration of Letters Patent number 1,330,413, it is expressly understood and agreed that the patented product manufactured and sold hereunder shall include all board having a protected edge, the parties hereto agreeing hereby that any and all board having a protected edge is within the claims or is manufactured according to the processes or by the use of machines 11410 embodying the claims either of said Letters Patent number 1,330,413, or of one or more of the other said Letters Patent listed in Exhibit A hereto, under which the aforesaid indivisible and non-exclusive right, license and privilege is granted.
